DECISION ON THE PROHIBITORY LAW!

Manitoba Government May Submit the Matter in a Referendum to the People—A Denial From the Editor of the Westminster.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 29.—It is generally thought the provincial government will get out of its present position on the liquor question by submitting the matter in a referendum to the people. The hotelkeepers do not seem to be worried over the outcome.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—Premier Roblyn, of Manitoba, who was in Toronto yesterday, said in regard to the privy council's judgment on the prohibitory act, that the matter had not yet been considered by the government, their attention having been fully occupied by the railway negotiations. The judgment was not unexpected; therefore there was no need of a special session of the legislature to consider it.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—Rev. J. A. MacDonald, editor of the Westminster, was interviewed yesterday, and denied that he had had any communication with Premier Ross with regard to the article in the current number of the Westminster advocating the application of the referendum to the prohibition question. The idea, he said, had been suggested to him by Presbyterian procedure.

DYSPEPSIA CURED.

The Case of Miss Gallant, of Summerside, P.E.I., Proves Beyond a Doubt, That Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure Even the Most Stubborn and Chronic Cases of Stomach Trouble.

Dyspepsia is no respecter of persons. Young and old, rich and poor, alike, suffer the tortures of this dread disease. There are very few who entirely escape.

That it can be cured, is no longer a matter of doubt. Theories are often exploded, but nothing can overcome the deductions which result from actual experiences.

Many have claimed to have discovered a remedy for Dyspepsia. The theories advanced have been plausible and seemingly reasonable, but when the proposed medicines have been subjected to the actual test, they have been found wanting.

Previous to the discovery of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, no medicine had ever successfully attacked and defeated all kinds of stomach trouble. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have never failed.

Miss Maggie Gallant, of Summerside, P. E. I., is an example. Briefly, this is what she says:

"I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Stomach Weakness for four years. I could not get any relief.

"I heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and bought some. They relieved me instantly, and I have not been troubled since. I am completely cured."

Miss Gallant's experience adds another to the already long list of perfect cures effected by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is positively no case of Stomach Trouble (except Cancer) that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure.

This is a strong statement, but it is made without any qualification whatever, and the experience of every Dyspeptic who has tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, has confirmed it. Its truth cannot be denied

Thousands of people have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and never in a single case, have they failed to cure Many cases have been of long standing and very acute, but Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured They'll cure you. Try them and be convinced.

80 KILLED!

Estimate of the Loss of Life in the Wabash Disaster Strengthened and Yet Disputed.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29. — In an interview this evening, Thomas Moran, deputy customs collector at the port, practically verifies the estimate that at least 80 lives were lost in Wednesday night's collision and awful holocaust on the Wabash Railway near Seneca. The baggage on the two immigrant cars in which the greatest loss of life occurred was inspected by Mr. Moran, who says that at the very least calculation 110 Italians were in the cars. In addition to these there were twelve more in the smoking-car, which was ahead of the two immigrant cars.

Official advices to Supt. Burns, of this division of the Wabash, say that of the Italians in the wreck, twenty escaped unhurt and were taken to St. Louis; fifteen are in the company's hospital at Peru, Ind.; there are six others in Peru, and two are near Adrian, injured. Subtracting these 43 from the 110 immigrants Deputy Moran says were a board the train, leaves a loss among the Italians alone of 67. In addition, eight other bodies were recovered and identified, which makes a total of 75 dead.

THE OFFICIALS' CONTENTION.

When seen tonight by a press representative, Supt. Burns, of the Wabash Railway, insisted that the death loss in the wreck near Seneca, Wednesday night, was being estimated very much too high. 'As near as I can estimate there are 22 dead. We have 8 identified bodies, and we believe that the fragments found represent 14 other bodies."

A special from Adrian, Mich., says that according to Romano E. Schiavone, 190 West Taylor street, Chicago, through whom was arranged the transportation to California of the Italians killed in Wednesday night's wreck on the Wabash, there were only about fifty immigrants on the westbound train. If this is true, it reduces the death list by almost half, and the number of dead victims will be between 40 and 50.

Adrian, Mich., Nov. 29.—Just before the coroner's inquest on the Wabash Railway wreck adjourned today, Conductor Trowl, of the ill-fated immigrant train, testified as to the number of persons who were on that train. According to his statement there were 190 passengers on board.

LIFE A BURDEN.

The Condition of Mr. Gardiner, Smith's Falls.

He Spent Miserable Days and Sleepless Nights—Hands, Feet and Limbs Stiff and Swollen.

[From the Record, Smith's Falls, Ont.]

"There is wonderful talk about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, why don't you try them "

These words were addressed to Mr. Andrew Gardiner, of Smith's Falls, by a friend when he was in the depths of despondency regarding his physical condition. For three years he had suffered so much that life had become a burden to him, and oftentimes, he says, he almost wished that he might die. Then he spent miserable days and sleepless nights, now he is enjoying life. Then his feet, hands and limbs were stiff and swollen and he was tormented with a constant stinging, creepy sensation in his body which gave him no rest day or night, now he is as supple as ever he was, with the stiffness, the swelling and the creepy sensation all gone. He attributes it all to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. Gardiner is a man of about 65 years, an old and highly respected resident of Smith's Falls. Having heard a good deal of talk about the improvement effected in his health by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The Record sent a reporter to ascertain the exact truth, and Mr. Gardiner told him substantially what is related above. He said that he tried a number of doctors—as good doctors as there were in the country—but got no relief. He was given to understand that the trouble was caused by bad circulation of the blood, but nothing did him any good. He could not wear boots, his feet were so swollen, and when he tried to walk his legs felt like sticks. Finally he was induced to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. He took six boxes, he said, but did not see that he was much better. He determined to quit taking them, but was persuaded to continue them for a little while longer. When he had taken ten boxes he was greatly improved, and when he had taken twelve boxes he was so well that he did not need any more. It is several months since he has taken them and he has had no return of the trouble. When the reporter saw him he was wearing his ordinary boots and he said he could get into and out of a buggy as well as any man of his years in the country.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the friend of the weak and ailing. They surpass all other medicines in their tonic, strengthening qualities, and make weak and despondent people bright, active and healthy. These pills are sold by dealers in medicine, or can be had, post paid, at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

He had accompanied his older brother on a drive south of the city, and while returning the larger boy stopped his team to render assistance to the woman, her horse having taken fright at an approaching car, and left his little brother in the wagon. A Scientific Voice Improver.

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal chords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or horseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety, unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and prima donnas would not be without Catarrhozone, and credit in no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence. The hard rubber inhaler fits conveniently into a purse or vest pocket, and may be used in the church, theater, any place or time. Complete outfit, $1. Small size, 25c. A BROOKLYN BELLE THREATENED WITH CONSUMPTION.

Pe-ru-na Promptly Saved Her Life.

Miss Kitty Maher, 474 Eleventh street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"For weeks I had a most distressing cold, contracted late in the fall by getting thoroughly chilled driving, and although I took the matter in hand in its early stage, still my cold kept getting worse. It seemed to be thorough my entire system and soon developed into a serious cough on my lungs, with catarrhal troubles. I had often heard and read of Peruna for colds and catarrh, so I finally decided to try it, and am a very grateful woman today, as your medicine was almost miraculous in its cure, relieving me before I had taken it two days and curing me in three weeks."—KITTY MAHER.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

About Pe-ru-na as a Remedy in All Diseases of Winter, Coughs, Colds and Catarrh.

Peruna cures catarrh, coughs, colds, is well known to both the medical profession and the people generally. It is undoubtedly the most popular remedy for this class of diseases in existence. Read the following letters:

Pe-ru-na Cures a Cold at the Onset.

Miss E. M. Isaacs, Armstrong, Pa., vice-president of the Fortnightly Club, writes:

"No one who has tried the comforts Peruna brings would ever be without it. I used to dread the slightest cold, as its consequences were so lengthy and so unpleasant, and the catarrhal condition which invariably followed so hard to get rid of, but since I have known of the blessed relief secured through the use of Peruna, I am free from all this unpleasantness and suffering.

"A few doses never fails to cure me of a cold, and I keep well through its use."—Miss E. M. Isaacs.

WINTER COLDS.

Breed Catarrh, Coughs and Consumption.

Josephine Stolhammer, Denver, Col., care Soderburg Palace Studio writes:

"My physician advised me to go to Colorado because my lungs were delicate, and I had catarrh of the head which the damp climate east seemed to aggravate. I spent two years here without improving. Reading of the value of Peruna I began taking it, and in two months I was completely cured and well. This is nearly three months ago and I have suffered no relapse. I consider Peruna very superior to Colorado air for catarrh. If I had known of it before, it would have saved me hundreds of dollars."—Josephine Stolhammer.

Hon. W. J. Purman, ex-member of congress from Florida, writes from 1428 Q street, N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"From representations to me and my own experience I feel justified in recommending your Peruna to any and all persons suffering with catarrh, nervousness or stomach troubles. I regard it as a great tonic and remedy for such afflictions. I, and others to whom I recommend it, are using it now with beneficial results."—W. J. Purman.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

HOW AYRES WAS KILLED

Mrs. Bonine's Story as Repeated by a Detective.

Felt the Young Man's Blood Gush Over Her Shoulder—The Dress She Wore Produced in Court.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 29.—When the Bonine trial was resumed today, Deputy Coroner Glazebrook continued testimony. He told of bruises found on the bodies of Mrs. Bonine and Ayres, and was followed by Detective Edward Horne, to whom Mrs. Bonine made her first official confession.

Horne said he had first met Mrs. Bonine on the morning Ayres' body was found. He asked her if she knew how Ayres met his death and she said she did not. She told how she had been dressed on the night of the killing and handed over the skirt she had worn. Her manner was perfectly cool.

On the Monday following the killing, while the coroner's inquest was in progress, she made her confession to Horne. She told Horne that at 2 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, May 15, Ayres knocked on her door and when she went to the door he said he was sick and asked her to give him some medicine. He then tried, she had said, to put his arm around her and had asked to be allowed to go into her room to talk over their former differences, prior to his leaving the hotel, which he was to do the next day. She had declined, saying she did not want to awaken her boys, and then consented to go to his room on his making the plea that there would not be time the next morning for their conference before his leaving the house.

Mrs. Bonnie told Horne she dressed herself completely, putting on clean linen, a wrapper and slippers and followed Ayres to his room, he having returned to his apartment. When she turned the knob of the door Ayres opened it from the inside and she found him standing back of the door holding a revolver in his right hand. She started to run away, but tripped and Ayres caught her around the waist.

She illustrated in a later interview with Horne and District Attorney Gould her attitude and that of Ayres when the shooting occurred, saying that her back was to Ayres, that his right hand, in which the revolver was held, was thrown over her shoulder and she caught that hand with both of hers.

She did not know how the shots were fired, but she felt blood gush over her shoulder.

When Ayres fell to the floor she fell under him, and, slipping out, went to her room, where she washed her hands and her wrapper and went to bed.

The wrapper was exhibited to Horne and identified by him. It is a brown colored garment trimmed with green velvet.

Horne said Mrs. Bonnie said she hesitated to mention the tragedy because she feared that in doing so she might do injustice to the dead.
