M. Hilton Williams, M.D. M.C.P.S.O
Proprietor.

Permanently established for the special cure of all the various diseases of the HEAD, THROAT and CHEST, including the EYE, EAR and HEART, viz., Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption, also Catarrhal Ophthalmia (sore eyes), Catarrhal Deafness, and the various Heart affections. We also treat all Chronic, Nervous, Skin, and Blood diseases, also diseases peculiar to females.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved "Medical Inhalations," with the addition of the Steam Atomization, cold compressed air, spray, etc., when required. The above appliances are in every case combined with proper constitutional remedies for the nervous, circulatory, and digestive systems. We also administer the various baths when needed, such as the hot and cold water baths, sitz, steam, shower, electric and medicated or mineral baths. Bringing all these appliances into requisition we hesitate not to say that we have the most complete institution of the kind in North America. We also have accommodation for a large number of patients who desire to remain in the Institute while under treatment.

During the past eighteen years we have treated over 40,000 cases. CONSULTATION FREE. Those who cannot remain in the city for treatment may, after an examination, return home and pursue the treatment with success. But if impossible to visit the Institution personally, may write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise," both of which will be sent free of charge.

POOLE'S DEATH SENTENCE.

His Speech from the Dock.

THRILLING SCENE IN COURT.

He Tells His Father to "Keep Up," and that "He is Not Afraid to Die."—He Charges Conspiracy Against the Prosecutors and Curses English Tyranny.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The following additional particulars of Poole's trial are given by a Dublin correspondent:—There was great excitement in this city last evening over the unexpected result of the second trial of Poole for the murder of John Kenny, and when the sensational scene in court which followed the prisoner's conviction and sentence to death was fully reported in the evening papers, the excitement became intense, and many women sobbed aloud.

When the prison van containing the condemned man was driven from the court-house it was quickly surrounded and followed to the doors of Kilmainham jail by a vast number of waiting people. If any plans for a rescue had been entertained, however, they were at once rendered impracticable by the strength of the mounted guard which escorted the van, and the demonstration of the crowd was confined to lamentations.

The scene in the court room during the afternoon was inteneely dramatic. On hearing the verdict Poole turned deathly pale, but otherwise apparently unmoved. When asked by Justice Murphy if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed upon him he was silent for a moment. Then rising to his full height he began a speech which had evidently been intended as a set oration. He spoke loudly, but steadily, amid the breathless silence of the crowded court room, and it was evident that Justice Murphy, as well as all the others within reach of his voice, was deeply affected. He emphatically denied that he murdered Kenny. He believed he was persecuted because he was an enemy of the Government under which he had the misfortune to live. He had belonged to the Fenian Brotherhood since he was 18 years old, but he had never belonged to any vigilance committee. His purpose was to wait till his countrymen were prepared to strike a blow for independence, when he would co-operate with them. In conclusion he said: "I am not afraid to die. Farewell, all! farewell, Ireland! Three cheers for the Irish republic! To hell with English tyranny!"

There was not a quiver in the prisoner's voice until his aged father, who was among the spectators, began to sob and moan: "Oh, Joe! Joe!" Poole's voice faltered then, but he called out: "Keep up, father, keep up! Don't give way. I am ready to die!" After bidding farewell to his countrymen, and charging conspiracy against the prosecutors—especially his brother-in-law, Lamie, the informer, and Mallion, the detective—Poole shouted out: "Three cheers for the Irish republic!" and, "To hell with British tyranny!"

LOWELL ELECTED RECTOR OF ST. ANDREW'S UNIVERSITY.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Lowell was elected Rector of St. Andrew's University, defeating Gibson by 18 votes.

UNRULY STRIKERS.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Nov. 22.—There is no violence yet at Chapin or Ludington mines, but the officers have secretly sent for more police. It is said the Government has been asked to forward a company of militia. The strikers have forced all the employees to go in with them. They stopped the pumps on Tuesday night which causes the mines to fill with water. The fires are now out and the water is gaining rapidly. Pinkerton's men are now guarding the machinery. There were several shots on Tuesday night by unknown parties, throwing a woman into hysterics and causing general alarm. The strikers who number 1,500 have posted bills warning others to keep away. They demand full pay, with a deduction of board bills and store accounts. The Company refuse to accede.

EPPS'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and yet by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage, which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. THE HAYTIEN REVOLT.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 17.—Miragoane, Jacmel and Jeremie continue in the hands of the Haytien revolutionists. On the 10th inst. the revolutionist warship La Patrie captured four prizes, one schooner and three sloops with valuable cargoes. La Patrie left Jeremie on the 2nd inst. for Jacmel and Miragoane with five hundred men on board. The diplomatic body and captains of foreign war steamers declined to meddle with La Patrie, owing to instructions not to interfere in the Haytien revolution. It is reported that La Patrie has captured a Government transport, and it is also reported that the insurgent, General Mode, has taken Petit Goave, 35 miles from Port au Prince.

FALSETTO VOICES.

Of the burlesque prima donnas of negro minstrelsy, a performer is quoted as saying: "Tom Foley, generally known until his recent death as Ricardo, didn't have any difficulty in cultivating the falsetto voice that he used so cleverly on the stage. The trouble was all the other way. His thin, womanish voice was natural. He had in boyhood been a soprano singer in a church choir, and when he grew to manhood the qualification for that kind of vocalism didn't leave him. That was all very well as providing a means of making an easy good living; but he was sensitive about it, and would have gladly spoiled it by acquiring a masculine depth of tone. It was his constant endeavor to get rid of his falsetto."

DEMOCRATIC VS. REPUBLICAN MOTHERS.

BEN BUTLER'S ORIGINAL CALCULATIONS.

Ben Butler, in an interview with a reporter of the Boston Globe on his recent defeat for re-election, made the following comical calculations:—

Are there any elements which you think would be likely to give an increased Democratic vote next year?

O, many; but I will mention two. Our democratic mothers twenty odd years ago began having children at about the rate of three to one against the republican mothers. Children do not flourish on Beacon street and at Tewksbury. Those are now coming of age, and four out of five of them will be democratic, and that will add five per cent. on the democratic vote.

On the other hand the republicans raked so near the grave for their votes that any lifetable will tell you that at least four per cent. of their voters are liable to die within the year.

Certainly Ben takes the lead as the lightning calculator of this and the most ingenious of any age.

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

WILL CURE OR RELIEVE.

BILIOUSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, DROPSY, FLUTTERING OF THE HEART, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, DRYNESS OF THE SKIN,
And every species of diseases arising from disordered LIVER, KIDNEYS, STOMACH, BOWELS OR BLOOD.

T. MILBURN & CO., Proprietors, Toronto.

LEGAL vs. STANDARD TIME.

BOSTON, Nov 20.—The first legal complication arising from the change of time occurred to-day. Notice for examination of a poor debtor was issued last week from the office of the Commissioner of Insolvencies, returnable at 10 this morning. The insolvent appeared at 9 48 standard time, but the commissioner ruled that it was after 10 and defaulted him. The case will probably go to the Supreme Court.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

Loss and Gain.

CHAPTER I.

"I was taken sick a year ago
With bilious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I

Could not move
I shrunk

From 228 lbs. to 120! I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, my pains left me, my entire system seemed renewed as it by magic, and after using several bottles I am not only as sound as a sovereign, but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe my life."

Dublin, June 6, '81. R. FITZPATRICK.

HOW TO GET SICK.—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know how to get well, which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters!

The Abbe Liszt is on the point of publishing a great work on the technique of the pianoforte. It is to be in three volumes, and it is said that it represents the work of many years of the great virtuoso's life.

A MIXTURE OF MARRIAGES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Last summer J. B. Barnard and Blanche Burr, both employed in a bureaun of engraving and printing, eloped, the former leaving a wife and several children destitute. The matter caused considerable gossip then, but was soon forgotten. To-day the woman returned on a visit and showed that Barnard had married her in Philadelphia. Barnard explained that the woman, with whom he had lived for twenty-four years, was not legally his wife, as at the time he married her she had a husband living. Mrs. Barnard admits this, but explains that her first marriage was at the age of thirteen, that her first husband soon deserted her, and that she discovered that her first husband, whose name is Tindles, had a wife living when he married her, that Barnard knew all this and continued to acknowledge her as his wife, both believing her marriage to Tindles invalid. She proposes to have Barnard arrested.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Mifflin Co., Jan. 2, 1880.

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last 5 years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell me was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

"NO KNOWLEDGE OF FACTS"

The trustees of the State Normal School of New Hampshire announce in their annual report that while the cities and villages are gaining, the rural districts are losing population. As a result, the rural districts no longer offer a field for male teachers, and young women are employed. These, the trustees say, are not competent to teach facts. "They know something of books, but next to nothing of things, and have in most cases little claim to the quality of leadership." The trustees therefore insist that the pupils of the Normal School shall be kept at work upon facts until they find out how large a thing a fact is, so that they may go forth from the school to teach things first, and then forms and words. So it seems that the race of Gradgrinds is not extinct.

AN EARL'S DAUGHTER.

GUARDED BY BULL DOGS; SHE INSULTS EVERYBODY SHE MEETS.

The following are the main points of a story told by an American gentleman of an English girl whom he met on a railroad train going from Liverpool to London:—Fatigued with an ocean voyage he wished to be alone, and had bribed the guard to give him a separate compartment. Leaving the car for a few moments, he saw a carriage bearing an earl's coronet and an old lady parting with a handsome girl. On returning to the train he found that the girl had invaded his compartment, moved his baggage and taken possession of his seat, compelling him to ride backward. She had two bull-terriers with her, which were seated on a paper he had been reading, and growled at him whenever he moved. On asking her courteously for the paper, she snatched it from under the dogs, almost tearing it in two, and handed it to him with a fierce expression.

Soon afterwards she partook of a hearty lunch and drunk a pint of sherry, and a few minutes later her garter becoming disarranged, she lifted her skirts and clasped it on again, as if there were no man within a thousand miles. By this time he was disgusted, as well as tired, and the dogs continuing to threaten him on the slightest movement, he told her that if they offered to bite him again he would shoot them both, and throw them out of the window. At this she changed her manner somewhat and made the dogs lay down and continue quiet. At the next station he met a friend, who invited him to share his compartment and told him that the young lady was the daughter of a well-known earl, already rich in her own right, and to become very wealthy on the death of an aged relative, but that she habitually neglected the common courtesies of life in the manner he had seen.

REDPATH'S WEEKLY.
("A Journal for all the Family.")
JAMES REDPATH, EDITOR.

"James Redpath's paper has become a Story Paper and it is the best of its kind in America. Thousands of Irish-Americans support the inferior story papers published in New York and elsewhere. Let them try Redpath's Weekly and they will thank us for the hint."—Boston Pilot.

"We take much pleasure in again commending to our readers Redpath's Weekly, which Mr. Redpath now devotes entirely to Irish fiction and the most interesting stories of the writers of other lands. It is a clean paper which can be welcomed at any fireside, and in thus furnishing an antidote and an excellent substitute for the vile and demoralizing trash spread broad as it is the so-called 'story papers' of the day, he deserves the earnest support of every lover of decent literature in the community."—Irish-American.

"It is Irish in every thought and tone, racy of the soil of shamrocks and shillelahs. It is pure as the purity of the Irish maiden and brave as the bravery of Irishmen."—Rev. James Keegan.

Miss Blackburne's great novel of Irish life of to-day, "The Heart of Erin," begins in No. 361. James Redpath's "Jottings of my Journeys in Ireland" begins in the same number.

Every number contains several complete Irish and American social or legendary stories.

"Mick McQuaid as an Evangelist" in each number.

CHEAP FARMS
NEAR MARKETS.
The State of Michigan has more than 4,500 miles of railroad and 1,600 miles of Lake transportation, schools and churches in every county, public buildings all paid for, and no debt. Its soil and climate combine to produce large crops and it is the best fruit State in the Northwest. Several million acres of unoccupied and fertile lands are yet in the market at low prices. The State has issued a NEW PAMPHLET containing a map and descriptions of the soil, crops and general resources of every county in the State, which may be had free of charge by writing to the COMM'R OF IMMIGRATION, DETROIT, MICH.
