TEN DIE BY A TORNADO

Forty Sorento, Ill., Houses Are Blown to Atoms.

Death Cloud Cuts Complete Swath Through Town of 1,100 Inhabitants—St. Louis Freight Train Struck a Wash-Out and Plunged Down Embankment—Crew Had to Swim For Life—Two Children Killed.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—A tornado struck the Village of Sorento, Ill., 32 miles northeast of St. Louis, Tuesday night, killing eight persons, injuring 35 others, of whom three will probably die, and doing a great amount of damage to property. Forty houses were blown to atoms, or carried far from their foundations. A complete swath was cut through the town.

The dead: Mrs. Thomas File, Mrs. William Stewart, William Mann, Harrison Mann.

Telegraph communication with Sorento is cut off, and details were obtained over the long-distance telephone. The four killed were in their homes in different parts of Sorento. All were badly crushed. The storm approached from the southwest and swept through the main residence portion of the town. The work of the wind was quickly done, and then followed a heavy downpour of rain, accompanied by vivid lightning.

Four Taken From Debris.

So violent was the tornado that some residences were swept away completely. Houses that remained standing were converted into temporary hospitals, and the people, by lantern light, in the pouring rain, seached through the debris for the injured. The population of Sorento numbers 1,100 persons.

Mrs. William Kirkland, William Stewart and Thomas File will probably die from injuries.

During the day the dead bodies of four unidentified persons were taken from the debris, making a total of eight. The total property loss is estimated between $80,000 and $100,000.

The storm that wrecked Sorento deluged Alton, Ill, where it converted the streets into temporary rivers. At Grafton, 14 miles distant, the main street was three feet under water.

Train Crew Swims For Life.

Ten miles north of Alton, a Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis freight train struck a wash-out and plunged down an embankment. Two of the cars contained cattle and horses and only a few of the animals escaped. Several tramps who were seen on the train previously are believed to have perished. The freight crew had to swim for their lives.

In St. Louis the lowlands of the River Desperes were flooded and the police were busy yesterday rescuing people from the housetops. One-third of Forest Park, outside the World's Fair enclosure, was submerged by water from three to fifteen feet deep.

Two Killed In Oklahoma.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 19—In a tornado, which passed near Manford, Okla., late Tuesday night, two children of E. R. Anderson were killed, and Mrs. Anderson and Miss Maude Root were seriously injured Several other persons are reported hurt.

TWO DUCK HUNTERS DROWN.

Roy Smith and Nelson Cronk Lose Lives at Port Rowan.

Port Rowan, Oct. 19.—Roy Smith and Nelson Cronk were drowned in the inner bay of Port Rowan yesterday morning by the upsetting of a small boat in which they were hunting duck. In company with Hiram Wrightman and John Griggs they went out in the boat early in the morning, and while chasing a wounded duck their sail jibed and the boat was capsized.

Elgin Rockafellow was just starting for Long Point, and hearing the cries arrived just in time to rescue Wrightman and Griggs in an exhausted condition, they having been in the water over an hour, and were clinging fast to the boat. All four of the young men were residents of South Walsingham.

Hamilton Woman Electrocuted.

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—Mrs. William Aldridge 397 North Wentworth street, met death in a most peculiar way yesterday afternoon. She was electrocuted by a current from the wire of an ordinary extension electric house light. Just how it happened is not known. Her husband returned at 4 o'clock and went to the cellar for something. The first thing he knew he got an electric shock that threw him off his feet. When he got up he discovered that he had stepped on the electric light wire. A short time afterwards he was horrified to find the dead body of his wife lying on the floor across the wire. The only marks on her body were slight burns on her thumb and two fingers where she had grasped the wire. There was apparently an extraordinary high voltage on the wire. Coroner Balfe was notified, and he will hold an inquest.

Crushed By An Engine.

Hamilton, Oct. 19.—Edward Pendleton, 250 North Bay street, a G.T.R. engineer, was crushed between an engine and a freight car at the Cannon street yards yesterday afternoon. Though badly hurt the doctors say the prospects of his recovery are bright.

Was Late For His Work.

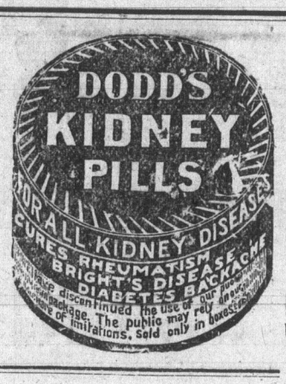
Toronto, Oct. 19.—Hurrying to his work cost Frederick Snow, a young carpenter, his life yesterday. He was struck by a car on Bathurst street between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning, and his death resulted a little after 8 last night. He crossed behind the car he left and was struck by another going south.

Farmer's Bad Accident.

Kingston, Oct. 19.—Yesterday morning William Ewing, Pittsburg Township, aged about 55 years, was driving a load of straw over a culvert on the Point road when the load upset and he fell and fractured one of the bones of his forearm, dislocated his collarbone, and received a scalp wound four inches long, and a partially fractured skull.

Runaway Hits a Train.

Chatham, Oct. 19.—Herbert Russell of Raleigh Township was seriously, if not fatally, injured in a runaway which took place at Charing Cross. The horse he was driving dashed into a passing M. C. R. R. train at the crossing, and Russell was dragged some distance by the cars. He is now confined to one of the city hospitals.



Train Hits Trolley.

London, Oct. 19.—The crew and the few passengers of a trolley car had a miraculous escape from death late last night at the South street crossing. The car had just started across the Pere Marquette tracks when it was run down by a locomotive. Motorman Young was thrown through the glass in the vestibule. He was taken to the hospital, but is not badly hurt. Conductor Egleton and three passengers who were on the car were shaken up, but not injured.

Her Condition Serious.

Windsor, Oct. 19.—Sister St. John the Evangelist, mother superior at St. Mary's Academy, who jumped from her carriage Tuesday while the horse was running away, is in a serious condition.

FISHERMEN DEFIANT.

Threaten to Break Law — Unpopular Edict As to Newfoundland Bait.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 19.—Premier Bond has arrived from England after successfully floating a loan to pay the Reid telegraph award and the cost of the cable from Newfoundland to Canso.

Premier Bond declared he had not changed his opinion expressed in the last session of the Newfoundland Legislature, that Americans have no right under the treaty of 1818 to catch herring or any other fish in any Newfoundland harbor, river or bay. This interpretation would prevent Americans fishing in Bay St. George or on any part of the west coast where herring strike at this season. The Government has instructed the customs officers and police to enforce this view. American vessels holding licenses issued previous to the passing of the Foreign Vessels Act will not be interfered with until the expiration of the terms of their licenses. It is reported that many residents on the west coast are determined to sell, despite the Government remonstrance.

From Bonne Bay they have sent word to the Government that cod and lobster fishing having been bad, they depend on the sale of herring to prevent destitution, and unless the Government makes some arrangement to get them out of the difficulty, they will fight this matter to the bitter end and self in defiance of the Government. They have come to the conclusion that it is better to die fighting than tamely starve. It is generally admitted that if this message truly represents the feeling of west coast fishermen, the Government has not sufficient force at its command to enforce the law without calling on British warships.

BAIL IS REFUSED.

Motorman Dean of the Car That Killed Rockwood Goes to a Jury.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—Magistrate Denison yesterday heard the evidence in the charge of manslaughter against John Dean, the motorman of the car that killed C. O. Rockwood at Queen and McCaul streets.

Dean was committed for trial. Mr. Robinette asked for bail but the request was refused.

Mr. Robinette pressed His Worship for reasons for refusing bail but the magistrate declined to give them.

The witnesses gave the same evidence that was given at the inquest.

During the hearing of the case Crown Attorney Curry remarked that the evidence seemed to show that Dean was chasing Rockwood.

Mr. Robinette objected to the statement and said the car had the right of way.

"The car has no right of way to run into people and kill them," said His Worship.

The inquest was resumed last night, and adjourned till Monday evening.

Be at it, and always at it.

COMMITTEE'S PURPOSE

To Make Life Insurance Safer Must Not Be Obstructed.

Chairman Armstrong's Reply to Complaint of Counsel For President A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life—Mr. Hughes Takes a Hand and Replies That Witnesses Who Get Into False Position Have Themselves to Blame.

New York, Oct. 19.—There was a sharp passage-at-arms between Chairman Armstrong of the committee, Counsel Hughes and James M. Beck, acting for Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., when the insurance investigation proceedings opened yesterday. Mr. Beck protested that Mr. Hughes had frequently led up to points which gave the newspapers opportunity "to put an ugly imputation against Mr. McCurdy," and that then Mr. Hughes dropped the inquiry before McCurdy had opportunity to explain.

Chairman Armstrong said Mr. Beck could make requests or suggestions to Mr. Hughes privately or to the committee, but the committee intended to carry out its purpose to make life insurance safer and did not desire the work obstructed. The committee wanted all the helpful information it could get.

Mr. Hughes then said that if he had erred at all it had been by showing courtesy when circumstances justified measures. "The witness who gets into a false position," he said, "has only himself to blame. Everyone will be treated as he deserves to be treated and evasion always will be held up to the contempt it always has received." There was loud applause as Mr. Hughes concluded.

Surprising Ignorance.

Frank B. Jordon, son of Thomas D. Jordan, former comptroller of the Equitable Life, was first witness. He is in the fire insurance and real estate business. From him an effort was made to obtain information as to his father's whereabouts. Mr. Hughes, counsel to the committee, desires to question Mr. Jordan, as to the mysterious $685,000 loan made to Mr. Jordan and John Alexander, former president of the Equitable, as trustees. The loan has never been explained. Mr. Jordan said that he had not seen his father since September 4, and did not know where he is. He had made no effort to learn. He knew of no one who could tell where his father is at present. He did not know whether his father and mother were living or dead.

John J. Cunningham, of Dobbs' Ferry, N. Y., an examiner of the New York Life Insurance Department, who was next called, said that for five years prior to 1898 he had been employed by a livery firm at Dobbs' Ferry of which Andrew C. Fields was a member. Fields is superintendent of the supply department of the Mutual Life.

Witness said he was appointed examiner by Superintendent Pierce and Fields and Charles P. McClelland, former State Senator, recommended him. He had examined the New York Life, the Mutual Life, and the Equitable Life.

Mr. McKeen, associate counsel for the committee offered a correction as to his statement Tuesday relative to the salary of foreign bank heads. The salary of the president of the Bank of Germany was 30,000 marks and official lodging, instead of dollars, and that of the governor of the Bank of England was £2,000.

McCurdy Recalled.

President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. was then recalled. He declared he knew nothing about a special notice in the newspapers. C. J. Smith and Walter Sullivan had charge of the advertising. He was unable to say that the advertising covered the press notice in the newspapers. He said he knew nothing of any money being expended for the insertion in the newspapers of reports of this investigation or any reports favorable to the company.

"Does any officer of the company, including yourself, have any commissions on business written as well as the agent?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"No."

"Did you get any share of your son's commissions on foreign business?"

"No, sir, not a cent."

"Or of your son-in-law's commissions?"

"None whatever."

Mr. Hughes asked why applicants for loans on policies to the home office were referred to C. H. Raymond & Co. Mr. McCurdy said they were not, but were referred to the policy department. "If you wish to imply, does any one receive any commission on loans on policies, I would answer distinctly 'no'," he said.

Taking up the real estate of the company, witness was asked where he made his winter residence. He said it was the Grosvenor apartment on Fifth avenue. This house is owned by the Mutual Life. A statement of the return on the investment in the apartment was asked for and Mr. Hughes was about to leave the subject when Mr. Beck, counsel for the Mutual Life, protested and said it was not fair to Mr. McCurdy to lead up to his occupancy of an apartment in the building, and then not give him an opportunity to testify as to whether he paid a fair rental for it.

To Save Trouble.

A letter from the Mutual Life to an applicant for insurance, referring him to Raymond & Co. because the application came from the district covered by the Metropolitan agency, was read. McCurdy said this was a matter of convenience to the applicant. Asked why he gave the agency the opportunity to make a large commission when there was machinery at the home office to care for applicants for insurance, witness said all applicants for information do not take out insurance, and they were referred to the agency for the information they desire. If the agency writes the policy, he said, it is entitled to the commission. McCurdy denied that he abolished free lance agents in the Metropolitan district, and referred such agents, with their business, to Raymond & Co., after Louis A. Thebaud became a partner of that firm. It brought out that Mr. Thebaud was in charge of the department of agents that handled the exceptionally large risks before he became a partner.
