COLLISION ON THE G. T. R.

Several Pullman Car Passengers Badly Hurt.

Judge Burton and Mr. Atkinson, of the Globe, Among the Injured.

TORONTO, Feb. 8.—While the Grand Trunk train from Stratford was on the way to Toronto this afternoon, a train following behind crashed into the rear car—a Pullman—which was occupied by a party of gentlemen who had been connected with the South Perth election trial at Stratford, when the train was about a mile east of Weston. The passengers included Judge Burton, Court Reporter Monaghan, Registrar Joseph, of the Legislative buildings, and J. E. Atkinson, of the Globe.

Judge Burton received serious injuries.

Mr. Monaghan had a leg broken, and received other injuries.

Mr. Atkinson had two ribs broken.

Mr. Joseph is missing.

After the wreck the car caught fire, and, with another, was completely burned.

A later account says: All except Mr. Joseph at the moment of the shock rushed towards the center of the car. Mr. Joseph when last seen was near the front of the car. The passengers were dashed violently about and received more or less injuries. Judge Burton was cut about the head and bled profusely.

Court Reporter Monaghan had both legs broken.

Reporter Atkinson escaped with a broken rib, and the other passengers escaped serious injury, save Mr. Joseph.

Fire broke out at both ends of the hind car, and the passengers had to be pulled out through the windows. It was taken for granted that all were out, and it was not until some time later that Mr. Joseph was found not to be among the party. The two Pullmans were then burning fiercely, and there was no possible way of rescuing the unfortunate man, who is supposed to have met his death there.

The engineer of the local train was Charles Manvering, of Stratford. He was very severely injured, being squeezed between timbers. He was subsequently badly scalded, and with the terrible shock to his system added, his recovery is doubtful.

Fireman Hesson, of the local, also a Stratford man, was also badly hurt.

Late Canadian News.

A Leamington Man Missing—A Cobourg Blacksmith Badly Mangled.

Major Harrison, for twelve years an officer of the Royal Grenadiers, Canadian militia, and well and popularly known in the service, died at his residence at Toronto on Thursday.

The first annual convention of the Good Roads Association of Ontario, held yesterday at Toronto, was a pronounced success. Lieut.-Gov. Kirkpatrick, A. F. Wood, ex-M.P.P., and John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, were among the speakers.

John Atkinson, residing on Chatham street, Windsor, aged 85, died Friday morning. He had been blind for the past eight years. Mr. Atkinson, who was born in Downham, Yorkshire, England, in 1810, was one of the builders of the docks at Birkenhead.

Thomas Adam, formerly of Leamington, Ont., but later of Detroit, is among the missing. His wife, who is left at Leamington with five children to support, is anxious to learn any tidings of him. He went to Detroit eighteen months ago looking for work.

Richard Lund, blacksmith, employed at the Crassen car works, Cobourg, was caught in the shafting of the main drive wheel on Friday, and had his left foot nearly severed from his leg. Amputation was necessary. His right foot is badly crushed, several ribs broken, and he is otherwise seriously injured.

John W. Hardy, of Gabaruse, N. S., ex-councilor, got caught by the coat tail in some machinery, and had his right arm torn from his shoulder below the elbow so that it had to be amputated, and had his left arm broken in two places and his ribs broken. He walked to his brother's house, distant half a mile, after the accident.
