How He Got His Name

Many ministers could, from personal experience, tell of strange names bestowed upon infants at their baptism, but few could equal the following story recently told by the Bishop of Sodo, and Man A mother who was on the lookout for a good name for her child saw on the door of a building the word, "Nosmo." It attracted her, and she decided that she would use it. Sometime later, passing the same building, she saw the name "King on another door. She thought the two would sound well together and so the boy was baptized "Nosmo King Smith." On her way home from the church where the baptism had taken place she passed the building again. The two doors on which she had seen the names were now closed together and what she read was not "Nosmo King" but "No Smoking."

Postal Air Service.

More than 10,000,000 letters were carried by the post office air mail service in the third quarter of 1921, Assistant Postmaster General Shaughnessy told the members of the Society of Automotive Engineers at one of its recent meetings on commercial aviation. During that period the air mail carriers covered 391,000 miles, 97 per cent of these scheduled trips were completed on time and all of the regular trips were made without injuries. The cost of operation, which was $8 per ton mile in 1920, was reduced in 1921 to $6 per ton mile, and with the improved design of machine now being put in use by the Post Office department, the cost for the coming year is expected to be reduced to $2.60.

To Teach Hawaiian Youth.

Alarmed at the trend of the youth of Hawaii away from agriculture and other productive pursuits and into non-productive clerical work, the American Legion, department of Hawaii, is initiating a territory-wide movement looking toward the establishment in all schools of industrial, agricultural and manual training.

Statistics for the past few years show that a heavy majority of the boys and girls attending the territorial public schools," particularly those of Hawaiian and Oriental blood, are taking up so-called commercial courses, fitting them only for clerical work.

Literary Tidbits.

From a British Book—"She was a good cook, as cooks go—and as cooks go she went."

One noticeable thing about our fiction characters is that they don't spend much time earning a living.

No, Roger, "The Triumph of the Egg," though it is a story, does not relate how the egg reached its pecuniary eminence.

From Princess Bibesco's book, "I Have Only Myself to Blame," we call this [illegible] Sower. When he was [illegible] he stammered. He didn't know that a stammer is the divine eloquence of love."
