DEAF AND DUMB.

To the Editor of the Leader:

Sir—About two years ago a deaf and dumb man, over forty-five years of age, came to me from some locality on the borders of Lake Huron, with a view of having his deaf and dumb children placed in the Institution. He was so very ignorant that I could not learn his name or place of residence. All the information I obtained from him was, that he emigrated from Scotland some 15 years ago; that his wife and five children were deaf mutes; and that he lived on the shore of a lake to the north-west. As there had not at this time, been any indigent deaf mutes supported from any other source than that of the Counties' Council, I do not prosecute further enquiries. Now, as public liberality highly creditable to Canadians, considering the applications for subscriptions our limited have, within the past two months, enabled us to maintain and educate eight indigent mutes, besides a goodly number from Counties' Council, I entertain no doubt of my ability to make provision for two out of the five unfortunate children of this very poor deaf mute man.

May I ask you, Sir, and journalists on the shore of Lake Huron, to give this and insertion, and thereby discover his address.

Yours, &c,
J. B. McGANN,
Principal, D. and D. School.

A Young Goose.

A good story was told some years ago of old Bunce, who prided himself upon never being mistaken in his judgment of a person's character from his phiz.

He was in Washington Market one day, to get a goose for dinner. In looking about, he saw a lot before a young woman with a peculiar fine open countenance.

'She's honest,' said Bunce to himself; and at once asked her if she had a young goose.

'Yes, said she, here's as fine a one as you will find in the market, and she looked up in his face with a perfect sincerity that would have taken his heart, if he had not already made up his mind as to her character.

'You're sure it's young?'

'To be sure it is;' and Bunce took it home.

All efforts to eat it were fruitless, it was so tough; and the next day he hastened down to the market, angry with himself, and more so with the honest-faced girl who had cheated him.

'Didn't you tell me that goose was young yesterday?' he exclaimed, striding up to the girl wrathfully.

'To be sure I did.'

'You cheated me,' said Bunce; 'it was a tough old gander.'

'You don't call me old, do you?' she asked.

'No! I should think not,' he replied.

'No—I should think not too. I am only 20, and mother told me the goose was hatched just six months after I was born.

Bunce had forgotten that a goose lives a hundred years.

THE subscriber, in returning thanks to the public for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon him—especially while his house was in an unfinished state—takes this opportunity of informing his many friends and the public generally, of the fact that his house now affords accommodation superior to none in the County, and feels justified in the assertion that by a proper attention to business he will still merit the share of patronage hitherto bestowed upon him. Let no stage-coach or other interested individual persuade you into the belief that it is all the same whether you go to Wroxeter or not, because you only make loose horses that place, but I make no such company pay, and that Hotels, and Shebeens, or travellers going to Belmore Teeswater, Wylerton, &c., will find it "Easy Hitch" on the main gravel road, about a mile beyond the finger board pointing to Wroxeter, and enjoy superior accommodation and a hearty welcome at any hour of day or night.
