24 CASES COME UP AT FALL ASSIZES

Three Criminal, Ten Jury and Eleven Non-Jury Actions Entered.

There will be 24 cases to come before Mr. Justice Lennox, when the Fall Assizes open on October 26, at the court house. There are three criminal, ten jury, and eleven non-jury cases.

The last three cases were set down late yesterday afternoon. Walter H. Bice is suing his sister, Mrs. Catherine Harness, for $1,000, alleging that this amount is due him for nursing his father. His sister entered into an agreement with him, whereby he was to receive $1,000 after the death of his father, providing he nursed his father and assisted his sister to look after the property and business affairs of the family. Mrs. Harness admits that she signed the agreement mentioned, but that her brother failed to live up to it, and that she had paid upwards of $1,000 to have her father properly looked after.

Institutes Counter-Claim.

Mrs. Harness has instituted a counter-claim for $230, alleging that this sum is due her for honoring several promissory notes made by the plaintiff, McKillop, Murphy and Gunn for plaintiff, and J. M. McEvoy on behalf of Wm. McDairmid, Lucan, for defendant.

Ginsberg Brothers of this city are suing David Bloomin and Mrs. Bloomin, St. Thomas, for $100, alleging that this amount was awarded to them on the 30th of June last, in a judgment, and that they never received it. The plaintiffs allege that on June 19, Mrs. Bloomin instituted an action against her husband for $900, although he was not indebted to his wife at all, and therefore, ask that the execution and judgment for $900 be declared void, and that she is not entitled to be a creditor of her husband. The defendants deny all the allegations of the plaintiffs.

Dispute Over Mine.

A. E. Rickman and Charles E. Cronyn are the defendants in a suit brought against them by A. Lorne Becher. Mr. Becher alleges that the defendants entered into an agreement with him, whereby he was to receive a certain per cent of the net profit of a certain mine in Gowganda district. The defendants deny the above statements. Thompson, Tilley and Johnston, Toronto, for plaintiff, and Henry Howitt, Toronto, for defendants.

Liberal Club Euchre Series Opens Tonight In Hyman Hall

The Liberal Club's euchre series will open tonight in Hyman Hall and will be continued throughout the winter season. The euchre evenings last year were a big success, some expert players being uncovered and some lively games being played as a result. The executive committee is desirous that all Liberals come into the fold and enter into the contest for the winter months. Prizes that are "worth while" will be given and a series of finals will likely be arranged near the conclusion of the season.

The bowling alley has been put in ship-shape order and is open to members from now on. The club is planning big things for the year and desires to get under way early with a record attendance of members. All Liberals should turn out tonight.

"KRUPP IS ON ONE SIDE AND CHRIST ON THE OTHER"

Dr. M. P. Fikes Says Americans Are Neutral in Theory, But With Britain at Heart---"Y" Launches "Men Collecting" Campaign.

"This is a war with Krupp on the one side and Christ on the other."

That's was how Rev. Dr. Maurice P. Fikes, until recently pastor of Woodward Avenue Church, Detroit, summed up his opinion of the struggle between Germany and the allies, in the course of an address delivered last night at a banquet in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to 200 men of the city churches, who have volunteered for service in the Y.M.C.A. campaign, organized, as explained by Secretary E. A. Wilson, with the object of bringing men into the Christian church.

The war, Dr. Fikes proceeded, was leading people to the conviction that the world did not belong to the devil. The devil had stolen art, music and science and, with the help of enormous guns, was trying to steal everything else. "But he will not succeed," declared the speaker, adding: "I was more glad than I can tell you when I heard that the footprints of the Germans had been obliterated in Ostend.

Americans With Allies.

"We Americans," he continued, "are supposed to be neutral, but real neutrality is impossible in this great war that is shocking the world. We are neutral in theory, but at heart everyone of us is with you. Uncle Sam is standing side by side with John Bull. Our flags, though different, are the same in color, just as our blood is the same color as yours.

"This war seems to be a reversal of all the principles of Christianity. Christian men, looking upon it, stand still in their tracks and ask themselves if, indeed, such a thing can be in a world for the salvation of which the Prince of Peace gave himself. Nevertheless, it is a fact, and we must face it."

Was In Thick of It.

Dr. Fikes recently returned from a visit to England and Europe in search of health, and actually witnessed some phases of the great struggle of the nations. He was in Austria when war was declared against Servia and, in his own words, "found things getting a little too warm and decided to cross into Germany. But I had hardly arrived there when the Kaiser declared war against the world, and things were warmer than ever."

Very briefly, and omitting many of the details, Dr. Fikes described his journey, accomplished mostly on foot, to Brussels, and thence to Ostend, where he succeeded in getting transportation to a little place in England about four miles from Dover. He was an onlooker at the first phase of the battle of Liege and saw 500 dead Germans in the trenches outside that town.

Glad to Land in England.

"The shore where we landed in England," he said, "was mostly stones, but I was very thankful to find my feet on them. Eventually, I reached London, and although I always have loved that wonderful city, I never loved it as much as I did then."

Just as there could be no such thing as neutrality in connection with the European war, so Dr. Fikes said, neutrality was impossible in the campaign which was being organized under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. The question involved was whether London should belong to Christ or the devil, and no right-thinking man could afford not to take sides.

No man professing to be a Christian, he continued, had the right to imagine that Christ died to save him alone. Having become the disciple of Christ, he had acknowledged Christ as his master and must be prepared to work for Christ, by bringing others to know Him.

A Christian Duty.

"It is your bounden duty," he said, "to go amongst your fellow-men and bring them to a knowledge of Christ; and you can do it. The lowest kind of a man cannot help taking off his hat to a real Christian and wishing, even if he will not admit it, that he were like him."

Dr. Fikes spoke of the work done in the automobile assembling plants of Detroit, and declared: "This is your assembling plant. This is where you assemble the parts of the machine with which you are going to win London for Christ."

With the men and money available in the city, he said, there was no reason why a mark should not be set for other cities on this as well as the other side of the line dividing Canada and the United States. Money, however, was no good unless the men using it were of the right kind.

"God does not care that for your money," he declared, snapping his fingers, "unless you give him yourselves also."

Dr. Fikes declared that any namby-pamby dude can float to the devil, but it takes a real man to be a Christian.

"Collecting Men."

Mr. Wilson, in describing the object of the campaign, stated that it was the idea of the Y.M.C.A. executive. They had seen what a few teams could do in the matter of raising money, and had decided to employ similar methods in "collecting men." One hundred and fifteen men were interviewed and asked to be leaders of teams, and 65 had consented; the others had promised to work on the teams.

Each team leader, he said, was expected to get six men to work on his team by Nov. 4, when another banquet would be held, at which all the team members would be present. Each man would be expected to write on a card the name of some fellow he knew who was headed the wrong way, and the duties of the workers would be to get after these and try to get them to attend the special meetings which had been arranged, and the first of which would be given on Nov. 15.

J. K. McDiarmid declared he was convinced that the campaign would be a success. He believed London could be stirred and that the workers, if they were earnest and used good judgment, could change the whole life of the city for the better.

During the evening two solos were given, and an orchestra rendered instrumental numbers. At the close a vote of thanks was passed to the members of the ladies' auxiliary who provided the banquet.

NEXT BOARD OF CONTROL TO BE GREATLY CHANGED

Controller Coles Is At Front and Moore and Ashplant Are Not Desirous of Running.

With Controller W. G. Coles at the front as major in the Army Service Corps and Controllers Percy Moore and Hubert Ashplant not desirous of running again, it is apparent that the next board of control will be considerably changed.

Asked yesterday if he didn't think the present board of control ought to run again to complete some of the large public jobs it has undertaken, Mayor Graham said: "I don't know. Percy Moore and Controller Ashplant are probably out of it and Major Coles is at the front."

Controller Rose will again be a candidate, as it is the wish of the Trades and Labor council, which he represents. As to Mayor Graham running again rumor has it that "Barkis is Willin."

SAFETY OF CANADA HANGS IN BALANCE

Defeat of Allies is Country's Death-Knell, Says Canon Tucker.

A FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE

Declares Germany Aims at Dominating World—Should Aid England Till Last.

"War is a good thing. It eliminates the weak and effeminate, and leaves only the strong and the best. It results in the survival of the fittest, and is an embodiment of a recognized principle of national life," said Canon Tucker, in the course of a lecture last night in the Normal School, on "Germany's Problems." The audience showed much enthusiasm throughout the address, and bursts of applause frequently interrupted the lecture.

Russian Interrupts.

A Russian in the audience, who refused to tell his name, caused a breeze of excitement to sweep across the auditorium when he rose after the lecture and began a voluble speech on the bearing which the German writer, Nietszche, took on the subject of war.

"The present European conflict," said Canon Tucker, "will result in the domination of Germany, or else a number of things, chief of which will probably be the restoration of Alsace Lorraine, the disruption of the Austro-Hungarian empire, the restoration, perhaps, of Schleswig-Holstein to Denmark, taken from the Danes by Bismarck; Russia will probably extend her domain along the Baltic and take for herself a slice of Prussia," he said.

"Germany is trying now with all her might to impose her culture and thought, through militarism, on Europe, and on the world.

Fight for Existence.

"This is a fight for England's and Britain's very existence," declared the speaker. "If England should lose, where would Canada be, with Germany's eyes on our wheat fields, and with the rest of the world subjected to her; what good would be the Rainbow and the Niobe?" the speaker asked. "Every dollar and every man in Canada that is available should be given in aid of England. She never needed them more than she does now," he said.

Canon Tucker traced the growth of the German Empire from the time of the German tribes, at the time of Augustus Caesar, the Roman Emperor, 55 B.C., to the present time. The chief characteristics of the Huns and Goths and Brandens, who followed in succession, in barbaric control of northern Europe, he showed to be barbarism, and inhumanity. "The Goths cared nothing for a treaty, or their word to another nation, and this characteristic of the forefathers of present Germans, 1,500 years ago, is worthy of notice, in view of the events of the last two months.

The Van...

"Napoleon said: 'Scratch the Russian, and beneath you find a Tartar.' It seems," said the speaker, "that if you scratch the modern German, you find the Goth, the Hun and the Branden. The whole world looks with execration on the Germans today.

"At the close of the thirty years' war, Germany was a desolation, with two-thirds of her population wiped out. However, between the first war with Napoleon and the war in 1813, a military and patriotic spirit swept over the country. Then followed Bismarck, who brought about the unification of the German Empire, and who introduced his "blood and poison" policy into war, and his "duplicity and perfidy" policy into his councils. At the close of the war in 1870, Germany was drunk with victory, with her head a good deal larger than before. She was isolated in Europe, however. But with the tax of $1,000,000,000 she had exacted from France, she began to build up home industry, and as a result, a great mercantile marine. She succeeded so well that until two months ago, Germany was the greatest industrial nation in the world.

An International Question.

"The Germans wanted a place under the sun. Nobody objected, until Germany's policy began to put all other countries in the shade. Then the matter became a great international question."

Here is the program which Canon Tucker outlined, as one which Germany will follow in her attempt to dominate first Europe and then the entire world: "Her first move has been to annex Belgium. Holland is at the mouth of the Rhine. Germany must have Holland. Denmark commands the Baltic. She, too, must be annexed. With these countries under her domination, the population of Germany will be 90,000,000 people. Her next move will be to crush France, and then England's turn will come. She will build a fleet that will sweep the English from the seas, and then Germany will dominate the world. England has a population of only 45,000,000, against Germany's projected 90,000,000. That is why England is today fighting for her existence. She is fighting for all that England and the English stand for, and for all they have given to the world in thought, culture, commerce and politics."

SITE INSPECTED FOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT

Ald. Mitchell Takes Mayor, City Clerk and Advertiser Reporter to Finch Property.

Alderman Fred Mitchell, City Clerk Baker, Mayor Graham, Ald. William Wilson and an Advertiser reporter visited the Harry Finch property near the end of Egerton street yesterday afternoon, where it is proposed to erect a municipal sewage disposal plant for the east end of the city.

The property is part of 48 acres which the city took under option for the sewage plant. The other two parcels have been purchased. The Finch land, consisting of 22 acres, is temporarily being held up because the price mentioned at first (at $5,000) has jumped to $10,000.

It was for the purpose of seeing just what kind of property it was that Ald. Mitchell took the officials out yesterday. There was no discussion about its value, although Ald. Mitchell and Ald. Wilson were practically against paying $10,000 for it.

The property lies to the left of Vauxhall bridge, and recedes terrace-like toward the river. A higher piece of ground near it, being developed by the Argyle Land Company, was sold for $1,200 an acre, according to Mayor Graham.

Mayor Graham explained that if the city got launched on this sewage disposal plant proposition it was the intention to use the ground around the plant for recreation purposes, as there is no odor to the modern plant. The strip of 22 acres is now used for pasture purposes. It could serve no other purpose unless it was filled in at great expense.

Before returning, the party visited a retaining wall being built on Front street out of the product from the incinerator plant. The plant itself was inspected, and at the river edge Mayor Graham explained the intention to fill in with cinders for a considerable distance

CHRISTIAN WORKERS BID FAREWELL TO PASTOR

Rev. Herbert Mackenzie Leaves Today to Commerce Journey Into Northern Nigeria.

A large congregation attended the Christian Workers' Church, South street, last night to bid farewell to Rev. Herbert Mackenzie, former pastor of the church, and brother of Rev. J. A. Mackenzie, the present incumbent, who leaves London this evening on the first stage of his journey into the interior of Northern Nigeria, British West Africa, as one of a party of missionaries of the Sudan Imperial Mission.

Farewell Address.

In his farewell address, Mr. Mackenzie took for his subject "The supply of the spirit of Jesus Christ." Jesus Christ and his spirit, he said, were one in character. Jesus said: "I am truth," and the spirit of Christ also was the spirit of truth. Again, He said: "I am the life," and His spirit was the spirit of life. Christ spoke of Himself as the faithful and true witness, and of the spirit as the witness. Jesus was the image of the Father's person, and the spirit of Christ was intended to lead believers into the Christly image.

Mr. Mackenzie leaves London on the 6:53 Grand Trunk train. He will be joined in Toronto by four other members of the Sudan Imperial Mission, and Rev. R. V. Bingham, the superintendent, will accompany the party to England, where another member will join it. The crossing will be made from Montreal to Glasgow, by the Allan liner Pretorian, sailing on the 24th. From Liverpool, passage will be taken to Lagos, and from there the missionaries will proceed inland to take up their stations at different parts of the field.

Pastor Here Eleven Years.

Mr. Mackenzie was pastor of the Christian Workers' Church here for eleven years. Seven years ago he left to assume the pastorate of the Gospel Church, Cleveland, where he has remained until now. He is executive of the Erieside Bible Conference, and goes to the Sudan as the representative of that body, as well as of the Sudan Imperial Mission.

EXCAVATION RESPONSIBLE FOR WELLS GOING DRY

Water Percolating Into Storm Sewer Trunk—Strike Subterranean Swamp.

The wells on East Egerton street have gone dry, and residents wondered for several days in what part of the country the drouth was. Today Contractor Nicholson, building the storm and sanitary sewer on that street, announced that the wells were dry because of the water he had to pump out of the trench to reach a depth of 28 feet to lay the sewer section.

The work reached a point near the Hamilton road, when a subterranean swamp was encountered, and for the best part of two weeks steam pumps have been draining the marshy ground. Contractor Nicholson, who figured on locating some underground waterways when he bid on the job, didn't think he would tap all the wells in the east end of the city.

The sewer work will be taken up at the intersection of Hamilton road next week, and it is expected that the same marshy ground will be found until the work reaches the Grand Trunk crossing. The sewer in some parts has to be laid at a depth of 30 feet. Mr. Nicholson is a former London boy and says he remembers when they used to refer to the swampy places on Egerton street.

The city waterworks department is receiving many orders to put in city water as the result of so many wells going dry in the district affected by the sewer work.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! IF FALLING OUT OR DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Ladies! Men! Here's the quickest, surest dandruff cure known.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.
