TURF GOSSIP.

Willie Martin sold Strathol at St. Louis for $2000 after getting three races out of him. This is the horse that belonged to the murdered Joe Martin, and was disposed of for $900 at the executors' sale.

Sam Hamilton arrived from Sheepshead Bay yesterday with two well-bred 2-year-olds and a yearling that are now in Mr. Nixon's stable.

The public started Wednesday afternoon all right by backing Halfling down from 6 to 5 to 4 to 5, says The N.Y. Herald. Halton, Sirocco, Illusion, Lancer, Hermia and Second Chance completed the field. Hermia led the favorite a lively pace to the stretch before being overhauled. Then Lewis, taking no chance, gave Halfling his head and he won by five lengths from Sirocco and Illusion.

August Belmont's stallion, Rayon d'Or died at the Nursery stud near Lexington last night.

A joint stock company is being formed under the name of The Guelph Trotting Association for the purpose of conducting trotting and running races. The trustees are O. Kloepfer, M.P., and Wm Hoffman, President of the Traders' Bank. The Management Committee have made arrangements with James Hood, who owns the old race course farm, for a lease of five years and will hold their first meeting August 27 and 28, when large purses will be hung up for the different classes.

OFF FOR THE HALIFAX REGATTA.

Hackett, the Rat Portage sculler, arrived in the city yesterday from the West, and with Gaudaur, Hanlan and Durnan will proceed East this evening, bound for Halifax. Hackett is a tall and likely-looking sculler, stands 6 feet and a half-inch high, weighs 174 lbs., and is about 24 years of age. He is entered for the singles down there, and will likely row double with Gaudaur.

Gaudaur yesterday received word from Vancouver announcing that as Stanbury refused to visit America the British Columbia regatta was off, and thus Jake could not accept Hanlan's proposition to raw there.

The Halifax regatta closes July 31, and then Gaudaur will start for England. The match with Stanbury for the world's championship will likely take place on the Thames in September.

Taylor, jr., son of Catain Taylor, was elected captain. Next Saturday afternoon the special and 20-foot boats will sail over the club triangular course of nine miles. A lively time is expected in both classes. A cordial invitation is extended to those interested in sailing. The Sailing Committee will meet in future every Monday night at 8 o'clock.

The Vencedor will not go to Toledo unbeaten. At a meeting of the Lincoln Park Yacht Club the judges reported that after remeasuring both boats they declared Siren a winner. No measurements were given out. Monday Capt. Barber of the Vencedor measured the Siren and told Commodore Ramsdull that his boat was the winner, but would not give out the Vencedor's measurement, as Commodore Berriman desires to keep that secret until after the international races at Cleveland.

TOGETHER SANK TO DEATH.

The Tragic Fate of Twin Brothers Whilst Fishing in the Don.

A Treacherous Brink—A Brother Tries to Save Another—Hats Washed Ashore and Picked up by Grandfather—Bodies Found Locked Together in a Deep Cavern—The Mother an Invalid.

Arthur and Herbert Moody, twin sons of Mr. George B. Moody, a city letter carrier, living at 216 Sumach-street, fell down the bank of the Don, near the Winchester-street bridge, yesterday afternoon, and were both drowned.

The little fellows, who were a few months over 10 years of age, left home shortly after 1 o'clock, barefooted, and without their coats, to fish off the banks of the river at a place nearly opposite the brickyard. A boy of about his own age, living next door, accompanied them and the three fishers sat watching their corks. The banks here are steep and crumbling. Arthur, the smaller of the twins, venturing too close to the bank, slid down the side and into the water. The current is strong at this point, and the boy was at once at his depth. His brother, seeing his distress, ran down the bank, and, without thinking of himself, plunged into the stream. He reached the sinking boy and tried to push him towards the shore, but the efforts of the brave lad were unavailing, and the brothers, now thoroughly exhausted, went down locked in each other's arms.

Their companion in the meantime had given the alarm, and a small crowd had gathered to the spot.

Mr. William Lindsay, grandfather of the victims, recovered the washed-up hats, but no trace could be found of the fishers who had worn them. The police joined the search, but not until 4 o'clock, when a young fellow named Read had repeatedly dived in the spot, did it prove successful. The force of the current has made here a number of deep holes in the bank beneath the surface, and in one of these caverns the twins were discovered, clasped in each other's arms, as they went down. The ambulance was brought to the scene and carried the victims to the undertaking establishment of A. J. Ingram, 76 Queen east, where they now rest.

The mother of the boys has been an invalid for more than a year, and refuses to be comforted.

Coroner Gregg was notified of the disaster, but decided that no inquest was necessary.

The funeral will probably be held on Saturday.

An Offer to Shoe Dealers.

Retail shoe dealers will be received after 6 o'clock at Guinane Bros., and the will be given the opportunity of buying at the same prices as those offered to the public. Many will no doubt take advantage of this opportunity. "Though we have had the enmity of the whole shoe trade," said Mr. Guinane, "when it is a question of dollars saved, the shoe dealers will come. We must sell about $3000 worth of shoes every day for a month." In another column, Guinane's offer their Yonge-street shoe stock en bloc, together with a lease of the building on favorable terms to any responsible firm or incorporated company. The dissolution of partnership takes effect on the 1st of September, and they hope by that date to have the estate in cash and securities for equal division amongst the partners.

Only those who have had experience can tell the torture corns cause. Pain with your boots on, pain with them off—pain night and day; but relief is sure to those who use Holloway's Corn Cure.

Wanderers' Championship Banners.

The two championship banners recently added to the Wanderers' Bicycle Club collection are displayed in Dineens' Yonge-street windows this week. They were won at the Quebec C.W.A. meet by John Davidson, the Wanderers' crack-a-jack, and are emblematic of the one and five-mile championships of the Dominion. The banners are the handsomest ever given for Canadian championships, being of silk, with embroidered gold inscription and emblem.

Who is the Solitary Tenderer?

It will surprise a great many to learn that the one single tender received for the telephone franchise is not from the Bell Company. Who it is from will not be positively known until the Board of Control meets.
