NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

The total number of Masons in New York is now upward of 79,000; seventeen new lodges have been organized during the past year.

Georgia proposes to put twenty criminals on the platform on or about the 4th of July next. They are all making preparations.

The Commissioner of Public Buildings and Grounds and a gardener in the employ of the Agricultural Bureau, have gone to Long Branch to plant trees and shrubbery around Gen. Grant's private residence.

The New York Sun is ferreting out the small as well as the large extravagances of the Washington Departments. For repairs upon two wagons and three harnesses used for light service, the expense during the year was nearly $4000. The horse-shoeing bill, incurred by three horses that drew these two wagons, has now been published and amounts to over three hundred and thirty-three dollars for the year, the single items ranging from four to thirty dollars. The contingent expenses of the treasury for the coming fiscal year are estimated at over $227,000, or nearly twice the sum that was once sufficient to pay all the treasury expenses, salaries included.

It is the fashion, we believe, to entertain strong and unreasonable prejudices against the domestic cat. Its finest and most conscientious efforts in the musical line get only the applause of bootjack and bottle, and, in short, a generally unkind and unpleasant feeling exists in regard to it. Let those who have indulged in this malevolent state of mind read of this Cat of Springfield, Ill., and blush. The master of this cat is in the habit of leaving a kerosene lamp burning all night on a bracket in the hall. One night, lately, when all were asleep, the lamp got out of order, the wick caught fire and blazed up against the very ceiling. There was, apparently, nothing to prevent the entire destruction of the house. What did that good old family cat do? It saw all the danger, jumped upon the pillow of her master and energetically "pawed" his face. Of course he awoke, saw the lamp, saved his house, and—the cat is not for sale.

GENERAL.

A newly-invented "Reflector" in London enables the spectator to see six thousand stars at a time. It ought to be christened bourbon.

Queen Victoria has been visiting the London school of cookery, and has learned how to prepare an omelette with fine herbs. That will be known as a royal dish hereafter.

In a contest as to who could, with the fewest steps, descend a staircase in the London Junior Carlton Club, Mr. Peter Graham made a spring over the handrail and fell sixty feet, causing his death. He was perfectly sober, and is described as proficient in athletic exercises—too much so, as it proved.

Lord Chief Justice Cockburn has just made a joke. A Mrs. Jury being examined as a witness in the Tichborne case, stated that she had had eleven children, whereupon His Honor observed he had always understood it took twelve to make a jury. England is still echoing the laugh which convulsed the Court.

A fastidious collier has been sent to the jail in Liverpool, without the option of a fine, for a violent assault on his wife, who had cooked a whole leg of veal for Sunday's dinner, instead of the boiled fowls which he had ordered. His defence was that he had had veal until he was sick of it.

The Egyptian Government is turning its attention to the improvement of the cotton lands, every year opening new channels to facilitate irrigation, employing steam pumps for that purpose, and doing all in its power to make the cotton crop a source of continual prosperity. The Egyptian crop for the past year is estimated at two hundred million pounds.

London is about to hold a beer jubilee at which ales, stouts, porters and beers are to be put on exhibition. All the brewers of England, Ireland, Scotland, also of Bavaria, Austria, Prussia, Saxony, and other parts of Europe, have sent casks of their productions. Each visitor, upon payment of a shilling, will be presented with a tasting ticket, entitling him to taste as much and of as many kinds of the stock on hand as he chooses. He can then vote for that which suits his taste best, after which a cab will be in readiness to take him home for a shilling.

It is said that all the æsthetic departments of this year's International Exhibition in London attract not half so much interest and attention as the School of Cookery therein established. There is not room enough in the place for the crowd of would-be pupils. Near by, a little exhibition of military cookery has been opened, where the wayfarer may behold how soldiers dress their rations in camp kettles suspended by branches over a fire in a trench. The Germans, it appears, have discovered how to obtain the most agreeable and nourishing mixture of peas, oatmeal, rice, and meat in the smallest compass.

READ THIS.

HAMPTON, KING'S Co., May 29, 1849.

DEAR MADAM,—For many years I have been afflicted with Indigestion, which brought on many other complaints. I could not keep anything on my stomach, suffering much from the sick headache and extreme weakness. Indeed I was so very weak as to be unable to attend to the duties of my family, being obliged to go to bed frequently during the day. This all my neighbors can testify, for I was not able to walk to my nearest neighbor's. I applied to several physicians, but received only temporary relief; but since I commenced making use of your excelsior Dinner Pills, I have experienced a remarkable cure, for which I assure you I feel very grateful.

Yours respectfully, MRS. ELIAS PRINCE.
