87. Moved by Mr. Berford, seconded by Mr. Cromar, That these Counties in a financial point of view are suffering serious loss in consequence of parties having got possession of a large portion of the most valuable land in the County of Bruce, and as means of such movements, insincere promises to the Crown Lands Agent, or other unfair means have contrived to evade this wise condition imposed by statute, namely, "actual and continuous settlement," and thereby retarding the progress of improvement and its consequent increase of population and industry which alone is the true source of individual and popular wealth. For this cause, and with a view to the prosperity of these Counties and its consequent most desirable increase of revenue, it is most judicious that the Warden be requested to petition at as early a period as may be by the Governor and Council praying that such measures may be adopted, as will make serve the practical performance of the evident good intentions of the Legislature as displayed in the 6th Section of the act 16 Vic. Chap. 159. Carried.

88. Moved by Mr. Hays, seconded by Mr. Berford. That the Maps received, and about to be received by the Reeves of these Counties for the use of the Clerks of their respective Townships be paid for out of the Township funds according to the number of Maps they receive, and that the several reeves pay for the maps to the County Clerk when they have received them, and that such maps be too paid for by the Counties as passed yesterday. Carried.

Second Report of the Finance Committee was received read and adopted, without amendment, which By-Law to raise by way of loan with the United Counties of Huron and Bruce, the sum of seven thousand five hundred and eight pounds seven shillings and nine pence for County purposes for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty four was read and adopted.

89. Moved by Mr. Cromar, seconded by Mr. Ransall that this Council do now adjourn to meet again on Tuesday the 19th day of September next. Carried Reform Meeting at Stratford.

In pursuance of notice in last News, a meeting of the Reformers of Stratford was held in the Union Hotel —Dr Hyde in the chair. The meeting was attended by most of the influential Reformers of the town.

Moved by Mr, John A. Scott, seconded by Mr Keays, and unanimously resolved,—

That this meeting recommends the following planks as of paramount importance to be included in the Reform platform of the country,—

1. Immediate secularization of the Reserves, and divisions of the proceeds among the various municipalities.

2. Federal Union of the Provinces—the only means of relieving Upper Canada from the difficulties continually arising in consequence of its connexion with a country differing materially in its views on many religious, social and educational questions.

3. A Prohibitory Liquor Law.

4. Law Reform—Abolition of the Court of Chancery—consolidation and simplication of the Law.

5. Vote by Ballot.

6. Election of Country Officers, and Reduction of government patronage generally, so far as practicable without injury to the public service.

Moved by Mr. A. B. Orr, seconded by Mr Keays—

That this meeting pledges itself to support none but a county man at the ensuing election.

Mr. Linton objected to the resolution, and said some discretion should be left to the delegates to choose some other person of a suitable county man could not be obtained.

Mr. Orr—A county man can be obtained.

Mr. L. (interrupting) and not elected

Mr O.—And elected, in spite of all official influence.

Moved by Mr. J. J. E. Linton, seconded by Mr. Peter Reid—

That the delegates to be appointed should not be confined to the selection of a gentleman from the County, which such cannot agreeably be obtained.—Amendment lost.

After a few other remarks, the motion was declared carried.

Mr Linton objected to some of the proceedings, protested against any body taking part in the meeting except such as were considered Reformers at last election.

Messrs. J. A. Scott and Peter Reid were appointed delegates to the Convention.

After a vote of thanks to the Chairman, the meeting separated.—Nes.

Commerce of Canada.

We have received an early copy of the Report of the Committee of the Board of Trade of Montreal, on the Commerce of Canada, to which we are anxious, at the earliest moment, to draw the attention of our readers.

The Report is signed by the Hon. John Young, Chairman of the Committee, and opens with a very able review, of the past and present condition of the trade of the Country; and of the effect of the Free Trade measures, by which in 1846, Sir Robert Peel, at the cost of so many political and personal friendships, introduced the principle of Free Trade, and revolutionized the commercial policy of the Mother Country, not only towards her own children, but towards the world at large.

We believe that no political change, within the memory of man, was ever received with such mingled sentiments of approbation and disapprobation, as Sir Robert Peel's commercial changes of 1846. Eight years have elapsed since their introduction, and adoption by the country, and now scarcely a dissentient voice is to be heard in opposition to the sagacious and statesmanlike views by which they were inaugurated. Great Britain and Ireland are reaping a rich reward, for the liberal and enlightened policy then introduced, and we believe the frank acceptance and continuance, in this system of policy, will do more to develope the resources, and ensure the continued prosperity of the Canadas, than any other thing which the wisdom of man can devise. No countries, ancient or modern, are so well fitted to carry on a Free Trade as the United Kingdom, and her colonies. The epproach of Napoleon 1st; that we are a mere Nation boutiquiere, is not, if rightly read, a reproach. We are a nation of shopkeepers, and should be proud of it, for Commerce carries civilization in its train; Commerce gives encouragement to Arts and Science; Commerce causes international communication, and enables us to test our own progress, by the proficiency of other people. It would take more space than we can spare, to specify all the blessings, and advantages, which result from extended commerce; and hence it is that we hail with so much satisfaction the signing of the treaty of reciprocal intercourse between the Executives of the Provinces, and the United States, believing as we do, that when sanctioned by the Legislatures, and in operation, it will remove many of the existing restrictions on trade, and that it will materially advance the commercial interests, and the permanent prosperity of the country.

The Report before us gives some valuable statistical information respecting the progress of commerce. In 1827 the exports from the British American Provinces to the United States, fell short of a million of dollars; in 1832 they exceeded six millions. In 1847 the entire exports and imports amounted to eight millions of dollars. In 1852, after an interval of only three years, they had increased in amount to sixteen millions. In 1849 the exports and imports from the Canadas, alone, amounted in round numbers to five millions, in 1852 they had more than doubled, amounting to twelve millions. In 1850 the quantity of wheat exported to the States from the Canadas, was equivalent to about 25,000 barrels, in 1852 it amounted to nearly 467,000 barrels. But while the general trade has increased so largely, it is unquestionable, that the commerce of the lower, has not increased, pari passu, with the commerce of the upper colony. The number of vessels which entered the port of Montreal in the year 1845, was 210, tonnage 51,000; in 1853, 252, tonnage 59,000, and it is one of the reasons why, we hail the opening of the St. Lawrence to the vessels of the United States, believing, as we do, that it will greatly advance the commercial prosperity of our city, and more especially as, if the present experiments in removing the obstruction to the navigation of the river should prove as successful as those executed, by the same engineers, in the more formidable obstructions of the East River at Hurlgate, New York.—Pilot.

The Siege of Silistria.

From the London Times June 12.

The latest accounts of the operations before Silistria are decidedly favorable to the Turks. We several engagements which took place in the last days of the month of May but there appears to be no doubt that on the 27th ult. the Russians made another attempt to carry the place by storm, in which they were repulsed with great loss, and that on the 30th the Turks were able to assume the offensive against the besieging army. It is stated that information had been received by the government from Admiral Dundas that the garrison had succeeded in countermining the Russian engineers to such an extent that 8,000 or 10,000 of the assailants had been blown up. If this statement be correct it cannot fail to be verified within a short time by other channels, and it may turn out to be no more than a rumor which reached Admiral Dundas at Baltschik, for it was accompanied with some other particulars which are certainly inaccurate. At any rate, however, we may assume with confidence that Silistria has been defended with far greater skill, energy, and success than could be anticipated. That the Russian army has suffered tremendously before this place, at the out set of the campaign, and that it is by no means improbable that the Turks will be able to hold out until it can be relieved, if the result of these operations is so discreditable to the Russian army, that it must tend to increase the irritation of the Emperor Nicholas, and to render it more than ever unlikely that he will accede to the demands of Austria, which probably reached St. Petersburg on the same day as the news of this fresh check before Silistria. It is even possible that the loss sustained by that portion of the Russian army which has passed over to the right bank of the Danube is so considerable as to induce Omar Pacha to attack it. But on this point we speak with great hesitancy. Down to the 30th of May, the British Light Division, under General Brown, had not left Scutari for Varna, and we are confident that neither Lord Raglan nor Marshal St. Arnaud will expose their troops to field operations against the Russians without their proper complement of artillery, and a certain amount of cavalry. About 2,000 horses had, during the British arms had arrived at Constantinople when the latest accounts left, but the transports have been retained by contrary winds. The military authorities must be fully aware of the immense importance of a large force of artillery—an arm in which British armies are too commonly weak—and we feel certainly in with satisfaction that the whole artillery force of this expedition, guns, horses and men, has been doubled.

A Remarkable Man.

Col. Lemanowsky, of Detroit and Michigan was a member of the Legislature of that State several years ago, and then was a Napoleon in politics. Though was twenty three years in the armies of the Great Captain, and a favorite of that Great General. In a recent speech, at a temperance meeting in Alabama, Col. Lemanowsky rose before the audience, tall, erect and vigorous, with a glow of health upon his cheek, and said

You see before you a man 70 years old. I have fought two hundred battles, have fourteen wounds on my body, have lived thirty days on horse flesh, with the bark of trees for my bread, snow and ice for my drink, the canopy of heaven for my covering, without shoes and stockings on my feet, and only a few rags of clothing. In the desert of Egypt I have marched for days with a burning sun upon my naked head, for I blistered in the scorching sand, and with eyes, nostrils and mouth filled with dust, and with a thirst so tormenting that I have opened the veins of my arms and sucked my own blood! Do you ask me how I have survived all these horrors? I answer, under the Providence of God, owe my preservation, my health and vigor to the fact, that I never drank a drop of spirituous liquors in my life! And Baron Larry, Chief of the Medical Staff of the French Army, has stated as a fact that the 6,000 surviviers, who had safely returned from Egypt, were all of them men who had abstained from ardent spirits.—Detroit Weekly Times.

Ohio Liquor Law.—The law against the adulteration of liquors passed last winter in Ohio, provides that the Probate Judge of each county shall appoint a proper and competent chemist whose duty it shall be to inspect all liquors for sale at wholesale or retail, and certify that it is a genuine and unadulterated article.

"The penalty for adulterating spirituous liquors, or selling such liquors knowing them to be adulterated, or selling liquor, not inspected, is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, and imprisonment in jail not less than 10 nor more than 30 days. The penalty of putting adulterated liquors into vessels branded 'pure,' or for selling or offering to sell such liquors for the purpose of practicing deception, is imprisonment in the penitentiary not more than one year. The inspector is entitled to charge $2 a day for his services and mileage at the rate of five cents a mile—to be paid by the owner of the liquor or the person offering to sell it.—Detroit Weekly Times.

Ontonagon has improved lately, and is getting to be quite a place. Plank roads are being built, and everything wears an air of business, like a lively, quite remarkable for so small a town, but more of this hereafter.

Quebec Shipping and Canada Corn.—The Corn Market held on Tuesday. There was no Channel business, and only four civil Cases and the Judge terminated at an early hour the same day.

On the Move!—The partizans of the Hon. Member for Kent have begun to bestir themselves by getting up a Requisition addressed to him, requesting him to stand for the Representation of Lambton at next Election. They do not appear, however, to be at all sure that Mr. B. will "face the music" here, the concluding paragraph indicating that they do not know whether his reply to the requisition will be affirmative or not. A similar course is proceeding in being taken in the County of Kent, and possibly will be so that Mr. B may be sure of a seat as Representative of some or other of them.

A Requisition has also been got up to the Hon. M. Cameron, giving him an invitation to stand as Candidate for Lambton, copies of which are now in circulation in the County for signature. We have also heard that the Reformers of the South Riding of Lanark have despatched a deputation to Quebec to solicit Mr. C. to stand as Candidate for the Representation of that constituency, under the firm conviction that they can return him in opposition to the present Tory member, Mr Shaw, without any difficulty.—Lambton Observer.

The Railway to Port Sarnia.—The Globe's capital is evidently getting low if we may judge from the basis of its latest personal attack on a member of the Government. The Postmaster General, it appears, has announced by hand bill, the sale of a certain portion of his property in the town of Port Sarnia and as an inducement to purchasers, he has intimated in legible characters in the bill, that the town will shortly become the terminus of two railways. He has in fact had the audacity to display, (in printers, phraseology) the words "Railway Terminus" We do not learn that he has committed the still greater atrocity of adding an exclamation point or so. If he has, of course the case against the minister is still blacker. We should say, the simple words "Railway terminus," would themselves be a very strong case against Mr. Cameron; but really if the exclamation points follow, it is a clear case of impeachment.

Seriously, however, the Globe wishes it to appear that Mr. Cameron in attempting to dispose of his property at Railway prices is guilty of an atrocity, insomuch as he is aware that the Grand Trunk Company do not intend carrying their line to Port Sarnia. It is the Globe's business to injure the Railway Company, and at the same time to damage Mr. Cameron in the eyes of the people of Lambton; it is the business of those who have any regard to truth to correct these misrepresentations. We have the best authority for stating that the West terminus of the Grand Trunk Railway will be the town of Port Sarnia, and that the lines to that place will be completed in two, or two and a half years.—Leader.

The Cholera—Dr Hartshorne says:

An intelligent lady of our acquaintance, whose little boy was beginning this strange talk, anxious to express to her child her horror of profanity, hit the novel process of washing out his mouth with soap suds whenever he swore. It was an effectual cure. The boy understood his mother's sense of the corruption of an oath, and the taste of suds, which, together produced the desired result. We can heartily commend the ingenuity of the mother. She is about as famous for inventions in our eyes, as those steam gods Watts and Fulton.

To the free and independant Electors of the United Counties of Huron and Bruce.

Gentlemen,—

The Legislative Assembly of this Province having been dissolved, I beg to announce to you my intention of offering myself as a Candidate for your Suffrages, to place me in the Legislature as your Representative the next General Election,

I have lived amongst you for the last fifteen years, and have always taken a warm interest in your prosperity—and I need scarcely tell you, that your interests and my interests are one and the same.

My Political principles are and always have been Conservative. I am a Canadian by birth, and come forward for your Suffrages as an Independant man—my object should I be elected, is to secure the interests of my native Country, and these Counties in particular.

I give no pledges—If I am sent to Parliament as the man of your choice, I wish to go there untrammeled: and you may rest assured I shall never forfeit the trust you may repose in me, by deserting my principles, either for the sake of expediency or of any thing else.

I shall never consent to the Secularization of the Clergy Reserves; for the Church of England of which I am a Member, I claim no exclusive rights, but I look upon the Clergy Reserve Act of 3 & 4 Victoria chapter 78—passed by the Legislature of Canada and confirmed by the Imperial Parliament as final and conclusive—I am prepared, taking that Act as the basis to legislate upon any measure which may be introduced into Parliament, regarding this question—

I entirely disapprove of the course pursued by the present Ministry—they have in dissolving Parliament, violated the principles of the Constitution—holding forth that they have been carrying out Responsible Government in its integrity, they have trampled upon its first principles; and amongst other charges, which are brought against them—and which they do not deny: they have opposed Representation based upon Population.

I fear that I shall not be able from the Election taking place at a very early period to see many of you personally. Permit me then again to assure you that if I am sent to Parliament as your Representative, I shall endeavour by all means to secure your local interests so to act as to merit your continued confidence and support.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN STRACHAN.

The Spirit of the Age.

IS ONWARD AND IMPROVING.

IN proof of this, the Public generally are invited to call at the Shop of HORACE HORTON, and judge for themselves.

The Subscriber having kept pace with the wants and wishes of his numerous supporters in Goderich and the vicinity for the last five years, is now fully prepared from practical experience and increased facilities, to supply Farmers, professional men, merchants, stage proprietors, contractors and keepers of livery stables, &c., with either Plain, Brass or Silver Mounted. He has also just received a large assortment of English Saddles in addition to those of his own manufacture; also round and flat English Bridles and Martingales, Buffalo skins, Horse-blankets, Whips, Brushes, Brushes, Curry Combs, Mane Combs, Trace-chains, and every thing connected with a general Saddlery Warehouse.

☞ Horton has no hesitation in stating that his prices are as uniformly low, as those of any house in Canada West that employs first class workmen and manufactures nothing but a superior article of stock.

He would respectfully draw in any other Harness work in his, such as the result of the science of mining.

The subscriber would particularly call the attention of intending purchasers to his assortment of Ladies' and gentlemens' saddles which is larger and cheaper than any that even he has before offered for sale.

Saddles for cash from $5 to $35.
