CARD.

WE regret to announce to our subscribers and friends the total destruction of our Printing Office, in New York, on Christmas Eve. This event will necessarily cause a postponement in the delivery of our January Reference Book. We have, however, duplicated Manuscripts of the entire work, in our numerous branches, so that although the fire is a very great calamity to us, the delay in issuing the book is the chief feature involved in it. We shall immediately commence the work again, and respectfully ask the indulgence of subscribers under these calamitous circumstances. The preparation of new type, the press-work, composition and binding, will, with every exertion we can make, occupy time, but we think that we may safely promise that the delay will not exceed two months at the utmost, and in the meantime the detailed information on our Office Records (the foundation of all the ratings) is freely at the services of subscribers.
Respectfully yours,

SELECTION.

Enter before the curtain, Love, holding a crown and palm branch—

LOVE.—"If Love be real, if I whom ye behold
Be aught but glittering wings and gauze of gold,
Be aught but singing of an ancient song
Made sweet by record of dead stingless wrong,
How shall ye part at that sad garden's end
Through which the ghosts of mighty lovers wend?
How shall ye faint and fade with gifless hands
Who once held fast the life of all the lands?
—Beloved, if so much as this I say,
I know full well ye need it not to-day.
As with full hearts and glorious hope ablaze
Through the thick veil of what shall be ye gaze,
And lacking words to name the things ye see
Turn back with yearning speechless mouths to me.
—Ah, not to-day—and yet the time has been
When by the bed my wings have waved unseen
Wherein my servant lay who deemed me dead;
Deep buried in the grass, and crying out
For Heaven to fall, and end despair or doubt."
