Sydney Steel Mills Closed Down.

4,000 Men Out of Employment—Fistic Encounter in British Commons—Unionist and Nationalist M.P.'s Come to Blows—Murderers of British Officers Captured—Death Stalks Crowd at Football Match.

STEEL MILLS CLOSED DOWN.

SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 22. When 25 railroad employees of the Dominion Steel Corporation served an ultimatum on the management today demanding a settlement of their wage differences before five o'clock, the company replied by closing down the various mills and ordering the banking of the blast furnaces. This action automatically threw four thousand men out of employment, pending settlement of the dispute with railroaders. It is estimated that it will require at least a week to get the furnaces in operation again, and it is believed that the big plant will be tied up for that period at least. The company in the meantime, it is understood, is making application to Ottawa for redress under provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has been stated that lack of orders has been threatening operations of steel plants in Dublin on Sunday under guise of plants for some weeks past. For the past two years railroaders employed within the steel plant have been contending for the scale awarded all other railroaders in Canada, following the McAdoo award in the United States.

ROUGH STUFF IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, Nov. 22. A violent scene occurred in the House of Commons this afternoon during the period of questions regarding the situation in Ireland. Joseph Devlin, Nationalist, and a Unionist member came to blows. The sitting was suspended. The altercation arose after Premier Lloyd George had addressed the House briefly on the subject, being followed by Devlin. The Premier, when he rose, said he shared with the speaker who had preceded him the horror all felt at the cold-blooded murder of unarmed British officers. The Government, continued Lloyd George, had resolved to suppress murder and conspiracy in Ireland. It was realized that to overcome such carefully organized and highly subsidized plots would take time, but the Government was convinced that despite recent happenings the Irish authorities were succeeding in breaking up the "gangs of assassins." The Premier said, however, that should experience show that the powers possessed by the Irish Government had proved insufficient for that purpose, the Government would have no hesitation in asking Parliament for such further authority as might be necessary to achieve that end. Devlin arose and asked why it was that when Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was asked a question he recited the horrible occurrences which had happened yesterday, and yet said nothing about the appearance of a military force at a football match? He was interrupted with loud cries of "sit down." Devlin retorted "I shan't sit down," and continued, "why has the House not been made acquainted with a report of these, of the entry of the military into the football field and the indiscriminate shooting of ten people. There were loud cries of 'Oh' from the House at this. Sir Hamar replied emphatically that he had been asked nothing about that question, but that he was prepared to answer. Devlin again arose, amidst angry cries of "sit down" and was endeavouring to speak when a member below him endeavoured to pull him down. Devlin lunged forward fiercely in an effort to shake off the hold of the member and the latter rising to his feet the two closed with each other. Other members came forward to separate the pair, but despite these efforts the two men struggled, Devlin losing his coat in the crush but still holding his own. "This is English courage and English chivalry to attack one man in six hundred." After a minute or two they were forced into seats by friends, and the speaker suspended the sitting. Upon resumption of the session Major John Molson, Coalition Unionist member for Gainsborough Division of Lincolnshire, who was Devlin's opponent, rose and apologized to Devlin, to the speaker and to the House, saying he was afraid he had allowed himself to be provoked and had forgotten himself. Devlin accepted the apology and assured Major Molson in this or any other matter that affected him in the House he had no personal feelings. His complaint was against the growing practice of the members taking out of the speaker's hands the question of order in relation to questions. The question he wished asked was why the Chief Secretary for Ireland had not recited all the incidents which occurred in Dublin on Sunday, instead of giving a part of the story? The minister had not told of the murder of ten or fifteen civilians, Devlin pointed out Sir Hamar said that question he was willing to reply and said the authorities had reason to attend the match in order to carry out the murders, consequently a mixed force surrounded the grounds. This force was fired upon and in firing back killed ten and wounded others. Sir Hamar also gave details of the finding of revolvers and the crushing to death of a man and woman, which later he regretted.

ASSASSINS CAPTURED.

LONDON, Nov. 22. Three of the assassins of the British officers in Dublin on Sunday were captured red-handed with their arms. It was announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland. One of the assassins had been wounded on the head.

HARD TO BELIEVE.

LONDON, Nov. 22. Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, declared in the House of Commons to-day that the plans of "paid assassins" discovered recently included destruction of life and property in England as well as in Ireland.

TOWNSHEND AN M.P.

LONDON, Nov. 22. Sir Charles Townshend, defender of Kut, was elected as independent member for Wrekin in the bye-election to-day. Sir Charles recently retired from the army because he was not given employment. It was rumored he would be given command of the anti-Bolshevik army of Wrangel.

FOURTEEN DEAD IN DUBLIN.

LONDON, Nov. 22. An announcement made this afternoon that assassinations in Dublin totalled fourteen while six persons, including Sinn Feiners, were injured during the attacks.

THIS AT A FOOTBALL MATCH.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22. Twenty-six persons are dead and seventy others are lying in hospitals as result of assassinations and wholesale shooting in Croke Park, where soldiers fired on the crowd which had gathered to witness a football game between Dublin and Tipperary teams. Dublin's assertions that reprisals would follow last night proved unfounded, and it is believed that government reports of three or four killings in the city after midnight were due to their confusion with outrages near Dublin. Aside from military activities and searching, including the Mansion House, armoured cars passing through the streets, and the fact that all thoroughfares leading out of the city were closely watched, Dublin and its vicinity were quiet to-day and it appeared that yesterday's outbreak, following the lines of other Irish disturbances, was not being sustained.

NOT BY PHYSICAL FORCE.

PARIS, Nov. 22. The French government will not oppose by physical force the return of former King Constantine to the Greek throne, which the Foreign Office now regards as inevitable.

BOSTON, Nov. 22. An iceberg in the steamship's track east of Newfoundland was reported in a wireless despatch to-day. The appearance of ice in mid-Atlantic at this season is unusual.

BELL WINS MARATHON RACE. The Prince's Rink was filled to capacity last night when the Dominion Sports, the first of their kind in Newfoundland, were held. The first event was started at 8.15 by Mr. W. J. Higgins, who was the official starter. Messrs. J. W. Morris, W. March and C. E. Hunt were judges, and Mr. A. McNamara was timekeeper. "You are beginning to slump physically, I said to the face in the mirror."

"THE enormous strain of the war years had had its effects on me as on many thousands of men and women throughout the land.
"The excitement of business emergencies kept me so busy that I did not notice that I was losing out until one day when looking in a mirror I suddenly realized my condition. I could see then that I was rapidly approaching a nervous breakdown.
"About that time a friend of mine told me about what a large proportion of life insurance applications were being turned down because of physical disabilities resulting from the tense nervous strain of recent years.
"What was I to do?
"Well, my wife had noticed me being nervous and worried and had been at me for some time to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I had always been pretty well and had not much faith in medicine, but since I realized the serious condition of my system I decided to give it a try-out.
"During the first week I could not see much improvement, and was getting rather discouraged. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Everything worried me so that I was continually nervous and irritable. But my wife saw to it that I did not miss my regular dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the second week I began to sleep better and to feel more cheerful.
"From that time on this restorative treatment seemed to build me right up. Of course I had a bad day occasionally when I felt down-hearted and irritable, but that goes with nervous troubles, and I could see that the progress was upward toward better health.
"I know now that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food saved me from a nervous breakdown. I used to think it was more for women, but now I can vouch for it as a nerve restorative for men as well as women.
"There must be many thousands of men and women in this country who are in just such a serious condition as I was, and who can benefit by my experience."

GERALD S. DOYLE, St. John's, Sales Agent.

W. Sullivan, A. Murray, P. Dobbin, J. Colliery.

This was quite a well contested race. Murray finished first in 5 mins. 36 secs., Dobbin coming second. Murray's performance was very creditable, considering that he had only had two tryouts previous to the sports, having only arrived here by the last Digby.
Intercollegiate Relay Race—(Junior) Entrants: M.C.—Peters, Hiscock, Whelan; St. Bon's—Egan, Lynch, Slattery. Won by St. Bon's, time 1 min. 36 secs.
1 Mile Intercollegiate—Entrants: M. C.—Johnston, Angel, Horwood; St. Bon's—Collins, Styles, Egan; 1st, Egan; time 5 mins. 25 secs; 2nd, Styles; 3rd, Egan.
High Jump—(open) Entrants: J. Kieley, C. Egan, E. Spry; won by C. Egan, ht. 5ft. 11inch; 2nd, Kieley; 3rd, Spry.
Whilst this was being run off, the 10 mile marathon was started, the entrants being J. Bell, B. Maunder, J. Chaney.
High Jump Intercollegiate—Entrants: M. C.—Mercer, Gullford; St. Bon's—Howlett, Egan, Skinner; won by Skinner, ht. 4ft. 11ins.; 2nd, Egan; 3rd, Howlett.
This being the last event, all interest was now centred on the marathon. Bell kept a fine pace right through, taking an easy lead over his opponents from the start. His time for each mile was as follows:

1st Mile	5.21
2nd Mile	11.07
3rd Mile	16.55
4th Mile	22.50
5th Mile	28.27
6th Mile	34.30
7th Mile	40.25
8th Mile	46.48
9th Mile	53
10th Mile	58.55

As will be seen from the above, Bell's time for the 10 miles was nearly 3 1/2 minutes better than Rogers' who won the Halifax marathon. After the finish of the marathon the prizes were distributed by Miss Armored Harris, who congratulated the prize winners upon the fine exhibitions they had given. The presentation of the intercollegiate cup, which was won by St. Bon's, was marked by an especially large amount of applause from their supporters who had turned up in full strength. After all the prizes had been distributed, Mr. P. F. Collins, the president of the Boat Club, expressed his thanks to His Excellency and to Miss Harris for presiding, and for taking such an interest in the sports generally. The playing of the National Anthem brought the sports to a very successful conclusion. The Committee in charge, and Messrs. Collins and Tobin in particular, are to be congratulated on the great success which crowned their efforts. During the evening Bennett's Band discoursed music whilst the K. of C. L.A. served refreshments. After the sports, a dance was held which proved a very enjoyable affair. The proceeds of the Tea go to swell the funds of the Columbus Ladies' Association and Mrs. Chas. Bulley and her capable assistants are to be congratulated on the great success of their efforts.

As the North Sees It.

(Twillingate Sun.)
ONLY IMAGINARY.
The drop in sugar price announced is not the wonderful reduction that many people believe, or the reduction that the Government desire to have them think.
The terms are that the F. C. B. has dropped the wholesale price of its rationed salty sugar from 23 1/4 to 23 1/2 for fifty barrel lots, certified cheques in the hands of the F. C. Board. Now 50 barrels at 23 1/2 cents comes to roughly $3700. What firm to-day is in a position to pay cash down three thousand seven hundred dollars on one item of stock only. And we take it that this reduction in price applies only to 50 barrel lots. Therefore the result will be that not a half dozen outport firms will be in a position to avail of this generous (?) offer. The result is that this "reduction" will not be a reduction at all.
The F. C. B. has no right to hold up the people of the country in this way, and the doors should be thrown open to the admission of the present low priced American sugar.
How is it the people of St. John's don't organize and throw the whole lot of this dirty sugar, and the F.C.B. with it into the harbor, we are at a loss to imagine.
MOLASSES SUBSTITUTE.
Reports from Barbados point to a very poor cane crop this season and a shortage of molasses for Newfoundland with higher prices. Molasses which is supposed to be the poor man's sugar, is already only within reach of the well-to-do.

With sugar falling as it is, there must surely be some other equivalent for molasses available at less than half the price of that article.
If the F. C. B. instead of monkeying with sugar and soaking the people of this country on its price, would turn its attention to securing some cheap and attractive substitute for molasses they would be doing the country some good. But then, the group of muddlers in charge of affairs would probably only muddle that, so on second thoughts they had better leave it alone.
However, it is time the question was taken up by somebody.
MR. COAKER WILL FIX IT.
Business men received messages here this week saying that Labrador fish is unsalable. Just how Mr. Coaker is going to cook up a satisfactory explanation for the meeting of Union Delegates at Port Union, which takes place in a week or so, will be interesting to discover.
Unless the delegates are most extraordinarily "easy," it seems probable that Mr. Coaker is going to have some very awkward questions to answer.
However, it may be that the Fish Inspectors will be chosen as delegates and they, of course, can have nothing, but praise for the way things have been handled to suit their pockets.
ALL HAIL!
Hail to the Spaniards! Welcome Christopher Columbus! again are the famous race re-discovering the New World.
While local fish buyers—at the head of them the greatest of the great, the man who said that "the price of fish is what Coaker makes it"—have been unable or unwilling to pay more than $6.50 to $8 in truck for Labrador fish, the Spaniard has arrived and buy fifty thousand quintals for $8 in good cold cash.
Welcome again Christopher Columbus!
