THE MONEY BYLAWS.

Mr. Hiscox Defends the Stand of the Property Owners' Association, and Discusses the Questions to be Voted Upon.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Your editorial upon the figures presented at the real estate owners' meeting the other evening calls for a few remarks. You say that it is not intended at present to expend the whole amount of $200,000 for waterworks. I desire to ask the water commissioners, if this is so, why are the citizens called upon to approve of that expenditure at this time, why are the ratepayers not to be consulted with regard to the whole expenditure, and why is it proposed to ask Parliament to give the commissioners the right to spend $125,000 at their own sweet will whether the citizens approve of it or not? Is it the citizens of London who own the waterworks, or is it the commissioners? If it is the property of the citizens, why should they not have the right to say what shall be done with it?

With regard to the purchase of an electric light plant. Some few days ago the aldermen placed the sum of $60,000 in a bylaw for the purpose of having sufficient funds to purchase the most expensive system of lighting offered to the council, and the tender for which was, I think, within a few hundred dollars of that amount. It is now rumored that a deputation next Sunday (whether at the city's expense or not is not disclosed) will visit Chicago to investigate this very plant. If the electric light people are agreeing to pay the expense of this trip, are they doing this for nothing, or do they expect to get it back in some way? If the plant is bought, where is the money to come from to pay for the land and erect the power house? What is the value of their estimates, when, if after eleven months' tinkering with this they still find it necessary to take another jaun to Chicago to look into the matter? Is it because the city has not been saddled with sufficient expense this year by reason of deputations to almost every city in the country? It would be interesting to know the exact amount expended in this connection in 1893. At present our association has not had an opportunity to consider the question of municipal lighting in all its bearings; but when we find cities like Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton and others during the last two years renewing contracts with electric light companies rather than launch out into large expenditures for plant, etc., which must be more or less an experiment, I think we are justified in going slow in this city. At any rate, so far as this item is concerned, if the bylaw passes the sum of $66,000 will no doubt prove an under-estimate after a power house and land are counted in.

Our figures as to the $100,000 for car works cannot be questioned. As to the $125,000 for London and Port Stanley Railway, it is quite true, the people will not be called upon to vote on this, but that is because the Government will compel us to pay whatever is required whether we like it or not. If the whole amount is not required at once, there can be no dobbt in two or three years it will be, and then a rate will have to be placed on the ratepayers to meet the sinking fund, even if the interest is paid by the new railway company.

Under these circumstances I think that our figures claiming that the rate will be increased by two mills if these bylaws are passed, coupled with the Port Stanley Railway expenditure is a fair and reasonable one. Yours truly, GEO. T. HISCOX.
