BAYLEY'S

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS

Hon. Mr. Haggart Makes a General Attack On the Government's Policy.

Ottawa, March 15. — Mr. Haggart took up the debate in the House today, devoting himself particularly to a criticism of the Premier's stand in regard to treaty-making powers. Had not Canada, he asked, the appointment of the Alaskan boundary commissioners, and had not Lord Alverstone been appointed at the request of Canada? How, then, with the appointment of half of the commissioners and with the preparation of the whole case intrusted to it, could this Government complain of unfair treatment by the British authorities in the matter of the Alaskan boundary? What more could the Government ask than had been given? He held that to give the Dominion the entire treaty-making power was equivalent to separation from the mother country. He also criticised the G. T. P. scheme, declaring that the road would never carry a bushel of wheat from the Northwest to the Atlantic, as it could not compete with the present rates of transportation.

Mr. Haggar also made an attack on the tariff policy of the Government, predicting blue-ruin for various home industries. In respect to imperial preferential trade he said: "Mr. Chamberlain, over in England, is voicing the sentiments of nine-tenths of the people of this country, that in order to realize imperial unity, we must have more than mere sentment, we must have mutual trade benefits."

The debate was continued by Mr. Bennett, who charged Mr. Copp, of Digby, with having received $500 from the town corporation for his influence in promoting a scheme to get terminal facilities for that port, towards which the Government would grant a subsidy.

Mr. Smith (Wentworth) deprecated the spending of millions upon railways which he said nobody wanted, while the fruit growers and farmers of Ontario were in need of better transportation facilities.

The debate was adjourned till tomorrow, when Messrs. Tarte, Lemieux, Northrup and Campbell, will speak, winding up the debate.

In the Senate, the Secretary of State declared that in the Alaska boundary case, as in other cases, the interest of Canada had been sacrificed by Great Britain on the altar of American friendship.

Mr. MacLean gives motion of a bill to amend the railway act by making the passenger rate 2 cents a mile, and also to change clause 92 so as to get rid of legal technicalities which prevent the proper working of the provision in relation to compensation to be paid by municipal telephone companies for railway station connections.

At the Grand Opera House last night "Said Pasha," the well-known oriental opera by Stahl, was produced in a highly commendable manner by the Wilbur Opera Company. The individual voices and the chorus work were much better than on Monday night, and the opera as a whole was given an interpretation worthy of some of the better of the high-class companies. Mr. Franklin Fox, a sweet-voiced baritone, who was ill and unable to appear the first night, took the part of "Said Pasha," last night, and greatly strengthened the company. Miss Minnie Emmett also sang a solo in splendid voice, and earned hearty encores. The favorite comedians, Messrs. Martin and McGraw, kept the audience in laughter by their clever fun-making, and with Miss Ethel Hunt sang a trio which carried the house by storm, and won six encores. Some clever drills were also gone through by the pretty chorus girls, who were handsomely costumed in oriental style, and the whole production proved a most creditable one. Besides those mentioned, those who are worthy of especial note are Miss Marion Langdon, Mr. Martin Pache, Mr. Henry Peakes, Miss Clara Graff, and Miss Viola Wheeler. Tonight the opera will be "The Chimes of Normandy," and it will no doubt be greeted, as it deserves to be, by a large house.

TOTAL PROHIBITION

Royal Templars Do Not Desire Any Midway Legislation.

Hamilton, March 16.—The fourteenth annual covention of the Dominion Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance of the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, which opened at the court house yesterday morning, will probably last four days, although the business may be completed sooner.

The annual report called upon the members to make suggestions along new lines that might catch the ears of the legislators, and to do everything possible to advance the cause. Total prohibition was the only thing acceptable, and to give consent to measures designed to render the liquor traffic tolerable or respectable under any circumstances simply meant delay or defeat for a time.

The proposal to locate the headquarters at Toronto will be revived. The delegates are staying at the Royal Hotel.

Lingering Coughs Severe Chest Colds

BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP AND ASTHMA YIELD PROMPTLY TO

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The sales of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine during 1903 were over 40 per cent larger than in 1902.

This means that nearly half as much again was used. Can there be better proof of the merit of this great family medicine?

It is undoubtedly the far-reaching effect of this preparation that makes it so popular.

People soon find out that it is far more than a mere temporary relief and that is can be absolutely depended on in serious and severe cases of throat and lung trouble.

Mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew Ont., states: "My 14-year-old boy had a very severe cold in the chest last winter and I really thought he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time and sometimes would spit up blood. We had about given up all hopes of his recovery when I heard of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. After using one bottle there was a great change in his condition, and I can positively say that he was completely cured by two bottles and he has not been troubled since. I never saw medicine take such quick effect and can sincerely recommend it.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, family size (three times as much) 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every bottle.

HITTING AT CANADA.

London, March 16. — A pamphlet on Canada just published by the German Government warns emigrants against going to the Northwest Territories, as the opportunity for farm work can only be had in limited quantity owing to machinery so generally in use; in winter no work can be had. It also warns German Catholics against moving to the Northwest as there are no churches.

ROUGH ON WHISKY.

"Not Drank a Drop Since."

New Liskeard, Oct. 27, 1902.

Dear Friends,—Last summer I got a bottle of your Samaria Prescription for my husband, and now take pleasure in writing to say that he has not drunk a drop of liquor since taking it. I cannot speak too highly of it.

Inclosed you will find $3 00 from a friend of mine, whose husband is very much addicted to liquor and spends every cent he earns, thus leaving them very poor. However, she says if it does her husband as much good as it did mine, she will not be sorry she sent for it. Yours respectfully, Mrs. S. W.

Inclose stamp for free sample and pamphlet to Samaria Remedy Company, 25 Jordan street, Toronto. Also for sale by W. T. Strong & Co.

NO ABANDONMENT OF PORT ARTHUR

Russians Say the Rumor Was Started by the British.

KUROPATKIN PERFECTS PLANS

Japanese Spies Swarming Throughout Russia—Russian Reinforcements for the Yalu.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—From the highest official quarters the Associated Press has received information that there is absolutly no foundation for the rumors persistently issuing from Tokio that the Russians are abandoning Port Arthur. "It is the veriest nonsense," said the official. "Nothing has occurred there to warrant such reports. The Japanese fleet has not been seen for forty-eight hours. The motive of the Government at Tokio in spreading this story is probably to influence public feeling in Japan for the purpose of creating enthusiasm, while a war loan is being floated." The newspapers here manifest the greatest indignation, the Bourse Gazette characterizing the report as a "British invention." Attention is redirected to the order of the day issued by Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, commander at Port Arthur, in which he declared that that place would never be surrendered, as representing the Russian position. Relative to this point a military officer said tonight: "If we abandon Port Arthur, we leave our fleet there to be doomed. It is too absurd to discuss."

Gen. Kuropatkin expects to reach Mukden on March 26. Everything will be sidetracked in order to get him to the front on schedule time. The general may proceed on a flying visit to Port Arthur, but he is more likely to enter at once upon his duties as commander in chief of the Manchurian army. He bears an autograph letter from the Emperor to Viceroy Alexieff, to whom he will report. It is understood that the viceroy will then turn over the entire direction of land operations to Gen. Kuropatkin, who will transmit his reports to the Emperor, through the viceroy, but practically this is the only point on which Viceroy Alexieff will maintain superiority. Gen. Kuropatkin had his plan of campaign practically perfected before he left here. He returned to St. Petersburg quietly from his country seat, and his presence here was not known for four days, during which he devoted himself to the elaboration of his plans in conjunction with his staff, and with the aid of the information of the ministry of war, as well as of the special reports from the seat of war. A superstitious idea prevails here that Gen. Kuropatkin will signalize his birthday, which occurs on March 30, and which is also his patron saint's day, with some important act.

HELD AT HARBIN.

On account of the difficulty of housing the vast number of troops poured into Mukden, 14,000 have been sent forward within the last few days towards the Yalu River as reinforcements for 7,000 troops already at Kasan and Anju, and the stream of soldiers from European Russia is now being held at Harbin. The housing problem will disappear with the advent of warm weather, but in the meantime the Government is hurrying forward large numbers of portable collapsible wooden quarters, 1,800 of these having already been dispatched from St. Petersburg and 3,000 from Moscow.

PRINCE LOUIS' COMMAND.

Prince Louis Napoleon has gone to the Caucasus, accompanied by Prince Marat. Prince Louis Napoleon will relinquish his command of the cavalry of the Caucasus, and then proceed to the far east, where he will take supreme command of the cavalry under General Kuropatkin. General Niedermuller has gone to the front, to take charge of the military communications, and will be responsible for the regular movement of the military trains. The Dowager Empress today inspected her own Red Cross detachment, which is proceeding to the front.

POISONED SWORDS.

The statement by General Zilinski that the Russians found poisoned swords left by the fleeing Japanese, has aroused much comment. Similar swords were used by the Chinese during the Boxer rebellion, especially in Manchuria, and the slightest wound inflicted by them proved fatal. The use of such weapons is prohibited by the Geneva and The Hague conventions.

JAPANESE SPIES.

Berlin, March 15.—Japan has organized a complete system of espionage throughout Russia. Japanese spies are swarming in various disguises even through St. Petersburg, Moscow and Odessa, and along the Trans-Siberian Railroad. Twenty-five hundred patriotic Japanese have voluntered to perform this service.

MAY ACCEPT SCALE

Miners Voting on the Proposition of the Operators.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 16. — One hundred and ninety thousand coal miners of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Western and Central Pennsylvania, Michigan, Iowa, Eastern Kentucky, West Virginia and Maryland, dropped their picks at noon yesterday to cast their ballots on the offer of mine owners for a two-year's scale at a reduction of 5½ per cent from the present scale of wages. The secretaries of mine workers' local will forward the result to the national headquarters, and they will be counted Thursday. Reports from about 50 points in Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, West Pennsylvania and Illinois, indicate that the sentiment is heavily in favor of accepting the scale.

A DRUNKEN CAROUSAL

A Baby Dies in Midst of an Orgie in Toronto.

Toronto, March 16. — The dead body of a child six months old was found by the police at 123 Woolsley street yesterday, and the arrest of the mother and three other persons has been ordered by the coroner. From all appearances there had been a drunken carousal of several days, and in the midst of most abominable filth and squalor lay the dead body of the child. Mrs. Ann Greenish, the mother of the baby, Mrs. Shea and another woman were in the house, all intoxicated, and evidently unconscious of the presence of death. The child is supposed to have been smothered to death by its mother during her drunken carousal. A doctor stated that the case was the worst he had seen in ten years. "The baby is better dead," he stated, "than in the care of a mother who lives amid such indescribable filth."

HOT EXCHANGES IN LEGISLATURE

Temiskaming Railway Again Under Discussion.

WHITNEY APPROVES SCHEME

Some Members Opposed to Work Being Placed in Hands of a Commission.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 15.—The attention of the Legislature was taken up at this afternoon's session by the discussion on Hon. Mr. Latchford's bill to amend the Temiskaming Railway act. The speakers included the Premier and Mr. Whitney, and several lively passages-at-arms took place during the debate.

Mr. Murphy (Ottawa), resuming the debate on the bill, said that the $30,000 per mile asked to construct the line was too much. It seemed to him that the Government were in a bad fix, and they now seemed as if they were devoting all their efforts to securing a contractor without first ascertaining what the line would cost. The Commissioner of Public Works felt sore that the building of the Temiskaming Railway had been taken out of his hands and given to a commission, which was created to give positions to five more favorites of the Government.

"And I should also like to say," Mr. Murphy cried, "that I regard the appointment of that commission as a direct insult to the Commissioner of Public Works and to his constituents, and he should have resigned his office when he was treated in the manner he was. If I had been in his position I would have stepped out within twenty-four hours."

Mr. Murphy added that he favored the construction of the Temiskaming Railway, but he wanted more information as to the probable cost and the terminus.

CAPTIOUS CRITICISM.

Mr. (Hislop) Huron replied, and accused the Opposition, especially the Ottawa members, of captious criticism of everything connected with the road. The work had been done in a businesslike manner, perfectly free from scandals by the commission, and he felt sure it would be a good and economically constructed road, which would be a credit to the Government. The whole course regarding the road he considered had been pursued for the benefit of the country, not the speculators.

Major Hendrie, of Hamilton, spoke of what he called the vagueness of the terminus of the extension, which was to be between eighty and a hundred miles to an uncertain point, depending upon the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific. More information was absolutely necessary, and should be brought down when the bill was taken up in committee of the whole. At the rate of $30,000 a mile the road would cost $6,000,000, and with the proposed aid to the Algoma Central of $2,000,000, the Province would be approaching dangerously near the ten-million-dollar mark.

As to the G. T. P. Major Hendrie considered that the road would not be built near where the Temiskaming road would end, but that the line would be started 300 miles west of the terminus of the Temiskaming road, and proceed via Sudbury to Scotia or North Bay. He considered that under those doubtful circumstances the road should not be built until the route of the G. T. P. was absolutely certain.

HELPS WESTERN ONTARIO.

Mr. Pettypiece (East Lambton) held that the Temiskaming Railway had been located in a better place, and that the value of the timber limits in that district, as compared with the route along the Ottawa River, justified the Minister of Public Works in choosing that route. No trade was being diverted from Ottawa as a consequence of the building of the road from North Bay. The people who would be served by it were nearly all Western Ontario people, whose trade would come to Toronto in any event. Mr. Pettypiece thought Ontario needed this experiment in national ownership of railways, that it would prove a success, and that so far as it had gone the people are satisfied with it. He would like to see it supplemented by a Government line from North Bay to Toronto. This would be an asset better than money or bonds in the bank. He contended that no private company could build this line cheaper than the Province, and that no railway was ever built for the original estimated cost.

OPPOSE COMMISSION.

Dr. Pyne (East Toronto) said that the previous speaker had almost indorsed the idea that the Government intended building a great edifice, but did not know whether it was going to be a dwelling or a stable. In the whole undertaking the Government had met with a number of failures, he said. They had made a failure with regard to selling the bonds of the road, a most serious matter, and had also waited for three years before they memorialized the Dominion Government for aid for the new line. Such negligence was to be deplored.

Col. Matheson said that the enterprise had been undertaken before sufficient information was secured. When the contracts were let the first 30 miles only were surveyed, while over the remaining 82 miles simply a trial line had been made. There was a lack of confidence in the commisson, and in their methods. The Government should have built the railway themselves.

WHITNEY APPROVES SCHEME.

Mr. Whitney protested against the statement that the Opposition took a pessimistic view with regard to the future of the country and the Temiskaming Railway. When the first Temiskaming Railway bill was introduced, he had supported it, and when criticising the present measure the Opposition were fair and moderate.

THE PREMIER'S REPLY.

The House, the Premier said, had heard frequently a great deal about the Opposition's popular majority. It was an old story. A great deal of the popular majority was made up, it could now be seen, by padding the lists in the city of Toronto. The present civic investigation showed how it was that the Liberals did not succeed in electing candidates in Toronto, when there was such an amount of padding, and in this connection it was interesting to hear what the assessment commissioner said. He said that 6,000 names were put on that should not have been on. Continuing, Mr. Ross said: "Toronto does not support us. We have been far kinder to Toronto, than Toronto has been to us. Toronto cannot complain, although it has for years sent four members to oppose the Government. I do not think Toronto would endeavor to make out a case against the Government, not that she has got everything she wanted—I think she has not now and then—but, notwithstanding its inexcusable and incomprehensible hostility during these long years, the city has no ground for complaint because of our treatment."

The House rose at 6 p.m. for dinner.

Tell Me Who Needs Help

Just a Postal. That Is All.

No money is wanted—from you—nor from him. I ask only a postal card, and I ask it as an act of humanity.

I will send him my book. I will arrange with a druggist near by that he may take six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is $5 50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it.

Could I meet you—for even ten minutes—I would forever convince you that I have what these sick ones need. More than that, they must have it, for most of them can never get well without it.

But I can meet only a few, so I take this means to convince you. I let you take it a month to prove what it can do; and you can pay, or I will pay, just as you decide.

I have found the cured ones fair. In the past twelve years I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on these terms, and 39 out of each 40 have paid—and paid gladly—because they were cured. I will pay just as willingly if you say I have failed.

My Restorative is the result of my lifetime's work in learning how to strengthen the inside nerves.

I don't doctor the organs, but I bring back the nerve power which alone operates every vital organ. I give the weak organ power to do its duty, as you would give a weak engine more steam.

My way never fails, save when a cause—like cancer—makes a cure impossible. No case is too difficult, for I have watched the remedy succeed in the most desperate cases that physicians ever meet.

You know some sick one who would be well with my help. Won't you let me furnish the help?

Write me. Now—today. Dr. Shoop, Box 41, Racine, Wis.

All the Toronto houses and properties of the Atlas Company have now been sold, but some vacant lands. There are also some stocks still held.
