WORK LAID OUT FOR MR. TAFT

Cuban Insurgents Are Not Yet Ready to Enter Into Negotiations.

Havana, Sept. 18.—Notwithstanding some appearance of activity, no decisive progress was made today in the peace negotiations.

Insurgents in the field are not willing to enter in negotiations until all the conspiracy prisoners shall have been released.

While it is possible that those most highly responsible may reach a basis of agreement in time to present it to Secretary of War Taft tomorrow, there is nothing to show that such a basis has been reached as yet, while there is every evidence that if it has been reached, it will not be accepted by the insurgent following.

Americans from the Isle of Pines are complaining that officials of the courts of the Isle of Pines are searching the homes of all Americans for firearms, and seizing all arms which may be found. The Americans there are wrathful over the action of these officials, and especially so as the conduct of some of the natives lately had caused them to consider the necessity of having firearms within reach. They will appeal to Minister Morgan and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon with a request that a United States warship be sent there.

The United States cruiser Des Moines, with Secretary of War Taft and party on board, is expected to arrive here Wednesday morning, and the party will land immediately and go to Minister Morgan's house at Marianao, where they will make their headquarters.

The insurgents could occupy Marianao with ease.

City Clerk Baker has received a letter from P. H. Bartlett, solicitor, giving notice that an action is to be started against the city on behalf of Mrs. Sarah Colcott, of Dufferin avenue.

Mrs. Colcott claims that while she was walking along the south side of Dundas street, a short distance east of Richmond, she fell, owing to a defect in the sidewalk, receiving injuries to her arm and wrist.

The matter has been referred to the city engineer, and it will later be brought before the board of works. If the city does not compensate Mrs. Colcott an action will be brought.

METHODISTS FOR UNION PRINCIPLE

Conference Adopts Resolution —Warm Reception to Presbyterians.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—Unless something unlooked for happens, the Methodist General Conference is, by a resolution passed tonight, committed to the principle of church union. After hearing addresses by the Presbyterian delegates, appreciation was expressed in a resolution in which it was hoped that organic and complete union may become an accomplished fact. Addresses breathing the spirit of brotherhood and hope for union had preceded this, delivered by Principal Scrimger, of Montreal Presbyterian College, and Mr. Justice Archibald, and the conference entered into the spirit engendered as though it were a foregone conclusion. Another important step on the subject today was the modification of the report on church union by the committee to whom it had been referred back. The change provides that in the event of the Baptists and Anglicans not responding promptly to the suggestions for entering the union, the present negotiations with Presbyterians and Congregationalists shall not be delayed. This amendment is regarded as an answer to the opponents who hoped to delay or render the union impossible by suggesting something which was impossible of realization. A variety of other matters came before the conference today, one of which was a proposal to embrace the Evangelical Association of Canada (German Methodists) in the contemplated union, but it was thought better not to embarrass the present scheme by further ex parte invitations. Notice was given of a resolution to appoint a commission to investigate the question of ministers' salaries, with a view to securing general increases. The address of Rev. Dr. Kelley, of New York, tonight, representing the M. E. Church, was a notable contribution to the demonstrations in fraternitly which have taken place since the conference opened.

Four stalwart representatives of the Presbyterian Church were introduced at the evening meeting—Rev. Principal Scrimger, of Montreal Theological College; Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell, Rev. Robert Scott and Mr. Justice Archibald. Principal Scrimger gave a splendid address.

Rev. Dr. Sparling, of Winnipeg, moved the resolution of appreciation, which, after referring to the increased spirit of amity between the two denominations, said: "If consequently the time comes, as we sincerely trust it may, when organic and complete union becomes an accomplished fact, that union will simply represent the natural culmination of the spontaneous and general advance in comradeship and sympathy."

Mr. Alex. Mills, Toronto, in seconding the resolution, said there was a time when the two denominations assailed one another on the question of doctrine. "When two churches have a bone of contention you may be sure the devil has the meat," he said, amid applause.

The resolution was enthusiastically carried, the conference rising to their feet.

BIG VAUDEVILLE BILL

Della Fox to Head Show at Grand Friday and Saturday.

Della Fox, the favorite comic opera star, will be at the Grand in vaudeville on Friday and Saturday nights, with special matinee each afternoon. This announcement in itself is enough to warrant the assertion that this bill is going to be much out of the ordinary. Miss Fox is now finishing an engagement in Toledo, Ohio, where she is experiencing great success, and comes here with many new things for the London public.

While Della Fox is heralded as the leader on the list, there are other stars to be seen—Lee Hawkins, the man who has tickled many an audience by his funny minstrel acts; Miss Charlotte townsend, Miss Bessie Johnson, Homer Durand, Frederick Kerby and others will produce the one-act playlet, "The Marble Arch."

Walter and Prouty, travesty artists, are entertainers, who never fail to make good with any audience. Dierick brothers, in hand balancing, execute some wonderfully difficult feats. Shorty and Lillian De Witt, comedy artists, are clever ones, who touch the funny side of everyone's nature. John Le Clair will do a stunt in novelty juggling, and the vitagraph will have some new pictures.

The management of the Grand Opera House announce for Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 24 and 24, that sterling melodramatic comedy drama success, "Out in Idaho." This melodrama is adapted from Berte Harte's famous western stories by Mr. H. Welb Chamberlain, the brilliant young author-actor. It is a play of western life and scenes, and every detail is absolutely natural and true to the time and characters it represents—a play of the days when every man went armed and was forced to take the law into his own hands to protect life and property. It teems with sensational surprises, and is a play that will never be effaced from the memory. Sale of seats opens Friday morning.

Miss Virginia Harned, under the management of the Shuberts, will appear at the Grand Opera House Tuesday, Oct. 2, in "The Love Letter," Victorien Sardou's comedy creation.

—The Imperial Male Quartet, of this city, will not leave for its western trip until the first week in October, having several engagements to fill in and around London. The quartet is booked for the season by the Lyceum Bureau of Chicago.

Mr. T. J. Hammill, of Jacksonville, Fla., has returned home after a short visit with his brother-in-law, Mr. W. H. Phelps.

Mrs. O. J. and Miss Nellie Phelps, of St. Catharines, and Miss Nellie Pentland, of Cleveland, returned home after a brief visit with Mrs. W. H. Phelps, King street.

SCARED NOBLES DESERT RUSSIA

Trepoff's End Sends a Shiver Over Royalists Throughout the Country.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.—The grand dukes are in a panic. The death of Gen. Trepoff, which is now generally believed to have been due to poison, has put the entire royal family in such a state of alarm that the members of it are literally falling over each other getting out of this city. Ten grand dukes left at midnight for the west and more are preparing to go. Most of them will settle down in Paris for a time at least.

Nor is the panic confined by any means to the royal family. Dozens of the reactionary clique in the palace in Peterhof are packing up for trips abroad. They are evidently prepared for a long exile, as they are putting their estates in the hands of permanent agents and are sending their valuables ahead of them. Jewels and plate in great quantities are going by every train to the other capitals of Europe. Much money is said to have been withdrawn from the banks here and invested in outside securities. It is evident that the open boasts of the Terrorists that they caused the death of Trepoff are having their effect.

This feeling of terror was added to when Revolutionists tried in Warsaw to assassinate Gen. Dorszewski, president of the court-martial board.

Aside from the belief that Trepoff was killed by Revolutionists, the mere fact of his death has caused shivers to run up and down the spines of the grand dukes and the reactionaries. Trepoff was recognized as the strong man of Russia, and even his enemies respected his courage and iron will. Now that he is gone, there seems to be no one in the empire to fill his place.

There is a consequent feeling of helplessness on the part of the court clique. Trepoff's very name was a bulwark of strength to the royal group during the dark days of the recent outbreak. It was to him more than anyone else that the Czar looked to preserve order, and the situation would have been infinitely worse but for his prompt action. His reputation for cruelty and his fearlessness in using the troops inspired a feeling of fear among the Revolutionists that prevented them often from carrying out their plans. They knew that if detected Trepoff would wreak a quick and awful vengeance. Now that his influence is no longer felt it is believed that there will soon be a recurrence of the worst troubles. This belief is no doubt largely responsible for the general exodus of the big wigs of the court.

To make the situation still more alarming, the Terrorists are declaring that they will be ready in a few days to start a new series of assassinations and that some of the most prominent men of the empire will be among the first victims. They are boasting, too, of the way in which Trepoff was disposed of. They ridicule the statements of the attending physicians that the general died a natural death.

One of them pointed out today that they announced some time ago that when the time came for Tepoff's death he would meet a violent end, but that he would die in his bed. This firmly fixes in the public mind the belief that Trepoff was assassinated.

A feeling of uneasiness has been caused here by a protest from Germany relative to the killing of Herr Bush, a wealthy subject of Kaiser Wilhelm, who was murdered by agents of the Revolutionists in Riga. There are thousands of German citizens in that section of the empire and the insecurity of life and property has become so notorious there that the German foreign office has called atention to it in a sharp note. The attention of Russia is directed to the great duration of the troubles and the Czar is asked to take steps to end it. This is, of course, a hint that the Kaiser may have to step in.

Not only in Riga, but throughout the Baltic Provinces, there is a state of anarchy.

DONAHUE—MURRAY

Donahue, senior judge Renfrew County. The ceremony was performed by Right Rev. N. Z. Lorrain, Bishop of Pembroke, assisted by M. J. Brady, of Wallaceburg, Ont.

GOES TO ST. THOMAS

Suit for $5,000 Damages Against Druggist Duncombe Is Transferred.

The case of Antoine vs. Duncombe will not be heard at the Middlesex fall assizes by Mr. Justice Mabee.

The action was brought by the widow of an Indian living at Oneida to recover $5,000 damages for the death of her husband and son, which was due, it is alleged, to drinking a quantity of "squirrel" whisky, said to have been procured at the defendant's drug store at St. Thomas. The case was called this morning, when Mr. A. G. Chisholm, for the plaintiff, asked to be allowed to amend the pleadings. This was granted, and the case was ordered to be tried at St. Thomas at the next sitting of the high court.

An action for $5,000 damages against the city of London occupied the attention of the court the greater portion of today. The plaintiff is Mrs. Jane Kew, who claims the damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of a defective sidewalk on Dundas street east.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thomas, of Arkona, were guests recently at Dr. C. W. Baker's, "Oakhurst," Delaware.

TWO AUTO SCORCHERS HURT

Ninety Horse Power Machine Hits Telegraph Pole.

New York, Sept. 19.—George Robertson and his mechanician, Arthur Warren, were seriously injured in an automobile accident near Mineola, Long Island, today while on a practice spin for the Vanderbilt cup race. Robertson was steering his 90-horsepower car over the Vanderbilt course, when at the sharpest turn on the course, the car swerved wide, struck a telegraph pole, and hurled its occupants out with terrific force. Mr. Robertson sustained a broken collar bone and his mechanician two broken ribs. Both were rendered unconscious. Just behind Robertson was Elliot F. Shepard, speeding in his machine. He summoned an ambulance from a hospital at Mineola, and the injured men were removed to that institution. Robertson's racing car is believed to be too badly damaged to take part in the race.

SLAPPED HIS FACE

Crowd Cheers as New York Girl Punished a Masher.

New York, Sept. 18.—Miss Alice Mildred Clancey, 19 years old, daughter of a wealthy real estate dealer of No. 807 East One Hundred and Forty-seventh street, slapped the face of a man who insulted her yesterday. She stamped on his hat as well, while a great crowd cheered her.

Miss Clancey was walking on One Hundred and Forty-ninth street toward the subway station, when a well-dressed young man walked up to her, and said:

"Hello, little girl. Surely I have met you somewhere before."

"I am sure you haven't," said Miss Clancey coldly, and quickened her pace.

"Well, let's get introduced," persisted the man, who stretched out a hand familiarly to her shoulder.

What happened then came so quickly that nobody could keep track. The offended young woman slapped the young man's face with one hand, knocked his hat off with the other, repeated the slap, doubled up the fist of the other hand and sent it to the jaw, and then, running to the high hat, which lay upon the sidewalk, ground it to shreds under the heels of her dainty boots.

A big crowd that had collected cheered vociferously for the girl who resented insults so effectively. The "masher" took to his heels, with hundreds howling derisively. He escaped in another crowd at the subway entrance, while the throng returned to find Miss Clancey half-fainting and hysterical in the street.

"I have been annoyed by mashers many times before," said the girl afterwards, "but this is the first time I have ever dared to give them their just deserts. When I am insulted again upon the street, the man who insults me will have even more cause to regret his effrontery. Girls ought to be allowed to carry guns."

The value of the coal produced was $17,685,615; asbestos, $1,486,359; petroleum, $849,687; cement, $1,924,000; building material, including, brick, stone, lime, etc., $6,695,000.

A GOLDEN SHIP.

New York, Sept. 19. — The Cunard steamer Carmania, which arrived in port today, may well be called a golden ship. In the strong boxes of the steamer are shipments of gold aggregating $10,000,000. This gold was imported by banks and bankers because of the recent money stringency here.

ITS POWER GROWS WITH AGE.—How many medicines loudly blazoned as panaceas for all human ills have come and gone since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was first put upon the market? Yet it remains, doing more good to humanity than many a preparation more highly vaunted and extending its virtues wider and in a larger circle every year. It is the medicine of the masses.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becher, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Sept. 19.—Noon.—At the opening the Reading crowd was full of buyers, and it looked for awhile as if it might have another sensational advance like yesterday. The upward movement was checked by heavy selling on the part of a house closely identified with a certain large operator who is known to be in close business relations with Mr. Harriman. The rest of the list became reactionary and was at time weak. No encouragement was received from the money market, call loans being in request at 7 per cent. During the first three days of this week there have been indications of selling by certain large interests, and the street is apprehensive lest stocks have passed into weaker hands and that all alleviation to the money may be indefinitely postponed, a state of affairs which would seem to indicate further heavy liquidation. Sales to noon, 732,000.
