The Talk of Old London.

Royalty Takes a Hint From the Tradesmen.

Wales' Family Will Visit London to Help the "Season."

Tower of London Sentries See the Ghost of Anne Boleyn.

Alarming Increase of Lunacy—Probability of Establishing a Royal Residence in Ireland.

Special Cable Letter to The Advertiser.

London, Sept. 18.—The Prince and Princess of Wales have announced their intention of paying several visits to London, in order to encourage the winter season, the tradesmen of the metropolis having succeeded in conveying respectful hints to his royal highness that otherwise the season was certain of failure, which would be followed by a consequent depression in trade, owing to the social reaction which set in after the celebration of the Queen's diamond jubilee.

TOWER SENTRIES SEE A GHOST.

In spite of official frowns and attempts to suppress the chatter, it has leaked out that the detachment of Foot Guards quartered at the Tower of London swear the sentries on night duty have seen the ghost of Anne Boleyn, the unfortunate wife of the much-married King Henry VIII., whom he caused to be beheaded on May 19, 1536. The ghost of Queen Anne Boleyn is only supposed to appear on the eve of the death of a member of the royal family, and, therefore, the matter has been made occasion for considerable gossip.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS ARE "OUT."

The relations between the Duke and Duchess of Aosta, the former being the eldest nephew of the King of Italy, and the latter being Princess Helene of Orleans, daughter of the late Count of Paris, are once more reported to be strained, and it is further stated that their separation is only a question of a short time. Although they were only married about two years ago, in June, 1895, in June, 1896, the Figaro announced that the marriage had turned out to be very unhappy for both parties, and that a judicial separation was only prevented by the intervention of the Duke of Aumale. The duchess, the Figaro added, refused to be reconciled to her husband, and kept separate apartments. In December of the same year, there was held a family council of the members of the houses of Savoy and Orleans, at the end of which it was announced that the Duke and Duchess of Aosta had been induced to abandon their intention of an immediate separation. But when the duchess was here last week, she declared, she would never live in Italy again. Her mother, the Countess of Paris, has done all she can to soothe the ruffled feelings of the duchess; but, all her efforts to make her change her mind seem to have been unavailing, and it is generally admitted that her separation from the duke is again looked upon as being almost inevitable.

INCREASE IN LUNACY.

The report of the asylums committee of the London county council shows there has been an alarming increase in lunacy during the last nine years, especially in London. While the population of London is 15.49 of the inhabitants of England, London's proportion of insane persons is 19.87. Dr. Cloye Shaw, an expert on the subject, says: "There is no doubt that, as regards the future of lunacy, we are doing all in our power to stamp it out, but to increase it." This is largely due to the want of asylum accommodation, the technically cured being discharged before they are really cured, and thus adding further chances for transmitting lunacy."

A ROYAL RESIDENCE IN IRELAND

A royal residence in Ireland now appears to be within reach, since the Queen seems to support the proposition. In a long letter to the Duchess of York, congratulating her upon the success of her recent tour, with her husband, in Ireland, her Majesty asks if she would like to spend part of each year in Ireland. On the other hand, Mr. Michael Davitt declares the Irish do not want royalty in Ireland, and he asserts that the Duke and Duchess of York mistook Irish hospitality for loyalty.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE

A curious suggestion has been made with the object of emphasizing the union of the British Empire, and it is meeting with considerable favor. The idea is that, in place of such distinctive names as Canada, Australia, etc., the designation of "British Empire" should be applied to all the countries under British rule. Under this plan, Great Britain proper would be known as "British Empire—Central," Canada would be known as "British Empire—Northwest," etc.

IN GENERAL.

Mr. William Waldorf Astor is about to erect a huge Neapolitan marble fountain at Cliveden, his magnificent estate on the Thames, formerly owned by the Duke of Westminster. Already a score of blocks, each weighing twelve tons, have arrived there.

It is understood that a syndicate has "cornered" all of Whistler's future work in this country, securing exclusive control, and that a recherche gallery, exclusively Whistlerian, will shortly be opened.

About the middle of October an exhibition will be opened at the Imperial Institution of all the jubilee gifts and addresses presented to the Queen during the celebration of her jubilee. Half of the proceeds will go to the Prince and Princess of Wales hospital fund, the contributions to that charity having fallen far short of expectations, reaching only a total of £185,000.

The latest developments in the use of waste is a scheme to produce hot water at a half penny per gallon from the waste heat of the street gas lamps. A machine for this purpose has been exhibited and appears to work effectively. The various parish authorities of the poorer districts of London are considering its introduction into the streets.

The appalling number of cycling accidents is leading to demands for legislation to abate the public danger. There were ten deaths and a score of dangerous injuries among bicycle riders during the first half of the present week.

The Paris municipal council is debating a scheme to furnish cheap baths in small buildings erected on the sidewalk.

The Marquis De Louville, it is rumored, has gone to Paris with the object of challenging all the detractors of Prince Henry of Orleans, so long as the prince is unable to wield a sword in his own defence.

The King of Siam has returned to Taplow Court, from France, and will remain there until Oct. 1.

The London county council has undertaken to reform or abate the noises in the streets of this city, so far as the shouting of newspaper boys is concerned.

MURDER CASES.

Six to Be Tried in Ontario Before the the Christmas Holidays.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—Six murder trials will take place at the assize courts in different parts of the Province of Ontario this fall.

The first will be old man Covey at Woodstock, charged with murdering a hired boy on his farm.

Mrs. Sternaman is to be tried at Cayuga on Nov. 16 on the charge of poisoning her husband.

On Nov. 29, James Allison, the boy accused of killing Mrs. Orr at Galt, will be placed on trial.

The same week the trial of Wm. H. Hammond, the alleged wife murderer, will take place at Bracebridge.

The week of Nov. 22 the alleged accomplice of Troy, the Napanee murderer, will be tried. Troy's sentence has been deferred until the result of this case has been made known.

Thompson, the alleged Minden murderer, will be tried this autumn.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—When the trial of Adolphe Luetgert opened yesterday, the cross-examination of Prof. Dorsey was resumed. He was questioned as to the comparative nature of the sesamoid and femur bones of a calf, a sheep and a human being. His answers were technical and adroit, but of a character that supported his original identification and testimony with reference to the bones in evidence.

There is said to be a difference between Luetgert's counsel with reference to the defendant taking the witness stand in his own behalf. Attorney Vincent is not inclined to permit Luetgert to do so. Attorney Phalen believes the sausagemaker should tell his story to the jury, and Luetgert himself is quite determined to go upon the stand. He not only desires to tell his story, but he also wants to address the jury. In all likelihood he will testify.

"I have only two more witnesses," said the state attorney. "They are Frank Blaik and Frank Odorolsky. By them I shall show the motive for the crime, namely, Luetgert's infatuation for Mary Simmering."

CONVAY'S CASE.

Woodstock, Sept. 18.—No one would suppose from conversing with Ephraim Conway, to be tried for the murder of his hired boy, that next week will be the most important one of his life. As the time for his trial approaches the old man seems to regain renewed confidence in the outcome. He does not for an instant doubt that at the conclusion of the trial he will be allowed to go home to his farm in Princeton and the dark crime of last March be forgotten. His bearing gives the jail officials this impression.

Occasionally he grows a little anxious, not as to the result of the trial, but as to the experience, which he thinks will be a trying one, when his case comes to trial. Then this changes to a sort of nervous anticipation.

It was in the latter mood that he conversed with the jail officials the other morning. When asked if he had any fear as to the result of the trial next week, he said:

"No, I don't think I have any need to be."

"But," he said more earnestly, "I wish it was over. God knows I have waited long enough for it."

Crown Attorney Ball said that he had located, near Brandon, the man Henry Grover, who will be the chief witness for the crown, and that he had sent him money to come to Woodstock and attend the trial.

A COMING WEDDING.

Lansdowne House, the magnificant town residence of the Marquis and Marchioness of Lansdowne, will be the scene of a brilliant gathering next month, when the marriage of their youngest daughter, Lady Beatrice Fitzmaurice, to the youthful Marquis of Waterford has been arranged to take place on Oct. 16. The young people who, on both sides, possess a large and most notable family connection, which includes several of the great ducal houses of England, have already been the recipients of many beautiful and valuable wedding presents. The bride will be attended by eight bridesmaids, among whom will be the two sisters of the bridegroom, Lady Susan de la Poer Beresford, and Lady Clodagh de la Poer Beresford, and six cousins of the bride, Lady Phyllis Hamilton, Lady Gladys Hamilton, Lady Constance Scott, Lady Norah Spencer Churchill, Lady Beatrice Herbert, and Miss Kathleen Beresford, a charming group of high born maidens, all representing names immortalized in English history.

More Addresses Presented and to Come.

Sir Wilfrid's View as to the Future of the Dominion.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was presented with an address yesterday by the French National Union and the British Empire League. Replying to the latter, Sir Wilfrid said he was happy that his speeches in England had met with their approval. They were all agreed that our present relations with the mother country were very satisfactory. They, however, could not always remain as they were, and then there would be but one solution. He hoped it would not be separation, but closer union. (Applause.) At the same time we must continue to have complete local autonomy as it exists today. There was not a man in Canada who would sacrifice his legislative independence, but it was quite possible to keep this and yet go closer to the motherland. (Applause.) What form this union would take he could not speculate upon, but so long as our relations with England continue as they are at the present time on a basis of absolute freedom and mutual respect, when the problem arises the solution will be found. The genius of the British race was practical. The genius of the Gallic race, with its instincts of loftiness, might help toward the solution. It was their hope as English-speaking Canadians, and his hope as a French-speaking Canadian, that the qualities of the two races might furnish a solution of the problem. May that problem be solved, not upon narrow lines of separation, but upon the broad lines of union. (Applause.)

IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—It has been decided that the demonstration to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Oct. 5 and 6 shall be of a public character, to which all citizens will be invited to join. The Liberals at one time proposed to tender the premier a banquet, but, at a meeting held last night, a communication was read from President Edward Gurney of the board of trade stating that the board would like to entertain him in that manner. It was decided to forego the banquet undertaking and to allow the board of trade the honor.

Telegraphic Brevities.

Archbishop Langevin, who is suffering from typhoid fever, is slightly better.

Mr. Justice Robertson is ill, and the cases which were to have been heard before him in the non-jury court have had to be postponed.

W. Patterson, of Hamilton, Ont., Yukon party, was drowned in the Athabasca. When last seen he was asleep on the deck of his boat, and was not missed until the rapids were passed.

Wooley & Son's cooperage, Little William street, Hamilton, was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday, as was also the machinery. A number of barrels and tubs were also burned. Wolley & Son's loss is estimated at $3,500. They have only $1,400 insurance. A policy for $1,600 ran out last week.

At Beausejour, Man., a serious shooting accident occurred Thursday. Arthur A. Fowler, of Winnipeg, while returning from an afternoon's sport stopped at the gate of his brother's place, and setting his gun down momentarily leaned over it, before taking the charge out. By some accident the trigger snapped, letting the entire charge plow its way up Fowler's right side.

Thos. Caesar, captain of the steamer Dawn, plying between Coboconk and Lindsay, was, on Wednesday night, presented with the Royal Humane Society medal at Fenelon Falls, as a reward for saving the life of George B. Wilson, son of Dr. Wilson, of that place, from drowning. The township of Fenelon also presented Capt. Caesar with an address eulogizing him for his bravery.

A CHILD'S NECK BROKEN.

Wiarton, Sept. 18.—An accident occurred at Adamsville, in which Manley, an 18-months'-old child of W. A. Forbes, lost his life. The little one was attempting to crawl through the bars of a gate. He had just got his head through when his foot slipped, and his whole weight came upon his head
