With these two definite objects in view members of the society have bent every effort toward securing a record-breaking attendance of men and women for the convention. They have asked all the suffragists who have husbands to bring them along to the meetings. They have requested societies in every hamlet of the state to send interested representatives, mal and female, and they have thrown their meetings open to the public in the hope of winning converts and getting members to join the suffrage party.

The speakers secured for the five days' convention include Dr. Harvey Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, the militant English suffragist; Miss Mary Johnston, author of "To Have and to Hold"; Mrs. Mary Austin, of California, who will tell how that state won the vote for its women.

Mrs. William Warner Penfield, acting chairman of the Suffrage party of New York, will give the Philadelphians a verbal lesson in the formation of a suffrage party, and Dr. George Edward Reed, former president of Dickinson College, will give a college man's reasons for his belief in equal franchise. Dr. Hanna Howard Shaw, president of the national society, will make the opening address in the clover room of the Bellevue-Stratford on Thursday evening.

Suffrage enthusiasm will not be confined to the centre of the city during convention week. Speakers will invade Kensington, where there is a strong sentiment in favor of votes for women and one of the biggest meetings will be held in Quartette Hall, Germantown and Lehigh avenues on Saturday evening.

Among the men who have been asked to openly champion the cause of suffrage are former Judge Dimer Beeber, a progressive member of the board of education. Suffragists believe the address of Mrs. Mary Austin, of California, will be one of the most brilliant of the convention. Mrs. Austin joined the suffrage ranks as a result of her studies of the life and industrial status of Indian women.

She was struck first by the inequality of their position with that of the men of their tribe. Later her investigations led her to take up the subject of economics in general, and finally she came to the conclusion that the women of this country are living under the dominance of a law which is a relic of feudalism.

Suffrage headquarters in the Hale Building is a beehive of activity during the days previous to the convention. Volunteers are busy sending out invitations and attending to the details of the executive work of the convention. Two hundred letters were sent out to ministers, asking them to pray for the success of the convention and to call it to the attention of their parishioners last Sunday.

COULD NOT RAISE MY RIGHT ARM

Old Bridgeport, C. B.

"For the past 41 years, I have been suffering with Rheumatism. When I read in the papers that GIN PILLS would positively cure rheumatism, I wrote you for a free sample to try. I could not raise my right arm because of the awful pain in my shoulder—was not able to drink. After taking a few GIN PILLS, I was able to lift my hand and put it on the top of my head.

I went to the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, and met an old fisherman named La Pape. His limbs were stiff from Rheumatism and I gave him some Gin Pills. I met him again in a few days and he told me he could lift his arms, which he had not been able to do for ten years.

WANT HUSBANDS TO HELP IN THE CAUSE

New York, N. Y., Nov. 24.—"Suffrage for Pennsylvania women in five years."

This will be the slogan of the 43rd convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association to open in this city next Thursday for five days.

For the first time in the history of the suffrage movement advocates of votes for women have obtained a municipal building as a convention hall, and have so interested the city authorities that public recognition will be made of their meeting. The most important sessions of the convention will be held in the mayor's reception room in city hall, which will be decorated in the suffrage colors, yellow and white.

The convention will mark the first coming together in active co-operation of all suffrage societies of the state, which will unite in a general effort to establish a bona fide suffrage party and will work toward the perfecting of plans to push a suffrage amendment through the next legislature.

Wrinkles Disappear As If By Magic

(From Household Guest)

"In the removal of wrinkles I have discarded cosmetics entirely," writes Mme. Corsan, the celebrated Parisian beauty expert. "The results they produce are deceptive and never permanent. Massaging is only partially successful and it's too slow a method.

"I've never seen anything work such wonders as a simple, harmless solution any woman can prepare and use at home without the least trouble. A half pint of witch hazel and an ounce of good powered saxolite are all you'll need. Mix the two and apply this refreshing solution to your face daily. The effect is marvelous—instantaneous. The skin becomes firmer, 'tighter'—every wrinkle and sag is affected. You feel so refreshed after using the wash; you look refreshed, too; soon you will look ten years younger."
