Happenings of the Week

Gayly society trips the light fantastic. Dances follow each other in quick succession, and the debutantes now are quite accustomed to the claims that society demands from them. The season is so short this year that social events are somewhat crowded, and the chaperons and hostesses are looking forward to Lent with a good deal of expectancy, as not until then will there be much rest for them. As a matter of fact, the Lenten season itself nowadays is filled with social engagements. It is only the character of the entertainments that differs. Card parties replace dances, but dinners and luncheons increase in number. A large number of hostesses will entertain next week, invitations already being out for several bridges and teas.

Mrs. John P. C. Burpee and Mrs. Harrison McKeown entertained delightfully at a dance on Monday evening at their home "Ravenscliff," Mount Pleasant, in honor of Miss Pauline Clark and Miss Jean Campbell.
