MEN AND THINGS AT OTTAWA.

Business on the Rush—The Workers and the Drones—Domville Makes a Raid on the Mercantile Agencies

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

OTTAWA, May 2.

LOAFING MEMBERS.

As the session draws to a close business is being hurried through at a very rapid rate, and a large amount of work is being done. Not that everybody works. Not much. There are quite a number of members "jolly good fellows" who have too much poetry in them to be fettered by the dull laws of duty, and too much unselfishness to waste public time and money, by interfering with or adding to the weary discussions which are on most questions inflicted upon the house. So they amuse themselves in the reading-room, smoking-room or elsewhere, asking occasionally when a member joins them, "Who is speaking? What has he said?" &c. In this way they keep themselves posted respecting the ebb and flow of debate, and when the Division Bells ring they are soon in their places ready to vote, and in most cases to "vote straight."

THE REAL DAY LABORERS

are to be found in the Committees, where the work of itemizing the public accounts, dissecting every public bill, and making necessary changes, is performed. In the Committee rooms the genuine workers are to be found every morning at 10.30, and from that till one o'clock the work is severe and steady. Then there is a rush for "hash," after that a walk, and then back to the House to represent and give effect to the views of the "free and independent electors" who sent them here to work for $600 per session, which generous offer they have supplemented by making it a thousand. Among all the workers, the hardest worked of all are generally envied Ministers of the Crown. Should you go into the office of Messrs. Tilley, Tupper or Mitchell about 9 o'clock in the morning, you would find them "up to the eyes" in business. In the Committee Room, about 11 o'clock, you would find them there, and in the afternoon, first in their seats, you would find them there.

One of the most important of the Committees is that on which meets nearly every morning, and where the whole public expenditure is submitted to the closest scrutiny. Among the unfailing attendants at this committee are Messrs. Burpee, of St. John, and Domville. Their opinions are much respected and always have great weight with the Committee as well as the House.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS,

MERCANTILE AGENCIES.

A motion brought into the House of Commons a short time ago by Mr. Domville is awakening considerable attention in the press, and is likely to lead eventually to very important results. When the motion is carried a bill will be introduced, making it a misdemeanor for any mercantile agency to give any information respecting the standing of a business man, which it cannot substantiate. Such a measure would receive support from both sides of the House, the general opinion being that in this young country of ours, no undue fetters should be placed upon commerce. It is held that a vast amount of injury is done, by the affairs of business men being made known at all times; and that there are occasions where, if a man had fair play, he would successfully breast an adverse tide, whereas an imprudent exposure of his affairs brings every one down upon him, and he sinks.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The Session is likely to be prolonged much longer than was anticipated. Before this reaches you another delegation from P. E. Island will have arrived here, to arrange final terms of Union with Canada. One thing is certain, no advance will be made on the terms offered, and it is doubtful if any better are expected. They will dissect the present terms, transpose the figures a little to make the affair look different, go home and carry the measure, and then "all aboard" for Ottawa.

DANBURY NEWS.

Every body must have taken down the family bible, Sunday. The dust was intolerable.

A Slawson man created a temporary corner in life insurance agents on Saturday by falling off his roof upon three of them.

There is no base-ball club in Danbury and so a Pine street gentleman was obliged to fall from a stoop to break his thumb.

Prof. Wilder, of Cornell University, devotes a quarter column in one of the journals to tell what people should do in case of accident, when a half dozen words would do it. What to do in case of accident is very simple. Send the particulars to the papers.

The Fitchburg (Mass.) Sentinel, an excellent paper, is going to start a daily. We are glad of it. We started a daily once. We ran it nearly four months, and then paused. Since then we take a lively interest in such enterprises. We have no doubt the Sentinel people will make the daily work, and we are quite positive it will make them work. A man who goes through life without having started a daily paper misses a rare and valuable experience. Falling down stairs with a cook-stove will hardly compensate him.

Tobacco smoke is principally composed of ammonia, pyridinei picoline, lutidine, collidine, fermic, acetic, propionic, butyric, valerianic, carbolic acid and creosote. We mention this simply because there are many people who are very particular to say just what is proper and right, and who would regret exceedingly having said: "Is smoke objectionable to you?" when they should have said: "Is ammonia, pyridine, picoline, lutidine, collidine, fermic, acetic, propionic, butyric, valerianic, carbolic acid and creosote objectionable to you?" This form of query will, we imagine, become quite popular.

Nursery Rhymes--No. 24.

A STORY OF DOOM! (almost.)

CANTO I.

The coffin-maker bent low at his work,
And coughing, cast his eye upon his bench,
A spasm came, which gave his frame a jerk,
And shook his head about with fearful wrench:
The blood skipped from his ears and sought the ground;
The Undertaker deemed his lungs unsound.

CANTO II.

It was a dull and dismal afternoon,
The ice had melted in the Skating Rink,
And lovers sighed to walk beneath the moon,
And toners paused at Barr's to get a drink:
The coffin-maker hummed an air, then stood,
And drove a nail deep in the coffin-wood.

CANTO III.

Another spasm came, then down he fell,
And sought the pitch-pine floor, quite till at ease
And listened to the knell of deep-mouthed bell,
His cold hair fluttering madly in the breeze;
But Ham's Invigorator cured the pain,
And Ayer's Vigor brought in the hair again.

CANTO IV.

These two great Cures he at the Chemist's bought,
The Pharmaceutist's, King street, twenty-four,
Where Drugs and Medicines are often sought
By iron-mongers when life is nearly o'er:
And coffin-makers, when they're coughin' loud,
Take Trachea Drops, and thus postpone the shroud.

READ THIS.

PORTLAND, March 14th, 1860.

To MRS. WATERBURY,—Dear Madam,—I desire to add my testimony to your already Celebrated Dinner Pills. During my whole life time, until about six years ago, I was severely afflicted with Indigestion, Biliousness and all their attendant evils. I had tried many medicines, and got but temporary relief. At the time above mentioned, I was advised to try your Pills: I did so for three months, according to directions; since that time I have had no occasion to take any medicine, and have enjoyed good health.

I am yours, &c., THOS. DALE.

MRS. GEORGE WATERBURY'S

Celebrated Dinner Pills,

A sure remedy for INDIGESTION, and all BILIOUS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.
