ITALIANS HONOR THE MEMORY OF VERRANZO

Statue of the Florentine Navigator Unveiled—Parade in New York.

New York, Oct. 7.—Contending that in the discovery of the Hudson river, as in the case of the North Pole, there is "enough honor for two," thousands of Italians, somthered in flags, bunting and gay uniforms, paraded down Broadway to the battery yesterday, where they unveiled a statute of Giovanni de Verrazano. With no intention to belittle the achievements of Henry Hudson, Italians maintained that Verrazano discovered the Hudson in 1524, or 85 years before the Half Moon's arrival. But the Florentine navigator, evidently regarding the stream as an ordinary one, left no detailed report of his exploration of the river.

The parade comprised two hundred and fifty Italian societies of New York and New Jersey, and others from New Haven, Conn., Lawrence, Mass., and Saratoga, N. Y. Nearly 30,000 Italians, men and women, were mustered for the demonstration, and as they marched down Broadway they attracted great crowds of onlookers. Big floats reproduced Verrazano's boat in flowers, while the paraders were arrayed in a riot of colors, such as only a Latin people can affect. Three hundred sailors from the Italian cruisers Etruria and Etna were in the line of march.

At the unveiling of the monument addresses were delivered. The monument was erected by public subscriptions taken up among the Italians here.

The day's festivities were concluded with a reception given by the local committee at Madison Square Garden to the officers and men of the Italian cruisers.

Verrazano was a Florentine navigator, born about 1485, a few years before Columbus discovered the New World. He is supposed to have sailed up the Jersey coast into New York harbor in 1524. Verrazano rendered an account of his voyage to Francis I. In the possession of the New York Historical Society is a copper globe, made in 1542, upon which is shown the region of the bay "Discovered by Verrazano." There is also in the library of the College of the Propaganda Fide at Rome, a map of the new world made by a brother of the discoverer, showing the river now called the Hudson.

Two Indians Found Lying in Water-Logged Canoe.

New Westminster, Oct. 6.—Lying in the bottom of an Indian canoe of the usual native type and with seven or eight inches of water in the craft, an aged Indian and his wife were found by the police half crazed with liquor and in danger of drowning. The canoe was lying under the market wharf. A number of Indians were in their boats at the nearby slip, including some of the children of the old couple, but no notice was taken of their predicament. With some difficulty the boat was brought to the slip and the occupants turned over to the care of the Indians on shore. A bottle of gin was found in their possession.

LECTURES ON ROAD MAKING.

Chilliwack, Oct. 6.—Major Shepherd, of Niagara Falls, Ont., an expert on good roads and road making, addressed a meeting of members of the Farmers' Institute and others desirous of seeing improved roads, in the court house. Councillor MacLeod asked what the cost of suitable road making machinery would be.

Major Shepherd advised a No. 4 crusher with a jaw 9x16 inches; a 15 horse-power engine would run it and crush from 80 to 100 tons of rock per day. The cost in Ontario would be from $1,200 to $1,500, with all attachments. A roller would cost from $2,800 to $3,200. This was for a 10-ton roller with double cylinder. The cost of laying down the material would be about 50c. per yard and the cost of hauling the material to the place where required would be extra. From $100 to $10,000 per mile was the range of cost for finished roads. The cost of maintenance for the first five years should be nothing.

In answer to a question he said for a 12-foot road about eight inches should be plenty of thickness. He would not advise making too wide a road of macadam, eight or ten feet was plenty in country districts. For city streets a greater width was required.

In answer to Mr. Bailey as to the best material for city streets, he said vitrified brick was one of the best. It would cost about $2.40 per square yard; asphalt brick was good also and cost about $2.60 per square yard.
