NUMEROUS SURPRISES IN THE U.S. ELECTION

Democrats Claim Small Majority in Both Houses of Congress.

KERN AMONG FALLEN

Majority Leader of Senate is Apparently Defeated in Indiana.

New York, Nov. 8.—With the presidency in doubt at 9 a.m. today, the political complexion of congress also was undecided, and party leaders were anxiously awaiting for complete returns before any definite claims could be made, altho it appeared that the Democrats would retain control of the senate by a reduced majority.

With nearly a hundred congressional districts still in doubt, the Republicans had made a net gain of six, capturing 15 Democratic districts while the Democrats had taken nine from the Republicans. Without further upsets, as the returns continue, this would reduce the present Democratic house majority of 25 to 11. Republican party leaders, however, insisted that they would win the house. They claimed a gain of several seats in Indiana and two in Michigan.

Changes in Senate.

Practically complete returns showed that the Democrats certainly have lost four U. S. senators, one each in Maine, New York, New Jersey and Maryland, while they gained one each in Rhode Island, Delaware and Utah.

Indications pointed strongly to a further Democratic loss of two senators in Indiana, one in West Virginia, one in Arizona, and possibly one in Ohio and one in Montana. To offset this the possibility of the election of Republican senators in Wyoming and New Mexico had not been assured by overnight returns. If the Republicans and Democrats should lose all these, as indicated, the senate still would remain Democratic by the slender majority of two, 49 Democrats to 47 Republicans. The Democratic majority in the present senate is 16.

The most surprising development in the senatorial contest was the defeat of Senator Henry F. Lippitt, Republican, of Rhode Island, by Peter Goelet Gerry, Democrat, as the state went for Hughes and for all other Republican candidates. To the Republicans this was a bolt from a clear sky.

Democratic Losses.

Wm. M. Calder of New York takes the place to be vacated by Senator O'Gorman, easily defeating the Democratic candidate, William F. McCombs, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The defeat of Senator James E. Martine, of New Jersey, by Joseph S. Frelinghuysen had been persistently heralded by Republican leaders. The Democrats lost their first senator in the September election in Maine, when Frederick Hale won from Senator Charles F. Johnson. Another surprising defeat to the Democrats came in Maryland, where Joseph I. France won from Representative David J. Lewis, the latter having won the Democratic nomination from Senator Blair Lee in the primary election. Lewis had won the nomination on his labor legislative record in the house, and Democratic leaders had counted on him to strengthen the national ticket in his state. Yet he ran far behind President Wilson, who won the electoral vote of the state.

Defeat of Kern.

Altho Democratic chieftains were hoping against hope that complete returns would reverse the situation in Indiana, the indications at this time are that both John W. Kern, the majority leader of the senate, and Thomas Taggar, the junior senator from that state, must yield their places to Harry S. New and James E. Watson. New apparently has won the long term and Watson the short term.

In Ohio Senator Pomerene is running behind his Republican opponent, Myron T. Herrick, altho the electoral vote of the state probably will go to Wilson.

In West Virginia Senator Chilton is losing to Representative Howard Sutherland, Republican; Senator Ashurst of Arizona, may be defeated by Joseph H. Kibbey, and Senator Myre of Montana was slightly behind former Congressman Charles N. Pray, the Republican nominee. Both parties, however, are claiming victory.

Upset in Utah.

Another upset of the election was in the defeat of Republican Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, by Wm. H. King, the Democratic nominee. Sutherland has been in the senate for sixteen years.

Senator Clark of Wyoming appeared to be encountering trouble in his contest with John B. Kendrick, the Democratic nominee, Republican leaders, however, were claiming Clark's election. Another probable reversal was indicated in New Mexico, where A. A. Jones, Democrat, maintained a slight lead over Frank A. Hubbell, nominated by the Republicans to succeed Senator Catron.

Fargo, N.D., Nov. 8.—President Wilson again took the lead in North Dakota at midnight when returns from 1504 precincts out of 1859 in the state gave him 45,988; Hughes 45,869.

Charlestown, W. Va., Nov. 8.—Mr. Hughes' lead over President Wilson in West Virginia was suddenly increased by 1538 votes just before midnight by the returns from McDowell County one of the southern counties of the state. This made his total plurality over Mr. Wilson of 3505, the greatest since the count of the vote began. The vote is: Hughes, 110,611; Wilson 107,106, from 1276 precincts out of 1713.

Albuquerque, N.M., Nov. 8.—Returns from 119 precincts of 625 in New Mexico give Hughes 7,236, Wilson 7,406.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—With only 379 precincts out of 5,369 in Illinois missing, Hughes' plurality over Wilson in the state reached 171,120 late tonight. The vote was Wilson, 833,344; Hughes, 1,004,464.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—Hughes was leading by about 6,000 on the face of scattered returns from all but two of the 35 counties which gave Hughes 101,085 and Wilson 96,634. Early in the night Hughes was credited with a lead of 10,000.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Returns from 5,347 out of 5,917 precincts give Hughes 435,486; Wilson 439,896.

ITALIANS PREPARE FOR ANOTHER BIG ADVANCE

Capture Austrian Battery—Foe's Guns Become Active in Trentino.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

London, Nov. 8.—At the present time the Italians, having established their new lines on the front captured from the Austrians in the vicinity of the Carso Plateau and the Julian Alps, are spotting out the second new line of Austrian defence, and are moving their big guns forward for further offensive operations. They have taken another Austrian battery. The Austrians are keeping up their artillery fire at a lively rate in order to hamper the Italians as much as they can. In the Trentino the Austrian artillery has developed great activity. Two advanced posts have been evacuated by the Italians in expectation of an attack on the slopes of Cima de Boche.

Boston, Nov. 8.—The British steamer Esneh, of 1995 tons, which sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, on Oct. 24, with a cargo of cotton for Liverpool, has been torpedoed and sunk, according to private advices received here today from Alexandria.

The Esneh, owned by the Moss Steamship Co. of Liverpool, carried about 15,000 bales of cotton, valued at $2,000,000, the greater portion of which was intended for transhipment to this port.

Hughes Leads in Minnesota But Returns Are Incomplete

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 8.—Charles E. Hughes took the lead in the presidential contest in Minnesota when returns from 2,481 precincts out of 3,024 in the state compiled at midnight gave Wilson 160,141, Hughes 160,365.
