The Buckley Guarantee ensures Satisfaction —or a new hat free.

A hat needs a guarantee.

More easily than any other article of apparel, a hat can deceive its purchaser—look right without being right.

Clothes, or shoes, or ties, you can "size up"—a hat, you can not.

For instance, almost everyone knows enough about tweeds to tell whether a suit will wear well.

With hats it is different. Who can "size up" a hat? Who can tell whether it will wear three months, or "look seedy" after one month?

Few can tell a hat's real worth without knowing what goes into its making. None can tell exactly but the manufacturer. He knows better than anyone how long his product will wear—and, if he believes in his hats he ought to be willing to guarantee them.

Buckley Hats are guaranteed. The men that make them believe they'll wear longer than any other hat that's made—and in proof of that belief the makers attach their guarantee for four months. If you buy a Buckley hat to-day, and, any time within the next four months, you find your hat losing color or showing signs of wear, take it to your dealer and he will cheerfully, unhesitatingly exchange it. The Buckley guarantee, moreover, assures you against hat accidents — it's so sweeping as to include even that contingency.

No. GUARANTEE
The Color and Wear of this hat are absolutely guaranteed, and any hat which will not give entire satisfaction, will be exchanged at any time within four months after purchase, by the dealer agent to exchange this hat, if same is damaged by accident during the said four months.

Can McFarland Make The Weight to Meet Wolgast Next Week

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—After six days of vigorous training, Packy McFarland weighed himself at a Chicago gymnasium on Sunday, and tipped the beam at exactly 138 pounds. As he is matched to box ten rounds with the world's lightweight champion, Ad Wolgast, at Milwaukee, on Sept. 15, he has not more than ten days to get down to the stipulated weight, 133 pounds at 3 p.m. Yet his trainer, Emil Thiery, says he will take off five pounds in that time without weakening himself in the slightest degree.

"The weight is coming off fast now," said Thiery on Sunday, "and Packy will be in great shape. Many think he will be weak when he gets into the ring with Wolgast, but they'll soon find they are mistaken. I'll have him right on edge when the gong rings, and he'll win."

Battling Nelson, an enemy, saw McFarland weigh 138 pounds and sneered. After the Dane, who always refused to fight McFarland, had seen him box six fast rounds, he said:

"McFarland looks drawn even now. He can't get down to 133 without losing an arm or a leg. If he really makes that weight he will get a terrific beating. I know how tough Wolgast is. At 133 he can tear a fellow like Packy to ribbons in ten rounds, and he can do it in a finish fight at any weight."

McFarland's work this week will consist of road runs, hot baths, boxing, wrestling and gymnasium exercises. He will get much massage treatment, according to his usual custom. He understands reducing, and last winter he actually weighed 132¾ pounds when he scaled at three o'clock to meet Jack Goodman. Packy has several close friends in this city, who have received word from him that he will beat Wolgast on points to a certainty, if he doesn't score a knockout.

Wolgast has begun training in Milwaukee. He hasn't taken on much weight since he stopped Owen Moran in San Francisco, and will not be compelled to work extra hard to scale. Wolgast outwardly expresses contempt for McFarland, who, he says, is a looking-glass boxer, with no punch. When Wolgast heard of Matt Wells' victory over K. O. Brown, he laughed.

"I guess New Yorkers will believe now that I took it easy with Brown," he said. "Brown never could fight, and I've passed him up. As for Wells, I'll meet him in New York in October if he isn't afraid. He'll be very easy for me, as easy as McFarland."

Maple Leaf Quoit Tournament.

The regular annual tournament of the Maple Leaf Quoiting Club will be held on their grounds, Woodbine and Queen, Sept. 7. The first draw will take place at 1.30 p.m., with Simpson Rennie, Toronto's popular sportsman, as referee. Ald. Chisholm and Joseph Russell will start the quoits flying on what promises to be a most interesting tournament. There are now entered a large number outside Toronto, including several enthusiasts from across the border. The club welcomes all interested in the game to come.

FOR RACES AT THORNCLIFFE.

Everything is in readiness at Thorncliffe Park for Saturday next. A prominent horseman, who has been a visitor in the city from across the water, in viewing the course and grounds the other day, remarked that the situation was ideal and quite English in view and character. The program consists of six races, including two steeplechases, one of which, the Chester Steeplechase, Mr. H. C. Tomlin has presented with a very fine challenge cup, and the entries received should make some keenly-contested racing. Last year, at the initial meeting, some 500 people witnessed the sport, and enjoyed it to the fullest. Motors and other vehicles may reach Thorncliffe by way of Moore Park to the second concession, and thence east thru Mr. Lee's property to the track. A special Canadian Northern Ontario train will leave Queen and Don Station at 2 p.m., returning after the last race. Badges (50c) may be obtained at Tyrrell's and the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway ticket office, King and Toronto streets, and also at the gates. The following are the officials of the day:

PATRICIA SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS FISHER CUP

Seneca Well Beaten in Final Race —Defender Outsails Challenger —15 Mile Breeze.

The Fisher Cup will stay in Toronto. Patricia, the R.C.Y.C. defender, outsailed the slippery Seneca of Rochester in the final race yesterday, and had a half-mile lead when she crossed the finishing line.

It was over the triangular course again, 3½ miles to a leg, twice around, making the twenty-mile course.

There was a ten to fourteen mile breeze and Patricia was in her glory, no sea such as the day before to bother, and she outsailed the challenger at all stages.

George Owen has had his ambition satisfied, as it was thought that it would be a long time before a boat would be designed that would be able to beat the speedy Herreshoff yacht.

Only a small fleet followed the yachts, but this small lot created a lot of noise when Patricia crossed the line.

The race, as seen from the judges' boat, Electric:

10.30.—The wind had shifted to the northwest, and was blowing ten miles an hour. The water had hardly a ripple on it, and it looked like Patricia's day. All the experts agreed that this is the defender's day, and if she fails to win it will be a big disappointment.

10.45.—The judges hoisted Signal No. 46, which means the course will be first leg a reach west, southwest, half-west; second leg, southwest, half-east; third leg, north half-east, the last being a beat.

10.55—The starting gun will be fired at 11 a.m., and the breeze has now increased to fifteen miles an hour. Both boats are jockeying around the starting line. All buoys will be to port.

11.00.—The start. Seneca was over three seconds before Patricia, the latter in the weather berth. The yachts went boiling past the Electric like a pair of birds. They were away at an equal pace. Seneca was luffed to keep Patricia from hauling up on her weather quarter. As the challenger swung, her canvas shook. It was a bad piece of work. Skipper Moore seems to be nervous.

11.15.—Patricia was moving at a terrific rate and went past the Seneca like a shot. Seneca could do nothing.

11.20.—Seneca was bored in Patricia's wake; it was the only thing left for the Rochester crew to do. They were going at an eight-knot gait, with course taking them across Humber Bay.

11.25.—Patricia was first around, and Seneca was seven seconds behind. The R. C. Y. C. boat got her spinnaker out fast and was away on the next leg at a great rate. Seneca was outclassed, and she kept falling back.

11.40.—Seneca was using a reefed mainsail and Patricia was running away from her. The Rochester yacht set a balloon jib to windward off her working jib.

11.50.—Patricia gained 557 seconds on the leg and turned the buoy at 11.54.06, while Seneca's time was 11.55.08. It was now a beat to windward, and both yacnts made short hitches.

12.10—Patricia was being sailed finely, and was carrying her canvas well. They were up to the buoy, and Patricia had added 29 seconds to her lead, completing the first round in 12.35.36. Seneca rounded at 12.36.05.

12.45.—After rounding, Seneca shook out her reef. It didn't help her any, and Patricia was still sailing merrily on, 300 yards in the lead. It looks as if Seneca can't catch her.

1.00.—Patricia was like a flying bird, and she had gained 40 more seconds at the buoy, turning at 1.00.37½. Seneca at 1.02.46.

1.10.—Patricia set her spinnaker to port. Seneca stuck up a balloon jib, and she gained slowly.

1.25.—Seneca looked to have gained some, and when they turned the buoy it was seen she had picked up six seconds. The times at the turn were: Patricia, 1.27.44; Seneca, 1.29.47.

1.15.—Seneca's gain gave the Rochester crowd some encouragement, but it was no use, and Patricia started to open up a bigger lead. There was nothing to it but the defender, and her lead at the finish was over half a mile.

Patricia crossed finishing line at 2.00.56. Seneca crossed finishing line at 2.13.37. Patricia's lead, 3 minutes and 41 seconds.

The official times were:

—First Round.—

	1st Buoy	2d Buoy.	3d Buoy.
Patricia	11.26.08	11.54.06	12.35.36
Seneca	11.26.15	11.58.08	12.36.05

—Second Round.—

	1st Buoy	2d Buoy.	3d Buoy.
Patricia	1.00.37½	1.27.44	2.09.56
Seneca	1.02.46	1.29.47	2.13.37

CLYDESDALE SALE AT THE REPOSITORY BIG SUCCESS.

The sale of Clydesdales at the Repository yesterday was a big success. The attendance was good, and a great many of Ontario's best Clydesdale men were present, as well as a lot of farmers. The galleries and ring were well filled with people, and they were rewarded by seeing some of the best Clydesdale fillies that have ever been brought into Canada. Mr. Charles A. Burns handled the sale, and really outshone himself. In addition to his great ability as an auctioneer, Mr. Burns is extremely painstaking, and no trouble is too great to thoroly explain the breeding and merits of every animal that passes under his hands. Every filly in the sale was sold, and there remains from the shipment but a two-year-old stallion, which is for private sale.

Joseph Russell, M.P., started the buying with the purchase of Blossom of Muiryhill for $310. May sold to the same buyer for $360. Millicraigie Duchess went for $450. T. To-day's Double-Header.

The championship of the Eastern League may depend upon the series which begins to-day at the island between Toronto and the leading Rochester team. If the Hustlers get beater than an even break the Leafs can hardly overtake them in the league race, but a clean-up for the locals will put them right in the running. A double-header will be played to-day, the first game at two o'clock. One price of admission will prevail.

Soccer Notes.

The Royal Hearts held a first-class practice Monday morning. Most of last year's players were out, also three new players, who showed good form and if looks count for anything, the Royals will be knocking at the door when the championship is given out this fall. Next Saturday the Hearts will practice on Riverdale Park, east side of the Don, at 3 p.m. All players are requested to turn out, also any player wishing a trial on this team is cordially invited to turn out or communicate with J. LeSueur, 78 Coxwell avenue.

MURDER AT MONTREAL?

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—The body of a man, which had lain unidentified at the morgue since the end of last week, was this morning identified as that of Walter Allare, a lumberman, who arrived here with six companions about the middle of last week. The finding of the body and the subsequent identification has led the police to place credence in the story told by a barge captain last week that one night from the deck of his barge he saw a number of men mixed up in a drunken row, one of whom was finally thrown into the river by his companions.

WORKS DEPARTMENT REORGANIZATION.

On Tuesday next Controller Church's resolution to reorganize the works department will come before the board of control. It provides for the appointment of an executive branch, with a powerful executive man at the head and C. H. Rust as consulting engineer.

Standard of Excellence For Sabbath Schools Adopted—Work Among Foreigners.

With sixteen delegates present and written reports from Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, comprising the Sabbath school organization of Canada, the committee on Presbyterian Sabbath schools concluded their work yesterday in the offices of Dr. Robertson, secretary.

Reports of work from synods from Nova Scotia to British Columbia were passed upon. Among other matters considered by the committee were: Graded lessons, home department and teachers of training. A special teachers' training campaign was also planned for October.

The report of summer school held at Lake Couchiching was so flattering that it was decided to hold one next year at the same place, and as many more as practicable. Reports of work among the foreign population of Canada were encouraging, and colored postal cards are being sent out showing the work now being done among the Ruthenians.

A standard of excellence for Sabbath schools was adopted as follows:

(1) The Sabbath school open all the year. (2) A cradle roll. (3) A home department. (4) An organized Bible class. (5) A teachers' training class. (6) A communicants' class at stated periods. (7) Graded instruction (the uniform lessons with supplemental work or graded schools). (8) Use of our own lesson helps and illustrated papers. (9) Missionary instruction and offering. (10) Offering for children's day fund.

MARVELOUS ANIMALS THESE

Famous Diving Horses Attracting Thousands to Hanlan's Point.

The many thousands who have seen the wonderful diving horses at Hanlan's Point, are unanimous in their opinion that it is the most marvelous exhibition of equine intelligence that has been seen for years. When they were performing at Coney Island this summer, The New York Herald said:

"It remained for Capt. Paul Boynton to present to the eastern public the greatest attraction in this or any other country. J. W. Gorman's world-famous high diving horses stand unrivaled as a legitimate amusement attraction. This wonderful unique act is entirely new in this section of the country, and the two beautiful white animals, "King and Queen," make their extraordinary dives twice daily.

"The dive is made with lowered head and feet outstretched, and it is exceeding graceful. All this is done without the exhibition of a whip and with the horses own free will." These exhibitions are given free every afternoon and evening.

At the Union Station.

Enormous crowds are still in evidence at the Union Station and it is estimated that on an average 80,000 people a day will pass thru the depot this week.

Yesterday afternoon two immigrant trains arrived and deposited about 200 sturdy home-seekers; the majority of the newcomers, however, preferred the west.

His Gun Exploded.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6—A man named Chartrand died yesterday at the Hotel Dieu following an operation for shot wounds in his arms. A few days ago he was out on Lake Nipissing hunting, when the gun exploded, driving the pellets into his arm. He bandaged his wounds as best he could and came down to Montreal, going immediately to Hotel Dieu.

VOICE FROM GRAND VALLEY.

J. K. Hamilton, V.S., of Grand Valley, a visitor to the exhibition, called at The World office yesterday to say: "I am opposed to reciprocity with the United States, for the reason that when the United States turned down Sir John A. "We have succeeded so well that we have excited their cupidity. Now they want to exploit our market and secure raw material to keep their shops going," he remarked.
