A Budget of News and Gossip.—Persona Intelligence.—A Little of Everything well Mixed up.

ELBE MILLS.

MONDAY, May 4.—Mr. Munsell Brown has purchased the Catharine Whaley farm.

Census taker Mr. A. W. Johnston was through here recently.

Mr. Geo. M. Bates has located at Perth for a short time, engaged in buying and shipping calf skins.

Mr. Alex. Compo was laid up a few days last week by falling from a beam in the mill.

Our teacher is experiencing some of the difficulties of managing a school.

Rev. J. Wilson organized our Sabbath school recently and the school opened May 3rd.

The farmers in this vicinity are busily engaged with their seeding and the ground is in fine condition.

Miss Jennie Gibson, Addison, recently spent a few days with her friends here.

DULSEMAIN.

MONDAY, April 4.—Mr. John Martin Ferguson is in Montreal consulting an oculist about his eye. Some time ago he lost the sight of one eye and now the other is troubling him.

Mr. C. F. Rath is around taking the census.

Mr. Albert Austin of New Dublin is here on a visit to his fathers.

Our neighborhood boasts of a poet. If you don't believe it, ask the blacksmith.

Farmers are busy at the spring's work.

Mr. John Fair lost a fine horse last week, thought to be the result of clipping.

The sugar social in the Jubilee Methodist church in aid of the superannuated ministers fund was a decided success. The entertainment was somewhat novel but exceedingly good.

The clang of wedding bells is expected in our midst shortly.

OAK LEAF.

MONDAY, April 4.—The farmers are very busy, and they report the ground in an excellent state for tillage.

Mr. Layng who has been ill for over a month is slowly recovering.

Miss Kendrick of Almonte is a guest of friends of Oak Leaf and Soperton.

One day last week while Mr. Peter Johnson was using a pulverisor, the leaver becoming loose struck the rider over the right eye, leaving quite a bad cut. Mr. Johnson will have quite a bad mark against him for a week or two.

Our Sunday school opened last Sunday with Mr. Watson Green as superintendent.

Tickets have for some time past been issued by the church wardens of Trinity church announcing a concert to be held in Oak Leaf Hall on 22nd May. The young folks are doing their utmost to make this entertainment a noble success. Judging from the programme now being prepared we need not doubt but that it will surpass all previous entertainments to be held in the hall. The proceeds will be devoted to the building of a vault in Trinity church cemetery. We hope that all the members of the church will feel it their duty to patronize such a good movement.

NORTH WILLIAMSBURG

The following are a few extracts taken from a letter from Mr. A. H. Wilson, North Williamsburg, anent the fire that occurred there on the 30th ult. Space forbids a more extended account:

A terrible fire on Thursday last has nearly swept our village clean, thirty-five buildings, principally dwelling houses, having been burned. The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock p.m., on the west side of Main street, opposite the post office, on the roof of Mr. Ira Casselman's blacksmith shop, and spreading rapidly, caught his house and barns which were in close proximity, A high wind from the west drove the flames across the street and burning four more houses belonging to Mr. Casselman, they licked up the residence, boot and shoe store and barn of Mr. Abney Empy, which being principally frame, caused the flames to mount very high and carry live cinders further on, totally destroying everything in its path. The residence and tin shop of Mr. Simon Barkly, on the south side and Mr. Wm. Shaver's on the north, being a little isolated, were saved by the heroic efforts of the volunteers who, armed with pails of water, kept the buildings wet until the other buildings had burned down, and the progress of the fire stopped. If it had once gotten past that point there is no doubt but that the whole eastern part of the village would have been destroyed. In that section are two fine Presbyterian churches, and some residences which for beauty cannot be surpassed in Eastern Ontario. There is not over $3000 insurance on the whole, and the loss cannot at present be estimated. The scene at night was terrible, but the homeless unfortunates were kindly sheltered by those who escaped the fire. This terrible catastrophe might have been averted if our citizens had proper fire protection. In Athens, for instance, they have to have some sort of fire protection, but here we had none, and the result of such carelessness has been the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of property.

NEWBORO.

MONDAY, May 4.—Mr. Robert Bell who has been a citizen of our town for many years sold his valuable property on Carleton street and removed to Rosline where he intends to rub in the remainder of his days in the boot and shoe trade. We hope the change may be for the better.

R. H. Preston M. P. P., returned from Toronto on Saturday.

Wm. Baker of South Crosby has a curiosity in the way of a lamb. Its head and shoulders are perfectly natural, but immediately back of the were legs, two trunks branch out each perfect in form, each body having two hind legs.

Mr. J. T. Gallagher is having the outside of his residence painted.

Rev. E. Stone of Oswego is, visiting at Mr. Geo. Whaley's.

The strs. Olive and John Haggart passed through here on Saturday en route far Kingston.

Farmers are nearly through with their spring's work.

On Saturday May 2nd three young men from Opinicon named Paddy Quinso, Phil Holden, and Ben Fluke visited Newboro and remained carousing around the village till late in the evening where they decided to return home in a boat. The wind was very high all day and when they arrived at the shore, Quinn concluded he would not accompany the others as the swells were running very high. He at once laid down on the shore and the other two started up the lake without him. They had not gone much farther than the look when the boat capsized throwing both of them into the water. A short time afterwards Charles McCaskill arrived on the shore with the intention of going to his home which is situated on an island close by, when he heard someone shouting and upon looking out on the lake he espied a man clinging to a boat, the boat being bottom upwards. He hastened with all speed to his assistance and succeeded in rescuing Holden who was almost benumbed with cold and it is supposed Fluke went to the bottom immediately after being thrown out of the boat. On account of Holden being intoxicated and not able to give a straight account of the accident he and Quinn were immediately arrested and placed in the cells by Chief Constable Gorsline where they remain till Monday to wait their trial. Nearly every one who could avail himself of a boat was out searching for the body Saturday night and Sunday until a late hour, but the search turned out fruitless up to this time. This sad accident casts a deep gloom over our quiet village and it is to be hoped this will be a warning to others who indulge too freely in home made liquors.

Some of our "Cars" will find their carrying capacity slightly inadequate to the demands of the "200 pounders" if they are not more judicious in their criticisms of some of the "retired gentlemen" if you please, of this town.

I was tapped on the shoulder the other day for a donation to aid in securing a cow. I refused on conscientious scruples, having more sin on my head already than I may ever dispose of, I decided not to aid or abett domestic infelcity. For cooling the blood and quieting the nerves in pugilistic temperaments, I would highly recommend ice water instead of milk.

Who are the card players and drinkers? This is a conundrum the solving of which is putting to the severest test the mental calibre of one of our old maids. Why does she evince such marvellous curiosity over trival affairs told for the purpose of hearing her talk? The desire on her part is, no doubt, to maintain her standing in the clashing circle, for she claims to know all that occurs about town, a display of ignorance concerning any point would lower her in the estimation of like individuals who look upon her as the fountain head of gossip. Hitherto her information was obtained "legally" but for some unknown reason the services of the luminary have been dispensed with, and "Pady has been employed as Nuncio. A growing intimacy between the two has been very noticeable of late and the opinion is that it will end in conjugal union. A man of some kind would no doubt be acceptable, as celebracy in most cases gets monotonous if prolonged. If such does not occur perhaps her friend, the stately brunettee could by using her influence get her a tin man which would probably be more acceptable than one made of candy and would at any rate last longer, Those who keep company with gossipers may be considered homogeneous and can expect to be looked upon in the same light. I would advise them to remember the fate of Tray in the old fable and steer clear of such characters.

PERTH.

MONDAY, April 4.—Monday evening the 28th ult., two gentlemen came to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Henderson of this place and presented a paper signed by Rev. Mr. Williamson president of——M. E. church asking for help. The Rev. gentleman took them to a hotel and had them provided for, for the night, and in the meantime telegraphed to Rev. Mr. Wiliamson, who replied that his name had been forged. The tramps were made acquainted with the fact in the morning, and were told that they must either saw wood to pay the bill, or go to prison, but they scraped together enough to pay the score and decamped.

It is said that the secret of fortune telling has been left with the family of the late Mrs. Barnes of Plum Hollow. This is surely not a bad legacy.

Minard's Liniment Lumbermans friend

SHEATOWN.

MONDAY, May 4.—You will observe Mr. Editor, before you get through reading these few notes that I am quite unused to writing for the papers, but our folks advised me to go right at it and develop myself. I am somewhat noted for guessing gentlemen's hearts and I think you have a kind one, so here goes. I might say in passing that I am only 17 and my name is Martha Moriah, but sometimes I am called M. M. for short.

Uncle Rooney's milk factory is booming like mad since Mr. Madden Hewitt has taken charge. He (Madden) took first prize last year, has a good reputation and likes the people—I like him pretty well myself.

Miss Rossanah Cavenah has gone to Frankville for a few days.

Oliver Hayes has been chosen salesman of Uncle Rooney's factory this year.

John Dockrill will run his two farms as usual this season and with a more favorable prospect of a good crop than the last two seasons.

The Cavenagh Brothers who live alone, are building a fine new brick house on Ballycanoe street. Wonder who is going to help them keep it in order? They, like many others along the line, are good fellows and a credit to the neighborhood.

I sometimes see in the "Bee Notes" in the Reporter, that beekeeping is suitable and profitable employment for ladies. Well, a young girl not far from here, in a few hours at odd times nailed 1 3 0 pieces of frames together. Miss C. Cavenagh is the young lady who did the work as well as it could be done by a man. A girl on a farm will find work of this kind pleasant, light work as well as saving no small item.

We have a number of enterprising young men in our locality, one in particular, who, when the canning factory prospect was booming under election impulses, proposed planting 15 acres of tomatoes. If the factory falls through, which from the present outlook we fear will be the case, he will employ 15 or 20 good looking girls and go right on with the canning business anyway. Now, I most sincerely hope that all this will come to pass for various reasons, to be more fully explained later on. Martha Moriah is not so dear to me but what I would consent to change it under favorable circumstances.

I am looking forward in hope to the blackberry time. We have lots of fun then. I think the poet who wrote the lines, "A starry night for a ramble, through brush and bramble," etc.etc., must have wished to insinuate that it was in blackberry time. But we Sheatown girls repudiate the idea that blackberries can be picked after sunset. We have several big patches of blackberries in our neighborhood, and we give the editor, foreman and devil a special invitation to come over and pick all they want for their own use. When blackberry time comes again I will give your readers some more gossip, as it comes fresh from the bushes. In the meantime I will endeavor to improve my orthography and syntax, so as to make the items more readable and interesting.
