Valuable Real Estate

FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber will sell at private sale, that valuable and pleasantly-situated homestead, where he now resides, with all buildings thereon, only five minutes' walk from the Railway Station, Telegraph and Post Offices; or will sell the same in small lots to suit purchasers, from a quarter of an acre up, for building purposes; the land is in a high state of cultivation, with garden and orchard; there is a road all around the premises, and choice building lots may be selected on every part of the farm. Also, his mill, 175 feet long and 40 feet wide, with all the gear in it; also, his well-known ship yard, shops, sheds and dwelling house. There is on this property a wharf, from which vessels can sail out of the river with a northerly wind without tacking; the yard including the mill-site contains eight acres. Also, adjoining this property he will sell twenty-two acres of prime English Marsh in good order. Also, that well known and desirable property known as the Jonathan C. Black place, so called, the whole or in lots to suit purchasers. Also, two lots of woodland on the Church Road at Westcock near Thomas Milner's; also, one lot near Johnson's Mill, Grand Aunce, and three hundred acres of well-timbered land on Second Westcock Hill near the English Church; also, the brigantine "Gem;" this vessel is new, was classed and coppered this present year, is a fast sailer and will carry five hundred tons dead weight, has iron water tanks and a full and complete East India and Africa outfit; also, a vessel frame in the ship-yard with all moulds and fixtures. Good, warranted, unincumbered titles given to all the above property. For further particulars apply to the Subscriber.

POETRY.

The Sad Story of Blobbs and His Pullet.

In a tiny country villa lived our Blobbs,
but all alone;
Never wife or chubby children this staid
bachelor had known.
Yet—for hearts must cling to something—
he had made himself a pet
Of a little snow-white pullet, with her
wings just tipped with jet.
Daily feeding and caressing, these had
won the pullet's heart;
Following close her master's footsteps,
seldom they were far apart;
And his love grew deeper, stronger, with
the passing of each day—
"Wiser far than any woman," wicked
Blobbs was wont to say.
Near by rose a wondrous structure—
architects their brains had racked—Cross between a Chinese temple and a cruet-stand, in fact.
This the pretty pullet's dwelling; here she
hastened every night;
Perched on high, became a rooster til the
dawning of the light.
One sad day a Yankee peddler, glib, persuading, passing by,
Gazed at Blobbs and that poor pullet with
a calculating eye.
From his wagon's deep recesses drew out,
smiling wickedly,
"Johnson's Patent Hen-Persuader;" then
to guileless Blobbs said he:
"Here's a marvelous invention! In this
box you see a nest;
Hens at once will lay an egg here, lured
to do their very best.
Then behold! this sliding bottom lets the
egg drop out of view,
And the hen, somewhat bewildered, lays
at once egg number two!"
'Twould be useless to repeat all that this
wily peddler said;
This suffices. Blobbs, unwary, by his
specious tongue misled,
Bought the "Patent Hen-Persuader," set
his snow-white pullet on,
Locked them both within the hen-house
ere he went to town that morn.
Business then engrossed him fully, till,
with num'rous cares beset,
Who can wonder that the pullet and her
nest he should forget?
Nothing all day to remind him; but returning late at night,
Flashed a sudden recollection, and his
cheek grew pale with fright.
Rushing madly from the station, straight
he sought the hen-house door.
Called his pet in tones entreating. Ah!
she'll never answer more!
Full of gloomiest forebodings, in he
dashes; finds the nest Overflowing with its treasure—yes, she's
done her level best.
Forty-seven eggs! and near them head and
tail and wings still lay,
For the poor ambitious pullet thus had laid
herself away!
