The Same—With a Difference—Time, Wednesday Night.

Last July we announced that we would, commencing on the 18th, sell our Dress Goods at half-price. These are the comments on the first day's sale.

"Wednesday came, but not the crowd. We hardly expected a crowd on the first day. Why should we! The morals of cheap sale advertising are very low. We cannot complain because ours has been classed with the others. We merely said that we would reduce Dress Goods to half-price, and we did so."

We then ventured to predict that the day would come when our announcements would be distinguished from others.

Last Saturday we announced that we would on Monday sell Dress Goods, Ulster Cloths and Dress Trimmings at half-price. Monday came, and the people. They brought their friends with them. They came in such numbers, and to such good purpose, that in three days our stock of Dress Goods was about sold out. Evidently the time has come when you have learned to discriminate between our half-price and any other half-price.

Next week our mutual advantage lies in turning our attention to Ulster Cloths—buy your next winter's jacket— (perhaps you'll need it this year)—when you can buy $3.30 Astrakan for $1.65. Isn't the inducement worth some present outlay.

About Dress Trimmings—Yesterday we saw the samples of the latest goods for the coming season, and we tell you—straight—there is nothing newer at full price than what we are today selling at half-price. You have bought your dress to be made up in the spring, buy your trimmings also.

Half-price goods cannot be charged.

THE CHARTER OAK IS THE BEST.
WHY?

Because it has the heaviest Castings and the largest Heat, hence will outwear any other Stove made and will draw where many others fail.
While those features are well worthy of consideration by all who think of purchasing a new Stove, we would direct special attention to the
WIRE GAUZE DOOR
As the advantages to be derived from its use. These are so manifold that it is impossible for us to explain them in the limited space of our column.
To those who may call it will afford us pleasure to explain its desirability. To those who cannot we shall be glad to supply circulars explaining fully the principles, and the savings made by its use.
The largest foundry in the United States is engaged in turning out Charter Oaks at the rate of 400 daily, and with this enormous output are barely able to supply the extraordinary demand. This proves more than anything else can do its great advantages, and the appreciation of the public for a good thing.
The Wire Gauze oven door is unquestionably the greatest invention of modern times in connection with the Stove trade.

COUNTERFEIT INK.

AN OPERATOR WHO SOLD BOGUS WRITING FLUID.

Arrested for Putting Forged Labels on His Bottles.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24th.—Important arrests have been made here in the case o clever forgeries, through which thousands of people have been swindled by using what they supposed to be Arnold's ink, but which was a counterfeit fluid put up in the genuine bottles but labelled with forged fac-simile of the well-known label of the English manufacturer. Great quantities of counterfeit fluid which is worthless have been sold to wholesalers and retailers throughout the country. After a long and diligent investigation by the detectives a vender of spurious ink named J. M. Dorr and two other men have been arrested. It was found that Dorr was doing an immense business. He manufactured his counterfeit inks in the basement of his house and seemed to be an indefatigable worker. He peddled it himself going about the city with a horse and wagon selling to the wholsale dealers, retail dealers, and from door to door, in big office buildings and from house to house in the residence district, selling his ink at a trifle below what the genuine ink could be sold at. He had men on the road and sold his goods in all the western cities and as far East as New York City. In his possession were found orders from almost every City of any size west of the Alleghany mountains. A search of his house was made and about 75 dozen quart bottles filled with the ink were found and about 1,000 empty bottles ready for filling. There were stacks of forged labels and electro plates used in printing labels. Everything indicated a most extensive manufacturing business. The plates and printing for labels were made in this city.

Freights in 1888.

One of the most remarkable features of the past year was the startling changes in the rates of ocean freights which it exhibited, these changes being in many cases so great as to change the value of shipping most materially. The ownership of vessels which in the early part of 1888 was a most precarious and unprofitable business became before the end of the year, highly remunerative, both in wooden and iron shipping. One English authority says that in the case of steamers the rate of profit was as high as 50 per cent per annum and, although wooden ships may have not reached this figure, it can be safely said that their returns were greater than they had been for many years previously. The following statement shows the highest and largest rates in some of the principal lines of business, and also the present rate. It will be found interesting for the purpose of comparison.

TO UNITED KINGDOM.

From	Lowest	Hight	Pnut rate
Australian (wool)	42s 6d	42s 6d	37s 6d
San Francisco	22s 6d	42s 6d	35s
China (tea)	10s	60s	42s 6d
Burmah rice ports	30s	60s	35s
Calcutta (Jute)	30s	60s	24s
Bombay	12s 0d	28s 0d	24s
New Orleans	17-64ths	32-64ths	24-64ths
New York	28s	5s 6d	5s
St. John, N. B.	35s	75s	75s

TO NEW YORK.

China	40s	60s	60s
Mediterranean fruit ports	27s 6d	37s 6d	35s 5d
Cuba	$2.50	$3.50

These examples will suffice to show the great changes in freights during the year. It is believed by well informed persons that the present rates will be maintained for some time to come, and possibly during the whole of the present year.

WHERE THE RODENTS FEAST.

Wedding parties are quite a help to the grocer in the way of selling rice. Now when a newly married couple start on a wedding trip as they board the trains they are showered with rice. A railway employe told a Gazette man a few days ago, that over a barrel of rice is wasted every year in this way at the railway depot. The grains of rice scattered over the I C Railway depot have procured a herd of rats who infest that building, at times during the day. The rodents can be seen in numbers crawling out between the rails and planks to enjoy their feast of rice.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's church was held last evening in the vestry. There was a large attendance. The pastor Rev. L. C. The financial statement submitted by the board of trustees showed the receipts for the past year to have been, from ordinary revenues, $5,785; for missions, charity and other purposes, $1,820; a total of $7,605. After an interchange of views as to the financial condition of the church and in reference to the very satisfactory surplus for the esuing year it was unanimously resolved to increase the pastor's salary $250 making it in future $2,250. Hearty votes of thanks were tendered the ladies sewing circle and Young People's Association which together had contributed nearly $900 to the debt liqudation fund of the church.

Messrs. Geo. Robertson and Samuel Girvan were appointed congregational auditors. The following trustees were elected for the ensuing year: Dr. Inches, Messrs. T. A. Rankine, A. Macaulay, J. R. Cameron, W. M. McLean, J. G. Forbes H. C. Rankine, J. H. McRobbie and W. W. McLauchlin.

THE SOUTH SEA.

A Petition to Queen Victoria for the British Flag.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The steamer Australia arrived yesterday from Honolulu bring news up to the 16th inst. The Hawaiin Gazette of the 15th of Jan. says the King of Ravutu and Queen of Rimatara arrived at Racotauga, their mission being to have a British protectorate established over their Islands. Being disappointed in this they drew up a pathetic petition to Queen Victoria and her prime minister praying for the protection of the British flag over those Islands and the Island of Maria. This petition has been fowarded to England.

A GERMAN CIRCULAR

Which Attempts to Explain the Recent Proceedings at Samoa.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The Honolulu Bulletin of the 15th inst prints what purports to be a circular just sent out by the German officers at Samoa regarding the late disturbances there. In general the circular denies that the Germans on the island have oppressed or mistreated the natives and reaffirms the statement that the late battle in which 22 Germans were killed was led by an American newspaper correspondent.

HE MAY YET HEAD THE POLL.

Active Work of Boulanger's Political Followers.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—Boulangists are showing great energy all along the line. Boulanger will not have himself to blame if he does not head the poll next Sunday. During this week he will keep his house open to all comers, the reception lasting from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Royalists are still divided on the question of abstaining from voting. Gen. Montanadan, royalist, who was lately returned from Somme on the Boulangist ticket, was welcomed in the Chamber of Deputies today by Admiral d'Horney in address in which Boulanger was not alluded to. On the other hand, Imperialists excel in activity for the general Barail denounces absentation as effacement of the party and invokes the aid of every Conservative Imperialist. The language of the press waxes warm. The National asserts that the dead father of Boulanger was a usurer; that the executed murderer, Campi, was the general's brother, and that the man murdered, who was named Ducrot, was a business partner of Boulanger here. The squabbles of the general's domestic life, his debts and intrigues, are also detailed. The Boulangist respond harping upon the charge that the government is employing the secret service fund in the interests of M. Jacques. Meanwhile, the inactivity of M. Jacques annoys his supporters, who are secure even now another candidate. The betting on the bourse varies daily. To-day the calculators gave Boulanger 215,000 votes against 170,000, and odds were laid against the Republican candidate. The influence of the members of the municipal council, who are almost unanimously against Boulanger, is a leading factor in making his success doubtful.

UNFORTUNATE MISS KNOX.

How a Self-Styled Nobleman Deceived and abused an Heiress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24:—The Herald has the following cablegram from Paris: Herald readers will remember the fashionable marriage of Miss Knox, of Pittsburg, with the soi-disant Count di Montercote early in October last. It was the social sensation of Western Pennsylvania, especially after the Herald announced a few weeks later that the count had beaten his bride during the honeymoon in the Hotel Bellevue, Paris. I received yesterday from one of the most prominent Americans now sojourning in Italy an account of the utter misery and degradation to which his young bride was subjected by the unnatural beast she married while blinded by the clamour of his supposed nobility.

The story seems hardly credible, but my informant's integrity is unimpeachable. It will be remembered that after the Parisian episode the couple started for the shores of the Adristic, where the Italian claimed that his mother owned a castle.

Their real destination was the little town of Fossaceca, where the fellow has an ordinary dwelling house. En route they stopped at the Hotel Vittoria, Auscons, where the husband so abused his young wife that she was compelled to seek the protection and guardianship of the American consul resident there. Despite his renewed cruelty the girl accompanied her husband to Fossaceca where he proceeded to render her illusion regarding his genuine character still more complete. At the time an Italian officer, Signor Ferrari, and his American wife were stopping in the town, and they interested themselves in the unfortunate girl, whose miserable plight had quickly become the common talk of the neighborhood. They called upon her and learned a history of depravity which it would be useless to attempt to narrate.

Mme. Ferrari was compelled to leave Fossaceca for a while, and upon her return found the alleged count had had his suspicions aroused and had forbidden his wife being seen by her—in fact rudely ordered her to leave his place.

She at once applied to the American consul at Ancona, and in company with him and a cousin of Miss Knox's, sent from Berlin by her aunt, proceeded to Lanciano, the nearest town within legal jurisdiction to Fossaceca. There, with the help of the authorities, after many vicissitudes, they succeeded in rescuing the unfortunate girl from the man whose bride she had become but three months before.

The meeting between the girl and her benefactors was affecting in the extreme Her gratitude taught her to love and appreciate their disinterested kindness, her own sweet face and gentle manners having taught them to love and care for her. The law now protects the girl completely and she will soon apply for a legal separation in Italy as a precursor, I am informed, to her securing an absolute divorce in Pennsylvania.

The alleged count had deceived Miss Knox in every way. He was not a bachelor as he represented himself but a widower, whose wife had died but five months before. She had been the Countess di Montercole in her own sight, and he had usurped her name and title.

A deputation of the copyright association had a hearing before the council yesterday at Ottawa. They oppose the adoption of the Berne convention and suggest several amendments to the present act, to the effect that when the author, of his legal representative, neglects to obtain an exclusive Canadian copyright, then any person or persons resident in Canada may secure a license to publish the work and this license is to be issued to all applicants who will pay the author a royalty of ten cents on the retail prices of each copy licensed to be issued.

THE PARNELL INQUIRY.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY AGAINST THE LAND LEAGUE BY A MOONLIGHTER.

Attempt to Connect Irish Members with a Convict Now in Jail.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—When the Parnell commission assembled this morning, a man named Farragher deposed that Archbishop Walsh, in Mr. Davitt's presence, had advised him not to pay his rent, and that he (Farragher) was evicted. He was afterward employed in the offices of the Dublin branch of the league. Witness also testified that he had carried letters, some of which contained checks, from Mr. Patrick Egan to Mullett, the Invincible. Farragher further testifies that Arthur O'Connor, member of Parliament for East Donegal, held an important post in the league. Messrs Davitt, Sexton and Harrington were members of the executive. Witness lodged with Weldon, who had been tried for the murder of Young at Castlerea. Weldon afterward went to Manchester, having a check for his expenses, which was drawn on the Hibernian Bank. Nally used to visit the league rooms.

Sir Charles Russell here protested against the introduction of this evidence. He stated that Nally was undergoing a sentence, and that he objected to any iuquiry being made into the circumstances of Nally's crime, in order to damage members of the House of Commons who, it was alleged, associated with him.

Members of the court conferred and decided that the evidence concerning Nally was admissible.

Sir Charles Russell, in reply to a question for Justice Hannen, said that the Nally under discussion was not "Scrab" Nally. He was another Nally whom Mr. Parnell had thanked for his service to the league.

Farraugher then continued his testimony. He said he had seen Messrs. Parnell and Sexton attend meetings of the league as members of the excutive.

Sir Henry James of counsel for the Times, produced a report of a speech made by Mr Parnell at the league convention at Castlebar in which Mr Parnell strongly commended Nally for rendering great and important services to the league when it was first formed.

Dennis Tobin deposed that he was a member of the Kilcolony band of moonlighters. He said when the members of the band were sworn, their leader told them that by order of the league tenants who paid rents were to be raided. The moonlighters were ranged in divisions, each division receiving orders from the captain, who also furnished the men with arms. The moonlighters were paid for committing outrages. The witness' set received £5 for making a raid on the cattle of an obnoxious farmer and 7s. 6d. each for slaughtering cattle on Miss Thompson's farm. Tobin recounted a succession of similiar misdeeds in which he took part. His evidence regarding the moonlighters differed from that of other informers who generally described the raiders as fortuitous, unrelated groups.

DIDN'T WANT HER FLOOR SOILED.

A Desperately Wounded Man Turned Out by a Model Housewife.

QUEBEC, Jan. 54.—James Redmond, a Lake Beauport farmer, is dying from the treatment he received from neighbors on Christmas Eve. He was driving home in a snow storm and the temperature was 20 degrees below zero. Half way to Beauport he accidently ran into another sleigh containing two men who got out and beat Redmond with an iron bar till he was insensible. Then they put him into his sleigh and set the horse adrift.

Redmond awoke a few hours before daylight and found himself before a farmhouse. He dragged himself to the door and knocked. The woman of the house allowed him to enter the hallway, but then, seeing that he was covered with blood and dirt, turned him out, saying that she didn't want her floors soiled. Redmond was found several hours later in his sleigh, insensible, and taken to Beauport. Today the Coroner was notified to take ante-mortem deposition. It is expected that he will die before morning.

When found he was covered from head to foot with ice which had been stained red by his blood. A neighbor of his named Ealardean has been arrested and if Redmond dies he will be charged with murder. The other assailant has not yet been arrested.
