AGHAN
LY HURT ON ARSH ROAD

accident which resulted njury to Mr. and Mrs.
laghan, of Silver Falls, evening on the Marsh collision with another Callaghan was thrown carriage and sustained d clavicle. Mrs. Cals rendered unconsuffering from a serious und in the head. Both to the hospital where s were attended. Mrs.
is not yet known whether ined any internal injuries

FUSILEERS.

of Regiment Saturday Followed by Officers'

tion of the 62nd Regi-
hn Fusiliers, took place
ack square on Saturday
he regiment turned out about 330 of all ranks

Colonel White, D. O. C.,
by Lieut. Col. Ogilvie, rived and was received l salute, after which he regiment in line. The en marched in column olumn, during which the
the men was very notice-the results of hard drill.
line movements the moved down towards building and a fine ex-irmishing was given, the ng reinforced by the re-mimic battle being carroughout the work the owed their proficiency, ing transmitted by them
n. The companies were ly put through the iring exercises and com-nts by their own officers, me time the companies d were mustered in the Lieut. Col. Ogilvie.
lusion of the inspection, most gratifying one, the rched through the city, le was completely spoilavy downpour of rain enced shortly after the out.
ning the officers of the a dinner at the Union
h the guests were Col.
C.; Lieut. Col. Ogilvie,
t. Col. Wedderburn, 8th
t. Col. Baxter, 3rd C. A.; cLaren, P. M. O.; Surg.
Walker, R. O.; Major T.
M. S.; Capt. Smith, A.
F. H. Hartt, R. O.;
ll, R. O.; Capt. Figsby, general regret was exe impending retirement
D. O. C., and of Lieut. whose term of command nt shortly expires, also r from this district of livie, who goes to Charre made by Col. White, ilvie, Lieut. Cols. Wearen, Walker, Baxter,

t. Walker; Captains
ith and Figsby.
rendered by Major F.
t. McMillan and Capt.
very enjoyable evening
Lieut. Col. Edwards oc-air, and Major McAvity

Y. C. RACES.

einUse For First Time
eville On Saturday.

ille on Saturday the A., sloops, which was irst time under the Uni-ing rules, was won by h Possum second and
. Rena and Fei Yuen
the race.
good southwest breeze
er the special course it o Sandy Point, a close Head and another reach oy, and a beat home.
time at the finish, un-rsal rule was:—Vaga-Possum 1.14.57; Lou-ena 1.24.38.
ed time under theSeawas:—
7-07; Rena 1-15-11; Pos-Vagabond 1-10-35; Fei

eawanhaka rule, Vaga-. Possum second and d.

f Sunday Jags.

nks were arrested Satsterday, and they are y or otherwise in the t.

WANTED to harvest
n at Westfield. Can ard otherwise. Apply im-designed at Ellsworth old.

ve comfortable home, near t office, on moderate terms,

e American Steam Laundry
ee girls.

Common Clerk, City
rked "Tender for Pavst., for the improve-to the following es-

re yard.
vater mains.
ervice pipes.
uare yard.

one will be provided ifications for the con-ve a ten years' guarcts and maintain the check payable to the mated amount of the the term of the executed.

d at the office of the

MACINTYRE,
Comptroller.

LAST CARD OF THE LATE GOVERNMENT.

(St. John Telegraph, Feb. 1908.)

The "report" of the accountant hired by Premier Robinson to give the local government a certificate of character on the eve of election is the administration's last card. It may be played any day now, and electors in every constituency should be prepared for it. The hard-hearted people of this province are not to be turned from their purpose by any device so flimsy as this attempt to whitewash the tottering government during the closing hours of a campaign in which it has been on the defensive in every constituency since the first gun was fired.

The expert will do what he was paid to do. The taxpayers will pay the expert, but they will not be influenced by what they are paying for. This government has had its chance and now it must allow the people to pass upon its acts under the secret ballot law. No expert's report can alter the people's verdict. This business of the expert, in fact, is simply another confession of the government's desperation. It has finally realized how strongly the current of aroused public opinion sets against it, and it is grasping at a straw.

Can the expert produce that $9,000 surplus when the people know there is a $400,000 deficit?

Can the expert extend the Central Railway to Gibson before March 3rd, and restore to the public treasury the difference between $1,260,000 and the honest cost of the work done on this incomplete railway, which Mr. Morse of the G. T. P. tells Hon. Mr. Pugsley is unfit for heavy traffic?

Can the expert restore the roads of this province to their normal condition? Can he blot out the ruinous effects which a blundering law and the rotten administration of that law have had upon the highways? Can he indemnify the residents of this province for the loss, damage, discomfort and annoyance which this government has inflicted upon them through its stupidity in passing the Highway Act and its folly in sticking to that law until the elections scared its leaders into a change of front? Can he remove in a month the havoc wrought by three long years of government neglect and incompetence? Can he cause the people to forget what sort of roads they will have when the frost comes out of the ground in the spring?

Can the expert replace in the people's pockets the money this government has taken therefrom by its policy in regard to school books?

Can the expert lend a new value to the before-election promises of an administration which will promise anything, but whose promises have been tested before and found worthless?

Mr. Robinson, in this matter, is not giving the people much credit for intelligence. Let us look at his proposal from an every-day standpoint. He and his fellow ministers are trustees for the people. There is trouble over the management of the people's vast estate. Distrust is everywhere. Deception is charged. The property is not being properly administered. What then? Have the people selected an expert and given him instructions as to what to investigate, what to make clear, what questions to answer, over how many years to carry his examination? By no means. Mr. Robinson—the chief trustee, mark you—selects the expert. The people have no voice in the transaction. Does the Hon. C. W. Robinson really believe he can save himself and his government from political extinction by a proposal of that sort? With him, of course, it is any port in a storm.

Let no man doubt that the people of this province are prepared for this last card the government has to play. The other cards it had in its hand have been placed upon the table, one by one. There was not a strong one in the lot. This last one, we may depend, will be a two-spot.

HELP!

(Baltimore Sun.)

During the absence of his wife from home a man engaged a new cook, a country girl not long in the city. Although a good servant, the newcomer evinced a distressing unfamiliarity with the gas-range. It became necessary for her new employer to go to the kitchen and explain the modus operandi of the range. He gave her quite a demonstration, and lit every one of the many burners. While thus busily occupied he was interrupted by the call of a friend.

"I think you understand the range, now," said he, as he went upstairs. He soon forgot the matter, and did not see the girl for several days. When he did it was again in the kitchen, for it occurred to him to go thither to see how the range was working.

"Everything is going nicely, sir," said the cook. "That's the nicest stove I've ever seen. You kindled it for me four days ago, and would you believe sir, it's still burning and hasn't lowered even once!"

A LONG FAREWELL.

(Tit-Bits.)

This refined cruelty is attributed to a French gentleman who had finished his holiday in England and had just paid a very large hotel bill. He was indignant, but his native courtesy was unimpaired. "Sent de proprietaire to me," he said to the waiter and present the host entered. Monsieur was all smiles. "Ah, let me embrace you!" he cried. "But why do you want to embrace me, sir. I don't understand." "Ah, saire, but look at zee beel!" "Your bill! Yes, but what of it?" "Vot of it? Vy, it means zat I s'all nevaire, nevaire, nevaire see you again, saire."

Mr. R. D. Isaacs returned home by the C. P. R. on Sunday.

RELATIONS BETWEEN CANADA AND UNITED STATES---THE PRECISE NATURE OF THESE

(Toronto News.)

It is for the good of Canada that Canadians should keep in mind, first, last and all the time, the precise nature of the relations between their own country and the United States. The governing fact is that from the beginning of our nationality our separate existence has been grudged by our powerful neighbor. We have grown to our present stature without its assistance or approval. An unusual measure of prudence, we may say a combination of firmness and discretion, always has been needed on our part. For some years past our relations have greatly improved, and it is earnestly to be hoped that the improvement will prove permanent. But after all a hope is not a guarantee and there is to-day as in the past, need for that union of resolution and diplomacy which we have learned from our forefathers.

The desire of the people of the United States in the past has been that their country should include the whole of the white man's portion of the North American continent. During the distractions of the revolutionary struggle they spared time and energy to add Canada to their union as the Fourteenth State. They made open war upon us in 1812. They gave popular, if not governmental countenance to three irregular and piratical invasions, in 1837, 1866 and 1870. In 1866 they began with the avowed object of starving us into submission. A tariff war has continued without intermission for forty-three years. Indeed, their tariff wall has increased in height from time to time, and so far never has been decreased.

To Make a Determined Effort

Apart from these more overt assaults, it is perfectly well known to every Canadian that the attitude of the general public of the United States towards Canada has been that we are an unconsidered fringe to the north of the great republic; that our manifest destiny is some day to come into it; that we never can amount to anything important as long as we stay out. It is probable that the idea has never found lodging in the minds of any large portion of the American people that Canada seriously and really even as the United States is a great power. The idea of the American citizen is that there is and will be only one great power on the American continent. Canada he looks upon as a geographical incident, as an outpost of Great Britain.

Will Become a Great Power,

It is our serious and settled determination on this side of the boundary to make Canada a great power at the very least as large, as strong, as potent and as influential as the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland to-day. We also desire that this great and powerful Canada shall be indissolubly linked with the rest of the Five Free Nations in a British Empire which will form a combination of power, freedom and justice, such as the world so far has not seen. We have seen that the United States long grudged our existence as a colony of Great Britain. Happily that phase seems to have departed and towards Canada in her strictly colonial status there now prevails a substantial measure of good will.

U. S. Expansion.

Several causes for this development can be observed. One is that the entry of the United States into world politics, which began with the Spanish-American War and the acquisition of oversea dependencies and protectorates, has shown the Americans that their real and indeed their only friend in international affairs is the United Kingdom. Another is the fact that these acquisitions, by turning the tide of expansion outwards, have transferred from their land frontiers to the ocean that tendency of Americans to regard a frontier as something to be overpassed, to encroach upon neighbors, of which the seizure of Texas, the war upon Mexico and the purchase of Alaska are classical examples.

Finally, there has been a real growth of national magnanimity.

There is now a disposition towards international justice and courtesy, which marks the progress of the United States towards the highest civilization. However, one phase is yet to come. The American must get it into his head that the North American coneinent is destined to be not a one-power, and that the other power is to be Canada. We cannot expect so revolutionary a change in the American's outlook upon the world to be wrought without difficulties, heart searchings, repinings and grudgings. An example of these difficulties is to be found in the observation of The American Review of Reviews, which already has been noticed in these columns, that the United States sustain amicable relations with an unarmed, helpless Canada, but cannot say what their relations may be with a Canada which takes measures to be strong enough to help the Mother Country in time of need.

But a Two Power Continent.

There is no need to apprehend a serious collision as the result of American vexation on perceiving the new phenomenon of a great and powerful Canada. The increasing friendliness between the United States and Great Britain, the happy paucity of subjects for quarrel between the neighbors, of the better class of American citizens—indeed, we may say of all American citizens—all are favorable auguries. But because the auguries are favorable, we shall do ill indeed to heed them alone, and to lose sight of the basic fact that the American public will surrender with reluctance its dream of an entire continent dominated by the Stars and Stripes.

The Increasing Breadth of View

For Canadians the duty plainly is incessant development, steady progress in that form of civilization that means efficient and upright administration, reasonable and proper organization, alike for Imperial purposes and for defence and constant watchfulness alike to give no unnecessary offence to our neighbors, and to abate not one jot of our rights, not one fraction of our aspiration for a Canada that one day shall be a great power. It is necessary, above all, for us to bear in mind the peculiarity of our relations to the United States—the singular and indeed admirable individual friendliness which exists, coupled with the fact that the American public as a whole is possessed by an idea which is incompatible with our aspirations, and which it must learn to relinquish.

WHAT'S THE USE?

(Indianapolis News.)

A small boy about five years old, was taken to an entertainment by his mother, the other evening. It was 10.30 o'clock when they reached home, and the little fellow was very tired and sleepy. He undressed quickly and hopped into bed. "George," said his mother sternly, "I'm surprised at you." "Why, mamma?" he asked. "You didn't say your prayers. Get right out of that bed and say them." "Aw, mamma," came from the tired youngster, "what's the use of wakin' the Lord up at this time of night to hear me pray?"

Failing Memory.

Detroit Free Press.

Old Chap—Yes, sir; I am 93 neext birthday, and I don't recollect ever telling a lie.

Young Man—Well, you can't expect your memory to be reliable at that age.

PROTECTION OF THE POTATO CROP

Now is the time when potato growers should be prepared to protect their crops from bugs and blight. While in some years, such as last, the blight does not do much damage, yet it is well, after all, the expense of planting, cultivating and fertilizing has been incurred, it is good business to insure the crop against destruction.

It has been proven so generally and thoroughly that the application of the poisoned Bordeaux Mixture will give almost absolute protection from bugs and blights that no farmer who is depending upon his crop for profits can afford to take the risk of not spraying.

About $1.25 per acre for each application will cover the cost. Bugs thus far have not been very numerous, but they are liable to multiply rapidly if unchecked and the blight if warm damp weather prevailed, a little later, is almost a certainty.

A preparation known as Bordeaux Mixture because of its being first used among the vineyards of Bordeaux, France, is the most efficient remedy thus far discovered to prevent potata blight, and when to this is added a small amount of Paris Green, Arsenate of Lead, or Bug Death, the double purpose of destroying the bug and preventing blight is served.

Care must be taken in the preparation of this mixture according to the following formula:

Bordeaux Mixture.

Copper sulphate (bluestone), 4 lbs.; unslacked lime, 4 lbs.; water (1 barrel) 40 gallons. Dissolve the copper sulphate (by suspending it in a wooden or earthen vessel, containing 4 or 5 more gallons of water.) Slack the lime in another vessel. If the lime when slacked, is lumpy or granular, it should be strained through coarse sacking or a fine sieve. Pour the copper-sulphate solution into a barrel, or it may be dissolved in this in the first place; half fill the barrel with water; dilute the slacked lime to half a barrel of water, and pour into the diulted copper-sulphate solution; then stir thoroughly. It is then ready for use. (Never mix concentrated milk of lime and copper solution.) Then add one-half lb. of Paris Green or 8 pounds of Bug Death.

"It is important that this mixture be kept in constant agitation and that it be applied in the form of a spray as nearly like a fog as possible; a coarse spray that will form drops which will run off the leaves does but little good. A pump is wanted powerful enough to give pressure that with the nozzle employed will make this fine fog like spray.

From 40 to 50 gallons of Bordeaux will spray an acre; when the plants are small, a little less is required. The air should be to coat all the leaves of the plant with the mixture, for it must be borne in mind that this is a preventative and not a cure for the blight. If the blight spores once enter the leaves and stem of the potato, there is no remedy if the weather continues warm and moist. Therefore, the man who waits till he sees or smells signs of rust on his potatoes before spraying has let his opportunity slip.

The nozzle should be so arranged as to direct the spray through as well as over the plants. It is just as important that the lower leaves and the under sides of the leaves should be coated so that the top of the plant be covered. The plant is protected only so long as the coating remains. Therefore, several sprayings perhaps ten days apart are necessary. In showery weather the mixture quickly washes off and care must be taken that the plants are not long left unprotected. If two pounds of resin and one pound of washing soda crystal are boiled together about one hour and a half, until they come to a clear brown liquid, and this is added to each forty gallons of bordeaux, the mixture will withstand the rain very much better.

Eternal vigilance and good cultivation are two prime necessities if a full crop of sound potatoes is each year to be harvested.

PLUNDERING GREED OF PRETENDED LIBERALS; LIBERAL SUN MAKES SOME STARTLING CONFESSIONS

(St. John Sun, July 15.)

In shirking the real issues of the fight, in practically accepting responsibility for things which the people have emphatically condemned and in associating themselves with a predatory and discredited machine for the purpose—the only conceivable purpose—of receiving therefrom a campaign fund, the Opposition forces have accepted a heavy handicap. They have not only lost the support of many Conservatives who are frankly displeased with Hazen's rule, but have forfeited the votes of many Liberals who reserve to themselves the right of personal judgment in provincial affairs and who sternly resent the shame put upon their party by the plundering greed of a few, who in the Liberal name and with Liberal money, have seized control of the local party organization and a section of the party press and are using them boldly and unscrupulously for their personal profit. Even if the popular feeling against the Government, together with the magic of the name Liberal, should win this fight for the Opposition, in spite of the auspices under which the campaign is being conducted, the result will not strengthen the Opposition in the long run and insofar as it may tend to clinch the control of the forces which at present seem to dominate the Liberal party in this constituency, will make for the disruption of the party and the destruction of its supremacy.

BALLS AND STRIKES.

Those Cleveland boys are certainly making trouble.

"Sacks" seybold is now manager of the Toledo club, the Cleveland farm.

Jimmie Collins' Minneapolis team is now leading the American association, with Irving Young doing his best pitching.

It is said that Jim O'Rouke is thinking seriously of selling his Bridgeport franchise and giving his whole time to his law practice.

Archer, the Chicago backstop, is a much better thrower than Johnnie Kling. In fact he looks like a better all-round catcher. It is at the bat that Kling was the big fish.

The more wretched the work of ball players the more pronounced the roasting of the umpires by the fans, and good ball playing usually means easy times for the umpires.

Lowell is supporting its team in fine style, with prospects of soon building up a strong nine. The very best people of Lowell are now attending the games in that city.

Pittsburg claims that Providence accepted its terms for shortstop Blackburn long before the Chicago White Sox closed a deal for the player. More work for the national commission.

The baseball fans all over the country were disappointed to learn of Garry Herrmann's defeat for exalted ruler of the Elks. Herrmann would have burned the grass from east to west had he received the honor.

Frank Chance is perfectly satisfied to have his champions running along smoothly until about the middle of August, when he hopes to make his winning spurt for the tape. His fine bunch of pitchers is now being groomed for the finish.

Will the Lajoie bunch stop the onward career of Krause. The way it is travelling looks as if the young collegian would get his first setback at their hands.

That Athletics and Cleveland series which is now on, promises to be the most interesting of the East against the West for the next few days.

Reports current that Charley Street, the Washington American League team catcher had jumped his contract were set at rest Tuesday when it developed that Street had gone home to see his wife and that Manager Cantillon had granted him permission to do so. Cantillon expects Street to rejoin the team at Detroit.

Josse Tannehill has notified manager Cantillon of the Washing club that rather than go to Buffalo, or any other minor league club, he will quit base ball and return to him home.

The Boston Red Sox have won five out of seven since leaving home, displaying their old ability of playing swell ball on the road, the true test of a ball club's staying qualities.

The Chicago Cubs' infield works beautifully together, using headwork and the best line of defence of any ball team that ever played ball.—Boston Globe.

But one half a game now separates Lynn, Fall River and Brockton in the New England league great race, with five clubs in the money.

HOT WATER ON A FIRE.

"Queer things happen at fires," said Lewis K. Jordan, of Cleveland. "The other day the lace curtains caught on fire in an East Side home, and there was some panic while the fire lasted, you bet. Everybody called for the imported cook out in the kitchen to hustle in with a dish pan or two of water. But she didn't aarrive on the scene until somebody had pulled down the curtains and trampled out the flames.

" 'Why didn't you hurry?' they asked her reproachfully.

" 'Hurry,' she repeated. 'Wasn't I hurryin' as fast as I could? I had hot water in the dish pan when you hollered at me and I had to throw out that and get some cold water. You didn't want me to come in and throw hot water on the fire and make it worse, did you?' "—Washington Herald.

Mr. C. Oran Thompson, of Amherst, is at the Royal.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C. P. R. left St. Andrews last evening for Montreal.

MAY SPOIL THE TRADE.

Little Rock, Ark., July 16—Little Rock baseball officials have started a controversary with Pres. Navin, of Detroit that may reach the national commission, owing to the Little Rock owners disclaiming an agreement to let the Tigers have the pick of their club at the end of the season in trade for infielder Perry, who was turned over to Little Rock last spring.

Catcher Casey has already been claimed by Navin, and announcement from Detroit that Casey would be turned back to Mobile has angered manager Finn and Pres. Rather Casey figured in the deal for Lelivelt, a pitcher bought by Detroit from Mobile

A SOCIETY COMPOSITION.

The profesor seated himself airily at the piano and announced in a far-away voice, "Song midoudt vordts."

He rendered a few dreamy chords and then Bertie Flippe told Mrs. Dashleigh a screaming story and a bunch of debutantes in the corner quarreled about the handsome villain at the Mimic.

The professor roused, "Song mit vordts—lots of vordts," he corrected. —Puck.

REASON ENOUGH.

Teacher—"Tommy, you should comb your hair before you come to school."

Tommy—"Ain't got no comb."

Teacher—"Then borrow your father's."

Tommy—"Father ain't got no comb, neither."

Teacher—"Absurd! Doesn't he comb his hair?"

Tommy—"He ain't got no hair!"—Lippincott's.

Then He Got Busy.

Him—"What would happen if I were to attempt to kiss you?"

Her—"It would scare me awfully."

Him—"And would you scream?"

Her—"Oh, no. Fright always renders me speechless."

THE SUN AND ITS BUCCANEERS.

(St. John Sun, Liberal, July 7, 1909.)

"Mr. Robinson is making a grave mistake—clouding his own deserts and the sound merits of the provincial policy for which his party stands with the DISGRACE which THIS BUCCANEERING ORGANIZATION threatens to bring upon the name Liberal. He will gain no Liberal votes thereby, for the votes of those Liberals who deny the right of federal dictation in provincial affairs and who mark their provincial ballots with the idea of best serving the provincial interests would have gone to his candidate anyway. And he stands to lose, not only the support of those who are frankly dissatisfied with Mr. Hazen, but also of many Liberals who bitterly resent the shame being put upon their party under the flagrantly hypocritical motto, 'NO GRAFT; NO DEALS.' "

AUCTION SALES

PROPERTY FOR SALE

I have two very desirable properties, one 3 flats, almost new; 1 self-contained, corner lot; both offer a good chance for investment.

F. L. POTTS,
Real Estate Broker, 9 Germain St.

TOURING CAR BY AUCTION

I am instructed to sell on Market Square, on Saturday morning, July 24, at 11 o'clock a 5 Passenger Light Touring Car with glass front and top, oil and gas lamps. This is an exceptional chance to purchase a car valued at $3,000, as it must be sold to close up an estate.

Phone 973. F. L. POTTS,
P. O. Box 298. Auctioneer

Sales Solicited. Prompt Returns.
T. L. Coughlan
AUCTIONEER
70 Princess St. ST. JOHN, N. B.
Clifton House Building.

FOR SALE

For Sale—A New Motor Boat, excellent sea boat, 24 ft. keel, 27 ft. overall, 7 ft. beam, Gray 10 H. P. Engine, all in perfect order, cabin and engine room 13 ft. For particulars apply to Jas. H. Crocket, Office of The Standard. 12 1

FOR SALE—One large oak refrigerator, built by Quinn, of Portland, Me., 9 ft. long, 7 ft. high, 5 ft. deep, with space for ice in centre. Can be delivered latter part of June. RAYMOND & DOHERTY, Royal Hotel.

WANTED

WANTED—A First Class Male Teacher for the Advanced Department and a Second Class Female Teacher for the Primary Department of the Harvey District No. 3 School. Apply to the undersigned, GEO. A. COONEY, Sec'y to Trustees, Harvey, A. Co. N. B. 16-6-1

LINOTYPE OPERATORS — Wanted, two experienced linotype operators. Must hold Union Card. Apply The Standard, St. John. 20-4-tf.

LOST

LOST—July 5th, between Seaside Park and 57 St. James Street via Street Cars, old fashioned carved gold locket without chain. Finder will be rewarded by leaving it at The Standard Office, 82 Prince William St. tf Lost—A roll of money between King Street near Germain and South Wharf. Liberal reward if returned to The Standard Office.

TO LET

To Let—The upper flat No. 29 Mecklenburg Terrace, containing drawing rooms, dining room, library, four large bed rooms, linen room, bath room, servants rooms etc., heated, newly papered and painted throughout. Magnificent view. Apply to M. B. Edwards, No. 48 Market Square.

Professional.

Dr. A. PIERCE CROCKET
Late Clinic Assistant Royal Hospital, London, England.
Practice limited to EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT.
50 King Square, St. John, N. B.
Phone Main 1164.

HAZEN & RAYMOND,
BARRISTERS-AT-LAW.
108 Prince William Street,
St. John, N. B.

H. H. PICKETT, B. C. L.
Barrister, Solicitor, Notary, Etc.
Commissioner for Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.
65 Prince William Street.
SAINT JOHN, N. B.
Money to loan.

John B. M. Baxter, K. C.
BARRISTER, ETC.
50 Princess Street,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

SILAS ALWARD, D. C. L. K.C.
BARRISTER-AT-LAW.
Chubb's corner, Prince Wm. Street,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

POWELL & HARRISON.
BARRISTERS-AT-LAW.
Royal Bank Building.
ST. JOHN, N. B.

Crocket & Guthrie,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, &c.
Offices, Kitchen Block, opp. Post Office.
FREDERICTON, N. B.

H. F. McLEOD,
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.
Office in the Royal Bank Building, Opposite Post Office.
Queen St. FREDERICTON, N. B.

MINCE MEAT
PEAS and LAMB,
SQUASH and BEEF,
FRESH PORK,
LETTUCE, PARSLEY, MINT.
JOHN HOPKINS,
186 Union St. 'Phone 133.

Rich'd Sullivan & Co.
Wines and Liquors
Wholesale only.
AGENTS FOR
WHITE HORSE CELLAR SCOTCH WHISKEY, LAWSON'S LIQUEUR,
GEO. SAYER & CO.'S FAMOUS COGNAC BRANDIES, PABST MILWAUKEE LAGER BEER.
44 & 46 Dock St.
P. O. BOX 347 St. John, N. B.

Butt & McCarthy,
MERCHANT TAILORS
68 Germain Street,
Next Canadian Bank of Commerce,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

COAL
Now landing, all sizes scotch anthracite Coal, Scotch Ell, Minudie, also Sydney Soft Coals.
Prompt delivery. 'Tel. 42.
JAMES S. McGIVERN,
Agent, 5 Mill St.

Young Corbett is in line for a mat in California with Jimmy Britt, prov ed Corbett beats Johnny Frayne S urday. Promoter Coffroth has rece ed a cable from Britt, who is now Paris, in which the latter accept Coffroth's terms for a second meeti with Corbett.

LITTLE MRS. THOUGHTFUL.

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE NEW YORK EVENING TELEGRAM (NEW YORK HERALD CO.). All Rights Reserved.