blood of some of the best Protestants in Ireland may be spilled, bullets may be lodged in their heads and various parts of their body, their brains may be beaten out with stones, even their lifeless bodies be mangled with a ruthless barbarism worthy the dutiful sons of that apostate church, which is drunk with the blood of the saints; the ribbon murderers, and their aiders and abettors, those who wink at the slaughter of heretics, and afford the ribbon assassins lodging and shelter, may be as thick and numerous as the congregations that flock to the adjoining mass-house; but the prosecutor of defamer of [illegible] the conspirator with Rome's priests in Ireland, and the treasonable communer with the Pope of Rome, seems to have no inclination to interfere with the pastime of the worthies whose deeds of crime are written in characters of blood, in the annals of our unhappy country.

In a word, murder and treason are rife in Ireland, and its chief governor is occupied with—a prosecution of the Apprentice Boys of Derry.

Protestants of Ireland, why are ye still sleeping?

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY AT THE OLD HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.—No small degree of excitement was created yesterday (Saturday) afternoon by the discovery of a body imbedded in the walls of St. Stephen's chapel. While the workmen were chipping an old stone wall of the chapel, they came upon something rolled up in canvas, and on partially uncovering it a human form was disclosed in a perfect state of preservation. A wooden pastoral staff was found by its side, such as was carried by the mitred abbots of the olden time. The discovery created intense excitement, and hundreds of persons flocked to the spot. Mr. Barry was sent for and in the meantime the remains are strictly guarded, in order that a satisfactory examination may be made by competent persons. It may be remembered that the walls in which this interesting relic was discovered, form part of the chapel built by Richard the Second, in 1398, the money for the purpose having been raised by a tax imposed on all foreigners then residing in the kingdom. The body must therefore have been imbedded nearly 500 years. It was found in the wall of the crypt, under the high altar, where in the old monasteries there was generally to be found a small chapel, underneath the great public church. To be buried in this position was a mark of distinction, reserved for the founder of the building, or for some great benefactor of the establishment. The body just discovered is obviously the remains of a high ecclesiastic, and from the fact of its being buried cross-legs, it is surmised that the deceased dignitary was one who had visited the Holy Sepulchre; and these were distinguished in their interment by this peculiar mark, which is also observed on their effigies on the outside of ancient monuments. The body is closely encased in sarcoloth, which will be difficult of removal. There is no doubt that the discovery will excite great curiosity and interest amongst the learned in those matters.—(Observer.

CONTINENTAL COMMERCIAL LEAGUE AGAINST GREAT BRITAIN.—We have received the following information from our German correspondent, on whose accuracy we can most thoroughly depend. We invite especial attention to its purport, as proving that any notion of reciprocity on the part of the continental powers is more absurd than ever. I wish to be the first to communicate to you, and perhaps through Bell's Weekly Messenger to England, that something is going to take place in Germany with respect to the Zollverein. It now appears that a sort of congress of all the deputies of the German States is to take place at Vienna on the 24 of January, in order to join Austria to the Zoll-tariff, which is very high, and therefore would work most severely upon English manufactured goods. It is to be divided into three parts. The third class of goods, i.e., the coarsest, will have to pay sixty thalers (equal to £9 English) per cwt.; the second class 130 per cent.; and the first class, i.e., the finest goods, 160 per cent., which is tantamount to prohibition! We commend this intelligence to the manufacturers of Great Britain as an utter falsification of all the predictions of Messrs. Cobden, Bright, Wilson, Villiers and Co.—[Bell's Weekly Messenger.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CHINESE ARMY.—The following extract from the instructions of the Council of the Celestial Empire to the General commanding their armies has never, we believe, been published in this country:—"Take notice of this in particular; you have to deal with people who wear breeches so tight that when once the soldiers fall they cannot get themselves up again. Your first endeavour must be to throw them down. Paint your faces as fantastically as you can, and when you approach the enemy, shout out and make the most hideous noises and grimaces possible to frighten and make them tumble down. When prostrate, they are at your mercy."—Kentish Independent.

A SINGULAR CASE.—In a recent criminal trial in Illinois, a woman, who had a young babe, was convicted of a penitentiary offence but, as the Chicago Advertiser says, was refused admission at Alton, as it seems not to have been thought possible that women would be sent there; and no provision was made for them.

The Springfield Register, however explains it as follows:—

"Provision was made for admitting women duly convicted, but none was made for admitting infants at the breast, not convicted. In case above referred to the Sherriff would not surrender the woman to the warden of the penitentiary unless the warden would receive the infant child also; which was refused.

The Road Committee have reported, and recommends the appropriation of £15,765 for the Great Roads, and £3000 as Special Grants.

The Grants for Bye Roads are thus set down:—County of York, £1350; Queen's, £1258; Gloucester £958; Charlotte, £1186; King's, £1186; St. John, £1075; Sunbury, £760; Northumberland, £1419; Restiguche, £760; Westmorland, £1237; Kent, £922; Albert, £761; Victoria, £712; Carleton, £978.—Total, £15,129.

Hard Times!!!

Bank directors may curtail their discount sheets, and button up their pockets, at the approach of their customers, and all that, in this ice-bound country, during the months of February and March; landlords may stand in the sunny side of the Market Square, and talk about their good stands, that situation or this, for business; the grand secret is, do you understand thoroughly the business you are engaged in; if so, your situation will answer. The WOOLLEN HALL, opposite the Carleton Ferry Landing, next the Commercial Bank, stands unrivalled in this City. That establishment gives employment to about 50 families, making coats, pantaloons, vests, shirts, drawers, &c. A great portion of the New Brunswick public must patronise that establishment, otherwise they could not employ so many workmen this season of the year. They are clearing out their stock now on hand. Coats that sold a month ago for forty shillings, now thirty shillings, and all other goods in their line equally cheap FOR CASH.

The great popularity of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has induced some mercenary individuals in various parts of the country to compound quack nostrums for the purpose of deceiving the public and reaping some of the well-earned reputation of this truly valuable medicine. The interests of the unwitting public suffer, if he can but keep the deluded to purchase the false preparations attempted to be palmed off in the name of the Wild Cherry; for certain it is that no medicine ever proved so efficacious in a long catalogue of the most common diseases which "human flesh is heir to," or preserved the health and life of so many thousands of our race as "Dr. Wistar's Balsam." DR. SETH W. FOWLE, druggist, No. 138 Washington street, is the sole proprietor of the original receipt for the manufacture of the genuine medicine, and supplies both at wholesale and retail, and of whom, also, agencies can be obtained.

SELF-PRESERVATION!

A MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGY OF MARRIAGE, and Diseases of Youth and Maturity usually acquired at an early period of life, which enervate the physical and mental powers, diminish and enoble the natural feelings, and exhaust the energies of Manhood.—With practical observations on the Treatment of Nervous Debility and Indigestion, whether arising from those causes, close study, or the influence of Tropical climates; Local and Constitutional Weakness, Syphilis, Stricture, and all diseases and Derangements resulting from Indiscretion. With Fifty Colored Engravings, illustrating the Anatomy, Physiology, and Diseases of the Reproductive Organs, explaining their structures, uses and functions, and the various injuries that are produced in them, "by solitary habits, excesses and infection."

BY SAMUEL LA'MERT, M. D.

No. 37, BEDFORD-SQUARE, LONDON

Doctor of Medicine, Matriculated Member of the University of Edinburgh, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, Honorary Member of the London Hospital, Medical Society, &c.

CONTENTS OF THE TREATISE.

CHAPTER I.—On the Philosophy of Marriage, with its Hindrances and Obligations; and on Inelicitous and Unproductive Unions.

CHAPTER II.—On the Anatomy and Physiology of the Generative Organs, their functions, structure and secretions, proving that great Mental and Physical power are dependent on their healthy action.

CHAPTER III.—On Solitary Habits; their various effects on the Annual Economy; the [illegible] cause of Debility of the functions of the [illegible], Lungs, and Brain, and ge[illegible] of the Mental Faculties.

CHAPTER IV.—On the Se[illegible] of Youth and Maturity and the T[illegible] Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental [illegible], and Premature Decay.

CHAPTER V. and VI.—On the Disorders arising from the discriminate Excess, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and other Diseases of the Urethra.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised, and its true source of every instance be disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments.—Excesses are always injurious; the gift, which when used in moderation is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the human frame than any other to which it is subject.

This work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contents of the work, the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that the unhappy victim of excessive indulgence and various habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to a qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently but erroneously entertained and these complaints are beyond the reach of art alike restrict him, and prevent him seeking for assistance where alone it can be procured. In acting thus, he forgets that accurate discrimination in ascertaining the causes of disease, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invariably characterize the intelligent and practical physician, and to the medical man, who can show by his possession of the requisite legal qualification that he is entitled to esteem and respect in his professional pursuits the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. LA'MERT has obtained the highest medical honors, as his diplomas testify, and the great extent of his practice for many years, is a guarantee for his professional experience, which has reference almost solely to the treatment of these diseases.

☞ The work may be had in Saint John, of H. Cunard & Co., price 2s. 8d. Sig.; Halifax, Messrs. Morton & Co.; Quebec, Mr. Neilson.

NEW PROSPECTUS TO MECHANICS, Inventors and Manufacturers.

Seventh Volume of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN

MESSRS. MUNN & CO., American and Foreign Patent Agents, and Publishers of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, respectfully announce to the public that the first number of VOLUME SEVEN of this widely circulated and valuable journal was issued on the 20th of September in AN ENTIRE NEW DRESS, printed upon paper of a heavier texture than that used in the preceding volumes.

It is published weekly in Form for Binding, and affords, at the end of the year, a SPLENDID VOLUME of over FOUR HUNDRED PAGES, with a copious Index, and from FIVE to SIX THOUSAND ORIGINAL ENGRAVINGS, together with a vast amount of practical information concerning the progress of INVENTION & DISCOVERY throughout the world. There is no subject of importance to the Mechanic, Inventor, Manufacturer, and general reader, which is not treated in the most able manner—the Editors, Contributors, and Correspondents being men of the highest attainments. In fact, it is the leading SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL in the country.

The Inventor will find in it a weekly DIGEST of AMERICAN PATENTS, reported from the Patent Office,—an original feature, not found in any other weekly publication.

TERMS—$2 a year; $1 for 6 months.

EDUCATION.

THE Subscriber having been solicited by many friends, purposes opening a SCHOOL in his newly erected School Room, in Cliff Street, for the instruction of Pupils, of both Sexes, in the various branches of a complete English Education. No pains will be spared to promote the improvement of his Pupils, and his uniform success during many years as an instructor of youth, warrants him in hope that those who may place their children under his care will have cause to be satisfied with their progress.

References, as to character and capability, kindly permitted to the Rev. W. Scovil, A. M., School to commence on Monday the 5th January, next.

Terms made known, on application.
