SPAIN'S DIRE TROUBLES

Scanned and Indexed
1Jan00
SENATE FO

Cannot Yield to the Demands of the United States and Cannot Resume the War—Commissioners Afraid of Being Mobbed if They Accept the Conditions—Internal Trouble Also—Lord Curzon's Farewell to His Constituents.

The lot of Spain is indeed unhappy. There was no joint session of the Peace Commission in Paris yesterday, Spanishing Commissioners finding it impossible to get their memoranda ready. The U. S. Commissioners granted the delay asked, and it is expected sessions will be resumed Wednesday. Meanwhile the Americans will not recede from the position taken regarding the Philippines, and the Spaniards will acknowledge their helplessness, seeing they cannot resume the war. A Madrid despatch says, on the authority of officials there: If the United States persist in their present claims, Spain will accept the conditions after formally announcing at a session of the commission and in a circular to the powers that she yields to force, and owing to the impossibility of renewing the war without unobtainable assistance in defence of her rights.

The Spanish Commissioners point out that they dare not face their country if they accept the American conditions, fearing official degradation and even mob violence.

Added to this trouble is internal dissatisfaction. Catalonia and Aragon provinces demand decentralization of the government, saying that the "Anglo-Saxons of America, aided by the Anglo-Saxons of Europe, have obliterated half of Spain from the maps."

SPAIN'S DILEMMA.

London Papers See No Alternative for the U. S. But to Go the Whole Length.

London, Nov. 15.—The morning papers comment editorially upon the Peace Conference crisis, and the American naval preparations, reiterating their conviction of the hopelessness of Spanish opposition, and recognizing that the United States have practically no alternative, especially after the elections, but complete annexation, and that, if Spain continues obstinate, the United States must send a fleet to Europe, an action which no power but Great Britain would welcome, though none would be likely to interfere in Spain's behalf.

The Daily Telegraph says: "We cannot believe that President McKinley favors a compromise that would leave Spain a portion of her far Eastern possessions. Such a policy would combine the evils of both alternatives confronting America, since Spain would speedily sell the remnant."

LORD CURZON'S FAREWELL.

The New Viceroy of India and Lady Curzon Say Good-Bye to His Lordship's Constituents.

Southport, Eng., Nov. 14.—The visit to this place to-day of Lord and Lady Curzon of Keddleston led to a remarkable demonstration of good-will for His Lordship, who has represented this division in Parliament since the last general election, in 1895. All the city functionaries and the county bodies participated in it, the streets were decorated with flags and crowded with people, and at the railroad depot the public officials, in their robes of office, presented an address of congratulation to His Lordship on his appointment to the Viceroyship of India.

The Lady Mayoress presented Lady Curzon with a bouquet of orchids in a silver holder, and with a ribbon attached to it, inscribed in gold letters, "Presented to Lady Curzon by the Lady Mayoress, in behalf of the Southport Division."

A procession was then formed and Lord and Lady Curzon proceeded to the municipal buildings amid the cheers of the people, mingled with the pealing of the church bells. Lord and Lady Curzon afterwards held a reception.

Prominent among the decorations were trophies representing the Union Jack, the Stars and Stripes and the Star of India entwined. At a later function Sir William Ferwood presided. He said that never had there been a Viceroy of India appointed who was so heartily approved of by the entire nation. Sir William added that the charm and refinement of Lady Curzon, who is an American lady, will adorn the vice-regal court.

After the presentation of a eulogistic address from the Conservative Association of Southport and a handsome and massive silver bowl, weighing over 200 ounces, and a pair of gold spurs, oLrd Curzon made a speech, during which he formally bade farewell to his constituents.

THE HOOLEY CASE.

Sir W. Marriott Calls Hooley's Statements Regarding Him Pure Inventions and Abominable Lies.

London, Nov. 14.—The examination in bankruptcy proceedings of Mr. Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, was resumed this morning,

Sir William Marriott took the stand and declared that Mr. Hooley's statement that he had paid the witness £1000 for introducing him (Hooley) to the Carlton Club was "a pure invention and an abominable lie." Sir William added that he knew nothing at the time about Mr. Hooley's alleged donation of £10,000 to the Conservative party funds through the Marquis of Abergavenny, though Mr. Hooley told him afterwards that he had given the Marquis £10,000 for the "fighting funds" of the Conservative party, which, Sir William Marriott explained, had nothing to do with the Carlton Club. The witness also said he had helped Mr. Hooley in political and financial matters, but had always declined remuneration for his services.

Later, Sir William Marriott said Mr. Hooley told him, in December, 1896, that he was engaged with an American syndicate, which was going to raise an enormous loan for Cuba, and said he (the witness) had been appointed counsel to the company's commission, which was to visit Cuba, and that his fee was to be £10,000, in view of which Mr. Hooley paid him £1000 on account.

On cross-examination, Sir William Marriott admitted that he had received a cheque for £50,000 from Mr. Hooley, which he handed to representatives of the Conservative party. Mr. Hooley believed this would secure him a baronetcy at the Jubilee, but he was informed that he could not have it and the cheque was returned to him.

During Sir William Marriott's examination Mr. Hooley made a scene and threatened to pitch the witness out of the box. While Sir George Lewis, Q. C., was cross-examining Sir William the witness several times got angry and refused to answer questions put to him.

Hooley Retorts in Kind.

Mr. Hooley, on cross-examination, flatly contradicted the evidence of Sir William Marriott. He reiterated his statement that he had promised and had paid to Sir William £1000 for an introduction to the Carlton Club. Sir William, Mr. Hooley added, told him that he did "all the dirty work" for the Conservative party. Sir William suggested the giving of £50,000 by Mr. Hooley for a baronetcy, and he was to get £10,000 if Mr. Hooley was made a baronet.

COMPLAINED TO THE EMPEROR

And William Says the Regent Shall Have His Rights.

Londn, Nov. 14.—For the first time a Federal sovereign of Germany has officially complained of the Emperor.

Count Ernest of Leippe-Biesterfield, Regent of the principality of Lippe, wrote to Emperor William that he was humiliated by the Emperor's order that military honors were not to be paid to the Count's household, but only to the Count and his wife.

The Emperor curtly replied: "The Regent shall have his rights; nothing more."

Count Ernest has now laid his claims before his fellow-sovereigns of the German Empire in a long address, which is nothing less than an indictment of the Emperor.

Next Governor of Malta.

London, Nov. 14.—The Malta correspondent of The Daily Mail says it is reported there that Lieut.-General Sir Francis Wallace Grenfell, Inspector-General of Auxiliary Forces, and in supreme command of the operations conducted by the Sirdar, General Lord Kitchener, for the reconquest of the Egyptian Provinces in the Soudan, will be the next Governor of Malta.

France Adding to Her Navy.

London, Nov. 14.—The Daily Mail says this morning that the French naval construction program for 1899 includes two battleships of 14,500 tons each, with very powerful armament and protection; two cruisers of 4000 tons each, two large torpedo destroyers and eleven torpedo boats.

German Army to Be Increased.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The semi-official papers announce that the German army will be gradually increased by about 15,000.

London, Nov. 14.—The Royal Geographical Society offers £5000 to head a subscription for outfitting an Antarctic expedition.

Belgians Capture Dervish Post.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Chronicle this morning says: "We are reliably informed from the Congo Free State that the Belgians have captured Bohr, a Dervish post 90 miles north of Rejaf, on the White Nile."

MISS WILLARD'S TEMPLE SCHEME.

Was Abandoned, as It Was Feared It Might Wreck the Organization.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 14.—The W.C.T.U. to-day held a lengthy discussion on the late Frances Willard's temple scheme. It was feared that the fight for the temple would wreck the organization. Miss Willard had done so much to build up, and it was, after five hours' bitter and personal debating, by a vote of 285 to 71, decided to abandon the project as an affiliated interest. Resolutions were presented on the subject, which may precipitate the whole controversy once more, if called on this morning, as expected.

Capt. W. W. Kerr, principal owner of the Pittsburg Baseball Club, left for the East last evening. The captain will call a meeting in New Jersey to-day, at which he will elect himself president and P. L. Auten vice-president of the club. Last season W. H. Watkins acted in the capacity of president. After the captain's little meeting, all by his lonely, he will probably spend a few days in New York, and then return to Pittsburg.—Pittsburg Times.

LAUNDRY TRUST LAUNCHED

Toronto Capitalists Go Into the Laundry Business on a Large Scale—There is a Sequel.

The announcement in The Gazette of the incorporation of a company, to be known as the Beatty Manufacturing Company, and to be engaged in the manufacture of women's and children's clothing and do laundry work, is the talk of city business circles. What especially whets the public curiosity is the mystery which envelops the whole affair.

Starting with the clue that the company consisted of W. H. Beatty, C. W. Beatty, Harry Beatty, J. W. Beatty, W. G. Gooderham, T. G. Blackstock and W. H. Cawthra, and that the capital was $200,000, a World reporter yesterday called on the members to get further information. W. H. Beatty told a semi-comical story, whose moral was: "Mind your own business." Harry Beatty put on a society smile, but "couldn't be bothered by reporters." W. G. Gooderham is out of town, and all one could get out of T. G. Blackstock was the exclamation, "The devil!"

Then the reporter made for other sources of information. A leading white-goods man, who was seen, said: "The Beatty family has only so far bought out a portion of Edward Mahony's children's headwear business on Wellington-street east. The purchase was made to find Harry Beatty a job, and it cost only a few hundred dollars. Mr. Mahony still retains his embroidery business, and had it distinctly so stated in the sale. The real object of the new company, as you will see, is to form a trust which will control all the white goods and laundry in the province."

MARVELOUS OLD AGE.

Mrs. Margaret Davis of Jordan Lived 110 Years and Eight Months—Born in Ireland.

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Margaret Davis, who was by more than 10 years a centenarian, died yesterday at her late residence, near Jordan Station. She was aged 110 years 8 months and 10 days.

Mrs. Davis was born on Lord Downshire's estate in the County of Down, Ireland, where 13 children were born to her. About 46 years ago Thomas, her youngest son, who lives on the Thorold-road, in this city, came to America, and was soon followed by his two brothers, John and Joseph. They settled in Louth on a farm. Thomas afterwards moved to St. Catharines, and in the summer of 1872 he sent for his mother, who was then living in Glasgow with other sons and daughters. Mrs. Davis was then 85 years of age, but she braved the Atlantic to come to America, and on July 4, 1872, she landed in New York. Until a few years ago she was very active, and in the warm weather she would do some of the chores around the farm. She lost the sight of one eye some years ago through an accident, but the sight of the other was good until the time of her death. She was seldom ill. The human mechanism simply played out after 110 years.

Deceased was a staunch Presbyterian. The funeral will take place to the Louth Cemetery to-morrow.

THE ROYAL GRENADIERS.

—Song and Chorus.—

Far up the street, with tramp of feet,
A flash of red appears;
The word goes 'round, with joyous sound,
It's the Royal Grenadiers!
Along they swing, their muskets ring,
The streets are all aglow;
They march in time to the music's chime,
While the brassy bugles blow.

The brassy bugles—the sassy bugles—
Hear their music flow!
The ladies' hearts go pit a pat
As the drums go rat, tat, tat, tat, tat,
And the brassy bugles blow!

They've had a wash since old Batoche,
They look so spruce and clean,
They daze your eyes as they pass you by
With a blaze of soldier sheen;
They are not toys, these soldier boys,
They were not made for show;
For they can fight with all their might
When the bloody bugles blow!

The sassy bugles—the brassy bugles—
Hear their music flow!
The ladies' hearts go pit a pat,
As the drums go rat, tat, tat, tat, tat,
And the bloody bugles blow!

We need not fear when they are near,
So dry your foolish tears;
Ter-ump, ter-amp!—ter-ump, ter-amp!
It's the Royal Grenadiers!
If foes should come (our land has some),
It's down the Don they'd go;
We'd teach them—well, that war is hell,
While the bloody bugles blow!

The brassy bugles—the sassy bugles—
Hear their music flow!
The ladies' hearts go pit a pat,
As the drums go rat, tat, tat, tat, tat,
And the bloody bugles blow!

When the Grens march out the people shout
Hark to the martial lilt;
For they're a patch just cut to match
On the Widow's home-made quilt!
A splendid spread for the good Queen's bed
To keep her warm, and so
When she's asleep they sentry keep,
While the bonnie bugles blow!

The sassy bugles—the brassy bugles—
Hear their music flow!
The ladies' hearts go pit a pat,
As the drums go rat, tat, tat, tat, tat,
And the brassy bugles blow!

DAWSON CITY BURNED.

Half a Million Dollars' Worth of Property in the Heart of the City Gone Up in Smoke as the Result of a Row in a Saloon Between Two Women—A Few Men Were Injured, But No Deaths Resulted.

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The steamer Cottage City brings news of a disastrous fire at Dawson City, which happened on Oct. 14. The fire started in the Green Tree Saloon, Belle Mitchell throwing a lighted lamp at another woman. Four of the chief city buildings were destroyed. The citizens fought the flames heroically, and a few men were injured.

Following is a list of the principal buildings destroyed:

Wardner Hotel, loss $50,000; Pathom's saloon, $40,000; postoffice, $10,000 (all mails were destroyed); Green Tree saloon, $35,000; Empress bakery, $40,000; McPherson & Johnson, $20,000; Vancouver Hotel, $25,000; John Sargeant, $3000; New York store, $21,000; Case & Gilsey, $8000; Maison Horton, $43,000; Hibbard's store, $6000; Meter's store, $16,000; John M. Donald, $6000; George Brunett, $8000; Foley's, $5000; Seattle Restaurant, $9000; other small stores, $30,000; 12 cabins, $18,000.

There is no insurance. The heart of the city has been wiped out by the flames, and there is not enough lumber and window glass for rebuilding this winter. People must live in tents.

The total loss is calculated at close upon $500,000. Some of the buildings contained cartridges, and occasionally a fusilade would make the crowd scatter, but no one was killed or fatally injured.

C. P. R. Press Report.

Among the fire-fighters who received injuries were: Pte. Mullins of the Infantry, contusions, sprains and burns; G. O. Ellis, contusions on head and a shattered shoulder; Dan Millen, scalp cut and skull cracked; W. A. Jones, head battered and burned; Constable Tipp, burns and sprains; Pte. Enfield, face and arms burned; Al. Halkens, leg badly wrenched. A number of men lost eyebrows and whiskers.

The Cottage City brought 200 passengers from Alaska ports. Her passengers were mostly from Skaguay and other coast cities, but there was a small scattering of miners from Cook's Inlet, Dawson and Atlin, as well as from the Stikine country. The Atlin men bring news of a new strike, a creek paralleling Pine Creek having been found which feeds Atlin Lake, about eight miles south of the first discovered creek. The discoverer, M. McKee, who was one of the passengers down, took out five or six pans, the average per pan being $1. The new creek, which has been called McKee Creek, after the discoverer, who is an old Arizona miner, promises to rival Pine Creek. The find was made fully two months ago, but kept a secret until friends could reach the scene.

Belle Mitchell's Second Fire.

The fire of a year ago was caused by the same woman, who threw the lamp at a man with whom she had a quarrel. A month ago she burned her own place on Third-avenue in Dawson, by throwing a lamp at a woman, and now she has caused a conflagration by again losing her temper and wielding another lighted lamp.

LA MINERVE AFTER THE ABERDEENS

The French Conservative Organ of Montreal Indulges in Criticism.

Now That the Earl and Countess Are Out of Harm's Way, La Minerve Censures Some of Their Acts—Detectives After a Bostonian—Viscount Melgund's Health Improved — Messrs. Brierley and Mackay Arrested—Montreal News.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—(Special)—La Minerve, the French Conservative organ, says that the festivities now being over, and the Aberdeens out of the country, it feels that the truth must be told about His Excellency and the Countess of Aberdeen. After referring to the good work Lady Aberdeen accomplished all over the country, La Minerve adds that there is reason for censure in a case of extreme gravity, and interference in the administration of justice. The steps taken, the writer adds, were too persistent and too public to admit of their being hidden, and too dangerous to be pardoned. The intervention of Lady Aberdeen in the Shortis matter is one of those things which no newspaper has the right to ignore, because her intevention in that case produced a disastrous effect upon public opinion, and one that will last a long time. It was after the awful tragedy at Valleyfield, followed by a commutation of the sentence, that people remarked: "They don't hang any more in this country," and we all know that for a while crime seemed to be an epidemic in our midst. It is quite likely that Lord and Lady Aberdeen gave in to a sentiment of kindness and tenderness prompted by the pleas of a mother in despair, but justice in this country should not be influenced by such considerations, noble though they may be. It is our duty to say, therefore, that it would not take many such Governors as the last to turn our affection from the colonial tie and tire us of an institution that we could easily replace by the election of our First Magistrate, either by the popular vote or by the choice of Parliament."

In another column, La Minerve warmly welcomes Lord and Lady Minto to the shores of Canada, and says: "Like our English-speaking fellow-countrymen, French Canadians love the free institutions which the Mother Country has accorded them, and which they owe to their loyalty, as well as to the wisdom of the British Government. The role of a Governor-General is a grand and noble one, and it demands a mind free from prejudice and partiality. We have the conviction that Lord Minto will be equal to the task, and that he will deserve the sincere gratitude of Canadians, irrespective of origin or tongue. It is with pleasure, therefore, that La Minerve extends to Lord and Lady Minto the most cordial welcome."

Detective After Big Game.

The detectives are again after big game in this city. A reward of $5000 has been offered for the arrest of a young man named Fred Moore of Boston, who is wanted there for embezzlement. About a month ago $50,000 disappeared in a mysterious manner from the National Bank of Commerce, and at the same time Moore left his position there. The American detectives have been on the lookout for him for some time, and they now believe he is in hiding in Montreal.

Viscount Melgund is Better.

The entire community will rejoice to learn that Viscount Melgund, the 6-year-old son of Lord and Lady Minto, is much better to-day of the bronchial attack which so alarmed the family on Friday and Saturday. It is quite probable that the Governor-General and party will leave for Ottawa to-morrow morning.

Mr. Tarte to Rev. Dr. Carman.

In reply to Rev. Dr. Carman's letter in The Globe, Hon. Mr. Tarte writes in La Patrie: "The citizens of the Province of Quebec respect the laws, and are a moral people. They intend, however, to be free at home. And why should they not be?"

BAD ACCIDENT AT BOWMANVILLE.

G. T. R. Express Ran Into a Freight —Engineer and Fireman Hurt.

Last night the Grand Trunk express, No. 7, due at Toronto at 9.15, ran into the rear end of a freight train near Bowmanville, demolishing the van of the freight and shaking up the passengers of the express considerably.

The engineer and fireman of the express, who jumped before the crash came, were both seriously injured. Engineer F. Warren was hurt internally and Fireman T. Casey had his right leg hurt and was also cut about the head and face. The van was empty at the time, and consequently the freight crew escaped injury.
