Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties.

"My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some time ago, and my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength.

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it honest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

A DANGEROUS LIQUID.

Hydrofluoric Acid Is Most Safely Kept In Golden Bottles.

A gold bottle stood on the chemist's table. "In that bottle," he said, "my hydrofluoric acid is kept. Hydrofluoric acid is used in glass etching. The etching on glass thermometers is all done with it. It is colorless. It looks like water, but a drop of it on your hand would bore clean through to the other side like a bullet. Its inhalation is sure death.

"Hydrofluoric acid can be kept safely in gold bottles alone. Sometimes bottles of india rubber, of lead or of platinum are used. None of these, though, is as safe as gold.

"Even when this acid is in a gold bottle precautions must be taken with it. It is volatile, and hence a paraffin covered plate must be clamped tight over the bottle's mouth; also the temperature of the room must not rise over 60 degrees or the gold bottle will burst.

"This acid, whose sole use is in glass etching, is probably the most dangerous thing in the world to work with. The steeplejack, the lion tamer and the diver do not take their lives in their hands to half the extent the glass etcher does when, with his gold vial of hydrofluoric acid, he etches the scales of our thermometers."

WESTMAN BROS.,

BIG HARDWARE

A VAST COAL AREA.

Found by George McKenzie of British Columbia in Lonely Walk Down Four Hundred Miles.

In a land of magnificent distances like Canada there have been not a few remarkably long walks, but one of 400 miles over snow, just accomplished by George McKenzie, has characteristics that render it unique. He traveled on foot alone across the rugged interior of northern British Columbia, an undertaking few men would care to face, but he speaks of it as a holiday trip.

McKenzie is a true westerner of the late Jim Wardner type, ever seeking new mineral fields to conquer. He is at home in minings camps of the real Wild West type. Last spring, finding that the Boundary country was becoming too effete, he, with Edward Sullivan and H. B. Thorne, left it to find something fresh in the way of life and minerals in the Far North, to which so many pioneer eyes are turned to-day. The three went overland from Vancouver, B.C., via the Similkameen, the Cariboo road, Quesnel and the Dawson telegraph trail.

They spent months placer mining, prospecting and trapping, and at length they discovered a coal area of remarkable richness. McKenzie will not disclose the location, but he says it is within convenient distance of where the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway must run. He says the seam is 100 feet wide, between sandstone and conglomerate formations, and in one place is cut by a stream which exposes a depth of 50 feet.

It was in order to interest capital in the coal mine and also to learn the value of some quartz finds that McKenzie made his 400-mile trip over the northern mountain ranges on snowshoes. Leaving his partners in camp last February, he turned his face Pacificwards, carrying a 50-pound pack and samples that weighed 25 pounds. Not a human being did he meet for 200 miles. He crossed four mountain ranges, and for 20 consecutive nights he slept in the snow without even a tent to cover him.

In order to travel as light as possible, he took no gun, and his only weapon of offence in case of attack by wild animals was an axe. The only game he sought for food was rabbit. It took him just 40 days to reach Port Essington, at the mouth of the Skeena River, where he caught a steamer for Vancouver. He looks as though the trip did him good, and he is recommending it to his friends for the benefit of their health. He plans to return in a few days. He will take the Hudson's Bay Company steamer up the Skeena to Hazelton, and from there he will have to walk 250 miles overland to where his partners anxiously await his report. He says the district he is prospecting bears no evidence of ever having been visited by white men before. He claims to have been the first white man to make this trip, and nobody seems inclined to dispute the assertion.

SHARE PROFITS WITH MEN.

What Vancouver Street Railway Does for Its Employes.

Mr. J. Buntzen of Vancouver, B.C., general manager of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, was in Toronto recently.

Mr. Buntzen says that about three years ago, owing to the excellent feeling which prevailed between the employes and management, the plan of profit-sharing was introduced by the directors and has been eminently satisfactory. The company recognizes the men's union, pays standard wages and frankly meets the representatives of the union to discuss any matter which the men or management desire.

The company decided that in addition to paying union wages, one-third of the surplus earnings, after paying a 4 per cent. dividend, should be divided yearly among all employes who had remained in the company's employ at least one year continuously. This surplus is divided equally among all employes, from the office boy to the general manager. At the close of 1902 each employe's share was $25; at the close of 1903 the amount was $35 each, and, although the amount for 1904 has not yet been ascertained, it will probably reach $40 per employe. There are between 300 and 400 employes who secure the bonus.

The company is composed entirely of British capitalists, and has a capital, including its light and power branches, of about $6,000,000. It is just now completing the installation of a 30,000 horse-power, provided by the water from two small lakes near Vancouver. To connect these lakes a tunnel 12,775 feet long and 9 feet in diameter has been drilled through solid granite.

Mr. Buntzen has just returned from a visit to Britain, and he says the improvement in the use of electricity for power in the Old Country is simply marvelous. Everything which is done in Britain is perfect and thorough. Immense improvements have taken place in London and all over Britain since he was there last a few years ago.

An Old Stove With a Record.

Mr. John Walker of Roxboro has just removed from the kitchen of his residence a Victoria cooking stove which he purchased from the late John Kidd in 1860, and it was in constant use until last week, when he had it taken down to make room for one of more modern construction. It was still in a very good state of preservation, and what is even more surprising the same pipes that were got with the stove were still in use when it was taken down, and some of them were good that Mr. Walker had them used in connection with his new stove. Mr. Walker says that he has burned in that stove over 400 cords of wood. This certainly is a stove with a record, and there are none made these days that could equal it for longevity. — Huron Expositor.

A White Robin.

A few days ago D. F. Every and several others noticed in the neighborhood of the school quite a curiosity in the shape of a robin whose body was a creamy white color, the breast being of a reddish tinge, says The Pickering News. It had the robin's song, whereby it was identified. Authorities on birds have mentioned the fact that robins of this description have been seen, but very, very rarely. If any of our readers have ever seen a robin of this character we would like them to mention the fact.

That Old Swimming Hole

How to Develop the Highest Degree of Vital, Nervous and Muscular Vigor.

Snakes throw off their outer skin once a year. Human beings change their skins perhaps nine times in a year; that is, they have a new skin about once in six weeks.

The value of a clean skin in maintaining health is not properly understood by the majority of people. Cleanliness is a part of health. You cannot be healthy unless you are clean not only externally, but also internally.

The blood should also be assisted occasionally, like the skin, in throwing off poisons so that the system may not get clogged and leave a weak spot for disease germs to enter the system. When the blood is clogged we suffer from what is commonly called a cold.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It thus cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

ENGLISH SOCIETY WOMEN.

Caustic Comment on Their Love of Drugs and Liquor.

A prominent London journal prints the following indictment of the habits of many English society women: "A generation back it was among the lower classes we found intemperance rife, and then it was the beer of the people which supplied the means; to-day we find intemperance rampant from the highest to the lowest, the vehicle being alcohol, impure and simple, vile concoctions labeled indifferently brandy, whisky, gin. Our wearied, jaded votaries of pleasure seek temporary recuperation from these impure sources; then, when their day is done, they resort to their sulphonal, trional, morphia or what not in the vain hope of a night's good rest. Another most appalling fact that we have to face is the rapid increase in the number of women among the inebriate ranks.

"What is the daily life history of a woman in society? Too jaded by selfish indulgences, after a night of morbid sleep born of some favorite drug she rises to face a day's racing with its concomitant betting. Her breakfast inadequate, probably supplemented by brandy or whisky and soda; luncheon indigestible, savory but unhealthful bonnes bouches, liberal potations of champagne or, more likely, recourse to familiar brandy or whisky peg; a rush home, further pandering to a morbid appetite, more champagne, later perhaps a dance or many hours devoted to inevitable bridge, again brandy or whisky and soda, then bed, with sulphonal, trional, morphia or some equally noxious drug.

"What wonder that there is no time, no disposition, for domestic duties, no care for the family life that erst was the backbone of England! Physical and moral degeneration is the inevitable result."

THE SEISES DANCE.

It Is Reputed to Have Originated With the Apostles.

At Seville, in Spain, the dances of the "seises" are gravely reputed to have originated in the apostles having followed the example set by David and danced around our Lord after the last supper. While St. Augustine contemned the dance devotional, St. Chrysostom is said to have taken part in it, and, notwithstanding a prohibitory decree of 692, it was exceedingly popular in Spain at the commencement of the seventeenth century. During certain ceremonies the seises dance daily before the high altar of Seville cathedral in the presence of enormous crowds, including the archbishop and all the "Now," writes and eyewitness, "the dancing boys are dressed in the costume of Philip and Mary's days, with short capes, an abundance of streamers, plumed hats and white silk shoes. The organ is supplemented by a string band. The old world air and song of the seises have been compared to the music of a comic opera. After sundry movements the castanets are used. "Now," writes an eyewitness, "the dance grows faster and more varied—a chasse croise is succeeded by a circular figure, in which the dancers follow each other round and round, swaying their bodies as they sing rhymed couplets in the soft, slovenly accent of Andalusia.
