Kruger's Objections

Reply to Chamberlain Anent the Outlanders' Petitions.

Interesting Statements in a "Green Book."

The British Camp at Mafeking Twice Called to Arms.

A Natal Dispatch States That the Boers Are Leaving Camp and Returning to Their Homes.

London, Oct. 9.—A green book, just issued, contains President Kruger's reply to Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch referring to the petition of the outlanders.

The Transvaal objects to Great Britain's interference in its internal affairs and explains that, if the outlanders had first addressed the Transvaal, instead of the British Government, their complaints would have been immediately heeded. It also alleges that those complaints emanated wholly from a "small body of British who are breeding race hatred and a revolutionary movement, and whose membership and newspapers openly boast of the influence exercised by them upon the policy of the imperial government.

The reply adds: "The Transvaal is bound to credit these boasts when it sees blue books issued consisting of documents drawn up by these revolutionary members of the South African League and of lying articles and reports from newspapers which are the organs of the league. If the real character of the league could be known, it would soon lose its influence and the tension between the two governments would speedily disappear.

The reply concludes as follows: "The Afrikanders would then no longer fear that the interests of the British empire necessarily destroyed the destruction of the two republics, and the enslavement of the Afrikander population; and the white races in South Africa would return to the brotherly harmony that had set in until a treacherous complot, at the end of 1895, revived passion on both sides."

EXODUS OF CAPE DUTCHMEN.

The exodus of Cape Dutchmen towards the Transvaal continues. All seem to be smuggling arms across the frontier. The report of Harry Escombe's mission of peace to Pretoria is apparently incorrect. The Natal statesman went, instead, to Newcastle, with a view of quieting the alarm of his friends. Rumors are current there that Commandant-General Joubert's return to Pretoria was occasioned by a petition of the Boers to have Commandant Viljoen made commander-in-chief.

Advices from Pretoria say that the Transvaal Government has received a dispatch from the United States secretary of state, Col. John Hay, to the effect that as Gen. James R. O'Beirne, recently designated by President Kruger to represent the Transvaal in the United States, is an American, he cannot hold a diplomatic appointment from the South African Republic in the United States. State Secretary Reitz, therefore, has asked Mr. Bosman to remain, and full powers will be given him to act on behalf of the Transvaal in the interests of peace.

Pretoria, the dispatches say, presents a most deserted appearance. The government has ordered all the saloons closed throughout the republic.

TALES OF HORROR.

The Evening News publishes the following dispatch from Cape Town:

"The reports of the barbaric excesses committed by the Boers on refugees have caused a thrill of horror here. In one instance 70 women and children were packed in a cattle truck so tightly that they were unable to sit, and were thus kept sidetracked for 30 hours without food or water. When they attempted to leave the truck they were driven back with blows.

"Every train load of refugees brings harrowing accounts of the barbarities of the Boers of the Orange Free State. A train arrived today that had been 96 hours en route. The sufferings of the women were dreadful. Several births occurred on the way—one in an open cattle truck containing 20 men.

HUSTLING.

Every department of the government is as busy as though actual hostilities had begun. The electric flash that announced the mobilization of the army reserves and the summoning of parliament set every wheel in motion. An hour after the Gazette appeared, executive orders were being dispatched from the war office to every section of the kingdom, and the 10,000 bulletins which appeared posted throughout the country are said to have been identical with the proclamation prepared for use had the Fashoda incident required such a step. At the same time Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour were issuing the necessary orders for the reassembling of parliament, the admiralty was concentrating its transports, 24 of which are now secured at Liverpool alone. So complete were the preparations that 25,000 reserves have already individually received coupon tickets, which contain instructions where each man shall report for transportation to the place designated, and a money order for three shillings for provision en route. At Woolwich it is asserted that 95 per cent of the reserves will be fully equipped within six days.

TWO ALARMS.

Twice on Sunday the British camp at Mafeking was aroused. The men stood to their arms, guns were limbered and patrols were dispatched in the direction of the border. No hostilities have occurred as yet, but the enemy have moved practically to the border, eight miles from Mafeking, in force 6,000 strong, comprising five commands. The garrisoning and fortifying of the towns is practically completed. The streets are barricaded, and a perfect system of mines have been laid. Two armored trains have arrived at Mafeking, consisting of three bullet-proof cars, the first of which carries a searchlight, while the sides of the cars are loopholed. Experiments with lyddite in the mines have proved that it is an extremely high explosive. Col. Baden-Powell, commanding the Fifth Dragoon Guards, has issued a notice that the Boers who are massed on the Natal and Bechuanaland frontiers have orders not to fire until the British forces begin, and that the town is well prepared for eventualities, but as the Boers may shell the place, every endeavor should be made to safeguard the women and children. An armored train was inspected at Kimberley on Sunday. A signal station has been erected with a conning tower at the top, 130 feet above the tracks. Communication by telephone is had with a central office, and signals are given to the troops by flag. The troops number 3,000, including a bicycle corps. An armored train has been practicing firing at targets.

SPOILING FOR A FIGHT.

A dispatch from Kimberley to the Cape Town Argus says that 3,000 Boers are encamped between Boshof and Kimberley. They are well armed, and great religious fervor is shown in the camp. The Boers, however, are chafing under the delay. They patrol the border nightly, and have orders not to permit a British uniform to approach the frontier. A special order was gazetted on Saturday, announcing that British residents would be allowed to remain in the Transvaal and under what conditions.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail declares that the story of a Boer ultimatum, demanding the withrawal of the British troops from the frontiers, had been issued, is without foundation; but he says the republics have within the past week demanded a declaration of the British intentions in threatening terms. Hostilities in outlying districts, the correspondent says, are expected this week, and he adds: "The financial position of the Free State is becoming acute, and the suspension of specie payments is expected soon."

It is again announced that a cabinet council will be called shortly.

BRITISH FORCES AT THE FRONT.

Further transports from India with two field hospitals and Hussars have arrived at Durban, and the men and material were forwarded to Ladysmith instantly. Gen. Sir George Stewart White, V.C., who will command the British forces in Natal, has also arrived and landed. He was greeted by a large crowd. Gen. Sir Wm. Symons, his second in command, came from Glencoe, to meet him, showing that he does not fear a Boer incursion into North Natal. A number of other officers were present, and the whole party left by train for Pietermaritzburg amid great enthusiasm and cries of "Remember Majuba."

The famous fighting Fifth Northumberland Fusiliers have arrived at Cape Town, where they were received with great enthusiasm. In other respects the situation remains unchanged.

The last Indian contingent sailed on Sunday from Bombay for South Africa.

RETURNING TO THEIR HOMES.

London, Oct. 9. — News comes from the Transvaal, which, if true, probably indicates that the South African Republic is about to yield, or, in any case, that the Boers have abandoned all idea of invading Natal. The news is comprised in a cablegram from Newcastle, Natal, which says that farmers who arrived there from the Buffalo River, state that the Boers are returning to their homes, leaving patrols along the river. The commanders still remain on the Free State border. The dispatch also says that the feeling at Newcastle now is that the Boers do not intend to attack that place, and that the evacuation of the town was premature.

A dispatch from Durban also states that the excitement has abated owing to the Boers holding back from the frontier. This retirement of the Boers is what the British war authorities have expected, as their defective commissariat would prevent them from long remaining massed along the border. Telegrams received here recently have made frequent reference to the scarcity of forage and supplies in the Boer laagers, and have stated that many of those in the camps were inclined to strike out for their homes unless active operations were undertaken immediately. The dispatch from Newcastle looks as though they had done as they threatened, and had abandoned the idea of fighting.

PANIC AT A BULLFIGHT.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The first attempt to hold a bull fight here proved a fiasco. An immense crowd gathered about the bull ring at Douil, near Enghien. The first bull brought into the ring was a splendid black animal, which leaped the barrier and created a terrible panic among the spectators, injuring a dozen persons, some of them seriously. The bull then escaped into the country, where he was pursued by matadores and picadors and was finally dispatched. One gendarme was tossed and gored. The police stopped further proceedings and the ring was occupied by troops until the crowd dispersed.

ALASKA QUESTION.

London, Oct. 9.—It now seems that the Alaska controversy will probably be settled even earlier than was suggested. There is reliable authority for the statement that the finishing touches will be given at Washington within the next four days.

TO STUDY BRITAIN'S SYSTEM.

Moscow, Oct. 9.—Gen. Boutovski, of the headquarters staff of the imperial army, has left St. Petersburg for England, where he will inspect the British military system of athletic training with a view to its adoption in the Russian army. The physical training of the Russian soldier is at present to an extent neglected.

DEADLY TYPHOON.

Yokohama, Oct. 9.—While a typhoon was raging on Saturday a train was blown from a bridge into the river near Utzunomiya. Six persons were killed and many injured. Great damage was done to property.

WILLIAM KISSED THEM BOTH.

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, accompanied by the queen-mother, arrived at Potsdam Saturday. Their majesties were cordially received at the station by Emperor William, who kissed their cheeks and presented them with bouquets of roses. The imperial and royal party drove to the palace amid the cheers of the populace.

STRIKE ENDED.

The strike at Lacrouset, France, is ended. The arbitral decision rendered by M. Waldeck-Rousseau, after he had heard the statements of the representative employers and workmen, was communicated to M. Schneider, the mine and foundry owner, of Lacrouset, and to the strikers' delegates, who declared that the award gave them satisfaction.

CABLE NOTES.

Emperor William has purchased for the Government of Prussia the Georgenburg stud farm, in East Prussia, from the heirs of the late Baron Simpson, for 3,000,000 marks.

In an interview regarding the Venezuelan boundary award, President Andrade said: "The result is a cause of rejoicing for this country, because justice and the laws of the civilized world have restored a portion of usurped territory and demonstrated the soundness of our claim."

WORTH $20,000,000

Death of Mr. George Smith, Pioneer Banker of Chicago and the Northwest.

London, Oct. 9.—The body of Mr. Geo. Smith, the pioneer banker of Chicago and the Northwest, who died on Saturday at the Reform Club, London, will be interred tomorrow at Elgin, where he once resided. Mr. James Smith, his nephew and heir presumptive, now in New York city, has been cabled to come to London immediately.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—George A. Smith, worth $20,000,000, who died at the Reform Club, London, Saturday, was a Chicago banker in 1834. A year before he had left Aberdeen, Scotland, with a few thousand dollars, and landed at New York. He did not like the place, and traveled by canal to Buffalo, where he spent the winter. He went from Buffalo to Detroit, and then came by stage to Chicago, where he opened a bank. He prospered, and in a short time induced the late Alexander Mitchell, afterwards for many years president of the Milwaukee and St. Paul road, to come to this country from Scotland. Smith sent Mitchell to Milwaukee to look after his real estate interest there, the association continuing for many years. Former United States Senator C. B. Farwell was cashier in Smith's Chicago bank, which was the first legitimately conducted bank in Chicago and the west. The dead banker's heirs are all in England and Scotland.
