Spring Fashions.

COLORS.

French manufacturers are still happy in nomenclature, and have given expressive names to new shades; for instance, chinchilla gray is the lightest shade of the fur of that name; argent is the clear silver gray so dear to our grandmothers; Oxford is a blue gray like that of the English linens worn last summer; a stylish hue is a deep stone gray, ycleped Sphinx; tempete (tempest color) is the suggestive name of a murky grayish hue; Suedoise is a cool grey with untold depths of blue; French gray is soft dove color; Russian gray is like old fashioned ashes of roses: and to complete the gray list are two nondescript hues called Ashantee and Coomassie.

The handsomest and freshest brown shades are clear, rich, and deep, without any reddish Bismarck tints, or the greenish olive and bronze hues lately worn. Seal brown and nut brown predominate. The darkest natural beige brown is called Concha, and a similar shade is Trabucos; Tuisienne is a lovely clear brown, and ronce is brier brown. Penelope, Cep and Noe are capricious names for equally capricious tints. Veronibse is the name given dark greens whose color is almost invisible. Hydre is drab of beautiful bluish shades. Jujubo is the color of the dark red paste of that name. Cratere is reddish brown. Capre is dark rich green. Acier is steel color.

Light shades for evening dresses are amandé, or almond color; cream color that is unbleached white; Italie, a clear straw color; a soft pink that the French call sourire (a smile); and myosotis, which is forget-me-not blue. Many argent or pale silver shades are also shown.

BYRON COLLARS AND CUFFS.

The coming novelties in ladies lingerie are Byron collars and cuffs; indeed they have been already introduced, and have become popular with fair young ladies whose fair complexion can endure this broad expanse of linen; boarding school girls especially delight in them. They are like gentlemen's shirt collars. with rather more exaggerated points. They are made of doubled linen attached to a band, as gentlemen wear them, and would be improved by having a collarette of muslin added. Price 25 cents. The cuffs, made to match, are wide and square-cornered, and are worn turned up on the outside of the dress. The fashion of wearing linen cuffs outside the sleeve is about to be revived. Those now seen are made to order for ladies who lead fashion; they are narrow on the inside of the arm, and extend to a deep point outside, where they are fastened by three linen buttons. Other new linen cuffs are straight, deep and large, with a fall below the button-holes, which may be edged with needle-work or lace, or merely stitching.—Harper's Bazar.

Origin of Eminent Men.

John Smith was the son of his father. He formerly resided in New York and other places, but he has moved to San Francisco now.

Wm. Smith was the son of his mother. This party's grandmother is deceased. She was a brick.

John Brown was the son of old Brown. The body of the latter lies mouldering in the grave.

Henry Jones was the son of a sea cook.

Wm. Jones was the sun of a gun.

John Jones was a Son of Temperance. In early life Gabriel Jones was actually a shoemaker. He is a shoemaker yet.

Previous to the age of eighty-five, Caleb Jones had never given any evidence of extraordinary ability. He has never given any since.

Patrick Murphy is said to have been of Irish extraction.

James Patterson was the son of a common weaver, who was so miraculously poor that his friends were encouraged to believe that in case the Scriptures were strictly carried out, he would "inherit the earth." He never got his property.

John Davis' father was a soap-boiler, and not a very good soap-boiler. John never arrived at maturity—died just after being born, he and his mother.

John Johnston was a blacksmith. He died. It was published in the paper, with a head over it. "Deaths." It was, therefore, thought he died to gain notoriety. He has got an aunt living somewhere.

Up to the age of thirty four, Hosea Wilkerson never had any home but "Home Sweet Home," and even when he had that he had to sing it himself. At one time it was believed that he would have been famous if he had become celebrated. He died.

Stanley is under contract with the New York Herald not to marry while in Africa.

The Pope has raised the bishoprics of Boston, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, and Santa Fe to be archbishoprics.

No matter how poor a man is he can always get plenty of good advice. It relieves the man who gives it.

"The great need of Cairo," said a capitalist after being taken over the town, "is a fine-tooth comb factory, with a retail store in connection."

The Land Commissioners of Maine give a favorable report from the Swedish colony. The whole population is about 600, about 150 farms having been taken up. Some of those who went West from it, thinking to better their condition, have returned.

The Rev. Mr. Dexter, at a recent meeting of his society at Taunton, Mass., proposed that inasmuch as many of his parishioners had been compelled to submit to a reduction in wages, his salary should be reduced ten per cent.

There is a clergyman in Worcester, Mass., whose name is Parry, and a committee of his church have requested the Worcester Press to stop reporting his pulpit discourses. The Press agrees to this petition. "While the Beecher Tilton trial continues"—such is the judgment of the editor—"there is no need of publishing Mr. Parry's sermons."

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Only two Sound boats are reported as having cut their way through the ice yesterday. At City Island, above Hell Gate, are quite a number of sailing craft, mostly schooners, fast in the ice. There are also some 12 or 14 sloops and schooners belonging to neighboring ports, frozen in on Hammond flats.

While Dr. Maley and his clerk, Ben Schott, were returning from Harrison yesterday, they chanced to pass by a pond upon which some boys were skating. An air-hole in the ice suggested to Schott the probability of his services being called for, and he at once got out of the buggy, empanelled a jury, and then waited for a boy to drown until the inquest could commence. After waiting until Maley's cars were nearly frozen, the boys got wind of the little game and decamped for home, much to Schott's disgust, and as he stepped into the vehicle he was heard to remark, "By George, the kids nowadays are smarter than the men used to be."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

THE ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY —OF— POETRY AND SONG!

Edited by
DR. J. G. HOLLAND,

Author of "Kathrina," "Bitter Sweet," etc.

FAVORITE SONG is a royal octave volume of over 700 PAGES, printed in the best style of the art, on the finest tinted paper, and illustrated with 125 thoroughly dainty and delicate engravings, FROM ORIGINAL DESIGNS, by the most eminent artists, together with fac similes of the original autograph copies of (20) famous poems.

The illustrations are numerous and exquisitely wrought. What can be more beautiful than the one which reflects the enchanting spot where—

"Maud Muller, on a summer's day,
Raked the meadows sweet with hay:"

One of those lovely New England landscapes, which the engraver has represented in outlines as beautiful and artistic as the song it adorns.

Conspicuous, also, for its rare beauty, is the illustration accompanying the "Song of the Brook," where the streamlet, dashing beneath the rustic bridge, goes chattering

"Over stony ways,
In little sharps and trebles."

"Till last by Philip's farm it flows,
To join the brimming river."

Altogether, this is one of the most charming and elegant books ever issued by the American press—a fitting gift for lover or friend; an attractive ornament for the parlor table; a valuable addition to any family library.
