Mr. John Gowan, leader of the old Royal opera house orchestra, is publishing some popular songs with music. His latest, I Long to Call Thee My Own, has just been issued.

There was a fire at Jenkins' furniture store, 505 Queen street west, Saturday morning, considerable damage being done. His loss is $1500, mostly covered by insurance.

The friends of James Whittaker, who was drowned off the Ada Allice, are still searching for his body. Deceased was a mason in good standing, having been a member of the lodge at Hawkesbury.

The funeral of young James Duffy took place from his brother's residence on the Kingston road yesterday afternoon. It was attended by a very large number of people, the cortege being nearly a mile in length.

C. R. S. Dinnick, contractor, was thrown out of his buggy the other day, his horse having run away. His arm and nose were broken and his leg badly injured. He is in a low condition but may recover.

A law student, who was going from the landing to the baths at the east end of the Island, was so occupied over a legal problem that he walked over into the water. He at once started for the city dripping wet.

Last night a young man was sitting on H. Hunter's window at 300 Yonge street. He leaned back and broke a pane of glass. Mr. Hunter demanded his name and address. He said it was Smith. As it was thought this was a wrong name he was taken to No. 2 police station, where he divulged his proper name and address and paid for the window.

James Mantle, a young man living at Hope street and Henderson avenue, attempted to take his own life. He placed a revolver on his forehead and fired. The bullet passed along between the skin and the skull and came out at the top of his head. Before he could repeat the attempt his mother wrested the revolver from him. He had been on a periodical spree.

MARINE NEWS.

Movements of the Steamers and Vessels in the Bay.

The Queen of the Lakes is in with coal for Conger.

The Goldhunter is chartered to load wheat for Kingston.

The North Star is expected at Bailey's. She is loading at Fairhaven.

The Ann Brown brought stone to Adamson's and cleared on Saturday.

The Mary Grover left the Nipissing on Saturday evening with lumber for Kingston.

The J. Bentley and Highland Beauty are loading lumber at the Northern for Oswego.

The Helen got her stone off on Saturday morning and left in the evening for South bay. She brought 12 toise.

The Garibaldi finished at the George street elevator and cleared for Oswego about 4 o'clock, wind about east and very slight.

The Glenfinlas left Sylvester's for Prince Arthur's Landing with a full load of passengers and freight on Saturday afternoon. She is to call at Hamilton on her way up.

The John Wesley arrived at George street wharf with gravel from Frenchman's bay on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. She got her load off about 4 and will probably bring stone this time.

The rates for carrying are 1¼ to 1¾ cents for wheat, 1½ for malt, $1.10 to $1.15 for lumber. There is not much moving at present. Vessels with coal for Bailey, which take back lumber, about fill the list. Very little grain is offering.

Everybody Needs One.

We would call the attention of our readers to a novelty in the shape of a clock which is being introduced into Canada by one of our best known jewelers, Mr. Crumpton, of 83 King street east. We give below some reasons why the Meteor alarm clock is so popular and sells so fast:

1. It shines all night, and the time can be seen in the darkest night without the aid of artificial light.

2. It is equally good as a day clock, and cannot be distinguished from one until you take it into a dark room.

3. It is a good time keeper and is warranted. Any clock proving defective will be replaced by one in good order.

4. It is set in handsome nickle case, and is an ornament to any room.

5. The business man sees its utility at once, and buys it without argument. If he is a man that has to catch early trains, or rise early for any other reason, he would not, after having once tested its usefulness, be without one for double its cost.

6. To the clerk, mechanic or laborer, whose business requires him to be "on time," it is valuable as it enables him to sleep till the last minute, and does not require him to be wasting time and money in lighting matches to see what time it is.

7. To the farmer its value is perhaps greater, if possible, than to the clerk or laborer, as he generally is compelled to rise early, and usually for eight or nine months of the year long before daylight.

8. It is invaluable in the sick room, quietly showing the watcher or patient the time when the medicine is to be taken, when a light might cause restlessness to be harmful.

9. Last but not least in the servant's room it is especially useful. Ask any insurance man how many fires can be traced to careless servants lighting matches to see the time.

Mr. Crumpton also has an elegant stock of fine watches, jewelry, clocks, etc., which he sells far lower than any other house in the trade. His ladies' solid gold ring, set with rubies, pearls, corals, turquoise or garnets, and which he sells at $2 95, the same price as his luminous clocks, is a marvel of cheapness and is sold in no other establishment at less than $4, and in many as high as $6. His whole stock is elegant and prices are low. See advertisement in another column.

The Evening Mail Fast.

Commencing to-day mails for the Grand Trunk east will close at Toronto postoffice at 6 15 p.m. instead of at 4.45 as heretofore.

A Brace of Accidents to Boys.

Little Johnny Taylor, living at 1020 Queen street west, was playing in the fourth story of a new building Saturday. His curiosity led him to look out of a window, and in doing so he overbalanced himself and fell into the basement area. The youngster was very seriously injured but there is no fear of a fatal result, although some time will elapse before he gets round again.

Another accident occurred on King street west Saturday afternoon. Bertie McCarthy of 81 Brock street was playing with a number of other boys beside a pile of sleepers of the street railway, which is torn up on account of laying the block pavement, when one of the pile fell over and severely crushed his leg. Policeman Porter carried him to his home, when it was found that no bones were broken, although the contusion was painful.

Checking a Captain.

Two William street youths named John Sullivan and Wm. Moriarty were passengers on the Geneva from the Island yesterday afternoon. They tried to play the split ticket dodge on Capt. Turner, each handing him the half of a ticket with the blue side upwards. The captain has very susceptible fingers and "got unto the racket," which he at first treated as a joke. When, however, they refused to produce another ticket or its equivalent in money he exercised his authority as captain of a steamer and placed one of them under arrest. The other attempted to rescue his companion, and a small fight ensued, but the combatants were soon called off. On arriving at the York street dock the two youths were handed over to a constable who lodged them in the central station.

The Ontario and Quebec.

The junction of the Ontario and Quebec with the Credit Valley has been made and the rails are now laid along the former eastward from the junction for nearly a quarter of a mile. More iron and ties are on the ground, and the track ought to be to Yonge street in a few days. The Ontario and Quebec crosses the Grand Trunk and Toronto, Grey & Bruce in front of Harris' hotel, and the Northern more to the east, up from Slattery's hotel. The new road is already over the first two, and will cross the Northern in a day or two.

The Grand Jury on Things in General.

Foreman Wm. Badenach read the grand jury's presentment to Judge Osler Saturday. The jurors found the jail, central prison and Mercer reformatory in good order, but regretted that the short term confinements at the latter institution did not afford time for a thorough reform in the morals of inmates. They spoke well of the care and attention given to arrivals at the immigrant sheds. The court house came in for a breeze, and the authorities were urged to provide for the safety and conveyance of the public in crossing the Esplanade.

Police Court Pencillings.

A round dozen of drunks came up from the cooler Saturday. They were put through as usual. Tom Ward stole a sovereign from a fellow immigrant at the sheds; he was committed. Charles Hunt, wife beating, $20 fine and bound to keep the peace. Fred Briscoe, trespass at Horticultural gardens, $1 and costs. Four assault cases were enlarged. Two boys were fined for throwing stones.

Close of the Criminal Assizes.

George Baker was tried before Judge Osler and a jury Saturday on a charge of stealing goods from Hay & Co. The evidence against him was weak, and by direction of the court, the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. Sam Wah's charge against James Ryan of stealing a handkerchief fell to the ground. George Wilson an old man, was sent down for two weeks for petty larceny. This concluded the business of the court.

A Burglar and his Alleged Wife.

WATERBURY, Conn., June 23.—Bill Davis, aged 50, and his alleged wife, an attractive girl of 17, have been arrested on a charge of burglary. The police have evidence that she assisted his schemes for ruining young girls, having first been one of his victims. It is believed his young wife has been in the habit of attending him on his expeditions, dressed in male attire, and that the pair committed numerous crimes in this part of the state.

A New Bill at the Zoo.

After two weeks of good business at the Zoo in popular comic operas, Manager Davis announces for to-night and until further notice the spectacular opera of Uncle Tom's Cabin. New scenery has been painted and every preparation made to present a performance worth of patronage. The coolness of the Gardens these evenings make these attractions very enjoyable.

Return of the Malagassy Envoys.

PARIS, June 24.—The Malagassy envoys had a farewell meeting with Prime Minister Ferry to-day. The envoys will be provided with a safe conduct to be delivered to the French commander at Tamatave.

Lord Mayor of Dublin.

DUBLIN, June 23.—Alderman William Meagher has been elected lord mayor of Dublin.

Strawberries and Shad.

When the angel made shad
The devil was mad,
For it seemed such a feast of delight,
So to ruin the scheme
He jumped into the stream
And stuck in the bones out of spite.

When the strawberries red
First illumined their bed,
The angel looked down and was glad,
But the devil, 'tis said,
Fairly pounded his head,
For he'd used all his bones for the shad.

Gentlemen Now and in the Past.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

What is a gentleman? It is a very old question, and has been answered in very different ways, but it is clear that the word at least has a relative and not an absolute meaning as some insist, and that it varies with the times. Here is what Lord Chesterfield says, which the members of the Four-in-hand club will read with interest: "A gentleman always attends even to the choice of his amusements. If at cards he will not play cribbage, a l fours, or putt; or in sports of exercise be seen at skittles, leapfrog, football, cricket, driving of coaches, etc., for he knows that such an imitation of the manners of the mob will indelibly stamp him with vulgarity." In another of his letters to his son he says, "there are liberal and ill-liberal pleasures as well as liberal and ill-liberal arts. Scottish drunkenness, indiscriminate gluttony, driving coaches, rustic sports, such as fox chases, horse races, etc., are infinitely below the honest and industrious professions of a tailor and a shoemaker." And yet people who call themselves gentlemen do most of these things nowadays, and even those who are not gentlemen consider themselves such in consequence of doing some of them. Between Lord Chesterfield's ideas and Mr. Tennyson's on the subject, who is to decide?
