LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

THIS is nomination day for Mayor and Councillmen for the city of Charlottetown.

IT is said that Gordon, who was recently arrested at Halifax, for murder has made a full confession.

THE Steamer Marquette, sailed from St. John, N. B., on Thursday, for Cape Town, with 747 horses on board.

THE steamer Oruro, arrived at Halifax, the other day from Bermuda, with 1,375 puncheons of rum, valued at half a million dollars. There must be some people in Halifax who drink.

THE Wanderers Hockey team of Halifax have arranged for games with the Charlottetown teams, on the 18.h, and 19th, inst., and with the Crystals of Summerside for a game on the 20.

MAJOR H. M. Davison, City Clerk, will be one of the officers representing P. E. Island, at the King's Coronation next June, so it is understood. The Major will make a good representative.

THE painters of Toronto have demanded an eight hour day and thirty cents an hour from the masters. The present wage is 25 cents an hour for a nine hour day. They threaten to strike if they don't get it.

RAY Morris, of Granville, while skating a few evenings ago had his arm badly broken by coming in contact with a sleigh. The limb was set by Dr. Johnson of Emerald. This is the third time within a years he has met with a similar misfortune.

A PLAN has been prepared by the City Surveyor, for the opening of a new roadway between Brighton Road, and the Park Roadway, to the west of Government Pond, the total length to be 1,100 feet. This new road will shorten the distance from Brighton Road to the city somewhat.

THERE was splendid skating on the river all last week. Horses with wagons and carriages crossing the ice is something that was seldom seen before until this winter. The ice in places is not so strong as would be supposed, several horses having broken through. The landings are the poorest in years, the ice around the shores and wharves having been broken up by high tides.

WHILE Mr. Michael Wallace of Afton Road was out shooting rabbits last Thursday he discovered a large black bear hiding in a bush in Jas. MacDonald's field. As he had only a light charge in his gun he ran home for more ammunition, and went back in search of him accompanied by another man. They found him in the same place. It took three shots to despatch him. The bear had been at large for several years and had frightened people on different occasions. The bear is one of the largest ever shot in the Province and weighed between 500 and 600 pounds Mr. James Dunn has purchased it.

ONE of the hardest hockey contests in the history of Hillsborough Rink was the game between the Abegweits and the Victorias on Friday night. The teams were pretty evenly matched, at half time the score standing 4—3 in favor of the Abbies, and when the bell rang for the finish they were even with four games each. It was then decided to play off in periods of five minutes at each goal. It took 40 minutes in this way to decide the game. The result was a victory for the Abbies, score 10 to 7. Towards the close the game had resolved itself into a test of severe endurance, and the players of both sides were almost worn out.

MR. Robert Jenkins has received a letter from Mr. Ruddick, Chief of Dairy Division, asking how matters are progressing re cheese-making class in Charlottetown. Mr. Jenkins was pleased to be able to inform Mr. Ruddick that everything is looking favorable. Mr. Morrow called on Mr. Jenkins on Saturday and reported that everything will be in readiness. The room secured from Mr. McDonald has a hall overhead which will be comfortably heated, where lectures will be given to students each morning before the practical work begins. It will be very desirable that all cheesemakers attend the cheese-making class. The opportunity for doing so is good this year as nearly all the factories are closing owing to a shortage in the milk supply. Assistants learning the business and who plan taking charge of factories in the near future will also be able to attend. All students attending will be required to bring their own aprons and caps. Other requirements will be furnished by the Association. The school will open on or about the first of March.

ONE of the saddest and most distressing accidents that have occurred for some time at Sydney, happened at half-past nine o'clock Friday night, at the blast furnace of the steel works, by which John Morrison, son of the late Arthur Morrison, of Arichat, had his left arm and left leg torn from his body, the leg at the knee and the arm quite close to the body. What remained of the leg above the knee was crushed to a jelly. Morrison was oiler on one of the ore carriers, and while oiling the wheels got caught, with the results that his arm and leg were drawn into the cogs and severed from the body. He was immediately released from his terrible position and removed as speedily as possible to the hospital. Morrison is only seventeen years of age and has been in the employ of the company for nearly a year. The brave fellow never lost consciousness and talked freely of his accident. The last words he said to his fellow workmen were: "Good-bye boys, meet me in Heaven, I am going there and I want you to come too." There was not a dry eye in the crowd as he was being borne away to the hospital. Morrison was doing night shift for a mate of his in order to allow the latter to attend the performance of the Harkins company. There are no hopes for his recovery.

A REMARKABLE STORY.

Says a Philadelphia, West Virginia despatch of the 31st ult:—A remarkable story is told by James A. Bee, a merchant of this city, who hopes to realize a fortune out of a dream he had last night, In his sleep he thought a ghost appeared which took on the form of a murdered peddler who beckoned him to follow, passing out the old Staunton pike he came to the river, and saw a boat tied there. The ghost motioned him to a seat and rowed him over the river. Then, following divers paths, he led the way to a spot several miles from town and showed Mr. Bee a pot of gold and silver coins, saying that he had been murdered and robbed by pirates some fifty years ago, but that the pirates had lost their fortune here. On awakening Mr. Bee was so impressed with his dream that he started over the same route he had taken in his dream, and reaching the same spot, found a dozen or more old Spanish coins and what he took to be pieces of gold ore. He has the coins and ore to prove the truth of his story, and will have the ore assayed. The coins are of very old date.

THE LOST CONDOR.

Equimalt is divided with hopes and fears for the safety of the sloop of war Condor and her crew of 140 officers and men, who were last seen on Dec. 2. Four cruisers are searching for her. The finding of what undoubtedly is one of the Condor's boats has caused the gravest apprehension. Of the Condor's 140 men some are survivors of the early fights of the war against the Boers in South Africa. Sergeant of Marines Edgison, who was the schoolmaster on board the Condor, was the only one of his section who survived the battle of Graspan, in which the naval brigade took such an active part.
