TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF HURON.

GENTLEMEN—

Having accepted the position of Provincial Treasurer in Mr. Mowat's Administration, my seat for the West Riding of Huron thereby becomes vacant, and I must seek again at your hands a renewal of that confidence which you have so generously extended to me on former occasions. The general policy of the Government having been so recently placed before you, discussed, and by your votes approved, I need not on this occasion make any special reference to many of the Provincial questions then brought before you. But I think it is due to you to make the assurance that upon those most important and vital questions, the territorial and legislative rights of the Province the Government are determined that in the future as in the past those rights will be firmly defended and maintained.

In accepting the position tendered me I do so with a deep sense of the responsibilities assumed, and of the honor conferred upon me. I accept it at considerable personal sacrifice, but I feel that having taken upon myself the trusts you have committed to me as your representative, I cannot in justice to you refuse to give to the Administration of Mr. Mowat my best services in the more important position I have been called upon to fill; and I can assure you that while the opportunities to advance your interests may be greater in the more responsible position of a Minister of the Crown, the desire to faithfully serve you in the future will be no less sincere than in the past.

Trusting that the course I have taken will meet with your approval.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedt. servant,
A. M. ROSS.

An exchange says that the cheapest and simplest gymnasium in the world—one that will exercise every bone and muscle in the body—is a flat piece of steel, notched on one side, fitted tightly into a wooden frame, and, after being greased on both sides with a bacon rind, rubbed into a stick of wood laid lengthwise on a saw horse.

Polley has been personally looking after the passenger traffic to and from the station.

SERIOUS SHOOTING ACCIDENT. — We regret very much to learn of a serious accident which occurred to Joseph Murray, Huron road, at noon on Saturday last. His father, W. Murray, and he are first-class marksmen, and were going through the woods on Isaac Salkeld's farm, to have a good day's sport. Mr. Murray's gun accidentally caught among some twigs, while he bent to pass under, and went off so silently, that he never knew it until his son called out, "Father I'm shot!" The father then found that the whole contents of the gun had gone into his son's body about the shoulder. I. Salkeld kindly conveyed the young man home, and drove for Dr. Taylor, who spent two hours probing for the shot.

THANKSGIVING DAY HARVEST HOME.—A harvest home will be celebrated by the North street Methodist church on Nov. 8th, thanksgiving day. A public religious service will be held, commencing at 11 o'clock a.m., and in the evening the ladies of the congregation will give a sumptuous supper in the lecture room This will meet all the necessities of feasting for our town's people on thanksgiving day. The church will be festooned with evergreens and fruit and flowers for the occasion.

THE VOLUNTEERS.—The Clinton New Era says: Owing to the removal of Mr. Macwhirter from town, the volunteer company is practically without a captain, although he has not sent in his resignation. Last week Col. Ross waited on Lieut. James Scott, and wished him to accept the position, but Mr. Scott, though not positively refusing to accept, expressed a desire to remain where he is. We believe the members of the company would heartily endorse the promotion of Mr. Scott, and his acceptance of the position would give entire satisfaction.

MISSIONARY TO FORMOSA.—On Tuesday evening a large number of people gathered in the school-room of Knox church to hear a farewell address from Rev. John Jamieson, who is about to sail for Formosa as an assistant to Rev. Dr. McKay. Mr. Jamieson, spent many years of his life in Goderich, and like his distinguished colleague, the great Formosan missionary, was a member of Knox church. The young missionary gave a simple account of his call to the work, and at the close of the meeting bade good bye to the large number of friends who were awaiting a parting handshake at the door. Our best wishes go with him in his new work.

OPEN MEETING.—An open meeting under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, in connection with North-st. Methodist church was held in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening last and was well attended. The chair was occupied by Rev. T. M. Campbell, pastor of the church, and the following programme was successfully carried through: Reading, Mr. Hogarth; duett, the Misses Ellard; recitation, Mr. McKibbon; quartette, Misses Weston and Gordon, and Messrs. Henderson and Medd; reading, Miss Trueman; song, Miss Weston; reading, Mr. Farrow; reading, Mr. Perrin; song A. B. Henderson. An address sent by the society to the family of the late Sam'l J. Cox (who was one of the vice-presidents) and reply of the family were read by Wm. Armstrong. The exercise closed with a hymn and the benediction.

MISS MACPHERSON. — This excellent woman is now on the Atlantic ocean, on her way back to England, to pick up the poor and abandoned children of that country, and bring them to homes and better opportunities in Canada. It is a noble work, and worthy of the devotion of the earnest and godly woman who has given her life to it. It was our pleasure when in Stratford recently to pay a visit to the beautiful house now occupied by Miss Macpherson's co-workers, and their wards. A few weeks ago the Home was removed from Galt to Stratford, questions of health and geographical position making it necessary. The Galt property was sold for the exact sum required to purchase the fine mansion and estate of Mr. McFarlane, who had removed from Stratford to Toronto, and that place was bought. We had the honor of taking tea with Miss Macpherson, and when seated beside her she told us over the steaming cup something about the work of her life. She is a woman of faith, and of energetic work, too. At a previous visit we had been shown over the commodious building. The dormitories, with their rows of little cots, covered with counterpanes, into which are worked texts of scripture, looked snug and cosy. The walls are adorned by pretty and appropriate mottoes, the work of friends across the sea. The boys and girls seemed to have good care, and showed the English love for singing by rendering some simple songs and hymns in a hearty manner Mrs. Merry, sister of Miss Macpherson, with her husband, is in charge of the Stratford Home. Visitors from Goderich will at all times be made welcome and shown over the premises. The Home is kept up by voluntary offerings and new or old clothing for boys or girls will always be accepted by those who have the desire to help in this good work. Miss Macpherson left on the Sardinian on Saturday. A princess of the blood royal was on the ship, but a no less queenly woman went when Annie Macpherson took passage on another visit to the workhouses and gutters of England to lift up the fallen, look after the neglected, and bear the glad tidings of God's love to the fatherless and stricken children of the old land.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Chancery Division.

Before the Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson.

The chancery sittings opened at the Court House, Goderich on Tuesday last, and are still in progress. The following cases were called:

Weir v Weir.—This action is brought by the plaintiff to have it declared that he is entitled to a lien on the lands of his infant children for the sum of $2700, being amount advanced by him to pay off a mortgage on the land. There was a decree for plaintiff Mr. M. G. Cameron for plaintiff; Mr. Garorw for defendants.

VanEgmond v Gray.—The plff. in this action owns a carding mill in Blyth and the defendants have a salt manufactory in Blyth. There is a small stream of water running from the neighbourhood of defts salt works past plffs. mill, and the plff. complains that the defts have polluted the water of this stream by allowing refuse salt to get into the stream, and so renders the water unfit for use by the plff. There are about 30 witnesses subpœned—the case is not finished.

The New Provincial Treasurer.

From the Toronto Globe.

The office vacated by Mr. Young has been offered to and accepted by Col. Alexander M. Ross, M.PP. for West Huron. The selection of Col. Ross is emphatically one upon which the Province is to be congratulated. During his eight years' representation of West Huron Colonel Ross has taken the most active share possible in the debates of the House. His previous career as a banker and a county treasurer of twenty-five years' standing has given him unusual opportunities for becoming acquainted with business methods and with the needs of the business community. During his membership he has devoted himself diligently to acquiring an acquaintance with the financial affairs of the Province, and he has developed remarkable talent as a strong, thoughtful, and aggressive debater. In knowledge of municipal affairs he is, though no lawyer, the equal of almost any lawyer in the land, and his long experience in the county treasurership has gven him unrivalled opportunity for becoming acquainted with municipal affairs generally. He has also a sound, accurate, and practical idea of the requirements of agriculturists, and is the happy possessor of an inborn and cultivated taste for rural pursuits. In his hands, it is safe to conclude, the various Provincial agricultural institutions will be well managed.

Colonel Ross is in the prime of life, is possessed of remarkable mental and bodily vigor, is an indefatigable worker, and is personally one of the most highly respected of men. His long and honorable service in the volunteers has brought him into contact with the rising manhood of the country, and it is safe to say that none who have met him can fail to have been favorably impressed.

Colonel Ross will be sworn in this morning as Provincial Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture.

Justice Ferguson's Little Joke.

At the trial of the suit between VanEgmond and Grey, Young & Sparling, of Blyth, on Wednesday, the plaintiff marshalled his witnesses, some twelve in number, before the judge at the opening of the case. The ponderous arbiter of justice swept his eye over the long line of witnesses, and as a smile broadened over his ruddy face, asked:

"Is there a man left in Blyth?"

A laugh broke out from every quarter of the room, in which the learned justice took a good share.

There were about forty witnesses provided by both sides.
