SUPPLEMENT
TO THE GLOBE.
PROSPECTUS
OF THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX

FROM the experiment we have made it is ascertained that the patronage of the country will support our annual publication of the proceeding and speeches made in Congress. We therefore propose to prosecute the design and confidently hope to improve and perfect it.

In giving, from week to week, a succinct and clear report of the proceedings of both branches of Congress—a brief and condenced report of the substance of the remarks of each speaker, using the precise words upon the main poinpt touched—the yeas and nays on all important questions, and concluding the volume, after the adjournment, with an index for reference, a great deal was done towards giving an accurate parliamentary history of the proceedings of one of the greatest and ablest representatives in the world; an assembly on the deliberations of which the destinies of the free institutions of this country depend for their maintenance; and, therefore in some degree, freedom throughout the world. Our original plan extended no further than this epitome of the debates, with the proceedings; but at the last session we added an Appendix, to contain all the fully reported speeches, as prepared by the speakers themselves for publication. This extended the work from a single volume of 342 royal quarto pages, to two volumes, making, together, 1154 royal quarto pages. These we have furnished to subscribers at the price of one dollar for each volume, BOTH or EITHER to be furnished, through the mail, as they fall from the press in sheets, and chargeable only with newspaper postage, varying from a cent to a cent and a half a sheet.

This we hold to be the cheapest work ever published, whether the labor and expense of getting it up be considered, or the value of it to the present & future generations. The leading men of all parties in every State in the Union concentrate in the speeches of each session of Congress, the mind, the information, and the feelings of every portion of our country. The political history of the country, for the time being, is nobly spoken and written out in Congress, at each session, but the designs of every party, or fragment of a party are developed, and the future tendency of the government itself laid open. Thus, independently of the interest which every man must feel in the real business transacted in Congress, all who would understand any thing of the political career of the government, should be provided with the embodied views of the leading statesmen of all parties, on every subject, which engages the attention of Congress, and which is tendered to them in this Prospectus.

CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE.—1 copy during the Session, $1 00

APPENDIX—Same price

Payment may be made by mail, postage paid, at our risk. The notes of any sponse paying bank will be received.

Those who subscribe, should send their subscriptions in time to reach here by the 10th of December next, at furthest, to ensure a complete copy.

☞ No attention will be paid to any order, unless the money accompany it, or unless some responsible person, known to us to be so, shall agree to pay it before the session expires.
