LONDON GOSSIP.

HOW LORD SALISBURY'S SPEECH IS REGARDED BY POLITICIANS.

Mr. Gladstone Regaining Health at Lowestoft, but Cannot Make Speeches—War Feeling Not Very Strong Just Now.

LONDON, July 18.—Lord Salisbury made a speech Wednesday night which has since occupied the attention of politicians to the exclusion of other topics. It is probable that it was meant to be a "feeler," and the general opinion is that it indicates the policy resolved upon by the government in the hope of distracting the attention of electors from the home rule question at the general election. That policy is evidently the bone of electoral and administrative reform, including the concession of parliamentary suffrage to women.

The Tories are immensely delighted at the premier's emphatic declaration that this Parliament shall run its full legal lease, and hope that the next session will be devoted to a reform bill, by means of which it would be quite possible to so rearrange the electoral areas as to make secure many Tory and Liberal-Unionist seats, which under the existing arrangement must certainly be lost. The scheme is a bold one, and will require perfect party discipline and hard work to carry it through, but the Tory leaders are confident that the thing can be done if the entire session be devoted to it, and if Lord Hartington and his followers give it their support. The scheme will meet persistent and determined resistance from the Liberals, who deny the right of any moribund government to bring in any reform bill, and it is by no means improbable that the next session will be of the liveliest character.

The bishops have unexpectedly blessed the free education bill, hereby accelerating its passage through the House of Lords, and insuring its enactment this session.

Mr. Gladstone is back again in Lowestoft and is fast regaining his normal health. A Liberal victory in Wisbech will, doubtless, complete the cure. Everything is in favor of the Tory candidate, but the Liberals are working hard and are full of confidence. Mr. Gladstone is dangerously near the constituency, but, having promised his medical advisers that he would not speak in public until they give him permission, he has had to content himself with writing a manifesto in the form of a cheery letter to the Liberal candidate.

The defeat of the French government in the Chamber Thursday, although promptly retrieved yesterday, has somewhat scared Europe, but the customary signs of peace have been unusally abundant this week. Austria, for instance has decided to put her fleet into a condition which will enable it to make a respectable appearance in the Mediterranean in the event of a war, and the peace footing of the French army has been increased by 10,000 men. But it is in Russia that peaceful indications have been most striking and numerous. The Vienna correspondent of the Standard today telegraphs some specimens. Every day, he says brings fresh intelligence of what he describes erroneously as warlike preparations by Russia. The number of the cadre battalions of the reserve infantry garrison near the Austrian frontier has been transformed into as many regiments by the simple process of doubling their number up to 1888. This step was only intended to be taken after the order had been given to mobilize, and, as it is being steadily carried on in all the western districts, the military writer in the Pester Lloyd considers it the beginning of a mobilization.

The writer says emphatically that the advantage of quicker mobilization hitherto enjoyed by Austria has disappeared, if, indeed, that country is not actually behindhand, its mobilization requiring three weeks, whereas Russia's will be reduced to a fortnight as soon as all the lines now being constructed are finished. The German military writers also have their eyes upon Russian military movements, and are encouraging counter preparations, which, it is said, the peaceful young Kaiser actually authorized before starting upon his Norwegian trip last Tuesday. Following the now customary argument, it is that the peace of Europe was never more assured than now. The argument is strengthened by the interesting announcement that Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has become extremely fat, and, in consequence has been ordered a course of mountain climbing. During his recent stay at Carlsbad the prince drank a prodigious quantity of the water and walked six hours daily without reducing his tonnage. People unacquainted with current American politics contend that a fat man cannot be ambitious, and they expect that Ferdinand's adipose tissue will occupy his mind for a long time to come, to the exclusion of thoughts about the extension of territory and other matters irritating to the mighty ruler of Russia.

The police do not take any stock in the theory that George Parker, the New York sporting man who was found dead in his bed with a bullet through his heart Thursday morning, was murdered, but pronounce the case a simple one of suicide. This theory is borne out by the statement of Mrs. Hamilton, his former mistress, to whom he wrote to Paris on Monday that if she did not return to him in London he would kill himself. She arrived the evening of the day his body was found. An inquest will be held Monday.

Johann Straus has arranged with Randolph Aronson for the composition of an operetta in the style of the "Merry War," destined for the Casino, where Carl Zellers' new operetta "Der Vogelhandler," played with enormous success throughout Germany and Austria, is to inaugurate the fall season. Miss Agnes Huntington has entered into a contract with Aronson for the production in America of Planquette's operetta, "Capt. Therese," with which in October she will begin her American tour.

A SHIP ON FIRE.

THE BARQUE OLIVE MOUNT GOES UP IN FLAMES NEAR SCITUATE.

All the Crew are Rescued but the Mate, who Belongs to St. John—The Olive Mount was a Halifax Vessel.

BOSTON JULY 20.—The British barque Olive Mount, Capt. Foley, which sailed for Nantasket roads yesterday afternoon bound for Sapeio, Ga., in ballast returned to this city this morning in tow of the tug William Sprague. Capt. Taylor of the Sprague, reports that on Sunday evening he saw a blaze a long distance to the eastward. He immediately started for the scene reaching the burning object, which was 25 miles east of Scituate at 9 o'clock. It proved to be the Olive Mount. The crew had abandoned her and she was completely enveloped in flames forward. Immediately the fire pumps were got in readiness and as soon as the tug reached the burning vessel a stream was directed on the flames and after working incessantly for two and a half hours the fire was extinguished.

The vessel's damage is estimated at $2000.

The crew of the Olive Mount were picked by the schooner Ida L. Hall from Port Johnson with coal and brought to this city. The second mate was drowned by upsetting of a load as he was about to be picked up.

Olive Mount is bark of 940 tons, built 1874, at Maitland, N. S., hails from Halifax, N. S., and is owned by Whitford and Palmer of that city.

The second mate belonged to St. John and his name was Crowley.

THE FREE TRADE SYSTEM.

Cobden Club Opposes Taxing Imports to Favor English Colonies.

LONDON, July 18.—The Cobden Club at a meeting last night adopted a report which declares that, "If it had not been suggested by some home protectionist, it is not likely that any colonist would have been so unreasonable as to propose that we should, while admitting colonial goods free of duty, tax similar commodities imported from foreign countries.

"While the president of the board of trade in the government of Lord Salisbury, delivers an unanswerable refutation of the government statement that it is a case for fiscal federation, as presented by the United Trade League, our free trade system does not appear to be greatly endangered.

"But we must be on our guard, as these proposals are strongly urged by colonists, as well as by the league.

"Protectionism in protectionist countries has not attained the height at which it stood at the time of Cobden. Though some advance was made a quarter of a century ago in the direction of free trade it has been lost.

"The interests of employers and land owners are powerful and governments find it comparatively easy to raise enormous revenues by collusion with the interests which profit by protection."

BY LAND AND SEA.

The Chilian Insurgents Expect to take Coquimbo.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

NEW YORK, July 20.—A despatch from Coquimbo, Chili, dated yesterday says that four vessels of the insurgent fleet arrived outside Coquimbo Bay Sunday morning and an attack on the town is momentarily expected. A great many persons are seeking safety in flight. The streets are filled with soldiers in motion. Every native who can carry firearms is being pressed into government service. It is believed that the insurgent plan is to attack Coquimbo both by land and sea and they hope to force the government troops from this all important seaport.

THE OTTAWA ENQUIRY.

MOTIONS IN REGARD TO VOUCHERS—MORE EVIDENCE TAKEN.

The I. C. R. Losses Referred to—Forest Ranger Examined—The Western Immigration Office Affairs to be Enquired Into.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

OTTAWA, July 20.—The public accounts committee met this morning. On motion of Barron it was decided that all vouchers relating to the salaries of Miss Jane Craig, Miss Alice Graham, Miss Falconeur, J. E. Poston, E. A. Tesneur, A. C. Macdonald, M. P. Wright and A. E. Meighen of the post office department and to all extra payments made to them shall be produced before committee at next meeting, and also that W. P. Smithson, account for the department, Capt. Poullet, and John Graham of the audit office and Mr. John Graham shall attend at the next meeting to aid in the explanation of those accounts. On motion of Lister it was decided all vouchers and department papers having to do with payments made to J. R. Arnold, F. Merritt and J. R. Wilson in connection with steamer "Joe" and the storing of dredging plant on Victoria street in this city shall be produced at the meeting of committee, and that those parties shall attend. On motion Mr. Mulock an order was issued for the attendance of Rosseau and Earth, of Montreal and Toronto, and Fenson, of Toronto, at next meeting in order to give explanations of certain items in payments for construction of the Langevin block. It was also decided that all of the evidence taken in connection with the Langevin block inquiry be printed and distributed.

Collingwood Schreiber, general manager of government railways, was examined respecting the over-draft of three hundred and two thousand in connection with working the Intercolonial railway last year. McMullin and Mulock attempted to ascertain why the I. C. R. was run at an annual loss while the C. P. R. and other roads pay a handsome profit. They wanted information respecting rates.

The chairman sustained Messrs. Foster and Bowell, who held that this being a matter of government policy it did not come within scope of the enquiry.

J. C. Wardman, an ex-government employee was then examined. After rendering services as forest ranger for interior department he acted as sub-imigration agent at Emerson, Ma. in 1885 and 86. His attention was drawn by McMullen to the item of $600 paid A. Fournier as car-taker at Emerson. Witness said there was no such car-taker of that name there, he having performed those duties himself.

Foster and Bowell objected to going over ground which had already been covered on previous enquiries. They held that the committee could not go back so far unless authorized by Parliament. This evoked warm protests from the liberals.

Carron said they had information that systematic irregularities had been carried on by this man Tetu and they wanted to bring them out to make the present charge more apparent. Bowell held that it was not in order to go back so many years to bring out alleged. irregularities. If they wished to do so however, the government could do the same thing. He had now in his pocket a letter from Winnipeg charging irregularities in 1875, but he did not care to go into general charges unless the liberals attempted the same programme.

Finally McMullen's motion to get all papers in connection with Tetu's services last year, was adopted. Tetu as immigration agent at Emerson received one thousand dollars salary last year beside $258.80 for travelling expenses.

McMullin will ask the House for an order to enquire into the affairs of the immigration offices at Emerson, Gretna and Deloraine since 1884. The chairman said that the interior department enquiry would beresumed tomorrow.

SALISBURY'S GOOD BARGAIN.

Germany to Support England if France or Russia Get Ambitious.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

BERLIN, July 20.—Lord Salisbury's adhesion to the triple alliance appears to have been made with due regard to the protection of English interests in Egypt and India. The conference of the Emperor and Herr Von Bieberstern, Prussian minister of state and imperial secretary of state for foreign affairs, with Lord Salisbury have certainly altered the whole course of German foreign policy.

Only a partial indication of the drift of the entente concluded at Hatfield House has transpired but enough is known to suggest that Lord Salisbury obtained assurances from the Emperor that the Franco-Russian projects against England's possessions in the East will be met with open German support of England. An entente is thus established all around, the arrangment aiming at an Asiatic as well as a European equilibrium.

Diplomatic opinion here concurs that Lord Salisbury has got the best of the bargain, securing a positive check upon French schemes against the Egyptian occupation and Russian encroahments in Indian without committing England to armed intervention in support of Germany.

Cooling Summer Drinks.

The latest summer drink is called the Metropolis. It is very delicate and delicious and leaves on the breath for hours afterward the odor of violets. It is composed of the extract of numerous flowers, lilac, lavender and violets, instead of the fruit juices usually used in soda. For general use the ice-cream pineapple soda is in greatest demand. One uptown establishment alone has used thus far this season 20,000 pineapples, and another has used 18,000. For persons in the country who wish to make a cooling drink at will, a delicious punch can be made of St. Croix sour. It is cooling, does not contain much spirits and is principally made of natural fruit flowers. It also keeps in high temperature. Pour it into a shaker with ice, shake well until it is frozen, and it makes a refreshing drink for a warm day. Shandygaff is another summer drink easily prepared. Take one pint of ale and the same proportion of ginger ale right off of the ice and mix thoroughly, pouring from one pitcher to another. Then drink at once. Allow a quart for four persons of moderate capacity.

A Summer Disinfectant.

One-half ounce of the spirits of lavender and a lump of salts of ammonia placed in a wide-mouthed fancy jar or bottle and left uncovered in a room acts as a pleasant deodorizer and disinfectant, filling the room with a delicate perfume which will be soothing to the nerves and senses this warm weather.

What does the phrase "He isn't in it" come from? asked a subscriber. According to the best authority it is attributed to Noah, who used the remark derisively in referring to some profane person who had criticised the building of the ark.

Christus Consolator.

Beside the dead I knelt for prayer,
And felt a presence as I prayed.
Let it was Jesus standing there.
He smiled: "Be not afraid!"

"Lord, thou hast conquered death, we know:
Restore again to life," I said,
"This one who died an hour ago;"
He smiled: "She is not dead."

"Asleep then, as thyself didst say.
Yet thou canst lift the lids that keep
Her prisoned eyes from ours away?"
He smiled: "She doth not sleep!"

"Nay then, tho' help she to wake,
And look upon some fairer dawn,
Restore her to our hearts that ache!"
He smiled: "She is not gone!"

"Alas! too well we know our loss,
Nor hope again our joy to touch
Until the stream of death we cross."
He smiled: "There is no such!"

"Yet our beloved seems so far,
The while we yearn to feel them near,
Albeit with Thee we trust they are."
He smiled: "And I am here!"

"Dear Lord, how shall we know that they
Still walk unseen with us and Thee,
Nor sleep, nor wander far away?"
He smiled: "Abide with Me."
