G.B.U. MEANS SEPARATION.

A Leading English Statesman Delivers His Opinion.

Below is a letter from John Bright, said to have been written by him to the editor of The Mail. The letter is as follows:

DEAR SIR: I do not know what is intended by a Commercial Union between Canada and the United States. If you mean that no tariff should exist between the two countries, such a condition would be greatly to their mutual advantage; but if it is proposed to extend the States tariff to Canada as respects imports into Canada, then such a change would be hostile to England, and if the present Canadian tariff were maintained for imports other than from the States, England would be at a great disadvantage in her trade with Canada. I always believed that the imposition of high protective duties as against English manufactures was and is the first in the direction of a separation of Canada from England, and if goods from the States are to be admitted into Canada free of duties, or at lower duties than from England, another and more serious step would be taken in the direction of separation. If the States and Canada could adopt free trade or a tariff with low duties, following the example of England, the example of the English-speaking nations would have a great effect upon other nations and would influence the world in favor of peace. The great enemies of mankind are war and the tariff. War and its expenditure and waste give an excuse for tariffs or render them necessary, and tariffs separate nations and make war more probable and more frequent. It is a deplorable thing that, in your great and free continent, the only thing not free is the industry of your people, and that you in this respect follow the pernicious example of the old and blind nations of Europe. England sets a grand example, and it is always a grief to me that her children in other lands and on your continent do not admire and follow it. JOHN BRIGHT.

London, July 25, 1887.

A Sure Thing.

—There are very few things in this life of which we may be absolutely certain, but this is one of them: that Dr. Fowler's 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets' have no equal as a cathartic in derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. They are very small and their action is pleasant. Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. 25 cents a vial. All druggists.

The Sunday Street Car Question.

Editor World: In your issue of July 4 is a letter signed N.B.C., taking me to task for saying this city had been run by Puritans long enough. Having been out of town I was unable to answer before this. N.B.C. supposes I would desire pool rooms and theatres open on Sunday. Now I made no mention of such things and nothing is farther from my wish. They are amusements, whilst Sunday street cars are a necessity apparent to any one not blinded by prejudice. He asks am I aware that I am advocating the abolition of the only day of rest of the 350 employees of the Toronto Street Railway. This is the stumbling block of many. Not one of those men would be required to work a single hour except of his own free will. Other outsiders would be given a chance to earn something. This I have from an official source. Furthermore we only want a few cars on the principal routes, not such a service as on week days. If there are any people who think they cannot conscientiously ride on Sunday, why, let them walk and not interfere with those of more advanced ideas. Trusting that this town may yet be placed by the popular vote upon an equal with her sisters of the United States upon this question, I remain, yours, etc., J. M. McF., JR.

Are You Going to Travel?

—Don't forget a supply of that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency. 246

It Does Not.

Editor World: I notice in The World of July 21 a paragraph from R. L. Lane, Colonel 5th A.A.G., in reference to the pardon received by the Queen and as to its extension. You would oblige by stating whether this pardon extends to deserters from the Mounted Police in the Northwest. SUBSCRIBER.

Oakville, July 25.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which by dosing will cell you at 3 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. 136

The Drummer's Mistake.

From Pretzel's Weekly.

Bob Netcash is a New York drummer, who picks up a great deal of trade in the smaller towns and villages along his route, and he makes it a point to stop at the house of his customers over night where he can and ingratiate himself into the good graces of the lady members of the families.

He says their influence on sales is 50 per cent.

One rainy night he was stopping at a country storekeeper's house in Stillburgh, Pa., and entertaining the family with laughable anecdotes of the sights and scenes he had met on the road.

"Speaking of odd habits," he said, "that some people practice while traveling, reminds me of an old country dame from down east somewhere, who rode on the day train in the same section of a Pullman car with me about two weeks ago, and she just kept stuffing herself with gingerbread all the way from Boston to New York without stopping."

"And didn't offer you any?" ejaculated one of the storekeeper's rosy-cheeked daughters.

"Good heavens, no! What a prodigious suggestion!—that would have been adding insult to injury."

"Young man," spoke up an old lady in the corner by the fire, as she gazed over the top of her glasses at Bob, "I have been trying to place you since you came into the house. Now I know you, for I am the 'old country dame' who was stuffing herself with gingerbread all the way from Boston to New York without stopping."

Now Bob always refuses the storekeeper's pressing invitation to come up to the house and have a chat with "the old dame."

A Good Act.

—As a cure for all summer complaints I highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, having often used it with best results. I have often been thanked for recommending it." William Haw, Ancaster, Ont. 246

A Source of Danger.

—The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the inability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is too often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 246

A Tip to the Public.

—When you go to buy dry goods go to a dry goods store. When you go to buy a pair of boots go to a boot and shoe store. When you go to leave your order for a good fitting suit certainly go to tailors who understand that branch of business. Reason teaches that no man can be perfect in many trades. Gibson & Coulter are practical tailors. They keep a full assortment of woolens to select from; their prices are moderate, and their fit, style and workmanship are right. You will find them at 249 Yonge-street, and only there. Call and see them. 246

Up Aloft.

—The new and latest picture and in novel style is to be had at Shannessy & Hall's, 293 Yonge-street, the popular photo gallery. Sailors' suits on hand, free for children. 224

—Not a particle of calomel, nor any other deleterious substance, enters into the composition of Ayer's Pills. On the contrary, this medicine is carefully compounded from the active properties of purely vegetable substances. Try it.

—If you wish to restore the bloom of your wasted cheek, and so improve your health that plumpness and strength will succeed emaciation and debility, purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy will benefit you more surely and speedily than any other.

Don't fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for your children while teething. It has been used by millions of mothers during the last forty years for their children. Cures wind colic, diarrhœa. Be sure and get Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. 25c a bottle. 135

Bright and Early.

From The Boston Courier.

Ere the curtains of night are uprolled
Or the hilltops are gleaming with gold,
Or the purple and red
In the East are displayed,
Or the roses their petals unfold.

Ere the sons of Italia jump
From bed to go down to the dump,
The ashes to rake,
The milkman's awake,
And busily working the pump.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive machine is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, rough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember: No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents. 246

—The Accident Insurance Company of North America is represented by Maitland & Jones, who are also agents for the British fire companies, the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society of England and the Scottish Union and National Insurance Company of Edinburgh. Insurers should call on them at their office, Equity Chambers, entrance Victoria st., before going elsewhere. 246

Camping Supplies.

Canned meats in chicken, turkey, ducks, tongue, boneless pig's feet, luncheon meat, roast beef, cooked corn beef and chipped dried beef. Potted meats in great variety. Canned soups, chicken, stock, turtle, ox tail, mulligatawny and pea. Tin mackerel in mustard and tomato sauce. Vin asparagus, truffles, mushrooms, French peas, condensed milk, prepared coffee and milk, chocolate and milk, and cocoa and milk. Lime fruit juice, and lemon fruit for lemonades and all goods requisite for camping parties. MARA & CO., 230 Queen-street west. 246

After Long Years.

—I was troubled with liver complaint for a number of years, finding no cure. I tried B. B. B. It took four bottles, and am perfectly cured, strong and hearty." Mrs. Maria Askett, Alma, Ont. 246

Great Gain.

—I used a great deal of doctor's medicine for kidney complaint during five years, was getting worse all the time until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles, gained in weight from 130 to 158 lbs. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to be a good medicine." Thus testifies John Walton of Springfield, N.B. 246

Photography.

—Everyone nowadays possesses a photo, if not of themselves, of their friends. The art has reached almost perfection, and specially may this be said of the first-class production of M. Lemaitre, 324 Yonge-street. A visit to his studio will well repay the exertion, even during the dog days. All who desire a photograph in really high class style and finish should patronize Mr. Lemaitre, whose reputation is so well known. 36

The Big Nine.

—The nine great charities of Toronto are the House of Industry, the Boys' Home, Girls' Home, House of Providence, Orphans' Home, Sick Children's Hospital, St. Nicholas Boys' Home, Home for Incurables and the Infants' Home. Help your favorite by mailing your Moore's nickled wrappers. Five thousand dollars for division August 1. 513tf

In Good Repute.

—James McIntosh, writing from Kinsale, says: B.B.B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver, and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 246

She Went.

—Biddy, me darlint, it's a small favor I would ask ye. Go to McDowell's music store, 423 Queen-street west, and get that song, "Why Paddy is Always Poor." Sure its worth hard t' see how long it has 20 years an' I'm poor yet and I want to know the rayson why. You'll find it there for he keeps all the new music. Ex blus the price of his organs, Biddy. 26x

BEAUTIFUL PLACE OF REST

How It Came to Me.

I dream in the hush of a summer night
Such dreams as came to my youth,
When never a vision, dark or bright,
Brought another Queen than Truth.
On banks of ferns we wandered far
And knelt among the mosses—
Gone was the sorrow and the scar.
Life's trivial frets and losses.

Just as I pass now, in my sleep,
Those olden shoals and shallows
Which in my memory slumber deep,
And still life's spring-time hallows,
Anxiety and trouble flee
Grief throws away its shadows.
I date all joys that come to me
From the day I first met Walker.

His sofa-bed is where I rest,
One of the parlor's fixtures,
Where all is new—the very best
Of carpets, curtains, pictures.
Our home's the envy of the town.
You ask how came I by it?
My purse was empty, salary down—
Poor—well I don't deny it.

I had one hope, one friend to seek,
And you know what that meant,
I bought from Walker by the week,
That generous plan—instalment.
I never missed a dollar spent
Like this—I got all that we needed.
Of all my life this one is the best
Is where I most succeeded.

So it will be with any man or woman who puts in Walker's hands each week a sum to pay for beautiful household articles—Furniture, Carpets, Dishes, Pictures, Baby Carriages, Lace Curtains and Oil Stoves. No need to go away anywhere. Home is good enough if furnished at
