The following is a copy of the Address, which was adopted at the above meeting:—

TO THE HONORABLE WARD CHIPMAN.

The members of the Bar assembled at the St. John Circuit, cannot permit this, the first occasion of their having met together since the resignation by your Honour of the responsible duties of the Chief Justiceship of the Supreme Court of this Province, to pass, without expressing their deep regret for the cause, and their high appreciation of the motives, which induced that resignation; and without also publicly testifying their conviction of the able and honorable manner in which those duties have been by you always discharged.

They believe they but express the opinion of the people of the Province, when they say, that the administration of justice, under your guidance, has been distinguished by a strict adherence to the Law, and the most unbiasing impartiality.

The language of flattery it would be unbecoming in me to offer, and unworthy of yourself to receive; but the Reports of the supreme Court for the last sixteen years, afford, in language which no man can pervert, and which all may read, enduring records of the vigorous application of your mind, and the sound conclusions of your judgment, upon the various questions of Rights and Property, which conflicting interests have brought before that tribunal for adjudication; and in the calm seclusion of private life to which you have now retired, it must be a source of gratification to reflect, that your decisions are cited and referred to as authorities, in the Courts of the United States and the adjoining Colonies, in cases of a similar character.

We cannot permit ourselves longer to trespass on the privacy you have chosen; but we feel, that if the recollection of a public life usefully devoted to your country's service, and of a private life of unsullied purity, can shed repose over the declining evening of your days, then it will be in your power, like the Roman of old, to clothe yourself with the remembrance of the past, and exclaim, "Mea virtute me involvo."

In conclusion, we wish you every happiness this world can now afford you.

St. John, N. B., January 22nd, 1851.

The foregoing address was signed by the following fifty members of the Bar, viz.:

The Hon. the Attorney General, the Hon. R. L. Hazen, Recorder, &c., Wm. Wright, Esq., Advocate General, A. L. Street, R. F. Hazen, Peter Stubs, J. M. Robinson, M. H. Perley, Geo. Wheeler, Wm. Jack, Geo. D. Street, D. Robertson, Chas. Johnston, J. H. Gray, J. W. Peters, R. Boyard, W. J. Ritchie, C. W. Weldon, S. J. Scovil, W. R. M. Burtis, E. B. Peters, R. K. Gilbert, Chas. Duff, W. T. Peters, Gustavus R. Jarvis, J. J. Kaye, A. R. Wetmore, Geo. T. Rouse, Chas. Doherty, H. T. Gilbert, E. B. Kinnear, J. G. Campbell, C. A. Hartt, R. Parker, junr., A. MacKenna, N. DeWeber, R. S. Armstrong, D. P. Stevens, Chas. Wetmore, S. R. Thompson, George Blatch, W. H. Hathaway, W. C. Drury, F. Cossitt, junr., H. W. Frith, C. W. Stockton, W. Hutchinson, junr., G. G. Gilbert, junr., E. Jack, and B. L. Peters, junr., Esquires, who, at half-past 1 o'clock, p. m., yesterday, (being the time appointed for the purpose,) waited in a body upon his Honour the late Chief Justice, at his residence for the purpose of presenting it.

The Hon. the Attorney General having, in the name of the Gentlemen assembled, stated to His Honour the purpose of their visit, then read and presented the Address; to which His Honour, in a voice almost choked with emotion, and in accents of deep feeling, read the following reply:—

GENTLEMEN,—It is impossible for me to receive this Address without deep emotion. It is indeed most gratifying to me to be assured, that I retire from Public Life with the esteem and good opinion of those among whom that Public Life has been passed.

With regard to the Decisions of the Supreme Court to which you allude, it must be remembered that a full share of any merit they may possess is owing to the hearty and most efficient co-operation of my Brethren on the Bench.

Gentlemen—I bid you farewell with the most sincere wishes for your prosperity and happiness.

It was a most gratifying circumstance to observe, that in order to do greater honour to the occasion, and to add their testimony of respect for the venerable Gentleman who had so long been associated with them, all the Judges now living, who had sat with him on the Bench, viz., the Hon. Chief Justice Carter, and their Honors Judges Botsford, Parker and Street, together with his Honor the Master of the Rolls, were assembled together to witness the presentation of the Address of the Bar. The scene was altogether truly gratifying; and all present seemed deeply impressed, on witnessing the affecting emotions of the venerable Chief Justice on receiving the Address, and in reading his brief but admirable reply. It was evident that he deeply appreciated the respectful tribute thus unanimously paid him; and this afforded the highest gratification to those who had rendered it. After partaking of some refreshment, all the Gentlemen present individually shook hands with their respected host, bid him farewell, and retired.

CARLETON LECTURES.—The Revd. Robert Irvine, lectured last evening on "Female Education." The lecture was well calculated to elevate the female character, whilst the facts and arguments adduced by the lecturer furnished gratifying proof of the capacity of the female intellect, being in all respects equal to that possessed by the "lords of the creation."

George Blatch, Esquire, will lecture on Thursday evening next—On the present Age.

LATER FROM ENGLAND.

Intelligence reached here this day from Halifax, that the Arctic, (one of the Collins' line of Liverpool and New York steamers,) had put into that port, in want of coals. The Arctic sailed 14 days after the missing steamer Atlantic, but brings no account of her. The worst fears are now felt for her safety.—No additional intelligence of consequence is announced by this arrival.

BISHOP OF NOVA SCOTIA.—Willmer's European Times states that the Right Reverend Edward Feild, Bishop of Newfoundland, is to be translated from his present diocese to that of Nova Scotia, vacant by the death of Dr. Inglis.

MASONIC HALL.—We understand that it is in contemplation by the members of Albion Lodge of Freemasons to give a Ball under their Banners on the evening of the 12th of February next. The Masonic Balls have always been well attended, and there is no reason to doubt but the one in contemplation will equal in every respect those preceding it.

RAILROADS IN GERMANY.—In the minor States of Germany there are 321 miles of railroad. In Prussia, previous to 1845, there had been projected 3,200 miles of railroad, of which 652 miles had been completed previously to that year.—In Austria 495 miles of railroad had been contracted.

The Lecture intended to be delivered at the Mechanics' Institute on Monday evening, by the Rev. Mr. Stewart, was postponed on account of the unfavorable state of the weather.

☞ "Zenyatta" was received last evening. If the writer intended it for another paper, it would appear by his private note, he can have the manuscript by calling or sending for it.

☞ The Annual General Meeting of the Diocesan Church Society, took place last evening, at the Sunday School Rooms attached to Trinity Church, in this city. Want of time prevents our giving full particulars of the meeting: but a more extended notice shall appear in our next number.

A black man, named Joseph Butler, a fugitive slave from the States, has been committed to the mayor's Court for stealing a watch. We some time since drew attention to the number of fugitive slaves who would fly to Canada, and that not being able to procure work, and unaccustomed to the rigour of our climate, their situation would be deplorable. In the Western part of the province the number of these wretched people is creating quite an alarm among the whites, and threats are whispered of getting rid of them.—[Hamilton Express.

FISH IN CALIFORNIA.—The deep, cool waters of the Sacramento River, contain several varieties of fish of the first quality. The salmon taken from this stream are large, fine flavoured, and as wholesome specimens of the finny tribe as can be produced in any other waters. The river is constantly fed by the snow from the mountains, and so rapid is its current, that the water retains an unusual coolness till they are lost in the Bay.—In our warmest days, says the Sacramento Transcript, the river water is so cool as not to be unpleasing to drink, and hence we do not feel the want of ice so seriously as the people in the States who are compelled to drink water from the Mississippi.

LOTS OF SHEEP.—The freight train on the Androscoggin and Kennebec Railroad, on Saturday morning, consisting of 31 cars, in addition to huge piles of lumber and a drove or two of fat oxen, had on board thirteen hundred (1300) sheep,—all bound to the city slaughter house. This is carrying the pelts off on a large scale.—(Maine Farmer.)

The Secretary of the navy announces that the frigate St. Lawrence has been ordered to be in readiness to sail for London on the 1st of February with articles to the world's fair. She must be at Brooklyn on the 25th inst.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE FROM LOVE.—On Wednesday last, George Downes of Cheshire, Ct., a young man very far gone in love, called at the house of his inamorata, and after remaining for a long time, apparently in a dampish state of mind, suddenly rose from his seat, drew a pistol from his pocket, and deliberately shot himself, the ball passing through the lower part of his abdomen and lodging in one of his hip bones. He was immediately conveyed home, and now lies in a critical condition. Some "honest Iago" had been poisoning his mind with jealousy against a favored rival.—Bos. Her.

Prof. Olmstead of New Haven has discovered that one pound of rosin and three pounds of lard, when stirred together, become semi fluid at 72 degrees Farenheit. The mass melts at 90 edgrees, and will remain transparent and limpid at that temperature. For lard lamps, the lard is rendered more fluid by the rosin, and its power of illumination is increased two-fifths. It is a singular fact that although the mixture melts at 90 degrees, the rosin alone requires 300 degress to melt it, and the lard 97 degrees.

A CURIOUS MAP.—Ephraim Littlefield, Janitor of the Medical College, has in his possession a map or sketch, drawn by Dr. John Webster, (while in jail awaiting his trial,) of the streets in which Mrs. Rhodes and others believed they had seen Dr. Parkman after his murder, with the positions of each person marked, and a time-table annexed. After receiving sentence, Dr. Webster gave the map to Mr. Littlefield, who has had it framed.—[Bos. Jour.

DISASTERS ON THE LAKES.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser of Saturday last, publishes a detailed statement, showing the loss of life and property on the lakes during the past year. The vessels which met with disasters were, 31 steamers, 9 propellers, 2 barques, 34 brigs, 68 schooners, and 6 scows, in all 170. The loss of property was:—

On Steamboats,	$265,700
" Propellers,	30,444
" Sail Vessels,	262,782
Total,	$558,926

Ten steamboats, 21 sailing vessels and probably one propeller, were entirely lost—the remainder were only partially damaged.

The loss of life was 395, of which 375 were on board steamers, and 20 on sailing vessels.

The steamers in which lives were lost were the G. P. Griffith, burned, 250; A. Wayne, exploded and sunk, 65; Commerce, sunk by collision, 38; America, explosion, 11; Troy, do. 9; Cadmus, do. 1; Canada, gale, 1. The sailing vessels were, schooner Neptune, foundered, 7, all on board; schr. Martha Freme, wrecked, 7; schr. General Thornton, do., 4; two scows capsized, 2.—[N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

THE WAY OF TRANSGRESSORS.—The following remarks from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, under the above head, are worthy of attention. We trust that the summary commitment of Sheldon and his companion in infamy will read a salutary lesson to all our city cab-drivers at least:—

"The Cleveland Plain Dealer, in remarking upon the recent "cab case" in this city, says that the young man Livingston Sheldon, was formerly of Cleveland, whose career is a most impressive warning to his old companions, and especially to parents and guardians. He will be recollected as the wild and sprightly son of R. Sheldon, late President of the City Bank, much given to skylarking, and subjected to a most fitful and irregular visitation of alternate indulgence and severity on the part of his father. He was still a lad when he enlisted in Company H, 15th Regiment of Volunteers, commanded by Captain Perry, and went to Mexico. There he was noted for his never-tiring marches and his sleepless nights given to marauding. Since his return, he has been engaged in cab-driving in Buffalo. About two weeks ago Mr. Trusset arrived at Buffalo by the Eastern cars in the evening, and procured Sheldon's cab, wishing to be driven to the steamboat. He was driven to the lake beach, where Sheldon and another cabman, by threats, &c., extorted from him five dollars; another five was also attempted to be extorted of him, but he broke away and escaped to the boat. The perpetrators of this misdemeanor were arrested, indicted for highway robbery, found guilty and sentenced to ten year's imprisonment in the Auburn State Prison.

There appears to be a general acquiescence in the justice and justness of the sentence in the above case. All cities seem to be troubled with dishonest cabmen, who are constantly practising imposition upon travellers. In this city, they are in the habit of overcharging, and we have heard of instances little less criminal than that practised by Sheldon and his associate. They should be a little more careful hereafter and keep within the limits of the law.

BARNUM'S FIRST OPERATION.—P. T. Barnum's of the New York Museum, and now the protege of Jenny Lind, is the greatest professional showman in the world, and certainly the most successful money making man at this time in America. Whatever he touches literally turns to gold. His loans of Tom Thumb, his tour through Europe, his entrance to Queen's palaces and entertainments to crowned heads, was thought the chef d' œuvre of a showman; but his late engagement and court-like success with Jenny, throws the Tom Thumb feat into the shade. He cleared half a million with Tom, he will clear a million and a half with Jenny; and still his Museum, clearing from $300 to $500 per day, is his main dependence for wealth.

His "first operation," however, exhibits best the genius of the man. Most Clevelanders will remember a few years ago a small drove of Buffalo fellows passed through this City on their way east to be exhibited, but the owner being no showman could not pay expenses with them and when they got to Utica they were seized and sold at constable's sale to pay the owner's debts. Barnum hearing of this, lost no time in buying said Buffaloes, getting them cheap. He took them to Hoboken, where he hired them kept, saying nothing to nobody. He next went to all the ferrymen on the river and asked about what their daily receipts were. Ascertaining that, he proposed to charter their services for a single day, paying them a slight increase above ordinary receipts. To this they assented, and he bound the bargains by advancing a portion of the pay. Next appeared those bill in flaming capitals posted all over New York, that on such a day there would be a Grand Buffalo Chase at Hoboken. Eighteen live Buffaloes fresh from the Prairies, and with wild Indians mounted on native chargers to chase them, &c., all to be seen free gratis and for nothing—New York turned out as it had never done before. The ferry boat ran from early light till two o'clock next morning loaded to their guards with passengers. The nett proceeds of the whole operation amounted to five thousand dollars, and this was the beginning of Barnum's success and his subsequent fortune.

JENNY LIND'S WEALTH.—A correspondent of the Home Journal has written a short article which is going the rounds of the papers stating that Jenny Lind's wealth amounts to $1,000,000. Now we have the following facts from a reverend gentleman, who knew her well in Sweden, and to whom both in Europe and America she has imparted with the most child like confidence every particular in relation to her pecuniary affairs, as well as to her future prospects and intentions.

Jenny Lind has neither a sister nor a brother living. She lost a sister some years ago, but never had a brother, notwithstanding the numberless stories to the contrary which have been circulated. Her parents are both living in quiet and retirement at her native city, Stockholm, being supported by an adequate sum, put aside for that purpose by their affectionate daughter. Jenny Lind's annual incomes from property which she has laid by, is less than $6000, (not so much as she could make at a single concert,) and she is fully determined never to increase it, for every farthing of her income and earnings above what she expends for her own personal wants is devoted to charity. The whole of the funds received from her American engagement, are set aside for the establishment of Common Schools in Sweden, and it is her intention to devote her personal services to the supervision and inspection of these schools.

Her reverend and venerable friend once said to her, "Miss Lind, I think that you should have a large annual income secured to you, that you might be prepared in case you should lose your voice."

"In that event," she replied, "one sixth of my present income would support me well in Sweden, and at all events, it is as much as any person with proper feelings ought to expend in a year. So I am still left $5000 per annum for charitable purposes." A woman with such a heart would indeed be wealthy if she possessed not a dollar in the world.—N. Y. Sun.
