His Excellency the Lieutenthorising the formation of a branch of the Parent Institution in this City, the objects of which are embraced in the commission, viz:—

For preserving the martial spirit, language, dress, music and antiquities of the ancient Caledonians.

For rescuing from oblivion the valuable remains of Celtic Literature.

For the establishment and support of Gaelic schools in the Highlands of Scotland and other parts of the British Empire.

For relieving distressed Highlanders at a distance from their native homes; and

For promoting the improvement and general welfare of the Northern parts of the Kingdom.

And we are happy to say, that the members present unanimously concurring in the sentiments expressed, agreed to become members immediately upon the formation, and enrolled their names accordingly.

A committee was then appointed to take such measures as they might deem necessary for carrying into effect the objects of the commission, who have at a subsequent meeting reported a Constitution and set of Bye-Laws for the government of the Institution, a copy of which has been forwarded to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, with a request that he will be pleased to become Patron of the same.

We have much gratification in being enabled to lay before our readers the following Address, presented to the Rev. WILLIAM SCOVIL, A. M., on his retirement from the Curacy of Trinity Church in this City, and also Mr. Scovil's reply.

ADDRESS.

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR,—

We desire on the occasion of your retirement from the Curacy of Trinity Church in this City, to assume the duties of the separate charge to which you have been prefered, to express our high satisfaction with the manner in which you discharged your Ministerial Duties during the period for which you have filled that office in this Parish.

The piety, zeal and ability, with which [illegible] duties have been performed, we [illegible] the benefit of ourselves, and [illegible] interest of the Church has been [illegible] while we regret the loss of your [illegible] us, we rejoice in your own prefer[illegible] separate charge, and be assured, you carry with [illegible] our affectionate wishes for your own and Mrs. Scovil's prosperity and happiness.

We know that in briefly, honestly and sincerely expressing the respect we bear for your character as a Minister of the Gospel, we shall better consult your feelings, than by adopting imaginary terms of personal compliments.

We are, Dear Sir,
Your Faithful Servants,

Signed by—John Ward, Stephen Wiggins, Robert F. Hazen, George Sears, Wm H. Street, John V. Thurgar, and 146 of the Pewholders and others.

To the Rev. WILLIAM SCOVIL, A. M.,
Rector of the Parishes of Norton and Springfield.

ANSWER.

MY CHRISTIAN FRIENDS,—

I am unable adequately to express my feelings upon receiving an Address, so numerously and respectably signed by the Parishioners of this—my native City, and the first scene of my Ministerial labours.

Born and brought up among you, I accepted the Curacy of Trinity Church, offered to me by the Rector, with the hope, that the good opinion of my fellow citizens might long be cherished by the intercourse of the Christian Minister, and, believe me, I regret most sincerely, that circumstances wholly unforseen, and beyond my controul, have led to the dissolution of a connection so happily formed.

In all my labours I have ever felt my own insufficiency, and it therefore affords me sincere pleasure that my Ministry has met with the approbation of so many of the members of Trinity and Saint John Churches. I humbly trust it may also have been approved by Him whose Minister I am, and to whom alone belongs the increase if any of the seed sown by his youthful servant.

Allow me to thank you for your congratulations on my appointment to a separate charge, the duties of which I shall assume with much pleasure from being called to preside over so interesting a portion of the flock of Christ in this Province. May I there experience the same friendly feelings and indulgence which you have manifested towards me.

For your affectionate wishes on behalf of Mrs. Scovil, I offer you my grateful acknowledgments; and be assured, that our thoughts will often revert to the city of our birth, and our prayers ascend for the temporal and spiritual welfare of the esteemed friends we leave behind us.

Believe me, my Christian Friends,
Yours, very faithfully,
W. SCOVIL, A. M.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE.—We are again called upon (to us always a pleasing duty,) to notice an article of domestic manufacture, a Seraphine, manufactured by Mr. Stephen Humbert, Junr. The article in appearance is that of a Cottage Pianoforte, the case is mahogany, beautifully finished and polished; its tone is loud, full, and sweetly harmonious, and altogether comprehends a piece of mechanical ingenuity highly creditable to the young artisan.

The Histrionic Society on Wednesday evening last gave another entertainment. The pieces were the Iron Chest and the Village Lawyer. The house was the greatest that has yet been experienced, and the company appear to gain ground in public estimation: the House is well warmed and every way made comfortable to the audience. Our city contains talent, and it is only by applying the stimulous that it is made apparent.

For the great Bless[illegible] Mercy and Goodness, He hath [illegible] Nation, in the late abundant H[illegible] and throughout this Province [illegible] Morning and Evening Servi[illegible] at Thanksgiving, in all Chur[illegible] in the Province of New-Brunsw[illegible] the 20th November, 1842.

O GOD, through whose [illegible] providence the earth yieldeth food for the sustenance of man, we offer unto Thee our hearty thanksgivings for Thy late mercy vouchsafed to us, in blessing the labours of our husbandmen in the Parent Country and in this Province with plentiful increase, and preserving the fruits of the field for our use. Give us grace, we humbly beseech Thee, that whilst we receive Thy bounty with thankfulness, we may regard the blessing bestowed on us as a call to repentance, and turn from the evil of our ways. Remove from amongst us all causes of strife and contention; put an end to our unhappy divisions; and grant that all conditions of men, impressed with the fear of Thy judgments, and trusting in Thy fatherly care, may faithfully serve Thee, in loyalty to their Sovereign, in obedience to the laws, in kindly affection one to another, and in dutiful resignation to Thy will; that so, under the guidance of Thy Holy Spirit, we may pass through this world in peace and contentment, and finally by Thy mercy attain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

HALIFAX, Nov. 5.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning last, about 2 o'clock an alarm gun from the Flag ship, and a solemn warning of the City Bells, aroused the inhabitants to a fire which was discovered bursting with much power from the Hardware Store of Messrs. LeCain's, in Upper Water street. The Engine, Axe and Fire Companies, and the Military, together with Citizens, were soon at the place of devastation, and, with the invaluable aid always given by the Military combined in this instance of calamity with the dexterous services of some of England's Tars, the fierce element was quickly subdued, but not until the Store and Goods of Messrs. LeCain were entirely consumed, besides their house adjoining owned by Mr. Divine being partially burned. This was the extent of the fire. The sum of loss sustained has been variously estimated from 5 to £6,000, down to between 3 and £4,000. The latter, we think, must be the nearer figure of fact. Messrs. LeCain had insured £2,700, and we are informed that Mr. Divine had an assurance of £300 effected on his property. We are of opinion that this Fire, like all others which have occurred in our city, was prevented from spreading its dire effects chiefly by the services rendered by the Engine, Axe, and Fire Companies, and the Military, and we would suggest that something more substantial than mere eulogy should be bestowed the latter, while we should say to the g[illegible] useful citizens, who attended out fires to ga[illegible] upon the flames, stay at home and cover yo[illegible] uncovered heads in your blankets, rather th[illegible] and do as you do.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. William Barnet, sailmaker of this town, [illegible] from his bed this morning in good health, and proceeded to his occupation. About half past seven o'clock he complained of a burning pain in his breast, left his work and went home. His mother, with whom he resided, shortly after prepared a cup of tea, and was in the act of taking it to him, where he had sat down, on the side of the bed; when she found him reclining in the bed, and apparently in a fainting fit. Medical assistance was procured, but before it arrived he was dead. The deceased was an industrious and sober man, and had enjoyed general good health, previous to the sudden and fatal attack—Times.

AN INDIAN SHOT.—The Cape Breton Spirit of the Times says:

"An Indian named Brazil, while out gunning a few days since, in the neighbourhood of the Forks' was accidentally shot by his brother. The deceased was kneeling at the time, in the bow of the canoe, propelling it up the stream with a paddle. His brother who sat in the stern, had taken aim with his musket at a flock of wild ducks immediately in advance of the right bow of the canoe. At that moment the position of the canoe was completely changed by a sudden movement of the current, so that the ducks were brought in the direction of the left bow. While the Indian was cautiously bringing the musket to bear upon them it exploded, and the contents fatally took effect upon his brother, entering below the shoulder blade and passing out at the breast. The unfortunate man expired in a short time."

QUEBEC, Nov. 2.

The Montreal Gazette states that a Despatch has been received by the Provincial Government relating to new regulations for the Post Office Department, and that the patronage has been vested in the Governor General.

Some changes in the regulations and rates of postage will no doubt take place, probably in accordance with the Report of the late Commissioners of Enquiry.

The steamer Queen, which arrived from Montreal this morning, had on board a part of the 7th Hussars, who were immediately put on board one of the transports now in port bound for England.—The remainder of the Hussars will come down on Friday next.

The 67th Regiment, under orders for England, are expected here to morrow, from Montreal, in the steamer Canada.

A beautiful little steamer, called the Pocahontas, arrived here yesterday in 8 days from Picton. We learn that she has been bought by Wm. Stevenson, Esquire, of this city, and that this gentleman intends, should he receive sufficient encouragement, to employ her between this port and the lower parishes. The Pocahontas is a substantial built seaboat of 120 tons measurement, and has one engine of 40 horse power.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—The proprietor of the Patriot has been ordered by the sheriff of the Home District to discontinue the official advertisements from his Department. On asking the reason of this withdrawal of a business with which this Journal has been honoured for some six or eight years, we have been informed by the sheriff that he has received a communication signifying to him the pleasure of His Excellency the Governor General in Council that he should withdraw these advertisements from the Patriot, in consequence of the course pursued by this Journal towards the Government.—Patriot.

James Gordon Bennet, proprietor of the New York Herald, offers that establishment for sale, his purpose being to remove to London to establish a daily paper in that city. The printing materials &c, are stated to have cost over $25,000, and the average circulation of the paper, daily and weekly, 30,000 copies.—The expenditures of the establishment are $105,000, to $115,000, and the income $130,000, leaving annual profits of from $15,000 to $25,000. To persons wishing to purchase, a verification of [illegible] of this statement will be made, by an [illegible] the books and records of the concern.

[illegible] OF SIR LOWRY COLE.—We regret to an[illegible] the death of General the Hon. sir Galbraith Lowry Cole, which took place on Wednesday morning after an illness of about an hour, at Highfield [illegible] Hartford-bridge. The deceased was uncle of [illegible] present Earl of Enniskillen, and brother to the [illegible] de Grey.—He was in his 71st year, and [illegible] in 1815, Lady Frances Harris, daughter [illegible] first Earl of Malmesbury, by whom he leaves [illegible] children. He was also a Grand Cross of the [illegible] Colonel of the 27th foot (which appointment [illegible] nearly sixteen years). Governor of Gravesend and Tilbury Fort, and a Commissioner of the [illegible] College and Military Asylum. He was [illegible] in the army in January, 1801. He was [illegible] in command at the battle of Maida, and wore [illegible] for that splendid victory. He was present [illegible] of a division (the 4th), at the battles of [illegible], Salamanca, Vittoria, Pyrenees, Nivelle, [illegible], and Toulouse, for which he had the honour of wearing a cross and four clasps. On the 3rd of February, 1812, he received the thanks of the House of Commons, through the speaker, while attending in his place as a Member of the House after his long absence on duty; a similar honour one of the highest in mortal deserving, was bestowed upon him on the 20th May, 1816.—London Globe.

The official statements of the quantities of tea exported from the 1st of July, 1841, to the 31st of May, 1842, from China to England, gives the following amounts:—26,391,161 lbs. of black, 8,296,089 lbs. green, and 78,103 lbs. sorts, making a total of 34,765,344 lbs.

TEXAS.—The papers are filled with accounts of the Mexican invasion which begins to wear a serious aspect. We notice in the Civilian of the 1st inst., a communication from several of the parties who were taken prisoners at the capture of San Antonio. "They state that they were treated with all the lenience compatible with their condition as prisoners of war, that the force into whose hands they had surrendered was a formal invading army, whose officers are determined to conduct the war upon the principles of the most honorable and chivalrous character.

The war appears to have fairly set in. A despatch dated Camp Salado, 20th Sept. mentions that Col. Caldwell, with a force of 550 men had an engagement with Gen. Woll, in which the Texans came off victorious. The Mexicans left 100 killed on the field of battle, besides 200 wounded. We regret to say that a company of 59 men, called the Fayette volunteers, in attempting to join the camp of Col. Caldwell, were cut off and took position in a thicket, from which they defended themselves against an infinitely superior force until completely cut to pieces; 33 of the number were found dead on the field, and the remainder supposed to have been made prisoners of war.

The latest accounts from the seat of war, mention that Gen. Woll had been compelled to evacuate Bexar, and had fallen back 24 miles to the Medina. A Mexican prisoner of war reports that Gen. W. was daily expecting a reinforcement of 1500 men under Gen. Ampudias.

Col. Caldwell, with 600 men, is between the Rio Grande and the main body of the Mexican army.

Some spies report that a party of the prisoners taken at Bexar, had been inhumanly murdered.

A report reached Houston that Gonzales had been taken by a party of 700 Mexicans, but was subsequently contradicted.

In every civilized country throughout the world the human hair is always found to be a subject of peculiar attention. Of the numerous compounds professing to promote or reproduce the hair, few have survived—even in name, whilst ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, with a reputation already unparalleled, is still on the increase in public estimation; which fact, together with innumerable testimonials (for perusal at the proprietors) is sufficient to satisfy the most incredulous as to its sovereign virtues so repeatedly shown in restoring, preserving and beautifying the human hair.

In Dressing the Hair, nothing can equal the effects of "ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL," on either Natural or Artificial Hair, rendering it so admirably soft, that it will lie in any direction: it produces beautiful flowing curls, and, by the transcendent lustre it imparts, renders the head dress truly enchanting! It preserves the coiffure in the heated atmosphere of the ball room, and neutralizes the effects of a damp atmosphere, or violent exercise. (See Advertisement.)
