requisition, as what with snowdrifts and the banks of icebergs on either side, the horizon is frequently obscured to a circle of perhaps a quarter of a mile in extent. The compass will show the position and course, but the travelling masses of ice put all calculation out of the question; and the knowledge of the tide's tremendous power on the floating fields, upon whose treacherous surface the traveller entrusts himself, confuses, perplexes, and frequently causes serious doubts as to the real position of the boat. One great danger in going too far to the southward, arises from the difficulty of getting back to the shore from whence you started, as a half-mile below Cape Tormentine, Bay Verte opens, and if you are five miles out in the Straits, and to the southward of the Cape, then, to regain the shore, you have before you twenty miles of Bay Verte, or twenty-five miles in all to traverse before you are in safety. Benumbed with cold, fatigued beyond expression with some eight or ten hours' labour, a snow-storm may set in, and resting for a while, all run a fair chance of being carried direct south-east, and once past Cape Bear, the north-east influence of the tide would carry you out into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, between Prince Edward and Cape Breton. It is true the turn of the tide would, if there was no wind, again propel the masses of ice up Northumberland Straits; but thus exposed, and driven from "Scylla to Charybdis," the chance of life would be but small. Many have been thus lost and frozen to death on the passage.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Col. Sleigh's New Book.—Colonel Sleigh's adventures are many and amusing. He has seen almost every degree of American Society. As the author's opinions are drawn from the experience of seven years, passed in every class and every part of British North America, it may well be supposed that they are well founded and valuable. But knowledge, without the power of expressing it, is valuable only to the owner. This power, however, the author possesses in a high degree. He expresses thoughts, evidently the result of wide observation and deep reflection. Colonel Sleigh truly says, the system under which the colonies are governed must contain some principle radically wrong. The opinion of a man of such evident talent and experience must have considerable weight.—London Standard.

Col Sleigh's work is both instructive and amusing. The whole of the volume will repay perusal with interest as much from the information it conveys as well as from the general tenor of its observations. It is therefore recommended to public attention as the latest and also the most authentic work upon the Canadian Colonies hitherto published.—London Observer, June 5th.

Slaves at Havana.—The steamship Black Warrior from Mobile via Havana, arrived at New York, at 6 o,clock on the evening of the 16th.—bringing 169 passengers, and dates from Havana to the morning of 12th. She confirms the landing of 1100 slaves on the south side of the Island from the ship Lady Suffolk; after the slaves were landed the vessel was scuttled and sunk. Several thousand slaves have been landed on the Island during the past six months. No political news of importance is received.

Timely Caution.—We copy the following from the New Brunswick Chronicle, in order to put our subscribers on their guard—believing that such gentlemen as are there spoken of have already arrived on our shores:—

"The Toronto papers mention that there are pedlars in that city, offering Canton crape shawls, and silk dresses, at prices far below those charged for similar articles in respectable stores. Those persons are evidently the same characters who have so successfully imposed similar articles of wearing apparel upon many of our ladies here, and which have since been discovered to be trashy imitations of the genuine manufactures. The manner in which they introduced themselves into houses, and other circumstances connected with their "bargains," induced many to suppose that they were sailors, disposing of smuggled goods; but such was not the case, as too many have ere this discovered to their cost.

The imposition above mentioned is at this moment being actively practised in this city, and we have heard of individuals who have already been grievously victimized. We can scarcely pity such sufferers, because they reap only the penalty of their own cupidity and folly. They must well know that the articles thus pretended by these peddling impostors to be sold so greatly below their value, must either have been dishonestly obtained, or must be mere spurious imitations of the genuine article; in either case there must be fraud of some kind; and those therefore, who are either unprincipled or foolish enough to encourage fraud, by dealing with the perpetrators of it, must take the natural consequences of their doings. The only safe mode of purchasing really valuable goods, is by procuring them at a fair price at respectable establishments, where the proprietors have a character and credit to maintain, and who are responsible for remedying mistakes or accidental defects; but the vagrant pedlar who imposes on the buyer a lot of spurious trash, quietly decamps from the scene of his clever exploits, and leaves his sorrowing victim without remedy or compensation."

THE WESLEYAN ACEDAMY, MOUNT ALLISON, WESTMORLAND.

(From the Newbrunswick Courier)

We have deemed it but our duty, as journalists of whatever was occurring around us affecting any of the general interests of our Province, to present to the public through our columns such information as we could conveniently secure from time to time respecting the progress of the very important work which has been so successfully carried on in this favoured one among the higher educational establishments of our Province.

The academical year which has just closed, has, we rejoice to learn, from the statistics which we have obtained, been one of not only undiminished but increased prosperity. During the last term there have been in the three departments of instruction a total number of one hundred and five students of different ages and attainments, from the mere lad of twelve, in the primary, to the young man of twenty or more years, in the collegiate department.

We understand that the anniversary exercises, on Monday and Tuesday of this week, were of the most interesting and encouraging character to all who were privileged to be present on the occasion. They commenced on the former day at 9 A. M, with the simultaneous examination of classes in each of the convenient recitation rooms of the instruction. In the course of the day, classes, thirty in all, were examined in English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Book-keeping, Algebra, Geometry, Mensuration, Land Surveying, Chemistry, Geology, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, French, Latin, Greek, Rhetoric and Mental Philosophy, in the presence of the Members of the Board of Trustees, and other friends of education from different parts of New-Brunswick, Nova-Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

On Tuesday morning, the spacious Chapel or Lecture Room was filled to overflowing by a most respectable assembly, convened to witness the more public exercises, which began at nine o'clock with the reading by Masters Neille, Wood, McLeod, Olive and King, from the junior classes, pieces in composition. Then came performances in declamation by J. G. Angwine, J. L. Ried, J. B. Snowball, Alex. Wright, J. Knight, C. W. Smith, J. T Knowles, S. King and A. E. Wilson, in which each speaker sustained very well his part. These were followed by the delivery of original essays or orations by F. Weldon, "On the importance of Early Life;" by A. S. Tuttle, on "Education;" by C. C. Gardiner, on "Patriotism;" by S. P. Tuck, on "The Study of Nature;" by George Johnson, on "Mind;" by A. D. McLeod, on "National Greatness," with valedictory addresses. The three first named speakers belonging to the intermediate, and the other three to the collegiate department.

The original pieces were pronounced by competent judges to be highly creditable, both in composition and delivery, to the Academy, as well as to the young gentlemen themselves; the last especially, was listened to with rapt attention, and many a moistened eye testified to the power which the youthful orator exercised over the feelings of his audience.

The Principal then made the customary report of the standing secured by each student by his diligence and good conduct during the Term in "Literary Rank" and "General Deportment." Twenty two were found entitled to the fourth, forty-nine to the third, twenty six to the second, and three, viz., S. P. Tuck, A. D. Meleod, and Samuel Avery' jun., to the first or highest "Literary Rank." Diplomas or certificates were then given to four of the students, who, after having been two, three and five years connected with the Institution, were about to pass forth to "the battle of life."

An appropriate address, on "The Responsibilities of education Men," was then delivered by the Rev John Allison, of this City.

Serjeant Lawson, of the Royal Artillery, who defended Gavazzi when attacked by the rioters in Chalmer's Church, has been presented by several members of the Canadian Legislature, who witnessed his behaviour, with a gold watch and chain, and a large family bible, bearing the following inscription:

"Presented by Members of Parliament of Canada to Serjeant W. G. Lawson, R.A. the heroic defender of Padre Gavazzi at the Riot at Chalmer's Church."

SUPREME COURT.

The trials for this term finished on Monday evening last, when the jury were dismissed. The Criminal cases were disposed of as follows:—

The Queen vs. Hugh Pugh. Indictment for Larceny, stealing a wheelbarrow, the property of Mr. John Hobbs. The prisoner on being first arraigned pleaded guilty, but by the advice of his Counsel, Theophilus Stewart, Esquire, withdrew his plea, and stood his trial. The defence was, that Hobbs had lent the barrow, and that the original taking not being felonious, the Indictment would not lie. The Jury were of a different opinion, and found the prisoner guilty—sentence on Saturday.

Queen vs. Frederic Milman, Larceny, prisoner pleaded guilty—sentence on Saturday.

Queen vs. Neil M'Lean and Joseph Taylor, Larceny, stealing fowls from John Barrow, Esq. A person by the name of John M'Lean was first indicted for the same offence and pleaded not guilty. He was afterwards admitted as an approver, and on his testimony, the above prisoners were indicted, who severally pleaded guilty—sentence on Saturday.

The Queen vs. Brien O'Brian, at the prosecution of Alice Joyce, for Rape. The Attorney General and Heath Haviland, Esq, for the Crown The prisoner, who was ably defended by the Hon. Edward Palmer and Charles Palmer, Esq., was, after a long and patient investigation of the case, acquitted, without the least hesitation on the part of the Jury.

The Queen vs. Thomas Henderson, of Murder. After a long and impartial trial the prisoner was acquitted. We shall give in our next issue a full account of this and of the several civil cases which have been tried this term.

We notice the nomination for members to serve in Provincial Parliament, which comes off tomorrow for the purpose of expressing a hope that the proceedings will be conducted with that fairness openess and decorum which befits those who are in the exercise of one of the greatest privileges that men can well enjoy. The ambition to represent their fellow citizens in the making of those laws, upon which not only the immediate peace and happiness of society depend, but which may materially effect the future prosperity of the colony is an honorable aspiration, and did we feel satisfied that those who will come forward were actuated by none but pure and patriotic motives, we should be well contented to leave the issue to the polling booths. A great question however is now to be tried and the point to be settled by the proceedings of to-morrow and to-morrow week is we should say one of the first importance, it is simply whether the honorable situation of a Representative is to be sought after for the emoluments which it may be expected to bring with it or from purely patriotic and disinterested motives—from an honest desire to advance the interests of the community or the selfish one of enriching and advancing oneself. Let every voter be well advised as to this.

The Steamer Fairy Queen, left Town on Saturday night at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of towing up the Brig Nugget from the Gut of Canso. Soon after she rounded Cape George with the vessel in tow, some of the machinery got disarranged and broke two Rods connected with the air pumps, after some delay the broken pieces were cleared away, and the Steamer under the high pressure principle worked into Pictou, not however before she had run aground at the entrance of the harbour.

On Monday night she left for Charlottetown but from some leakage in the boiler, which nearly put out the fires, she was obliged to put back. She left again on Tuesday and got in at 8 o'clock. She left this morning with a mail for Pictou.

To the Free and Independent Electors of Charlottetown and Royalty.

Gentlemen—

Having been called upon at a very large Meeting of Electors at the Old Court House on Friday evening last, and there presented with a numerously signed Requisition, soliciting me to come forward as a Candidate to represent them in the General Assembly of this Island, I now come before you as such, at the same time thanking them for the honour thus conferred.

My coming before you at so late an hour has been caused by the resignation of Mr. Found, whose address to the Electors appeared a short time since, and to whom I intended to give my support, but he having now declined the contest, I am induced to fill up the vacancy thus occurred, and will endeavour to carry out those principles which his Card enunciated.

For nearly 36 years I have been a resident of Charlottetown, and I flatter myself that I know its wants and its interests; and you will believe me when I say, that in common with yourselves I feel a deep interest in its welfare, and as I am known to most of you, I am sure you will rely on me that I will be watchful over it.

Should you place me in the House of Assembly as your Representative, you may feel confident that I shall guard your rights. I am in favour of Responsible Government, and will support it as the established Constitution of the country.

My own interests are so identified with those of the Mechanical and Labouring Classes (being a Mechanic myself,) that I firmly rely on their countenance and support.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN TRENAMAN.

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

THE Subscribers manufacture and keep constantly on hand, all sizes of Church, Factory, Steamboat, Ferry, Locomotive, School House and Plantation Bells, with the best description of Hangings.

These Bells are made from the best stock, and the small sizes undergo the same process in manufacturing as Church Bells An experience of thirty years, with a great many recent improvements, and an entirely new method of casting, enables us to obtain the most melodious tone, combining also, in extraordinary vibration.

Nearly 9,000 Bells have been cast and sold from this Foundry, which is the best evidence of their superiority. We have fifteen Gold and Silver medals at our office, which were awarded for the "best Bells for sonorousness and purity of tone." We pay particular attention to the getting up Peals or Chimes, and can refer to those furnished by us. Our establishment is contiguous to the Erie and Champlain Canals, and Railroads running in every direction, which brings us within four hours of New York. Cash paid for old Copper. Old Clocks, Levels, Compasses, Transits, Theodolites, &c., for sale, of superior workmanship. All communications, either by mail or otherwise will have immediate attention.

Saint John Sale Stables.

M. A. CUMMING, Veterinary Surgeon, begs to intimate to parties having HORSES to dispose of, that he is about to open as a Sale Stable, those premises next the Catholic Chapel, head of King's Square, St. John; where Horses will be kept at livery, and bought or sold on commission.

There being no well-understood place in St. John where those Jaunting Horses, and those coasting Horses, know where to find each other, M. A. C. flatters himself that a Horse Bazaar, or Sale Stable, properly conducted, may in some measure supply a want often felt by the public; while from the knowledge of horses derived from his profession, he may be able at times to give useful advice both to seller and purchaser.

N. B.—Two or three good young Harness Horses wanted; and a strong heavy hair, full mouthed for shipyard work.
Saint John, 26th April, 1853.
