As Governor Cleveland was going from the executive mansion to the capital at nine on Monday morning he was assaulted in front of the Medical College by Samuel Boone, of Elmira. Boone struck at the Governor with his right hand and the blow being warded off he repeated the operation several times without hitting the Governor's face. He then darted towards a pile of cobblestones, but was intercepted by Dr. Houghton before he obtained hold of the missiles. Boone then returned to attack the Governor, when Houghton seized hold of him and the Governor deliberately resumed his walk. Boone was released and went quickly to his boarding-house, where he was arrested shortly afterwards. Boone was refused a pardon for a relative last week.

TOWN TOPICS.

Don't fail to call on Rines, the shoemaker, for your fall and winter boots. All kinds made to order. Rubber goods of all kinds repaired at his shop on Kingston street.

The rainfall on Tuesday was pretty heavy, but the photos taken by G. B. Robson are the biggest thing of the season by long odds. He does good work or none at all.

Photography is a comparatively recent invention, and yet it has made great strides. In this section H. Sallows has developed it into a science, and can almost take a picture by geometric rules.

The north wind doth blow,
And we shall have snow,
and if you want comfort you had better go to F. and A. Pridham's, and buy one of their prime overcoats.

On election day you can't get liquor in any of the hotels or liquor stores, for it's against the law, but on all the other days of the week except Sunday, W. L. Horton can supply you with the best in the land.

Prepare for winter by calling at Saunders & Son's and buying one of their first-class heating stoves, for wood or coal. All the leading stoves for sale cheaper than any other dealer in town. See their advertisement. The cheapest house under the sun.

Herbie Hilliard is very ill.

George Porter has returned from Port Arthur.

First snow of the season, Thursday morning.

Conductor Higgins and family, have gone to Toronto.

Mrs. F. F. Bawrence, took a trip to Buffalo this week.

Miss Eliza Logan has returned from her trip to London.

Miss Clara Dark who has been ill for some days is getting better.

Capt. Robertson sold his residence on St. Davis-st., to Mr. Keslie.

Goderich H. S. L. S. will meet this (Friday) evening, at 7:15 o'clock.

There is more lumber now in harbor than there has been for many years.

The Big Mill, after a two weeks' stoppage for wheat, started grinding again on Monday.

Captain Finlay McPherson, of the schooner Midland Rover, was in town last week.

A valuable horse owned by Abraham Smith died while he has been sojourning in the U. S.

Rev. P. Owen-Jones and Rev. G. B. Taylor, of Bayfield, exchanged pulpits last Sunday.

The pubic school teachers were in session yesterday, and will continue their convention to-day.

Remember the "Harvest Home" on Thanksgiving day in the North Street Methodist Church.

The people of Elora have opened up correspondence with the Goderich citizens' railway committee.

Mrs. John McIntosh, Goderich township, and family have taken up their residence on St. Patrick's street.

Charlie McIntosh left by the United Empire in charge of a lot of horses, which he is taking west on speculation.

Rev. Mr. Broley, of Seaforth, preached in North street Methodist church, morning and evening, last Sunday.

Wm. Clarke, of Goderich township, had both of his wrists dislocated this week by being thrown out of his buggy.

Mrs. Capt. A. E. McGregor, and infant son, Clifton, were passengers by the United Empire, on Thursday morning.

The rainfall on Tuesday night measured 25 cubic inches. Even G. N. Macdonald, the observer, considered it damp.

Dr. McLellan, inspector of teachers' institutes was in town during the week, and inspected the model school on Wednesday.

Stephen Ball, we understand, sold his residence, the old Reid property, at the lake, for $1,100. It looks as if the C.P.R. were coming sure.

The ladies' aid association of Knox church will hold a bazaar shortly before Christmas for the sale of a variety of fancy and useful articles.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Smaill, of Winnipeg, has been very ill of gastric fever since their return to their Northwest home.

Rev. Alex. Birks, of Holmesville, will preach in Victoria Street Church next Sabbath. The subject of the evening discourse will be "Prohibition."

Harry Clucas has returned from a pleasant trip to the Saginaw district. He brought home a brace of partridge as trophies of his hunting expedition.

Rev. Fr. McManus will officiate at all the services in St. Peter's church on Sunday next. He will preach his maiden sermon after mass in the forenoon.

TEMPERANCE SERMON.—A temperance sermon will be preached in the North Street Methodist Church on Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. T. M. Campbell.

A. M. Polley, our energetic townsman, purchased a handsome new 'bus at Belleville on his Montreal trip. He intends putting on a free express waggon for the Albion hotel.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Annie Currie, eldest daughter of our old townsman J. C. Currie, has been appointed to the position of teacher in the Winnipeg public school.

An entertainment last Friday evening in the North street Methodist church, was largely attended. The various pieces on the programme were rendered so as to meet with much applause.

It is said the Minister of Education will embody in his School Bill at the coming session of Legislature, provisions with respect to school vacations which will make them more suitable than at present.

JOURNALISTIC.—The Wingham Times is now under the sole control of E. Edwards. The Times has been passing through deep waters lately, and we are pleased to learn that there is now a prospect of solid standing before it.

Geo. McMullen, who is now at home, met with an accident at the Bayfield pier which might have proved fatal. A fellow workman, in using his axe in proximity to George, struck him on the head, and made a severe wound.

Mr. Fagan, Colborne, father of Mrs. Henry Robinson, had his leg broken one day last week by an animal in his possession becoming infuriated and chasing him. Mr. Fagan managed to get over the fence, but broke his leg in doing so.

A football match between players from St. Patrick's ward and a team from the rest of the town will be played tomorrow afternoon at the cricket grounds. The ball will be kicked off at 3.30. Lovers of the sport are invited to attend.

The editor of our contemporary, the Star, has now an additional argument in favor of the passage of the Scott Act—it's a boy. Friend Mitchell is endeavoring to look stoical, and is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

We are glad to hear that Miss Bates, who was so foully assaulted in Clinton this spring, and had to be sent to London Asylum in consequence, is gradually recovering from the effects of the assault and will soon be in a condition to return to her friends.

A gathering of friends of the Scott Act will be held in the largest building available in Goderich on Thursday night, to receive the returns of the vote on the Scott Act. The temperance hall will hardly hold the crowds, as hundreds will be in from the townships to get the news.

P. J. Sullivan, of Goderich, and formerly of Ashfield, left on Thursday by the United Empire, accompanied by his wife and family, for Sault Ste. Marie, where he will establish a new home. P. J. is a decent young Irishman, and we will be pleased to hear of his success.

Mr. D. Martyn, formerly of East Wawanosh, now an anti-Scott orator, is billed to address the electors at Benmiller on Saturday evening next. He is evidently "spoiling for a fight," and has invited Rev. T. M. Campbell or Mr. T. McGillicuddy to discuss the subject. "O ain't he got the nerve!"

LARGE INCREASE.—Owing to the continued low rates offered by the Allan Line travel to and from the old country has been heavy the past two months Just think of it $20.35 buys a ticket from Goderich to Liverpool, London and Glasgow, &c, &c. Now's the time, Return tickets at greatly reduced rates. For tickets and all information apply to H. Armstrong, Railway and Steamboat ticket agent, Goderich.

His Honor Judge Doyle held a voters' list revision court last Friday and Saturday. The Reformers applied to have 10 names struck off and 9 added and succeeded in having 7 names struck off and 9 inserted. The Conservatives applied to have 4 names struck off and 26 added, and succeeded in having 2 struck off, and 23 inserted. F. W. Johnston appeared in behalf of the Conservatives, and M. G. Cameron for the Reformers.

An order has been issued by the Militia Department, forbidding military bands from taking part in political or party demonstrations in uniform. This order is perfectly right as it would be a pity to have party strife mixed up in any way with our militia. All bands should have a uniform independent of their military clothing, to be use on all occasions other than those connected with their duty in connection with the battalions to which they are attached.

BOOMING THE SCOTT ACT.—A boy of about twelve years of age, drunk and disorderly on West-st., was one of the sights during the rain storm on Tuesday evening. The law does not allow the giving of liquors to minors. Where did that boy get intoxicated? Still another.—A drunken young man was picked out of the gutter, on East-st., during the rain storm, by Capt. Dancey. The rain was falling heavily at the time, and had it not been for the timely arrival of the captain, the unfortunate fellow would have been drowned. The men who sold these boys whiskey, are booming the Scott Act.

Thomas Cowherd, an old G. T. R. employee at this point, died at Amigari on Friday last, quite suddenly. Last year he had one of his legs amputated, and recovered from the operation, which was successfully performed. A short time since he was moved from this point to Amigari, and it was believed by his friends that many years of life were yet before him. On Friday, however, we learn he was suddenly stricken down, and expired shortly after. His funeral took place from the station to the Maitland cemetery on Monday afternoon. His relatives have the sympathy of all who knew them in this section.

AN INTERESTING BIT OF LAW.—It used to be the case that business firms who gave credit to employees of the Grand Trunk railway were unable to obtain their money by garnishee, because the head offices of the company, where the notice had to be served, were in Montreal. An amendment of the Division Court act, passed by the Ontario legislature last session, gets over the difficulty. It provides that the notice may be served on the company's agent whose office is nearest to the court in which the judgment was obtained. This applies to the employees of all companies similarly situated. Another clause of the amended act provides that where the debt is for wages or board, the judge may determine whether or not the defendant shall receive the benefit of the clause which compels the garnishee to allow him an exemption of $25.

ORGAN RECITAL AND CONCERT.—An organ recital and concert will be given in Knox Church on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 27th. Prof. Chas. Kelly, "the most promising basso in Canada," will be the chief attraction. Miss Campbell of Seaforth, and the best local talent have also been secured. As it is long since so talented and deservedly popular a vocalist as Mr. Kelly has appeared in Goderich, we trust the citizens will show their appreciation of musical talent by turning out en masse to hear him. We insert below some of Mr. Kelly's press notices, "Alone in the Desert," is one of the songs Mr. Kelly is expected to sing in Goderich.

"Mr. Kelly, with an exceedingly fine bass voice, combining sonority and flexibility to a great degree, sang his solo exceedingly well."—[Toronto Globe.

"Mr. Kelly went far towards dividing the honors with Mrs. Caldwell. He is the possessor of a voice of wonderful depth and compass, while every note, no matter how low on the scale, was clear and musical, a rare thing in a basso."—[Barrie Advance.

"Mr. Kelly, from Brampton, sang 'Committed to the Deep' in good style. This is a bass solo, and the manner in which Mr. Kelly acquitted himself, drew forth loud applause. * * * * 'Alone in the Desert' by Mr. Kelly, was sung with splendid effect, and was loudly and deservedly applauded. The accompaniment of this song is simply grand. The singer is supposed to be lost in a vast desert, and after long suffering, and when on the verge of the grave, about to give himself up to die of hunger and thirst, he hears the very faint and hardly preceptible jingle of the camel's bells in the distance, which as it gradually draws nearer and nearer, grows louder, inspires him with fresh hope for his life, and when at last friends draw nigh, and rescue him from the beak and talons of the vulture, that all the while is hovering over his head, he gives thanks in a joyous and sudden outburst of music, thrills his hearers, and makes the piece as interesting as it is grand."—[Peterborough Review.

Literary Notes.

The November Harper's will complete Wm. Black's story of "Judith Shakespeare," with an illustration by Abbey, and bring E. P. Roe's "Nature's Serial Story," with Dielman's and Gibson's illustrations, within one instalment of the conclusion. Mr. Treadwell Walden's picturesque studies of "The Great Hall of William Rufus" will also be completed in this number, and the illustrations will be especially rich, including three full-page plates. One of them—Van Dyck's "Charles the First and Henrietta Maria," engraved by Closson from the original painting—will be the frontispiece to the Number. Some fine art work is promised in Reinhart's illustrations of "Norman Fisher-folk" and in Alfred Parson's studies of plant life in "A Day with Sir Joseph Hooker at Kew" the English botanical gardens, and Gibson's of "Chrysanthemums." A paper on Columbia College, richly illustrated, will continue its history from the reorganization of King's College to its present remarkable development. Andrew Lang, who is the editor of the English edition of the magazine, is to have a paper on Sydney Smith, illustrated. Abbey will also contribute a full-page illustration of Burn's poem, "To a Haggis." Mr. F. D. Millet writes on the recent art competitions, in which he was one of the judges, and the historian Francis Parkman on "The Acadian Tragedy," in which was involved the episode of Evangeline. Among the stories of the Number will be one by Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford, "Three Quiet Ladies of the name of Luce."

Farewell Supper to Mr. Vidal.

On the evening of Tuesday last a number of young gentlemen met at Mr. Bingham's restaurant, for the purpose of giving a supper to Mr. J. H. Vidal, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in honor of his departure shortly for Toronto. Nothwithstanding the wretched weather the gathering was large, showing conclusively that the gentleman who may fill Mr. Vidal's place, financially, may find some difficulty in doing so socially. On account of other attractions in the town and the bad night, some who were anxious to be there were unavoidably absent, but the deficiency in this respect was largely counterbalanced by the enthusiasm of those present. Mr. Bingham's preparations were most carefully and satisfactorily made, and it is needless to say that ample justice was done to what he had provided. The party was composed almost entirely of members of the Goderich cricket club, the guest of the evening being one of the most popular and efficient men in that organization. The chair was occupied by Mr. Stark, captain of the club, and the vice do. by Mr. Proudfoot. Both gentlemen discharged their duties admirably. The first health drunk was to Her Majesty, and this opened a long list. The toast to the guest of the evening was most enthusiastically responded to while the room rang with the strains of "He's a jolly good fellow." Mr. Vidal acknowledged the compliment in a short but highly appropriate speech, expressing his regret at leaving town, and the certainty of his carrying away with him many most pleasant remembrances. The health of the ladies was loudly greeted and excellently responded to by Messrs. Widder and McPhillips in two most happy efforts, the former especially showing extensive and intimate knowledge as well as high appreciation, of the subject. The fun was kept up till an early hour the next morning, a great many toasts being drunk, and every gentleman in the party having a chance to air his eloquence. Immediately before breaking up, in token of respect and sincere regret, the memory of the late Major Cooke was drunk in silence. Then after God save the Queen and Auld Lang Syne, the party dispersed having spent a most enjoyable evening.

The Railway Question.

From the Listowel Standard.

The statement is made, but upon what authority we are not aware, that the Canadian Pacific Railway authorities have promised to extend their line to Goderich, and that Elora is spoken of as the point from which the extension will be made. Should there be any foundation for this report, it behooves our council and citizens to take steps to have the line come through Listowel. From its geographical position this town lies in an almost direct line between Elora and Goderich. Connection with the Canada Pacific system would be of vast benefit to this place, and to allow the road to be constructed and not touch this town would be suicidal. Our council and Board of Trade should therefore be on the qui vive.

From the Guelph Mercury.

The statement that the Canadian Pacific Railway authorities have promised to extend their line to Goderich, and that Elora is spoken of as the point from which the extension will be made, has put the promoters of the Guelph Junction line on the qui vive. With a line from Goderich to Elora connecting with the northern branch, and one from Guelph to Leslie connecting with the main line, the people whom the extension is going to affect would surely not allow the intervening distance of thirteen miles between Elora and this city to stand in the way of the advantage which connection with the main line would give them. It is now in order to consider how the extension of the Guelph Junction Railway through to Goderich would answer. Let it be taken up in a business-like manner and discussed with the same energy as that which the people of Goderich are displaying; and as this scheme bears on the face of it the greatest advantages all round, so an agitation can be made to return the most favorable and successful results.
