LOCAL MATTERS.

POINT LEPREAUX, Nov, 28, 9 a. m.—Wind east strong, snowing. Therm 28.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.—The trespass suit of McDonald vs Lester is still occupying the Court. It will be finished today and the case of Brown vs Elder will be the next taken up.

SOMETHING SUBLIME.—There is something sublime yet well calculated to satisfy the cravings of men's grosser nature in the artistically prepared clam chowders that are served by Mr. Spear at No. 11 Sydney street.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH Y. P. A. open their winter course with a concert this evening. The programme promises to be most pleasing, and it is hoped that the attendance will render the opening an auspicious one.

HARD ROADS.—Early this morning snow began to fall, and continued during the whole morning, to the extent of several inches. To-day the street cars are running with four horses on account of the difficult roads.

THE cause of sour bread is poor yeast. If your yeast is good you will have no such annoyance, and Breadmakers Yeast is just what you want. Try a package and be convinced. Ask your grocer for it. Wholesale agent, H. W. Northrup, South wharf.

MR. MASON'S BENEFIT.—At the Institute this evening a grand benefit concert will be tendered Mr. N. W. Mason, a reader who is well known to and liked by the public. The Kingsville cornet band will be present and its choice military airs will doubtless prove an attraction.

A HALIFAX BOY 12 years of age has been complained of in court by his father for breaking a pane of glass in the the house, in the absence of the parent, and entering to eat bread and other articles of food there. The father goes away to his work in the morning and does not return until late.

HE WEIGHED 300 POUNDS.—A man named James Lucket, 67 years of age and weighing about 300 pounds, died in the third story of a house on Argyle street, Halifax the other day and was buried yesterday by Undertaker Snow. The man was so big that he had to be tapped so that his remains could be got into a casket.

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.—Henry Hart, son of Mr. Solomon H. Hart of this city was one of the sufferers at the great fire in Lynn. When it started Mr. Hart was at Boston purchasing a stock of tobacco for the manufacturing of cigars. On his return to Lynn he found his place of business reduced to ashes. He had no insurance.

PARLOR CONCERT.—There will be several new attractions at the Young Men's Mission Club Concert to-night in the church of England Institute room. The programme which has been arranged is a very good one and promises a pleasant evening's entertainment to the listeners, and taking into consideration the worthy object for which this club comes before the public, there should be a full house.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—The installation of the officers elect of the above society will take place at Washington's 105 Charlotte street, on the evening of St. Andrew's day, 30th inst., at 8.30 o'clock. The society will celebrate the festival of their patron saint by a Scottish gathering in the assembly rooms, Charlotte street, on Monday evening, December 3. The programme will be attractive and members and their lady friends are requested to be present.

THE WOOD-ST. JOHN COMPANY.—This company, which has been entirely reorganized, will open their engagement at the Mechanic's Institute on Monday next Dec., 2nd. The play selected for their opening production will be the interesting dramatization of Hugh Conway's novel "Called Back." This play is very popular and has scored a success wherever and whenever performed by this company. All the costumes used in this play were specially designed the past summer while Miss St. John was abroad. "Called Back" will be elegantly mounted, and as the personel of the company comprises a number o' talented English and American artists, there is no doubt of a successful season.

AN ANCIENT POWDER HORN.—We are indebted to Mr. George A. Henderson for a sight of a curious old powder horn which dates back to the year 1758. It is quaintly carved in a highly ornamental fashion. Among the devices upon it is a representation of Solomon's Temple, a tower, a deer, a butterfly, a bird sitting on the limb of a tree and a mailed arm and hand grasping a battle' axe. The inscriptions upon it are as follows:—"This horn was made for Lieut Bayeux. Sept the 29th 1758." "May this battle axe never leave my hand, until I drive the French out of this land." "A present from Lieut. Bayeaux to Lieut. Arthur W Waters." Lieut Bayeux and Lieut. Waters were probably two young officers who were engaged in the siege of Louisburg in the summer of 1758.

A Question of Responsibility.

On Thursday an accident occurred at the I. C. R. platform opposite the foot of Dorchester street, which involves a fine question of responsibility.

A fine Leonard Ball Automatic cut off engine, valued at $900, intended for Haley's planing mill at St. Stephen, was being unloaded from the car, to be hauled to Carleton and forwarded by the Shore Line railway. The work of unloading was being done by men employed by Messrs Leonard &Son and the crane provided by the I. C. R. for unloading heavy freight was used. When the engine had been hoisted about 18 inches a link of the hoisting chain of the crane gave way and the engine fell with such force as to break nearly all the important castings and make a complete wreck of it. Messrs Leonard's agent here has given the railway a verbal notice that $500 damages will be claimed. The broken engine will be sent back to Ontario as scrap iron.

Fight at a Dance.

Last night things were quite lively in a house at the East end of Duke street. Not far from the place where the ghost was seen by Rev. H. S. Hartley B. A., a dance was going on in another house. The dancers when they heard the ghost story started Jackson's house to see the ghost but this idea did not seem to be in unison with the ideas of the police, as the colored folks were not allowed to enter. Not feeling in the best of humor they went back to their dance, but things did not go on as smoothly as before; very soon loud shouts were heard proceeding from the house of the merry makers. The police rushed over to see what the trouble was and found a number of colored folks engaged in a free fight. Phil Bushfan was flying around the outside of the circle, shouting out to "luff me at dem. I'se just gittin' ruffled and can clean out de crowd,' but this idea did not exactly suit another gentleman of color named Blizzard who said he was "gwine to run de floo. Peace was at last restored by the police and the dance went on as if nothing had happened and lasted until 3 o'clock in the morning when the party left for their homes. The trouble between the colored people is said to have been owing to some "white trash" who came down and passed remarks on de ladies. There will likely be another dance down there in a few days af they do not feel too shaky over the ghost.

THE ELECTRICAL EXHIBITION.

An Appeal from its Directors to the Citizens of St. John.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ST. JOHN.

Ladies and gentlemen:—The undersigned committee who have in charge the Electric Exhibition recently held in St. John beg to make the following statements in connection therewith.

That they devoted a large amount of time and effort in the interests of the Exhibition, that though the result showed a deficit in the Financial returns, yet they believe the holding of the same was of great benefit to the citizens, showing as it did, the great advances made in the science of electricity and making our city better known throughout the world.

They were anxious to have all the amounts due on account of the exhibition paid, and to enable them to do so applied to the Common Council for aid to the extent of six hundred dollars.

Their request was not complied with but a grant of $142,00 was voted, this grant however, was coupled with the stipulation that deductions on sundry accounts mentioned amounting in all to over five hundred dollars should be made.

The undersigned having had these accounts carefully examined by a sub committee of their committee, who reported them as correct, believe it would be an injustice to those firms to ask them to submit to such reductions, and know of no reason why these amounts should be subject to any reductions more than any other accounts which have been passed by the committee.

They therefore agree in respectfully declining to accept the grant ior the reasons above given.

They ask their fellow Citizens to aid them in endeavoring to pay all just claims in full, and request any so disposed to hand whatever they may be willing to contribute to the Treasure, Mr. Jas. F. Robertson, or the Secretary, Mr. Ira Cornwall; and in the meantime they will at once pay those having just accounts against the Committee pro rata the money now held by them.

The committee desire it to be understood that no grant has been received by them from any source, and this was the only exhibition in the interest of the city ever held in St. John without any public grant or guarantee.

All contributions to this fund will be acknowledged through the press.

The Brittain Street Ghost.

"All houses wherein men have lived and died are haunted houses," but few are willing to confess that they believe them haunted by anything other than memories, pleasant or unpleasant, as the case may be. Yet Mrs. Mary Jackson, colored, widow of the late John Jackson, also colored, avers that her house at the foot of Brittain street, is haunted by the ghost, apparition or spectre of her late husband. Inoffensive as her visitant appears to be, Mrs. Jackson has been so mnch perturbered by its appearance that she has temporarily taken up her residence under another roof. The house was visited by Rev. Mr. Lawson one evening last week but he failed to connect with the ghostly occupant. Last Sunday however, the Rev. H. S. Hartley B. A was more successful. Soon after midday he visited the house and walked straight into the bedroom and saw lying on the bed the shape and form of a man, covered with a white sheet, a white napkin fastened on the head and passing under the chin. I put out my hand to feel the object, says Mr. Hartley, but it was impervious to the sense of touch—that I will testify on oath. Immediately I looked around and saw the form of a man dressed in black sitting in a chair about two yards from me, and as I approached the object and put my hand out to touch it, it was gone. Then I walked from the chamber to the parlor, and as I did so the object appeared at my side and walked step by step with me into that part of the house. I looked at the object and could distinctly recognize the features. The complexion was a chocolate. The form I saw in the bed, the one sitting in the chair and the one which walked alongside of me was one and the same. The face was cleanly shaven, save a slight moustache and was apparently that of a man of about 40 years of age. The man was unquestionably a negro. On entering the parlor I opened a closet and the object walked into it. Mr. Hartley then read the 23rd psalm, another in Latin and afterwards engaged in prayer, when the object disappeared. He then repeated the Exorcisms of the Roman church in Latin.

The apparition has been seen several times by Mrs. Mary Anderson, with whom Mrs. Jackson, now resides, but Dr. D. E. Berryman and several others who have visited the house have been less favored. Quite a delegation accompanied Mr. Hartley to the haunted house last evening but no developements of much consideration resulted.

Police Court.

Daniel Mullin, Thos. Coll and James Gallagher drunks were fined $4 each, Richard Dingall a lodger was allowed to go.

Edward Curry was fined $20 for fighting on Brittain street. This fight started in a house at the lower end of Brittain street, over the pay for some drinks. The woman in charge and Curry got into an altercation and a gentleman, well known in this city, joined in to help the woman. Things were pretty lively for a time and they finally got on to the street, where Curry was captured by the police but the others succeeded in escaping.

Cornelius Dineen of West end was before the magistrate this morning on a charge of using abusive language to Timothy Harrigan. The magistrate took a deposit of $10 and allowed him to go until tommorrow when he can make inquiries. His Honor said that complaints from West end were becoming too frequent and a stop would have to be put to it.

James Clark who is held on a charge of committing an aggravated assault upon John Harding has been remanded as Mr. Harding is not able to appear.

Henry Howe, John Slater sr., Alex. Anderson, Harris Lewis and Frances M Seabury were fined $4 each for keeping a dog without license.

Why will you cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts., and $1.

What Ghosts are made of.

It is to be regretted that the Rev. H. S. Hartley, B. A. has become the victim of circumstances and two morning paper reporters. The representative gathering which met at Mrs. Jackson's cottage on Brittain street last night were prepared to see a ghost at any cost, for had not the reverend gentleman, named above seen one, and held communion with it?

And the morning paper reporters were bound that if the ghost could not be seen in person, at least its presence must be manifested in some way. So they fastened a string to the bed clothes in the chamber where the disembodied spirit was last seen, and when the light went out they pulled the string and lo, and behold the people who were present marvelled, and Rev. H. S. Hartley B. A., sang a latin doxology. So that all (but the two bad reporters) were convinced that had a fewer number been in the chamber, John Jackson in his now unearthly form would have been amongst them visible to the eye.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

The Ring.

MCCARTHY DEFEATS NOLAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The prize fight between Cal McCarthy, of Jersey City, and Mike Nolan of England, for the featherweight championship of the world, took place near Nyack, on the Hudson, this evening, and was won by McCarty in the seventh round. Nolan did all the leading while McCarthy adopted the "Jack Dempsey" tactics, devoting his attention to dodging blows and watching his chances to hit his opponent when off his guard. In the seventh round McCarthy hit Nolan on the jaw, filling his mouth with his teeth. Nolan was not knocked out, but threw up his hand for McCarthy to stop. The fight was given to McCarthy.

SPAIN THE GROUND.

The next great fistic encounter which is exciting the attention of the English sporting world is the battle between Frank Slavin, of Australia, and Jem Smith of England.

They will contend for $2,000, open to $5,000, and the championship.

Slavin since his arrival in England has gained considerable prestige by easily defeating Bill Goode, one of England's pugilistic pets, and putting Arthur Bobbett, another pugilist of considerable reputation to sleep without any trouble.

In his match with the English champion he has one-end-and-the-middle the best of the arrangement, for he is several inches taller than Smith, possesses by far a longer reach, and will have a decided advantage in weight. The only part of the contract in which Smith has any advantage is that the English champion is a regular bare-knuckle fighter, thoroughly conversant with all the unfair practices and tricks perpetrated in a prize ring encounter in which London prize ring rules govern.

It has been decided that the battle shal take place in Spain.

COUNTERS.

At Boston Tuesday Frank Kelly knocked Jeff Johnson out in two rounds. Both are featherweights.

A syndicate of sporting men at New Orleans has been formed with the intention of offering a $30,000 purse for a fight between Sullivan and Jackson.

The syndicate has great hopes of having the fight come off at that place.

Jake Kilrain's benefit came off satisfactorily at Toronto Monday evening.

Kilrain says he means to challenge Sullivan to another battle as soon as he gets an opportunity.

Aquatic.

O'CONNOR AND STANSBURY.

As Henry E. Searle is ill and will not be able to row for at least six months, and even at the expiration of that period is hardly likely to be his oldtime self, it is probable that there will be an interregnum as regards the rowing championship of the world. In this emergency a suggestion has been made to James Stansbury to visit England and row a match race on the Thames against O'Connor, Teemer or Gaudaur, if any one of the three can get sufficient backing to cross the Atlantic again.

Advices by cable intimate that Stansbury is just as much set against rowing in America as Searle is, and, consequently, there is little chance of O'Connor's recently-issued challenge being accepted, of which nothing has yet been heard from Australia. There is some talk at Sydney of matching John McLean, the bushman who was given his preliminary instructions in the art of sculling by Hanlan, against Stansbury over the Paramatta course for £500 a side, and it is thought likely the contest will be arranged. The illness of Searle has greatly disappointed his legion of admirers, who had contemplated great festivities in his honor. He is however, reported to to be on the mend.

Jacob Gaudaur, the oarsman, has issued a card in reply to the statement of his former backer about his connection with the recent McKeesport fake. He says:—"As far as the Teemer race is concerned, I can say that Teemer was beaten on his merits. I do not deny that he made the proposition that I was to win, but that had nothing to do with Mr. St. John, and did not prevent me from training harder than I did for any race. I rowed three miles in 18 minutes and 47 seconds, and Teemer cannot approach that time.  I have followed acquatics for ten years, and during that time have had but two backers — Mr. Richard Dissette, of Toronto, and Mr. St. John. I ask them to show anything unfair or dishonest in my dealings with them.  I deeply regret that Mr. St. John feels compelled to retire from rowing, as the sport will lose a warm supporter."

Athletic.

The growth of the Amateur Athletic Union, says the N. Y. Sun, is something marvellous. Day by day the links of the organization are being welded closer, and the time is not far distant when it will be the supreme legislative athletic body of the country.

IT GIVES JORDAN A BETTER CHANCE.

It has been decided to omit the quarter-mile run from the all-round championship at the A. A. Union games in New York, and to substitute a half-mile walk. There has been added to the out-door championship programme an individual tug-of war contest.

Attorney General Blair spoke in Elgin, Albert county, yesterday, the occasion being the opening of Garland's new hall. Other speeches were by Messrs. Wilson, Emmerson, Hon. James Ryan, W. J. Robinson of Moncton, A. E. Killam and Martin Coleman.

The tow-boat Henry Willman, of Calais, was seized at St. Stephen yesterday by Customs Officer Jas. Rogue, of St. George, for an infraction of the customs laws. It appears that during the latter part of last July the boat was engaged to tow an excursion party from St. George to Deer Island and that through some misunderstanding she did not properly report. It was not, however, wilfully done and doubtless when the facts of the case are made known to the department the boat will be released.

NEW ADVERTISMENTS.

L. O. A.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE MEMBERS of Dominion Loyal Orange Lodge, NO. 141, will be held in their Hall, Simonds Street, TOMORROW EVENING, 28th inst., at eight o'clock. By order of JOHN KINNEY, Worshipful Master.

GARDENIA.

TO THOSE OF MY CUSTOMERS WHO HAVE within the past ten days been canvassed so persistently, both personally and by letter, for their oil business and received ridiculously low prices, I beg to say such prices are made expressly for the purpose of influencing you unfavorably toward me by making my prices appear unreasonably high; the reason given for such low prices as quoted you is, "the prices have gone down since you last bought of me." I beg to correct this statement. On the 15th August the New York price was ten cents, (the New York price should, as a producing market, price and has always regulated the price here) it is now 10½ cents, the retail price of oil was then one and one half cents per gallon higher than today. With no other reason for such decline then the desire of certain individuals to monopolize the trade, the piratical methods practised are only for the purpose of trying to ruin others business, thereby hoping to monopolize the business and eventually profit by monopoly prices. My prices are made, not with a view to injure my neighbor, but consistent with legitimate profits and the quality of the goods I sell. Patronising Gardenia oil, asking for it, and insisting upon getting it, you will be encouraging legitimate business and denouncing piratical methods in trade. To those who have personally reported such quotations above referred to I have explained the motives that cause such absurd prices, and in every case the flimsy object has been seen and treated accordingly. I am instructed this morning to meet all prices until the manufacturers profit has been wiped out, then to allow others to have the business. To those who have not patronised Gardenia I would suggest doing so at once.

900 barrels Gardenia now on way by rail and vessel. I have a sample of this shipment in my office, and I invite competent judges to inspect it, it is the finest lot of oil ever imported, it is a pleasure to offer such goods. In stock, oils of all kinds for sale at lowest prices.
