In connection with this event, the following short history of the church has been prepared and will be found interesting:

* * *

1875 1925

The present edifice of the West Adelaide Presbyterian Church was erected in the year 1875. Previous to this time, services were held in the little red brick church, situated at what was then known as Wiley's Corners. This church, which was in the same field or charge as East Adelaide, was built in the year 1853. Owing to an increasing number of members from the north side of the township, it was decided to build a new church one mile north, as being more central for the congregation, and the site on which it now stands was chosen.

The building was erected by Cooper and Haldane, contractors, in 1875. The building committee in charge of operations were Messrs. D. D. Wiley, Jas. Marshall, John Wiley, William Watson, William Conkey, Robt. Kincade and Alex. Ray, with Hugh Wiley as chairman.

The church was opened on Sunday, Sept. 12, 1875, followed by a tea meeting on Monday evening, at which Mr. John Morgan acted as chairman. The principal speakers of the evening were Wm. Murdoch, of Napperton, and Rev. Hector Currie, of Thedford.

The morning service on Sunday was taken by the Rev. John Abraham, of Watford, who preached from Deut. 33rd chapter and 16th verse: "And for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush."

In the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Scobie, of Strathroy, conducted the service, preaching from Luke, chapter 2 and verse 7: "Because there was no room for them in the inn."

In the evening the Rev. James Laurence, minister, spoke from the pulpit, taking for his text, part of the 17th verse of the 28th chapter of Genesis: "This is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven."

The first minister to conduct service in the new church was the Rev. Jas. Laurence, a man of sterling qualities and very much admired and respected. The succeeding ministers who have labored since, were the Rev. Mr. McConechy, the Rev. Mr. Carswell, the Rev. Mr. Hume, the Rev. Mr. Haigh, the Rev. Mr. Hannahson, the Rev. Mr. Lindsay, the Rev. Mr. Hare, the Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe, and the Rev. Mr. Gale. Of these men, only four are now living.

In the same year in which the church was built, a manse was also erected, near the church, and was occupied by the ministers for a number of years.

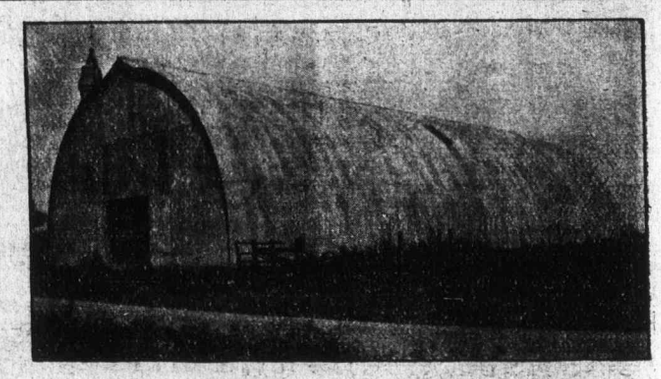
The congregations of West Adelaide and Arkona were linked up in 1878, the ministers at West Adelaide serving both congregations, and in 1894 a manse was purchased in Arkona.

For many years after the building of the church, the Psalms and paraphrases were used, the singing of these being under the leadership of persons chosen from time to time. In 1893 an organ was placed in the church for use in the Sabbath School, and two years later it was brought into service in the regular church services, and the Presbyterian Book of Praise also came into general use. A choir was also formed at this time under the leadership of Rev. A. E. Hannahson.

In the year 1882 the cemetery was purchased. It lies back of the church. In this quiet little spot are the graves of many of the old pioneers, men who saw in this land of their adoption the making of a great nation, men who by their untiring energy and unwavering faith in God, built this little church where for fifty years the gospel message has been preached. Many names will be found written on the slabs and shafts of granite which are familiar to many of the present generation, such as Wiley, Conkey, Wilson, McChesney, Kincade, Watson, Shields, Marshall, Wallace, Thomas, Kerswill, Brotherston, Cuddy, Forsythe. To these may be added other names which will be found in other cemeteries throughout the Dominion, such as Beveridge, Brown, McLeish, Murray, McKenzie—men and women who played a great part in the building of this church, who have taken a leading part in the upbuilding of this community, and from whose doors many have gone forth strengthened in every way for the battle of life.

1875 1925

Edifice of the West Adelaide (Continuing) Presbyterian Church, (erected 1875), where Golden Jubilee Anniversary Services will be held on Sept. 6.



Few are the rural churches in Western Ontario with such shed accommodation as that enjoyed by the West Adelaide Presbyterians. The steel structure pictured above is so large that the whole caravan of folks who attend this church can drive right in to comfortable shelter and find ample parking space for either horse-drawn vehicle or car. And think of the many other uses to which this commodious structure can be applied—especially for tea meetings, entertainments, and all large gatherings, when the little kirk on the corner is not suitable or could not hold 'em all.

Simcoe has solved the problem of eliminating the dirty and littered appearance of the business streets on Sunday morning, since the Board of Works put three or four men on the job at 11.30 Saturday night. There was so much local objection to the work being done early Sunday morning the B. of W. have tried out the pre midnight plan and it has been so successful it will no doubt be continued.

Pembroke Standard:—The speed cop keeps tab on the fast drivers, but who keeps tab on the "speed cop?" If he serves anyone for exceeding the speed limit, there should be a summary trial before a local Justice of the Peace. It is true that the driver of the car is likely in a hurry, he may be heading for some point hundreds of miles distant, and would sooner give $5 or $10 and be done with it, as he has no time to lose, but that is not the point. We do not want speed cops with arbitrary powers. If they have horse-sense they can serve a very useful purpose, upon the other hand if they are lacking in horse-sense they become an intolerable nuisance. A driver of a car of high power, on a clear road, should not be pinched for exceeding 25 miles per hour.

Nowhere along the Lake Shore can one get a better idea of the lowering of the water than at Ipperwash and Kettle Point. All along the shore stretches have been uncovered varying in width from 30 feet to 100 feet Hundreds of Kettles have been uncovered, also large areas covered with boulders and already visitors are destroying the kettles, most of the smaller kettles being broken to pieces. It has been difficult lately to really see the kettles, they were so scarce but visitors today can see and study them at will.
