THOMAS SAMPSON,
TIN PLATE WORKER
WATER STREET,
SAINT ANDREWS.

Intimates to the public that he has commenced business in the well known premises formerly occupied by the late Wm. Gillis. In addition to the usual routine of the tin business, he is prepared to fit up ship's water closets, scuppers, and all works in which sheet iron is employed. He also desires to announce that all articles of his manufacture are neatly put together by a practical hand, and that he will warrant them free from the slight operations of modern machinery. His prices will be found considerably lower than those formerly demanded in this town. Cash and the highest price given for old copper, lead, pewter and brass.
