A NEW MOVEMENT

A campaign is being started for the creation of a Chamber of Commerce for St. Catharines. The step is one that should have been taken prior to this. The old Board of Trade has accomplished much in its day, and its officers always had the best interests of the city at heart, we feel confident, but a Chamber of Commerce organized and conducted on business principles and taking up important public matters with some degree of thoroughness and efficiency should prove of infinitely more value to the whole municipality.

The Journal has felt for some years that there should be a paid secretary of the Board of Trade, and when a Chamber of Commerce is established, the same thing will apply. The proper man holding such a position would also be useful as an industrial conciliator. (There is too much) work to expect any man to do it for nothing, and there is too much that could be accomplished to let the work go by default.

St. Catharines has several problems to solve. They should receive the attention, not only of the members of the City Council and other purely elective bodies, but of all business and professional men who desire to see the city go ahead and develop along the most approved principles.

The Painters Criticize Council

Editor The Journal: Dear Sir—At the regular meeting of the local Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers' Union, I was instructed to write you stating that after discussing the matter, we decided to go on record as protesting in strong terms at the action of the City Council in refusing to recognize our city firemen joining the International Association of Fire Fighters, and affiliating with the Trades and Labor Council—both lawful organizations.

We are of the opinion that the aldermen who objected, acted in a very high-handed, illogical and unjustifiable manner, especially when we consider that recent commissions have endorsed The Treaty of Peace (Paris) Article 2, which says that workers should be allowed the right of association for all lawful purposes. I have also been instructed to write the City Council on the matter.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, yours truly, Wm. D. Outram, Secretary Local Union Painters and Decorators.

Subtle and Otherwise

TO BE EXACT

The weary traveler was trying to get to Swampton, but the going was by no means easy. Green ponds and mossy bogs met him at every turn, the roads were eluded with mud from the heavy rains, and the fields were quagmires.

"How far to Swampton?" he inquired of a whistling youth, after two hours' wading.

"One mile as the crow flies!" came the answer.

The traveler looked ahead at the unpleasant prospect.

"H'm!" he muttered. "I think you're wrong my boy. Looks more like one mile as the duck waddles.—London Tit-Bits.

HER POINT OF VIEW

The house where granny lived was said to be haunted, and fifteen-year old Eriv was rather nervous of sleeping alone in it. During the first night he fancied he heard all sorts of strange noises, too.

So in the morning he tackled the old lady.

"Do you believe in spirits, granny?" he asked.

The old lady hought deeply for a moment, then suddenly her face brightened and she said slowly.

"Well, they do say that whisky's good for rheumatism!"—London Answers.

SPEAKING THE TRUTH

Father—I am grieved to hear, my boy, that you have told your mother several falsehoods. Always tell the truth, even if it should bring trouble upon you. Will you promise me to do so?

Boy—Yes, father.

Father—Right, you are. Now go and see who is banging at the door. If it's the landlord, say I'm out.

COULDN'T BE CAUGHT

"And now, ladies and gentlemen," said the guide of the local museum, "we come to the armory. On our right we have the identical knives with which the fobbers fought when they took the Babes into the Wood. On our left we 'ape' the ax with which Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded.

Next to it we see one of Dick Turpin's pistols, and again, next to that, we have the shield which the Black Prince used in the Cyprian war. 'Ere we 'ave the bow and arrow used by the Duke of Wellington at the battle of Mons, and, passing along a little further, we see the actual sword with which Balaam slew the ass."

"Just a moment," said one of the party. "I didn't know Balaam had a sword. I thought he only wished for one."

"Quite so—quite so! And if you'll give me the time to finish and not interrupt—I was just going to add that this is the one 'e wished for."

COLLEGIATE TEST EXAMINATIONS

The results of the January test examinations at the Collegiate Institute are given below. Owing to the small-pox and vaccination troubles chiefly, a large number of pupils were unable to take the examinations. This fact will not count against them on their mid-summer examinations if they are able to cover the work which they were compelled to miss during their absence from the school. Industrious habits, particularly with respect to the school work, are most desirable, and the principal and staff will appreciate the help of the parents in keeping the pupils' minds centred on school work during school days. The minds of the people should be occupied with school work. The school age will soon be gone. Let us have reasonable diversion, but lots of attention to school work.

In Class 1 names represent the order of merit. Class 2 contains the names of those who were not graded owing to absence from all or part of the examinations.

"Go Teach All Nations Beginning at Jerusalem"

"THAT'S it," says a critic, "beginning at Jerusalem! You should correct paganism at home before going abroad to look for it. I do not believe in Foreign Missions."

The Need of Africa Africa was first explored by a Missionary who lies in Westminster Abbey, honored by all nations. David Livingstone was succeeded by other devoted men, who gave themselves unreservedly to the people of the Dark Continent. . . .

Yet Jerusalem was not Christianized when the Apostles went to Antioch; when Philip was sent to the Ethiopian.

Remember This The man who does not believe in Foreign Missions stands today clothed and educated because of Foreign Missions. When did English culture begin? With the visit of St. Augustine, a Foreign Missionary from Rome. . . .

The Missions Established

Five Christian Communions in Canada—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian—have an extensive mission work abroad. They have sent overseas many devoted men and women. By their work, barriers have been broken down and in every land there is an eager call for more missions, more teachers, more doctors, more hospitals. . . .

Mass Movements in India India is our brother-land, a loyal British dependency. Illiteracy is the rule. Caste imprisons the people and stifles all ambition. British administration has taught the folk the value of peace. English-speaking Missionaries from Canada are teaching them the value of education and the power of the Name which is above every name. . . .

A Mandate for Expansion

All men, who think honestly realize that the Gospel of Christ is unique in moral splendor; in spiritual force, in civilizing influence. It redeems the individual and exalts the nation. . . .

The Chance in China China is attempting to develop a democratic spirit before the nation is prepared for it. Many of the leaders got their first glimpse of true liberty in Christian Mission Schools. . . .

The Call to Action Canadians, Churchmen or non-Churchmen, you met the righteous of the war with cheerfulness, since it was waged to establish righteousness in the earth. Now hear the call of the Churches for adequate means to continue by peaceful suasion the work which for four years was done by batteries and bayonets. . . .

The Need of the World Japan, Formosa, Korea, the South Sea Islands, South America, and not least, the pagans in our own land, need the Gospel. The Missionary is welcomed in all lands. Men everywhere appreciate the spirit of those Canadians who forget themselves in order to serve the suffering and the weary. Idealism in action counts!
