as part of the general election for Newfoundland which has not occurred! We grumble at such things in English journals, as showing a deplorable lack of knowledge of the Colonies. What shall be said of its publication in a journal in the metropolitan city of British America? Since the Leader took vessels from Collingwood to Chicago through the Sault Ste. Marie Canal we have not seen anything quite so atrocious.—Ib.

DEPARTURE OF SIR WM. EYRE.—This gallant General, who, during the last three years, has commanded the forces in Canada, sailed by the Nova Scotian. While pleased to think that he will have an efficient successor in Sir W. F. Williams, a colonist who has earned for himself the highest military standing by the skill and gallantry displayed in most difficult circumstances, the people of Canada will, nevertheless, regret the departure of Sir Wm. Eyre, who during his stay among us has identified himself with the interests of Canada, and especially of Montreal, to a degree that has won for him a very large measure of esteem and respect.—Transcript.

Newfoundland.

Never, in our remembrance, has there been a month of May to equal in fineness that which has just gone out. The last ten or twelve days of it especially presented all the characteristics of July in warm and genial temperature. We accordingly see vegetation far advanced, and the whole aspect of the country would indicate a much later period than that we have now reached. The grass looks luxuriant, and all other crops are in a forward state, while the dry weather of the last few days renders it desirable that we should soon have rain.

The fishery has begun well in Placentia and St. Mary's Bays, and from Bonavista Bay the accounts are favorable. In this neighbourhood it has hardly been commenced, but as caplin have been taken at Holyrood, we may look for busy times for our fishermen in the course of the present week.—Nfldr.

The New York Christian Advocate extracts the following items of the latest news from Mexico, being from Vera Cruz to the 23rd ultimo, as prepared for The N. O. Picayune:

"The news is of the first importance. Santa Anna has been formally invited back into the country, his titles, and honors, and immense estates restored to him by special decree. He is invited to come at once by way of Tampico, where General Woll is to meet him at the head of 1,000 men. This, the decree says, is only a debt of justice to the hero of a thousand lost battles; a debt rather which the nation owes to one of its most illustrious sons.

"Latest letters from the capital represent a frightful state of things there, almost a civil war among the inhabitants, growing out of the quarrel between Miramon and Zuloaga. The former had even threatened the arrest of his old confederate, and was only prevented from putting the threat into execution by the interference of the diplomatic corps.

"At last accounts from the island, Santa Anna was still at St. Thomas, preparing, it was said, to return to Carthagena. It would be curious if it should turn out that, advised of the course of events, he was then already packing up to return, no longer an exile, to the land of his birth.

"The Central Government of Mexico has issued a circular, in which it states that the withdrawal of the exequatur of Mr. Black, United States Consul at the City of Mexico, and others, was not dictated by any feeling of hostility against the United States. On the contrary, peaceable American citizens will be protected by all the force of the government. Mr. Black was still at the capital, where he remains at the request of Mr. M'Lane."

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Overland Mail that left San Francisco on the 13th of May, arrived here last night at 10 o'clock.

The steamer Santa Cruz had arrived at San Francisco from Mazatlan, with $385,000 in specie, and 36 Mexican officers who had been banished by the Liberals.

Sailed from San Francisco, bark Kemanglen for Sydney, Ship Coquimbo for Melbourne, and ship Dragon for Calcutta.

Eight white men, prospecting for silver, near Honey Lake, have been killed by Indians, and the house of Col. Stevenson at Red Bluff, had been burned on the 11th ult. Stevenson's wife, another woman, and five children, perished in the flames.

The Arizonian of the 19th, is filled with the accounts of the proceedings of a band of regulators who had driven all Mexicans from Southern Valley, and committed several murders. The Americans at Tubac publicly denounced these outrages, and a company of troops has been detailed from Fort Buchanan to suppress their further proceedings.

DR. AND MRS. PALMER.—The labours of Dr. and Mrs. Palmer having been so signally blessed in the British Provinces, they have been invited by the leading ministers of the Wesleyan connection in London to visit the Churches in that city, and different parts of England. They sailed on Saturday in the City of Baltimore, and will be absent during the summer. We learn that Mrs. Palmer's new book, "The Promise of the Father," has met with unusual success.—N. Y. Chris. Advocate.

Latest from Europe

WAR MOVEMENTS.

The First Battle at Montebello—The French and Sardinians Victorious. The battle of Montebello took place on the 21st ult. The French accounts say that the Austrians, 15,000 strong, under Gen. Stadion, attacked the advanced posts of Marshal Baraguay d'Hilliers, and were driven back by Gen. Forey's division after a fierce combat of four hours' duration. The Allies, including some Piedmontese cavalry carried Montebello, but did not pursue the Austrians.

The loss of the latter is stated by the French at 1,500 to 2,000, and that of the French at 600 to 700, of whom many were officers. Two hundred Austrians, including a Colonel, were taken prisoners.

The Austrian account simply states that General Stadion pushed forward a reconnoissance by a forced march toward Liglis and Montebello, but after a hot fight with a French force of superior strength, retreated behind the Po in perfect order.

The actual strength of the French is not stated.—Reports say they numbered from 6,000 to 7,000, beside a regiment of Sardinian cavalry.

Another Engagement with the Austrians—The Sardinians Victorious. A Sardinian bulletin also announces that the extreme left of the Sardinian army, under Gen. Chialdini, forced a passage over the Sesia, putting the Austrians to flight.

NAPLES.

Death of King Ferdinand. The King of Naples was dead, and Francis the II. had assumed the reins of Government. England and France are about to send representatives to Naples.

FRANCE.

The Moniteur announces that France adheres to the abolition of privateering, and the principle that a neutral flag covers enemies' goods.

Later by the Europa.

The Bulletin of the 30th May announced that the allies, under the King of Sardinia had crossed the Sesia and forced the Austrian post at Palestro. The Bulletin of the 31st brings the intelligence that the Austrians endeavored to retake the captured post, but were beaten back with tremendous loss. The Austrian force consisted of 25,000 men, coming from Bobbio, the place where their outpost had been considerably strengthened the day previous, and at 7 o'clock a movement took place towards the lately captured post of Palestro. The Sardinian cavalry of Gen. Caldini and the Zouaves received the Austrians, and repulsed them after a severe battle. The allies were commanded by the King in person, who exhibited the courageous qualities for which he has obtained a name. The Austrians are said to have left 1000 prisoners in the hands of the allies, besides having 400 men drowned in a canal which they had to cross. Eight cannon were left in the hands of the allies, besides having 400 men drowned in a canal which they had to cross. Eight cannon were left in the hands of the allies, six being claimed by the impetuous Zouaves, and two by their gallant friends of Sardinia.

The allied accounts confirm the bloody nature of the struggle, and the fact that the advantage of it rests with the allied army. It was like Montebello in the severity of the contest, but superior to it in securing something better than a name for the allied army. It seems clear, too, that there have only been two battles. One on the 30th ult., when the Sardinians attacked, the other on the following morning, when the Austrians were the assailants. Of the latter it is of which the Moniteur speaks when it describes the loss of the Zouaves. The Sardinian right flank was overpowered; it was outflanked indeed by the Austrian forces, who pushed forward with the apparent inattention of destroying a bridge of boats which communicated between the Sardinians and their supports, when the 3rd Zouaves were let loose upon them. They rushed upon the enemy's battery, forded a deep canal, bayonetted the artillery and infantry on the other side of it, or pitched them into the water. The Moniteur says that the Emperor ordered up the Zouaves, but the official Gazette of Turin merely states that the Emperor "has visited the battle field and congratulated the army on the advantageous result of the day."—The Zouave loss is set down at one officer and 80 soldiers killed, and 10 officers and 190 soldiers wounded; but this is obviously a misstatement, or else the desperate engagement was the cheapest affair in point of lives which the French have undertaken.

The capital of France was in great commotion on Tuesday, in consequence of prevalent rumours that fighting was general along the line of the allied army. The Austrian attack at Palestro was seconded by one lower down at Confienza in the Lomellieno, but similarly unsuccessful to the first; and a third attack on the extreme left of the allies, the guard at Sesto Calende, was just as unsuccessful. In the latter the enemy were pursued into Lombardy by the allies. In each instance the Austrians have been foiled.

Of the capture of Novara we hear for the first time in the Turin despatch of Wednesday. Gen. Neil entered the place almost without opposition, the Austrians flying precipitately, and the Emperor of the French appearing in the evening, amidst the plaudits of the people. General Neil entered at seven o'clock in the morning. That a general allied movement is about to take place seems nearly certain, for the French are concentrated at Vercelli, Casale, and Valenza; and General Neil's movement turns the line into a curve, so that the project of bemming in the enemy may be carried out. On the authority of the Moniteur, the French army has been strengthened lately by the arrival of 120,000 veterans of Algeria and the Crimea; and, on the other side, the army corps of Gen. Count Clam has reached Milan.

There is every reason to believe that the mass of the French and Piedmontese army is advancing on Milan by the military road and railway which ends from Vercelli through Novara and across the Ticino at the Bridge of Buffalora. At seven o'clock on Wednesday morning, the 1st inst., the French General Niel entered Novara, after a slight encounter with the Austrian outposts. This bold and rapid movement appears to have been a surprise, and it will compel the Austrians to do one or two things—either to fight a great battle between Novara and the Ticino, or to retreat from the territory of Piedmont and fight a battle on the Lombard side of the river. A few hours must bring us most important intelligence—probably of a general battle.

Rome continues in a disturbed state, as might have been anticipated, from the war in Piedmont, and volunteers are leaving continually for Genoa. Piedmont imposes certain conditions on the Pope before she will recognise the neutrality of his Holiness, an indubitable evidence that the bias of the Papal See is more than suspected. Large supplies of corn have been brought from Algeria for the allied army.

The Emperor of Austria arrived at Verona on Monday evening, en route for the field of battle. His Majesty is everywhere received with enthusiasm, so say the telegraphic despatches. When the two Emperors confront each other, when "Greek meets Greek," we may, in the familiar language of the quotation, expect the "tug of war."

The European Times says:—It is clear that, if Austria be worsted in the conflict with France, no little difficulty will be experienced in keeping Germany quiet. At present the passions of the people are excited to the highest pitch, but if the Austrians sustain a great defeat, hazard a great battle and lose it, the small estates, and even Prussia herself, may be compelled to make a demonstration against France. The Emperor Napoleon had evidently a misgiving of this kind before he went to Piedmont, and he showed it by placing his best soldier in command of the army of the Rhine; but he was hardly prepared, at this early stage of the contest to find such a manifesto of German policy as the Augsburg Gazette has recently given expression to in the most deliberate and advised form. Nothing less, it seems, than the immediate invasion of France, the sacking of Paris, and the annexation of Alsatia and Lorraine, will satisfy the worthy sons of "Fatherland," who are prepared to brave the anger and even the blows of Russia.—Whatever sensible and reasonable men may think of this fanfarronade, it is tolerably symbolical of the fact that we are only at the beginning of the end, and that events may arise before peace is restored which will convulse Europe through its length and breadth.

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC DESPATCHES.

EVACUATION OF BOBBIO BY THE AUSTRIANS.—Turin, June 2.—This morning the Austrians advanced from Bobbio towards the French outposts, but retired after a short fight. This movement was made to conceal the retreat of the Austrians, who had begun to evacuate Bobbio, carrying with them about 1000 wounded.

RECAPTURE OF VARESE BY GARIBALDI.—Garibaldi has surprised and beaten the Austrians at Verese and the town is again free of the enemy.

RETROGRESSION OF THE AUSTRIANS.—Turin, June 3.—The Austrians have withdrawn to the Eastern bank of the Po, and have abandoned Torre, Berelli and the neighbouring country. Garibaldi entered Como yesterday evening, at 11 o'clock.

WAR ITEMS.—The French squadron in the Adriatic have captured 35 Austrian vessels of the estimated value of four million francs.

A letter from Rome in the Constitutionnel says that the French engineers had recommenced the works of the fortification of Civitia Vecchia.

The National Gazette of Berlin protests against the war excitement in Germany, and says it is not influenced by patriotism, but is in reality due to the jealousies and intrigues of the petty states, actuated by ill-will towards Prussia.

FRANCE.—The Emperor has given orders for the construction of 60 flat bottomed boats for service in landing troops on an enemy's coast from ships of war. 22 additional battalions of foot chasseurs are to be organised on the plan of the original Chasseurs of Vincennes.

ROME.—A letter from Rome in the Debats says that Piedmont has recognised the neutrality of the Pontifical States, but demands from the Pope what guarantee he can give that the Austrians shall not make Romagna a basis of operations, but does not bind herself, in case the war should render a movement in Venetia necessary, not to cause a small corps d' Armee to cross from the Po, but only in the event of imperious necessity, and merely as a mode of passage.

TURKEY.—The Times correspondent writes on May 25th that the Herzegovina is said to be in open revolt.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an advertisement in another column to the following Testimonials: Further particulars given and orders received at the Wesleyan Book Room:—

From Geo. Washbourne Morgan, Organist of Grace Church and Middle Dutch Reformed Church.

UNIVERSITY BUILDING, N. Y. July 10, 1858.

Gentlemen,—The near approach to the Pipe or Organ tone attained by Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith, in the voicing of their Melodeons, united with their prompt and reliable action, entitles them to the first rank among this class of instruments. I cheerfully recommend them to purchasers either for Parlor, Hall, or Chapel use.

GEO. WASHBOURNE MORGAN

From B. F. Baker, Professor in the Boston Musical Institute, Author, &c., and Director of Music at the South Congregational Church.

BOSTON, Nov. 19th, 1857.

Gentlemen,—I confess to have entertained prejudice against Melodeons before having heard your instruments. But, by your new method of voicing, the monotonous, droning, buzzing sound, has been entirely cured, and in place of it a pure organ-like tone substituted. The action is prompt, and the tuning is really perfect. If your Melodeons receive the patronage they merit, they must come into very general use.

With regard, truly yours,

B. F. BAKER.

Messrs. S. D. & H. W. SMITH. 511 Washington Street, Boston.

☞ The Royal Mail Steamer Europa arrived on Monday night. The war news will be found in another column. The ceremony of opening Parliament took place on the 31st May. The only business transacted was the re-election of Mr. Denison as speaker, on the motion of Col. Wilson Patten, seconded by Sir F. Baring.—The right hon. gentleman was again installed in the chair without opposition, but amid much compliment and congratulation.

☞ Wednesday, the 8th of June was a gala day in the city of Halifax. There was a military review on the common, and a boat race in the harbour. Sir W. F. Williams of Kars was present at the review in the morning. The Volunteer Artillery took part with great credit to themselves.

A "MONOGRAPH ON DIPTHERIA" has just been published by Dr. Charles Bent, in which its history, progress, cause and treatment are explained, and the practices of quacks denounced with just severity.

☞ The Book Steward will be absent for two weeks attending the Session of the Annual Conference in Charlotte Town. Letters and monies received during his absence, will be answered and acknowledged on his return.
