ELTERS ACTIVE ON MONTREAL MARKET

eports Showing Net Profits Nearly Doubled Causes Quite a Flurry

NEW YORK, March 31.—The rally which set in towards the close of yesterday's stock market, was continued through today's opening trading. Good buying support had come into the market overnight, initial gains of a point or so being recorded by Norfolk and Western, United States Industrial Alcohol, Rock Island and Chicago, and Northwestern. United States Steel opened unchanged at 114. Baldwin, American Can and most of the other industrial leaders improved fractionally.

In Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 31.—Following publication of the annual report showing net profits nearly doubled, Consolidated Smelters displayed considerable activity at the opening of today's stock market, but eased 1½ to 60, then recovered to 60½. Brompton and Shawinigan were the only other active issues, the former gaining ½ to 21½, and the latter selling unchanged at 135. A board lot of St. Lawrence Flour changed hands at 34, down 3-4.

Other changes were of small importance.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, March 31—For a time yesterday the stock market and grain were demoralized, but in the last hour the stock market met with some support. The buying largely was probably from the shorts and the rally showed very little carry-through. It is hard to tell just how far this selling will carry the market, but we don't think selling the market at present is good policy. In fact, whenever the market reaches the hysterical level, as it did at times yesterday, it is a pretty good sign that it is very near the temporary bottom at least. In fact, one now hears various rumors that the market will rally after the American Can meeting is out of the way or that the market is going to be rallied by a strong upward movement in Pan Americans. One can pick out stocks that act very well. Among these are the Motors and particularly CHM., which has held well and which looks higher. Mack Truck and Whl. act well. Radio had its big decline before the rest of the market, and is now showing strength. Central Leather Preferred has also held well in the weakness. Union Pacific is another stock which acts better. Despite heavy selling in the rails, we still think that their earnings this year will be very favorable, and that these with merger possibilities will result in higher prices for these issues, which we have recommended.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

Brokers' Opinions.

NEW YORK, March 31—Josephthal & Co.:—"Oils look cheap and any further weakness they ought to be worth while picking up."

Hutton & Co.:—"In two of the leading issues we have reason to think that the bulk of stock came from people who have been unsuccessfully working on the bull side of the market. If there is more such liquidation this week the market could go considerably lower before it would attain position with sound values positively asserting themselves.

Hornblower:—"The chief points are the level of prices, the fact that this is inviting buying of a strong nature in certain directions and the factor of seasonal pick-up in business which follows winter dullness and recession."

PERFORMERS AT ST. PETER'S WIN PRAISE

Local Players Present "Pilate's Daughter" to Capacity House.

The Lenten drama Pilate's Daughter was successfully staged last evening by St. Peter's amateurs, when a capacity audience filled the hall and followed with close interest the unfolding of the intensely appealing story. Pilate's Daughter was given in other seasons and proved highly successful. Last evening the appreciation was great and the players showed marked proficiency in their parts. The drama was staged under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Richey.

Those Taking Part.

The parts were taken as follows: Claudia Procles, wife of Pontius Pilate, Mary Sharkey; Claudia, Pilate's daughter (first act), Maureen O'Regan; Claudia, Pilate's Daughter (Acts 2, 3, 4 and 5, 10 years later), Emma Conlogue; Livia and Maxima (Roman ladies), Alice Dever and Irene O'Connor; Leah and Rebecca (servants of the house of Pilate), Mrs. S. J. Richey and Lydia McCluskey; Iris, Appia and Lygia (other servants), Dorothy Hansen, Gertrude Ryan and Margaret Creary; Ghost 1, Isabella Gormley; Ghost 2, Josephine Gosnell; Ghost 3, Katherine Ryan; Afra, a Roman sorceress, Genevieve Dever; Rubia, Servia and Stella (vestal virgins), Katherine Ryan, Josephine Gosnell and Beatrice Gosnell; Faustine, Nemis and Syra (Christian women), Isabelle Gormley, Gertrude Ryan and Evelyn George; child restored to life, Constance Carr; Agrippina, wife of Tiberius Caesar; Empress of Rome, Movina Sadovsky; Rufilla, a slave to the Empress, Margaret Creary; pages, Jean Conlogue, Rita Keenan.

Roman dancers: — Katherine McBriarty, Evelyn McBride, Mildred Lannen, Helen Corkery, Dorothy Hansen, Elisabeth Mullally, Edith Kiervin, Gwynne Hansen, Mary Conlogue, Blanche Feeney, Genevieve Lannen, Madeline Sullivan.

Other vestals: — Winnifred Glenn, Margaret McIlhenny, Edna Dever, Emily Maxwell.

Other Christians:—Lillian Howard, Vera McFadden, Kathleen McCann, Helen Sharkey, Rita Hurley, Margaret Ryan, Zita Creary, Mary McCormick, Gertrude Murphy, Helen Grannan, Mary O'Connor, Josephine Savage, Theresa McQuinn, Madeline Rolston.

Roman ladies—Evelyn George, Kathleen McCann, Helen Sharkey, Zita Creary, Madeline Rolston, Theresa McQuinn.

The Scenes.

The first act showed an apartment in Pilate's house overlooking Jerusalem. The second act represented midnight in the woods on the Alban Hills near Rome, while the Temple of Vesta, with its perpetual fire, was shown in the third act, and in the fourth was portrayed the Mamertine Prison. The last act represented the Court of the Empress Agrippina.

The music was supplied by the Liguorian ladies' orchestra. The production was highly creditable to all who had to do with it. The Lenten drama will be presented again on April 2, 6 and 7.

PRICE OF PLEASURE CARRIES APPEAL

Virginia Valli and Norma Kerry Co-stars in Feature at Queen Square.

"The Price of Pleasure," one of the outstanding Jewel productions made by Universal Pictures Corporation in its 1924-25 release schedule, was shown at the Queen Square Theatre last night. Virginia Valli and Norman Kerry are co-starred in the picture which has a strong appeal to all classes of motion picture spectators.

Miss Valli plays the part of a shop girl struggling for existence, who never has had any real pleasure. Kerry has the part of the son of a millionaire family of high social position, and this story begins when, clad in the garb of a mechanic, he overhears the shop girl bewailing her fate. He decides that she shall have her wish. But their happiness comes to an abrupt end when his mother and sister return from abroad and find him married to a woman they cannot receive as a member of the family.

Louise Fazenda and T. Roy Barnes have the comedy role of the picture. Others who have important parts are Kate Lester, George Fawcett, James O. Barrows and Marie Astaire.

Some of the scenes were made in one of the big department stores in Los Angeles, the players taking the part of clerks and waiting on real customers, who, however, did not know that they were being filmed. This picture will have its final showings tonight.

Illustration shows main stop valve in plant of Victor Talking Machine Company of Canada, Limited, Montreal. Here, dependability is essential, so naturally every valve has the name Jenkins and the Diamond Trade Mark cast on the body.

Closed Tight!

A turn to the right, and a genuine Jenkins Valve is positively seated. The steam is shut off as completely as water is stopped by a perfect-fitting faucet.

If valves are to be truly dependable they must be made for maximum service. The surest guarantee of valve service is the name "JENKINS" in the "Diamond." This trade mark is as valuable on your house radiator valves as it is on a valve releasing or holding back 150 lbs. of steam pressure in a boiler room.

Jenkins Valves are the product of skilled workmanship applied to superior bronze, steel or iron. They are made in all types and sizes, to give long, trouble-proof service. They are the standard of valve quality for the whole world. Obtainable everywhere.

Communists Quit Hunger Strike

HAMBURG, March 31.—After fasting for two weeks, seventy-two Communists serving time for complicity in last year's "putsch" here, notified the prison warden today that they were again ready to take their share of the prison fare.

The hunger strike had given rise to a serious discussion in the Hamburg City Council when the news came that the strikers had decided to resume eating. Three of them were so weak from exhaustion that they had to be removed to the prison hospital.

"The Beloved Brute," which was shown at the Gaiety Theatre, Monday, is an exciting tale of a hard-fisted fighting brute and his regeneration, which is effected, not by evangelistic workers making emotional appeals, but by sheer strength of another rugged fighting man, whose fists prove even harder than "The Brute's" own. There is a girl in the story, too, and it is for love of her that the two giants match their strength.

Marguerite de la Motte, as the captivating heroine, furnishes in her personality a very logical reason why two brawny, red-blooded men should half-strangle each other. Victor McLaglen, in the title role, gives a performance, which according to all accounts, should give him a permanent high place in the admiration of picturegoers. And everybody knows, of course, what a real he-man, "Bill" Russell, who tames "The Brute," is.

Tonight will be the last chance to see "The Beloved Brute."
