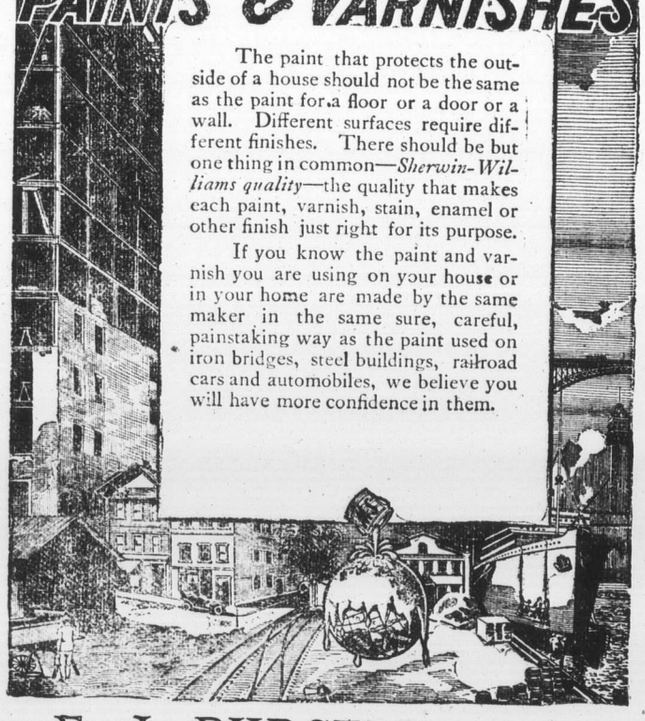
SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS & VARNISHES



The paint that protects the outside of a house should not be the same as the paint for a floor or a door or a wall. Different surfaces require different finishes. There should be but one thing in common—Sherwin-Williams quality—the quality that makes each paint, varnish, stain, enamel or other finish just right for its purpose.

If you know the paint and varnish you are using on your house or in your home are made by the same maker in the same sure, careful, painstaking way as the paint used on iron bridges, steel buildings, railroad cars and automobiles, we believe you will have more confidence in them.

Fortune Smiles

Saturday was a day of rejoicing for the Athens Baseball Club when the team defeated Lyndhurst, the leaders of the Leeds County Baseball League, on the diamond here, 10—9. Most of the day was given up to thunder showers and leaden clouds but the sun breaking through the mirkiness in the afternoon dried the grass and produced ideal ball weather. The teams were very evenly matched and until the last few minutes of the ninth inning, the issue was in doubt. Athens fortunately forgot its epileptic fit that usually adorns one of its innings and played consistent good ball throughout. Successful journeys to the initial sack were infrequently made, Singleton, McLean and Crawford watching the futile efforts with complacent grins.

In the ninth inning, with Athens at the bat, the score tied, two men out and two strikes on the third, the excitement became intense. McLean, the batter, met the ball fair, and that was how the score became 10—9.

Athens — W. Booth, Smith, C. Booth, Scott, Layng, *King, Greenham, McLean, Crawford, Carncross.
*played seven innings.

Lyndhurst—Johnson, K. Roddick, Love, Harvey, Singleton, C. Roddick, Sloan, Irwin, Landon.

Gets Five-Year Term

Belleville, July 18—Walter Lasher, a comparatively young man, was yesterday by Magistrate Mason, of this city, sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of theft and breaking jail.

Treasure of the Quiet Village

Much fun is made of the town, where the train going through is the principal event of the day. But it is in these quiet villages that the soul of man blooms. The people there have time to know each other. They take time to encourage community happiness and contentment. It is in the big city that people become submerged in the great stream of metalized life that drowns the heart spirit of a man with determined indifference in its rapid race to reach the great gulf of gold—that gulf that is so eternally fixed between man's spiritual and material possessions. True happiness is of the spirit It cannot be bought with gold. "Where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also," said the Master. The treasure of the quiet village will not be mocked.

G. T. R. Station Burned

The Grand Trunk station and restaurant at Alexandria were completely destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. The buildings, which had been standing for about thirty years, were as dry as tinder, and when the fire brigade reached the scene, the fire was already beyond control. Luckily the brigade firemen, in preventing the spread of the flames, thus saved the freight shed and a number of adjoining factories and granaries. It is believed that the fire originated in the roof of the station itself, being caused by sparks from a shunting engine. It was not discovered, however, till some time after, as there were very few persons about at the time. The contents of the building were almost all taken out in time. No one was injured.

Strength and Vitality are combined in the invigorating tonic Ferrovim, which is very beneficial for Anemic women and children. Large bottles. $1.00.

Man of Mystery.

A man of mystery is now in custody here, having been arrested yesterday on suspicion by Chief Phillips while the latter was in search of a man charged with assault.

The prisoner's name is evidently Jean Bouchart, though it might just as well be something else so far as his identity can be determined by the innumerable effects found in his possession. Just who and what he is, and in what business he is engaged, are questions most difficult to answer.

He was well supplied with money, among the lucre found on him being sixteen gold coins of German issue, of a value of $5 each, German silver coins, French coins, Canadian bills and silver.

He carried several documents of some importance, among them being a passport issued from Luxembourg and an insurance policy for a large amount. Also picture post cards from Germany and France, literature in German and French, pictures of many Canadian public buildings, especially in Montreal, maps and data covering a wide field. There were also books on science and engineering, and how he stowed the lot away in the two grips he was carrying is somewhat of a mystery in itself, for he had stock enough to equip a stationery store.

Chief Phillips has referred the matter to commissioner Sherwood of the Dominion Police, Ottawa, who is sending a representative here this afternoon to fully investigate the circumstances. —Smiths Falls News.

Father's Terrible Crime

Chatham, Ont., July 15—George Winters, aged 55, the proprietor of a grist mill at Bothwell, was arrested to day charged with attempting to murder three of his children, all girls, aged seven, five and two, by giving them strychnine. The man, it is alleged, afterwards tried to take his own life by poisoning. He is in a critical condition and all three children are seriously ill. The man was arrested in a bush near Bothwell, where he had sought refuge.

Automobile Collision

Two automobiles met in collision on Brockville street at the corner of Abel street, yesterday afternoon. The occupants of one belonged to Seeley's Bay, while the other party was from Westport. The latter car seemed to get the worst of the accident, and even then was not put out of action entirely. The most fortunate of all are the ladies, gentlemen and children who occupied the cars, not one of whom was injured. The cars can easily be repaired.—Smith's Falls News.

Brockville Business College

On the east side of the Fulford Block, Court House Avenue, Brockville, is a large sign bearing the words BROCKVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE. This sign last year needed repainting and a sign Painter offered to do same for $10.00 per word or a total of $30.00. This sum Principal Rogers thought too much, so the painter made the following offer: To paint the first letter for one cent and the price was to be doubled on each succeeding letter of the three words BROCKVILLE BUSINESS BOLLEGE, i.e., that is the doubling process was to go on for 24 times after the first letter. To this the principal agreed. When the painter sent in his account the principal was alarmed and thinking there was a mistake sat down and worked it out. Finding that the account had been rendered correctly the business college manager sent the painter a check for $30.00. If the painter insists on his own proposal, how much is coming to him?
