TORTURED WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Walk, Until "Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured Him

CHATHAM, ONT., April 3rd. 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Pierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using "Fruit-a-tives". They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter if it will be advantageous to "Fruit-a-tives".

The Old Story.

'To morrow,' he promised his conscience, 'to-morrow I mean to be good;
To morrow I'll think as I ought to; to-morrow I'll do as I should;
To morrow I'll conquer the habits that hold me from heaven away.'
But ever his conscience repeated one word, and one only, 'to-day.'
'To-morrow, to morrow, to-morrow, thus day after day it went on;
To morrow, to morrow, to-morrow, till youth like a vision was gone,
Till age and his passion had written the message of fate on his brow
And forth from the shadows came death with the pitiless syllable, 'Now.'—Selected.

The Best Cough Medicine.

'I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since I have been keeping house,' says L. C. Hames, of Marbury, Ala. 'I consider it one of the best remedies I ever used. My children have all taken it and it works like a charm. For colds and whooping cough it is excellent.' For sale by all dealers.

The Liquor Traffic.

Let us lift our hands and loose our tongues and tell the truth about this foe of humanity.

Let us tell the truth about it, aye, tell the truth!

Tell it:

Until the poverty it creates shall cease to be;

Until the pauperism it produces shall cease to be;

Until its wrong to womanhood and its injustice to childhood shall be exposed;

Until almshouses and hospitals shall be no longer needed to house the defectives it creates;

Until jails and prisons shall be emptied of their victims;

Until the insanity it begets shall cloud the intellects of men no more;

Until the crime it impels shall no longer be laid on the souls of men;

Until murder shall stop its riot;

Until men shall see it with the blood upon its naked, knotted hands;

Until fathers cease to neglect their offspring;

Until mothers need fear no more for the children they bear;

Until the nation shall hear, and, hearing, be convinced;

Until public conscience shall cry out;

Until dumb tongues speak and dead feet start;

Until men shall feel anew the Cromwell fire, the Lincoln consecration;

Until the race shall stand forever freed from its curse;

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom, counsel. That is, old age as it should be, but old age as it often is means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and a general feeling of ill health, despondency and misery. This in almost every instance is wholly unnecessary. One of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after supper will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of despondency will give place to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by all dealers.

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows.

'It is pitiful to see the state of health some youngsters who have appeared before me have been reduced to by smoking cigarettes,' said Recorder Dupuis, in Montreal, before fining a man $10 for selling cigarettes to a little boy. Continuing, the recorder said: 'The evil has reached such proportions here that only the most severe measures will end it. I recommend that the police make a campaign against the men who persist in selling cigarettes to lads. Only last week I had an eight year old lad before me. He was already a cigarette fiend.' Are our members aware of the fact that Canada used almost two millions more last year than the year before, reaching a total of 975 325. 591? We are are curious to know how many church members helped swell the numbers

A teacher told little Johnnie that the word 'ferment' means 'to work.' Later in the day the teacher asked the class to write a sentence containing the word 'ferment' correctly used. Johnnie wrote, 'I would much rather play out of doors than ferment in school.'

'I say, my friend,' called the motorist to the farmer as he drew up alongside of the field, 'I'm looking for a good road to take me into Squigglesville.'

'I'm glad to hear it,' replied the farmer. 'If you happen to find it stranger, send me a tellygram, will ye?'

Is the Clam Vanishing?

A Montreal paper says: It cannot but strike dismay to the palate of every visitor to the Maritime Provinces and New England shores when he learns that the toothsome and apparently ubiquitous clam is rapidly being hastened along the road to extinction. Clams have always been considered characteristic of the North Atlantic coast.

Seaside visitors would consider themselves defrauded if the menu did not, at least twice a day, proffer clams stewed, broiled or fried.

It is traditional that nowhere else in the wide world does nature produce clams so large, and so delicious. Experts say that the usual output of the beds, all thoroughly well known by this time, is decreasing at the rate of about 600,000 pounds per annum.

So far this means increased outlay for purchasers. Appearances go to prove that the supply is still sufficient for the ordinary demand. But authorities have become alarmists respecting the future.

Unless there is further protection afforded these succulent bivalves such as a strict allowing of only half the beds or flats to be dug each year and also a liberal artificial seeding prosecuted, there will be no clams at all for the next generation of summer visitors, grimly declare the scientists.

'Did I tell you about the awful fright I got on my wedding day?'

'S-h-h — my dear. No woman should speak that way of her husband.'

Case of Mrs. Tully.

Chicago, Ill.—"I take pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am now as well as ever."—MRS. WILLIAM TULLY, 2062 Ogden Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Sociability in Churches.

It is almost increditable that a man and his wife should attend a certain church for four months during which time not a single greeting was extended to them on the part of any member of the congregation. They came and went entirely untouched. It is to be hoped that the case of such lack of interest is rare, but lest others should have similar experiences it may be well to point out the absolute necessity of brotherliness in connection with our Church life and work. For a man to attend a service of worship week after week and receive no recognition on the part of those who constitute the regular congregation is really intolerable. What is the reason of this lack of sympathy? Is it due to the need of more organization? If so, let some be appointed who will be responsible for a few pews in their immediate vicinity. Systematic watchfulness has often proved exceedingly effective. Or is it a lack of the Spirit of Christ, a feeling on the part of the church goers that everyone is to mind his own business and then to go away without expecting any social contact with others? This lack of fellowship is sometimes charged definitely against our own church, and we have heard of young people who have been drawn to other communions by the warm welcome they have received on entering a place of worship. Let each church member face this question, and by power and effort see that no strangers are allowed to pass out Sunday after Sunday without some little recognition and assurance of a welcome.—Canadian Churchman.

Rev. Mr. Caller—Well, Mrs. Mangles, and is the good man any better?

Mrs. Mangles—Oh, yes, sir. E's nearly all right again, sir. 'E do not say 'is prayers no more of a night, now, sir.'

'Children,' said the teacher to his pupils, 'you should be able to do any thing equally well with either hand. With a little practise you will find it just as easy to do anything with one hand as it is with the other.'

'Is it?' irquired the urchin at the foot of the class. 'Let's see you put your left hand in the right hand pocket of your trousers.'

Bad Cold in the Chest.

'I am happy to tell you that I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and was promptly cured of a very bad cold in the chest,' writes Miss Josephine Gauthier, Dover South, Ont. You can depend on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine to relieve and cure all inflammation and irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes.

A big hearted Irish politician in a Western city had just left a theatre one night when he was approached by a beggar, who said:

'Heaven bless your bright, benevolent face! A little charity, sir, for a poor cripple.'

The politician gave the old man coins, saying:

'And how are you crippled, old man?'

'Financially, sor,' answered the beggar, as he made off.

The transparent vest has accepted the nomination for the spring styles at the hands of the International Custom Cutters of America in convention at Washington. Transparent in front and no back at all—that's what the designers insist on for the spring and summer vest styles. The craze for transparency descended on the male as well as the female.
