THE EXHIBITION.

IMPOSING OPENING CEREMONIES THIS MORNING.

The Roll of Guns Precedes the Speeches—President Everett's Address and the Speech of Sir Leonard Tilley, Who Formally Opened the Great Show—Notes of Interest—The Programme for the Week.

The exhibition is open. It is more or less peculiar that a large number of people have been going about telling their friends that the exhibition in St. John this year would be a failure. Half a dozen of these people were to be seen on the grounds to-day but, they were far from happy. Their prognostications had been incorrect.

At 10 o'clock, the hour fixed for the formal opening of the exhibition, Lieut. Gov. Sir Leonard Tilley and Lady Tilley, accompanied by Lieut. Gov. Carvell and Mrs. Carvell, arrived at the entrance to the exhibition grounds. At the main gate they were met by the president and directors of the big show. By them the distinguished party was escorted to the band stand, where the opening ceremonies were performed.

The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Charles A. Everett, president of the association. Among those present were Lieut.-Col. Armstrong, Lieut. Tilley, Capt. Sterling, Major Tucker, Lieut. Churchill, Lieut. Manning, Judge Palmer, Judge King, Alds. Kelly, Tufts, McGoldrick, Smith, Nickerson, Lockhart, McLauchlan, Blizard, Likely, W. A. Chesley, Smith, Nase, Hon. T. R. Jones, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, W. A. Gray, Alex. Macaulay, J. A. Hutchings, Dr. James Christie, Col. Goldie and many others.

PRESIDENT EVERETT'S ADDRESS.

At 10.30 o'clock Mr. C. A. Everett, president of the Exhibition Association, stepped to the front, and looking towards Governor Tilley and the party on the platform spoke, as follows:

"May it please your honor, on behalf of the Exhibition Association of the city and county of St. John I welcome you to this exhibition and the welcome is also extended to Lady Tilley and Governor Carvell and his lady.

"The success which attended the exhibition of last year induced the directors to attempt another exhibition this year. We had hoped to have an exhibition of stock and agricultural products of the country, but circumstances arose which made it very difficult for the association to carry out their original intention in this regard. To secure an agricultural show and the presence of the best stock of the country required a prize list which the association did not feel strong enough to carry, and we have therefore been compelled to confine the present exhibition to these buildings and grounds. As you are aware the stock show last year was held at the Moosepath grounds three miles from here.

"It has been a matter of regret to the association that these fine buildings are so situated that we have no control of the ground outside of them except through the kindness of the civic and military authorities, and I wish to express our thanks to them to-day for the many kindnesses they have shown us.

"We have here an exhibit of the manufactures and industries of this and the adjoining country and some from Great Britain and elsewhere, but a very large proportion of the exhibits are the products of the industry of our own people. In the gallery we have an art exhibit of which no new country of the size of ours might be ashamed and I wish to call special attention to this branch which is in charge of Mr. J. C. Miles. We have here back of us a display of the horticultural products of the country and a fine exhibit from the carriage builders, who offered enough to fill three or four such buildings as these, but whose exhibit has been lessened in its dimensions as a matter of necessity. There are many other classes of exhibits that might be mentioned. I might say that we now feel satisfied that a continuation of these exhibitions year by year must necessarily be very beneficial to the country.

The band then saluted and President Everett continuing said:—

"I have now the honor of introducing Sir Leonard Tilley, Lieutenant Governor of the province of New Brunswick, who will formally open the exhibition."

SIR LEONARD TILLEY'S OPENING ADDRESS.

Sir Leonard Tilley in opening the exhibition spoke as follows:—

"Mr. President and gentlemen of the exhibition association, I have to thank you for having welcomed us in the manner you have to this exhibition, and to express the satisfaction it is to me to be permitted to take part in the interesting and important proceedings of this day.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I recollect very well at the close of the exhibition held here last year there was a very general expression of opinion in favor of inaugurating in St. John an annual exhibition such as has been conducted in the city of Toronto for a number of years. There was a diversity of opinion as to the probability of the success of the venture, but as there was general concurrence in the opinion that it was desirable, the association decided to make the experiment. I think we can congratulate the directors and the public generally upon the auspicious circumstances under which this exhibition is opened to-day. The weather could not have been finer if we had the control of it ourselves. I know that some doubts have been expressed as to the directors succeeding in establishing annual exhibitions here. Toronto is pointed out as an evidence of their probable success, but when we take into account the fact that they have a population in the city alone of nearly 200,000, with a large population in the surrounding country districts, we can see that the chances of success there are much greater than here. But if our exhibitions are patronized as well in proportion to the population they will also be successful. Last week I had the pleasure of visiting the Toronto exhibition. I had not visited it for several years and was struck with the great improvements made in that time. At least 100,000 people came to the city of Toronto to visit that exhibition and the receipts amounted to something like $67,000. It is now generally conceded that the annual exhibitions there have been of wonderful benefit to the city.

In conversation with a gentleman who was an exhibitor I learned that as far as

VENGEANCE FOILED.

A CONSPIRACY TO SHOOT JUDGE W. H. FOX.

Murderous Plot Planned by W. F. Woodward—Hired a Man to Do the Shooting for $100, But He Had Been Picked Out by an Officer—Shots Fired in Air and the Schemer Arrested.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

TAUNTON, Sept. 23.—Several months ago, Willard F. Woodward was fined $50 by Judge William H. Fox of the district court for brutally assaulting a neighbor on the highway.

Woodward was very much incensed at Judge Fox's action. One day he said, in the presence of Deputy Sheriff Charles Corey, that Fox ought to be killed, according to Corey's statement: and Corey, knowing his man, intimated that it would be a good thing if Fox was put out of the way, or words to that effect.

Turning to Corey suddenly Woodward asked him if he knew where he could get a man who would "do a job for him."

"What kind of a job?" asked Corey.

"Oh, a job that will put that old sinner off the face of the earth. I'd give $100 to have it done."

"I can find you just the man you want," said Corey. "He is in Providence and he'll do anything for money."

"Very well," said Woodward. "You bring him to me and we'll fix this thing up, and there's others about here who ought to go the same way."

Corey went to Providence and arranged with R. W. Howarth to meet him and Woodward at the Wilbur House in Fall River on a certain date, and told him just what he wanted him to do. He was to fall in with Woodward's plans, accept what money he would give him and arrange to do the job.

In another room close by Corey had placed City Marshall Hilliard of Fall River, so that he might hear all the conversation.

The arrangement was made to come to Taunton to-night. The Providence man was to call Judge Fox to his door at 10.30, and then shoot him twice.

"I can meet him, or lay for him some night, and sandbag him, and he will never know what has struck him," said the Providence man.

"No, I want him shot, d—— n him, and I want two balls put clean through him," said the bloodthirsty Woodward.

"All right," said the Providence man, "I'll bore him for you."

Then Woodward handed over $10 as an earnest of his intention to do the "right thing," and this was supposed to be enough to buy a revolver with. This done, he agreed to wait near by until the "murderer" called the judge out and shot him down in cold blood.

Then the man was to run to Woodward's carriage, where he would receive the balance due him, and be driven rapidly to Providence.

The judge was made acquainted with all these facts and even to understand that he was to come to the door without any fear, and that two shots would be fired not at him, but in the air. The Providence man was not to be disturbed until he had gained Woodward's carriage and received the money, and then the carriage would be surrounded and the ferocious farmer placed in irons.

Woodward and his Providence accomplice and Deputy sheriff Corey tonight as agreed upon, stationed themselves in a closed carriage within a 1000 feet of Judge Fox's house. At 10:25 the Providence man, who was to do the shooting, got out of the carriage and walked rapidly towards the judge's house.

Arriving there, instead of knocking on the door or ringing the bell, as agreed upon with Woodward, he fired three shots in the air, and then ran rapidly back towards the carriage. The house was so far from the carriage, and the streets so dark, that Woodward could not see whether the judge came to the door or not, but, hearing the shots, supposed that everything was all right.

Climbing into the carriage the team was driven away in the direction of Attleboro, Deputy Sheriff Corey driving, it being the intention to land the Providence man in Attleboro.

Arriving at a certain point on the road, the team containing City Marshall Hilliard of Fall River and District Detective Seaver ran afoul of Woodward's carriage.

Corey, as agreed upon, jumped from the carriage and ran into the woods. Seaver firing a shot or two after him to keep up the farce with Woodward. Then Woodward was taken into custody and locked up.

When Judge Fox was informed of this scheme some time ago, he advised that the plot be hatched out in Fall River in order that if anything came out of it a trial could be had outside of his jurisdiction. This is the second time that an attempt has been made upon his life within a few years. It is thought that Woodward is insane.

In Parliament.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.— Mr. Lister, M. P. for West Lambton, gave notice to-day that he will, to-morrow prefer a new charge against the postmaster general. The affair on which this charge is based dates back twelve years.

Mr. Coatsworth then resumed the debate on the Tarte charges. He supported the finding of the majority of the privileges committee in an elaborate review of the evidence.

Mr. Davies replied in his most energetic, vigorous style. He undertook to prove that Sir Hector Langevin was perfectly congnizant of all the proceedings, and that he ought to be held responsible not only for works carried on by the department of which he was the head but also of all works carried on by the Quebec harbor board.

At 1.30 Dickey closed and Col. Amyot moved the adjournment of the debate.

SAMUEL WHITEBONE does not import five million cigars at one time neither does he pay five million dollars duty, but you can always find a fresh lot of Havanna cigars at his place, such as Flor de Juan Lopis, Felix Garcia, Dias Garcia, Modella de Cuba, and other famous brands. At Chambers.

Before Judge Peters in chambers this morning, Mr. J. B. M. Baxter moved that the capias and arrest in the case of W. Walker Clarke, executors &c., and Douglas Olive be set aside, and that the bail bond be delivered up to be cancelled. He supported his motion on the ground that defendant was sued by the name of Douglas L. Olive and that the action was on a guarantee, which was not stated to be in writing in the affidavit to hold to bail, and therefore no cause of action was disclosed under the statute of frauds. Mr. W. A. Ewing opposed the motion on the ground that the addition of an initial did not vitiate the proceedings, and that it was a question of evidence only whether or not the guarantee was in writing. Decision reserved.

A RESIDENT.

St. John. N. B., Sept. 23.

Vera at the Institute.

The opera of Vera by the Dora Wiley Company drew a fine house at the Institute last evening and was a great musical and dramatic success. Miss Dora Wiley has long been a favorite with the people of St. John having sung here on many occasions since her first appearance as Maritana at the old Academy of Music seventeen years ago. Mr. Alonzo Hatch, the tenor, has also been here several times, he being a member of Mr. Dow's company which played a line of heavy operas here in 1877. Vera is a very amusing piece and combines in an equal degree farce and opera. The story turns on the misfortunes of an aged general who wishes to marry a pretty maiden hardly out of her teens, and who has besides a very attractive and devoted lover. The old suitor of course gets the worst of it. Miss Wiley as Vera made a very fine presentation and there was abundant applause both for her singing and acting. Mr. Vincent Graham was excellent as Count Pomposo and Mr. Hatch as Lorenzo was very acceptable. Mr. Jere Grady was a mirth provoking Doge, and Mr. Eddie Smith could not have been surpassed as Tommaso. Miss Clara Chester in the part of Brigetta greatly pleased the audience by her graceful skirt dance. The parts of Tartanella by Mr. R. A. Bresee, and Fortavella by Miss Alice Veazie were well taken. Vera will be repeated tonight and everyone should go to see it.
